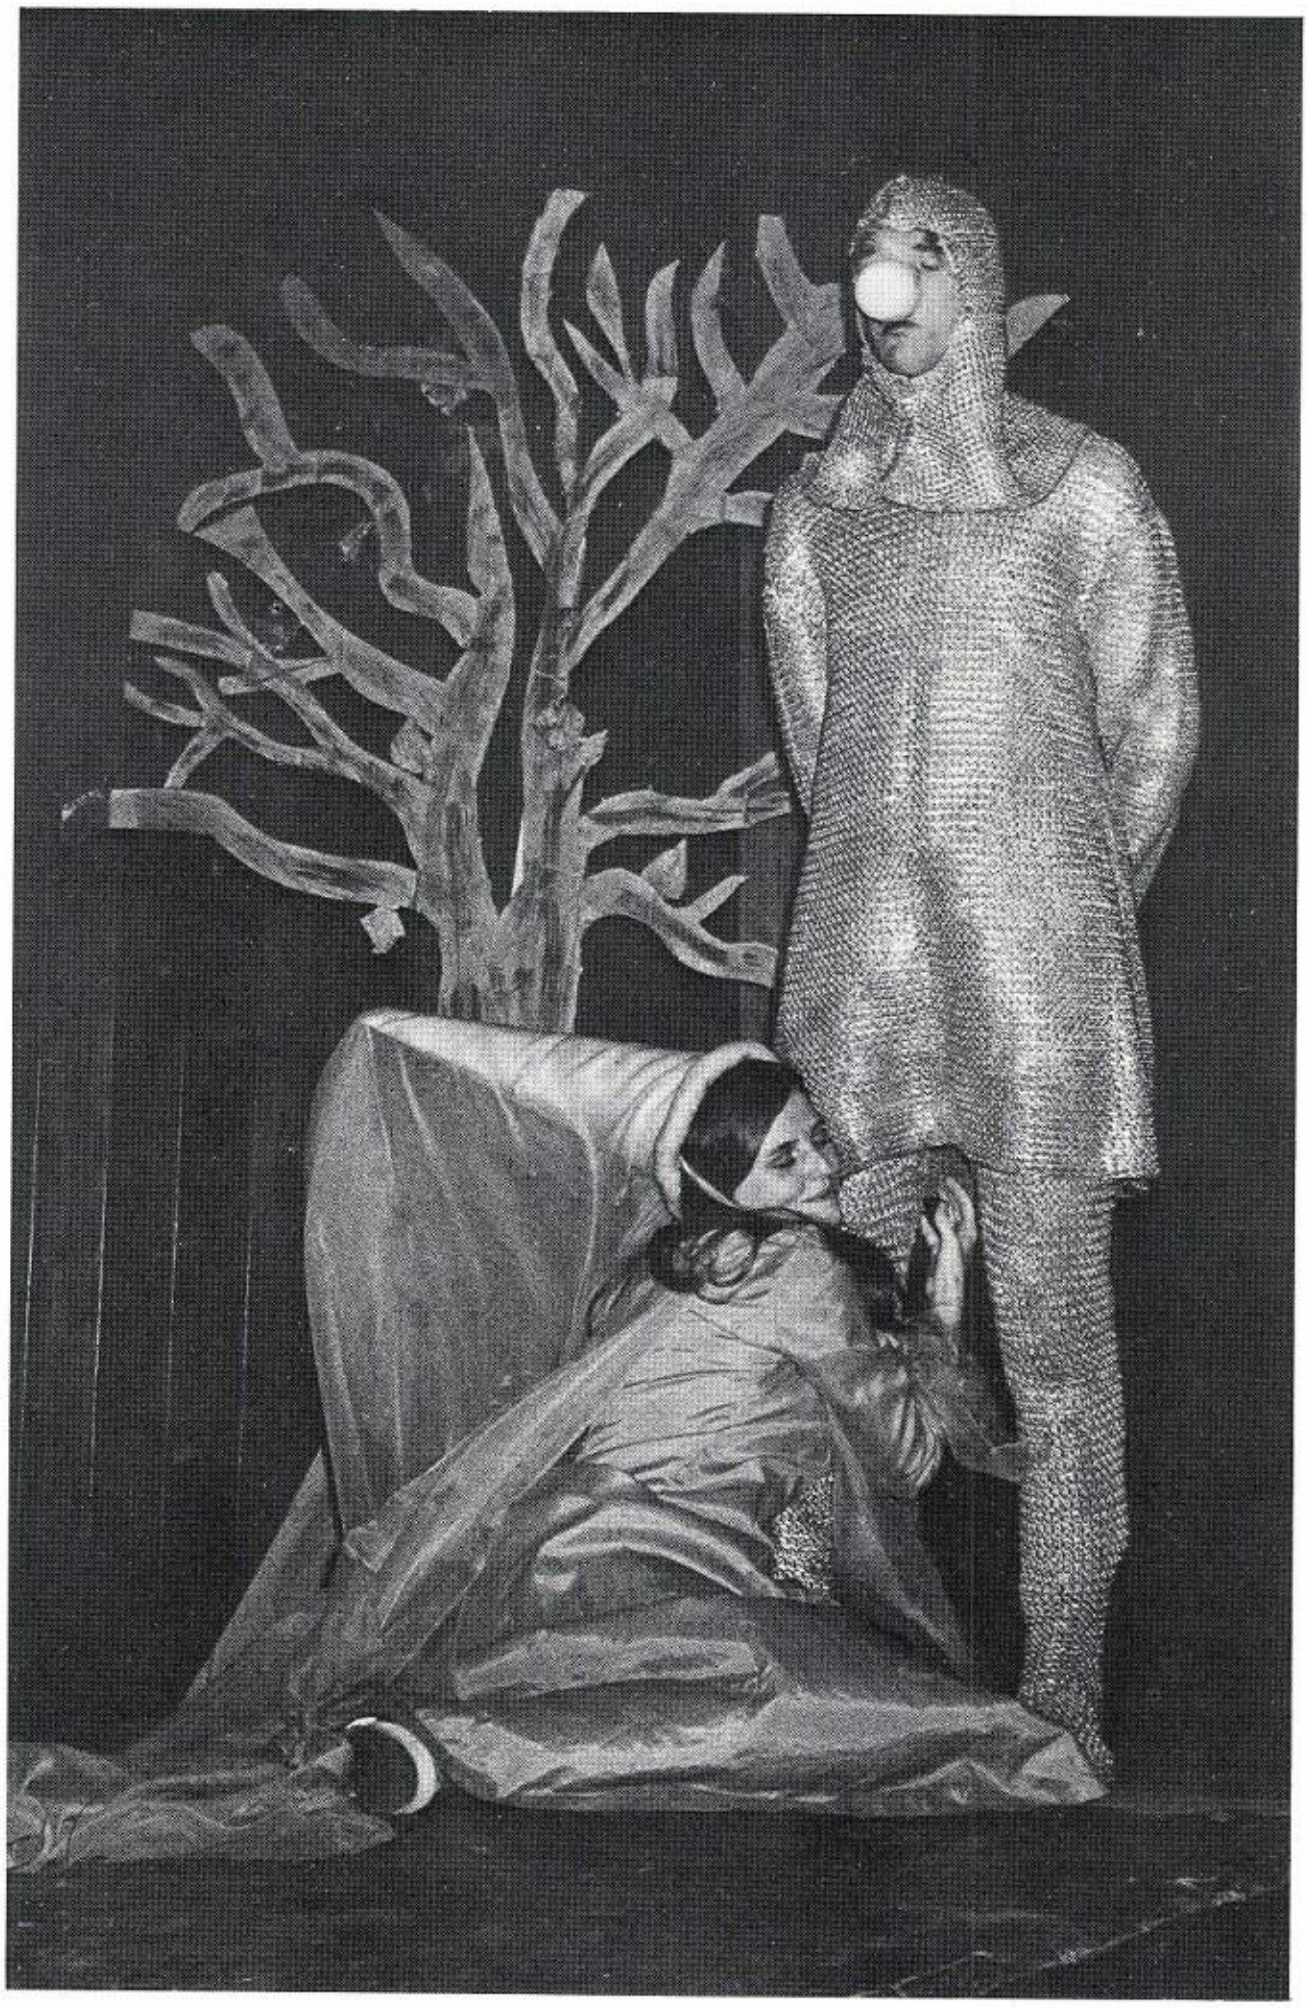
Thespians Present "Wizard of Id" at Annual Assembly

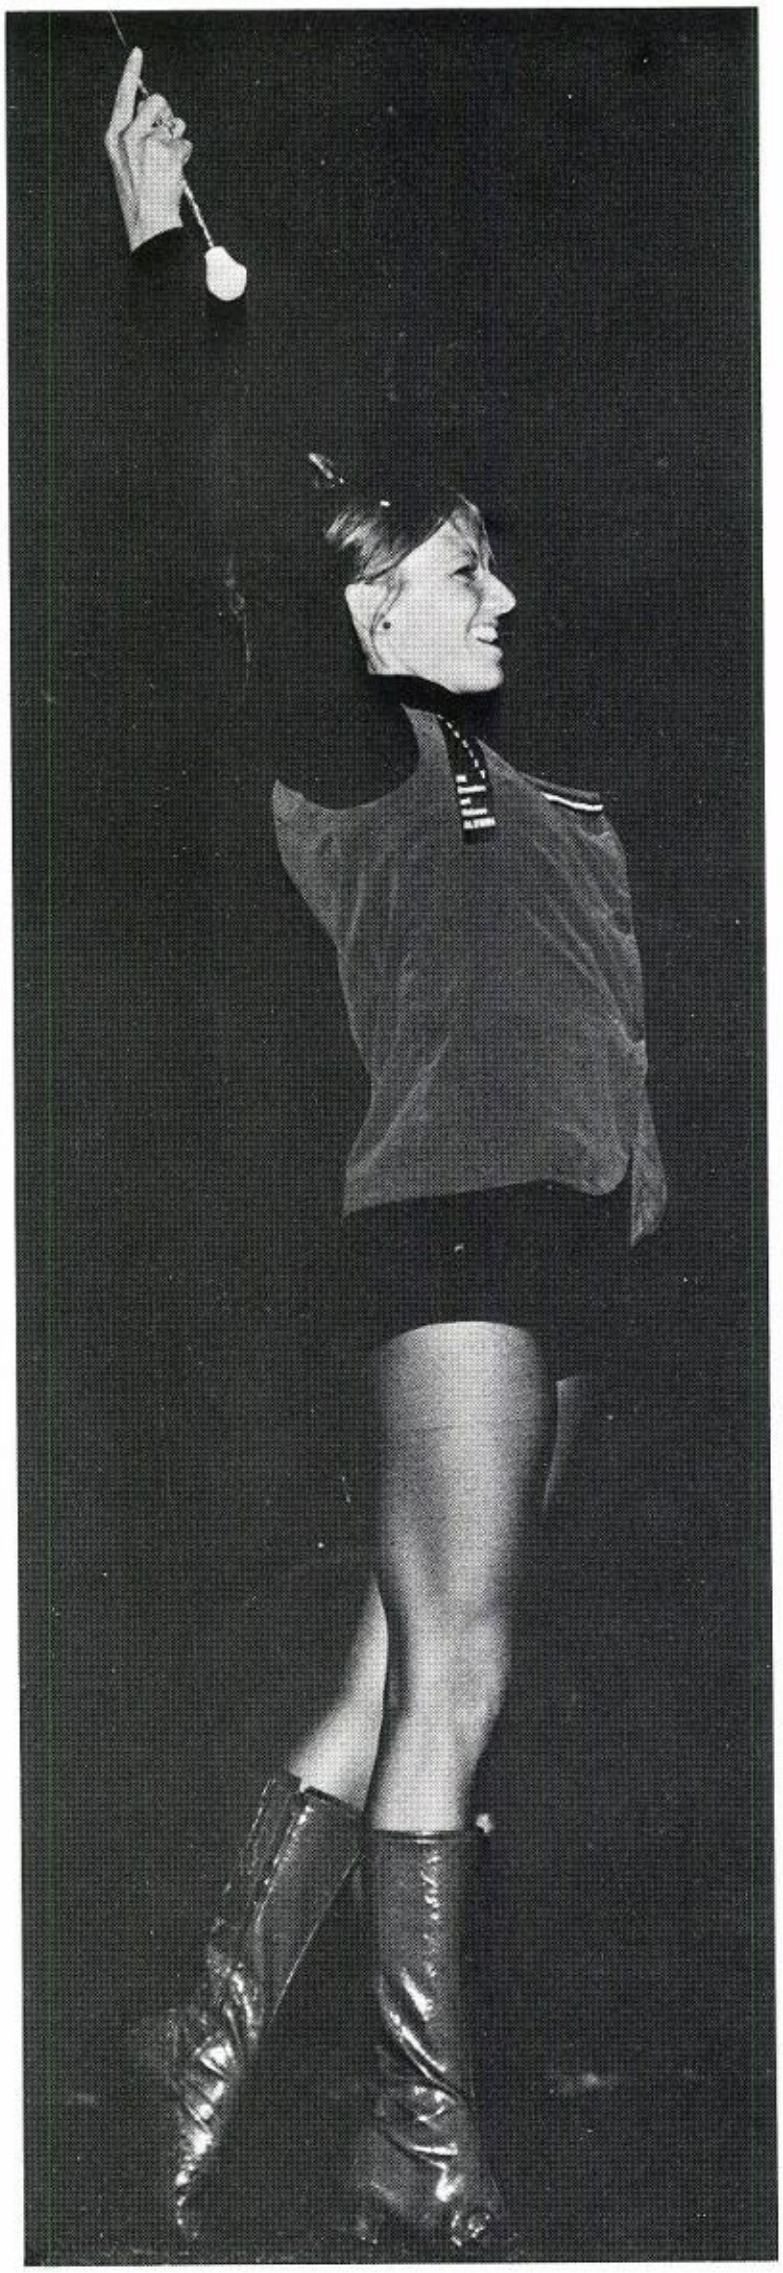
Suspicious glances are aroused by the Turnkey (Dave Fahlgren) and the Spook (Dan DePrez) over the contents of the Lawyer's (Skip Amos) flask.

In one episode of the assembly, Superdoctor (Linda Bellmer) uses a plunger on the Jester (Jon Sackett) in order to free the king, thinking that the jester has eaten him.

Citizens of the "Kingdom of Id": Lexie Stringer, Dave Fahlgren, Nadia Kahl, Charlene Brown, and Nancy Allison express their reaction to the dinner of swill that has been prepared for the Spook (Dan DePrez).



The damsel (Nancy Allison) makes no secret of her intense feelings toward Rodney (Steve Wood) in one of the highlights of the show.



Gwen Harrell displays her talent in baton twirling. Gwen, along with Patti Denham and Melissa Leichner, marched to the music of the band at the Homecoming game.

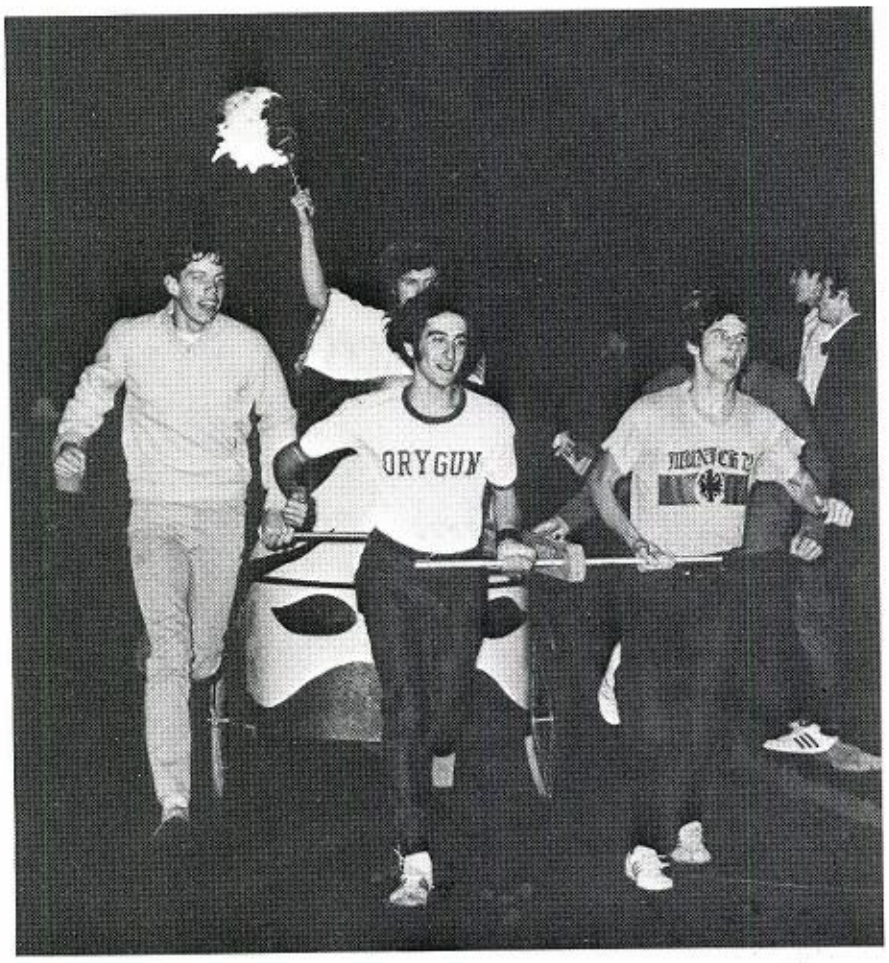
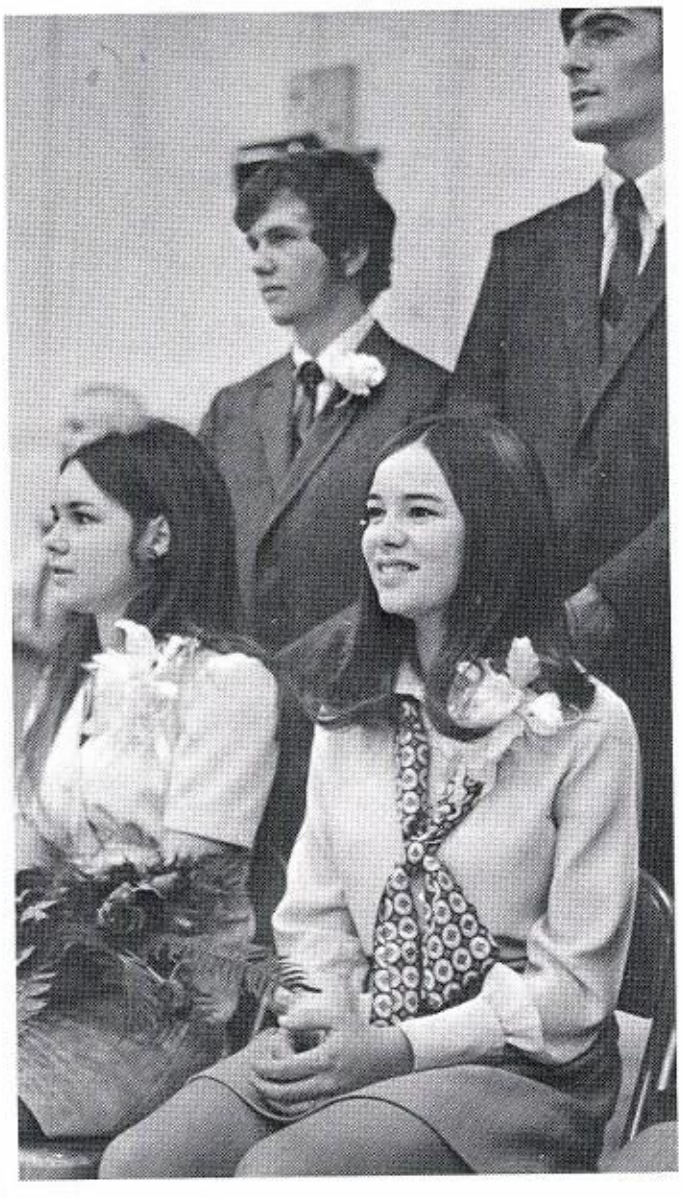
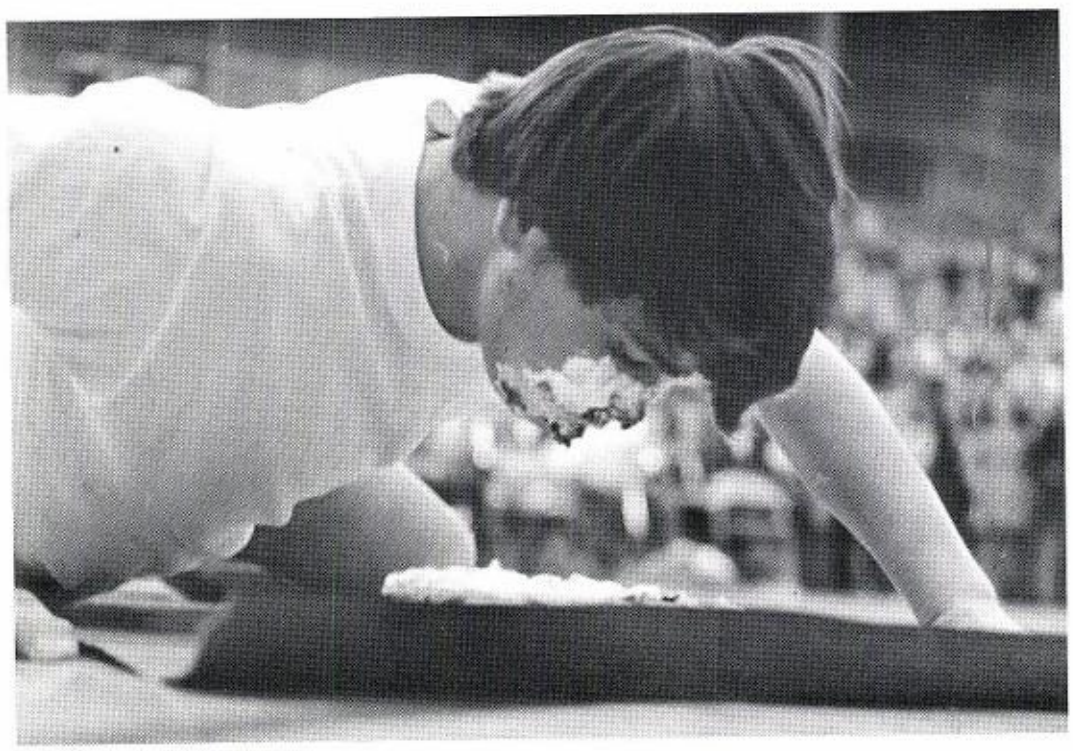
Barby Bucholz initiates her role as queen by dubbing senior class charioteer Richard Boro, Sir Rick, as Tamara Hart and Jim Pond look on.



Rick Boro, driver, and Glenn Patterson, Rob Bernstein, Bob Jeffery, Burl Wheaton (hidden) provide the horsepower for the seniors chariot. They took first place at the race just before the Friday night game with Jesuit.



1969 Homecoming queen Nancy Lawrence, her escort Rick Boro, princess Terri Clarke, and her escort Jim Mattsen watch the festivities of the coronation assembly.



Jim Thanem, Junior Building finalist, shows his technique in the pie eating contest at the homecoming assembly. Steve Daniels was the Senior Building finalist and school champion.

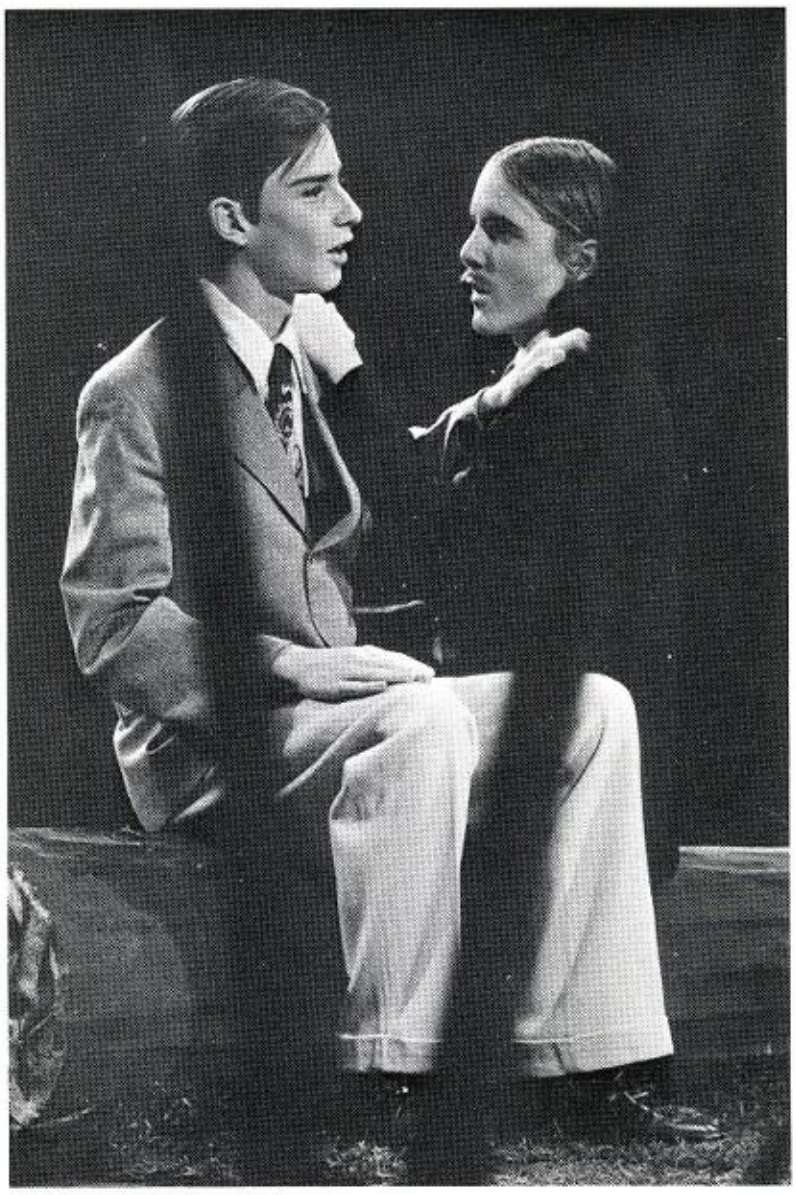
Combining Dedication and Talent the Thespians Present the Play, "The Enchanted"

Denise (Kathy Howe) finds security in her substitute teacher, Isabel (Maryann Rodal), when the Inspector proceeds to harass her.

A lesson in "ghost befriending" is given to the Inspector (Scott Othus), by the class of little girls: Kathy Howe, Patti Freel, Peggy Ball, Nadia Kahl, Sue Heasley, and Nancy Allison.

Armande Mangebois (Pat Moore) informs the city officials of her position as chairman of the Marriage Guidance Institute.



The Executioners (Dan DePrez and Jon Sackett) blend their voices in melodious harmony as they join in the singing of "The Henchman with the Golden Hair", the theme song of all true executioners.

In the opening act of "The Enchanted", the Doctor (Chris Farnes), the Inspector (Scott Othus), the Mayor (Tom Freel) and the Supervisor (Skip Amos) meet to discuss the possibility of a supernatural presence haunting the town.

Mary Ann Rodal is caught in the process of preparing for her role as Isabel, the young heroine of the play.

Daisy (Sue Heasley) reveals her knowledge of the reproduction process to the shock of the town dignitaries, while two of her classmates, Viola (Peggy Ball) and Gilberte (Nadia Kahl), look on.

Behind the scenes action is one of the most important aspects in producing a play. Here, Bonnie Little, costume chairman, applies the final touches to Craig Armstrong's makeup.

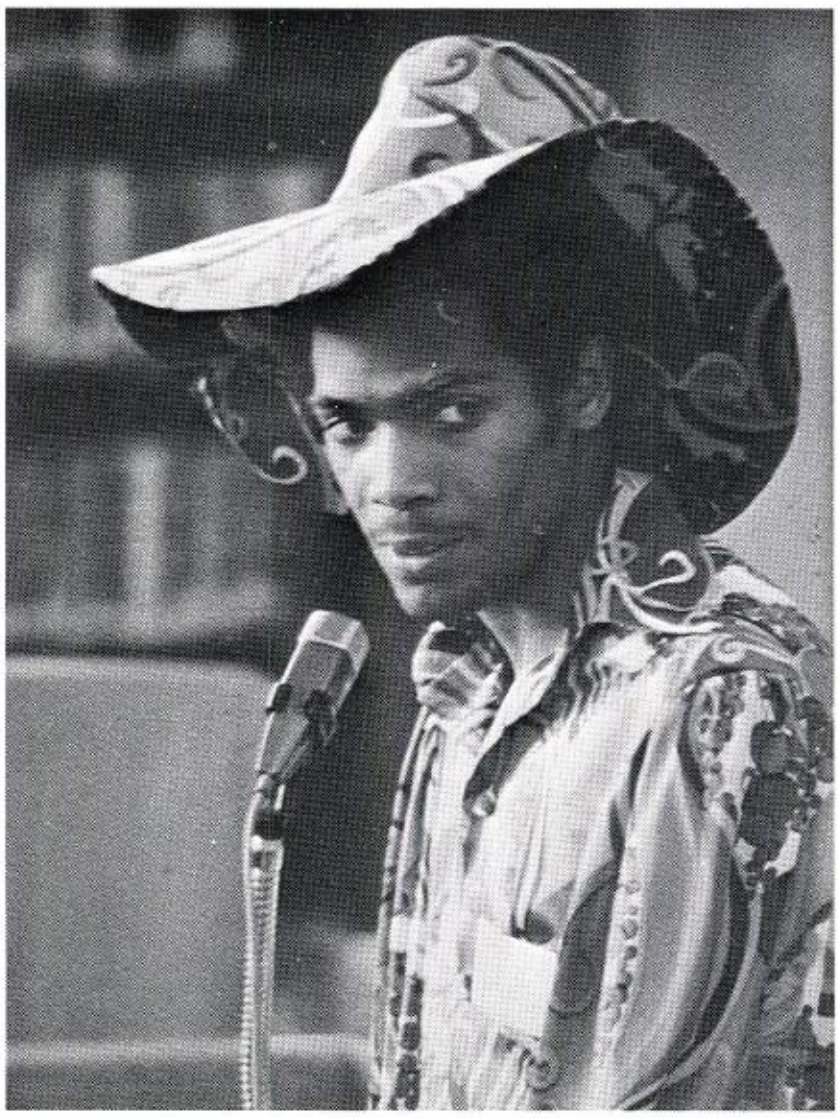
Mr. Montgomery sits back to view the progress of "The Enchanted" in one of its many rehearsals. As the director, he put in much time and effort to make the play a success.

Teachers and Students Work Together to Make a Success of Law Day

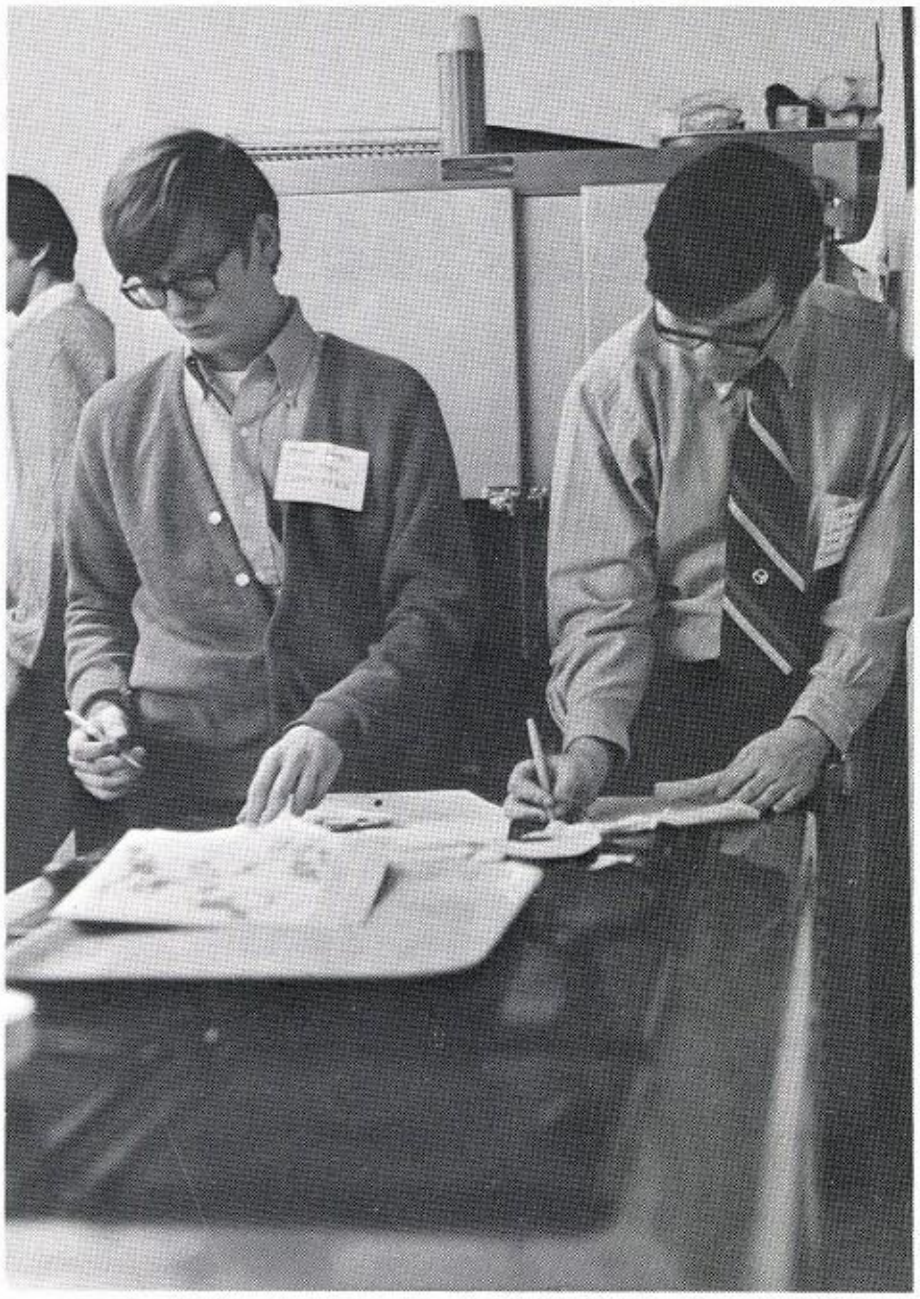
Ruth Bair listens intently during one of the Woman's Liberation sessions. Other topics ranged all the way from planned parenthood to pollution, and covered a variety of topics both interesting and relevant.

Law Day proved to be a learning experience for both the students and the speakers. The students capitalized on the speakers' experience, and the speakers discovered that the students really do care about the problems facing our world today. In the picture above, a library room full of people participate in a discussion with speaker Emile Wilson.

Linda Pratt registers a favorable expression as she heads for one of her sessions. Sixteen topics to choose from were featured, and each student chose three to attend.

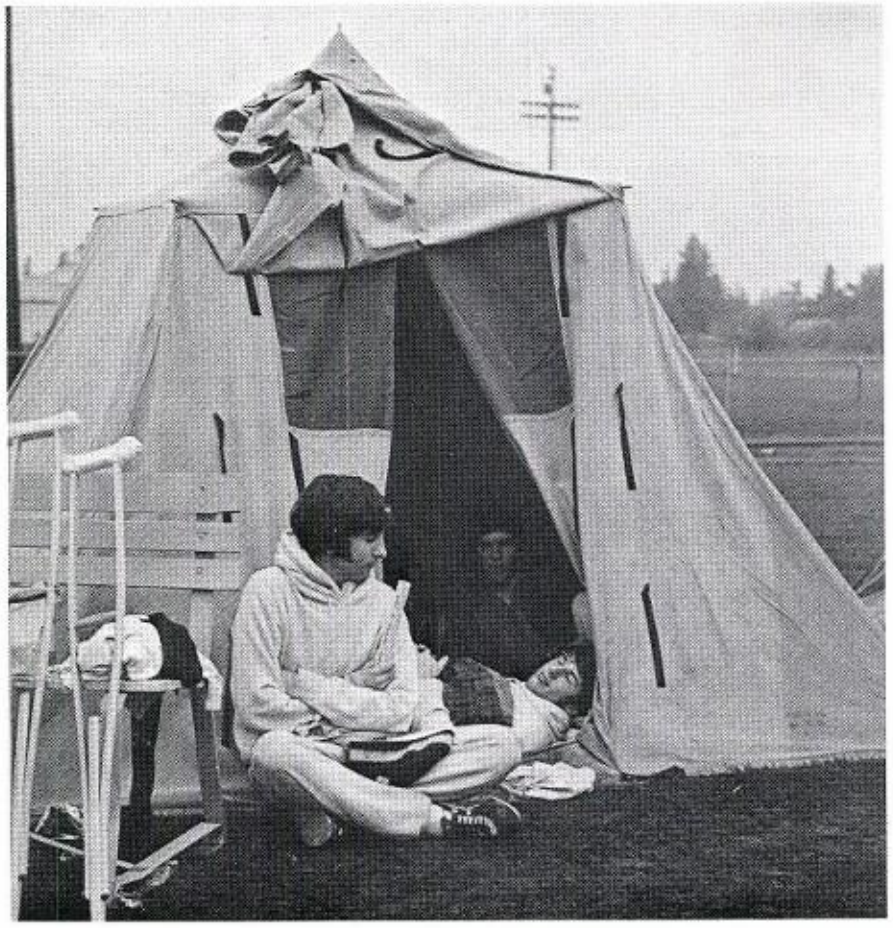


Emile Wilson, a former Black Panther, discussed how the Black Panthers view the legal system in one of the more popular sessions.



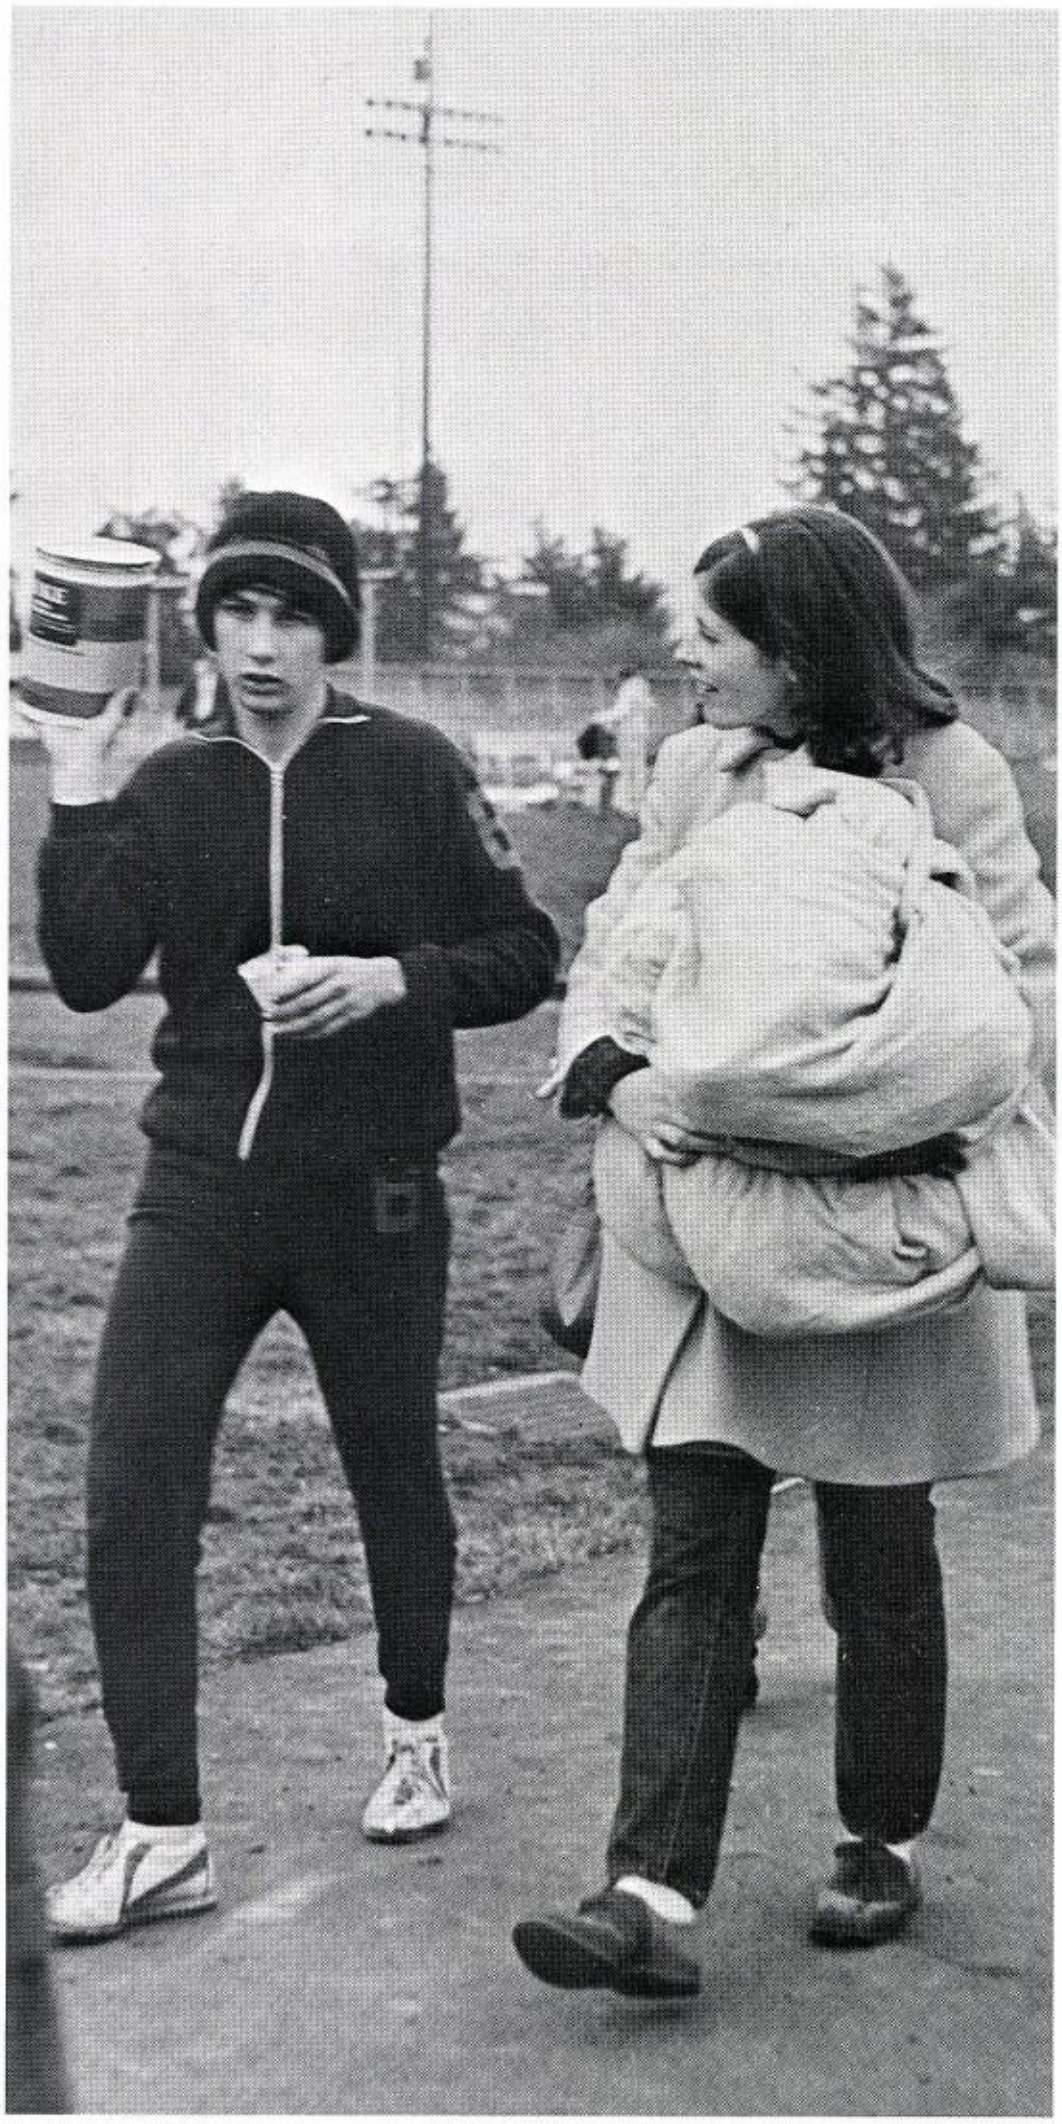
Two members of the business law classes which formed the Law Day Committee, Mike Doel and Steve Lundstrom, check tickets for the purpose of taking role in one of the sessions.

The food service class worked to prepare and serve the food at the luncheon that was held for all the speakers and student committee members that helped to make Law Day a success.



Rob Bernstein, Bob Jeffery, and Tom Stoffregen (Right) occupy tent which was devised as shelter for the runners. (Below) A tired Roger Haynes crosses the finish line to end the marathon. A total of 247 miles were run by the participants.

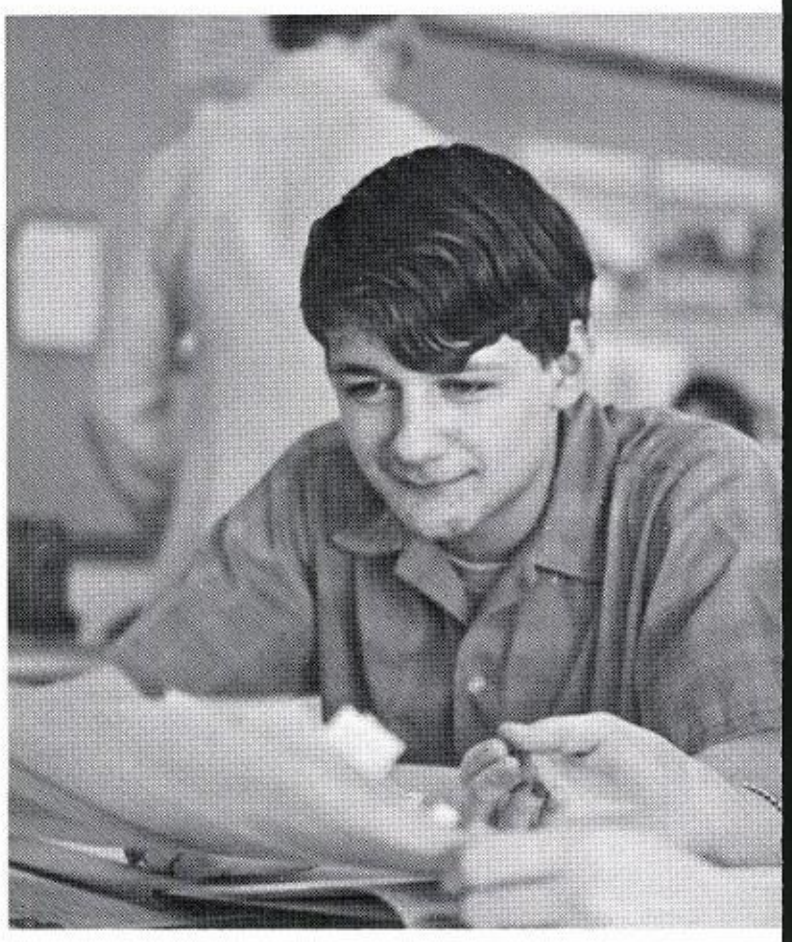
24 Hour Relay Raises Money for Muscular Dystrophy



Graduate Ron Reidlinger and Senior Ruth Bair bring food and supplies to the cross country runners. The runners raised just over $2,000 for Muscular Dystrophy.

Celtic Staff Records School Activities

Assistant editor Lois Wasem types out one of the many cutlines necessary for the production of a fine yearbook.



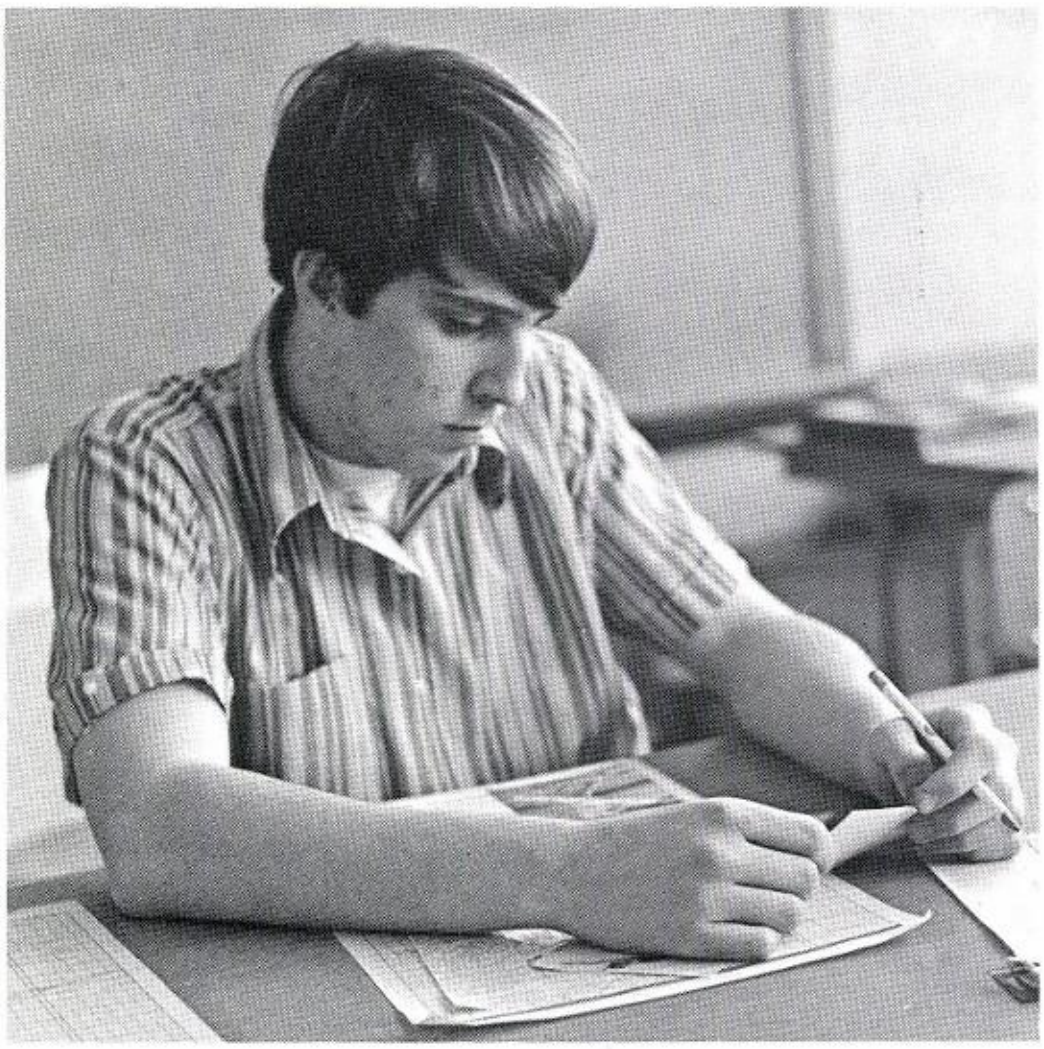
Photographer Don Grisham and Ken Stead, member of the sports section, seem to be enjoying themselves while looking over a layout before submitting it for final approval.

Being editor of the yearbook is a valuable experience, but it involves a lot of time and patience. Stan Skreslet, editor of this year's book, has given much of his time and ability towards the creation of a good yearbook.

Mr. Kaye Darby has proved himself to be an ace Celtic Adviser. Many man hours must be put in to co-ordinate Bruno Studio with the activities of the school, and Mr. Darby has filled that position well.

Highlander Reports on School Activities

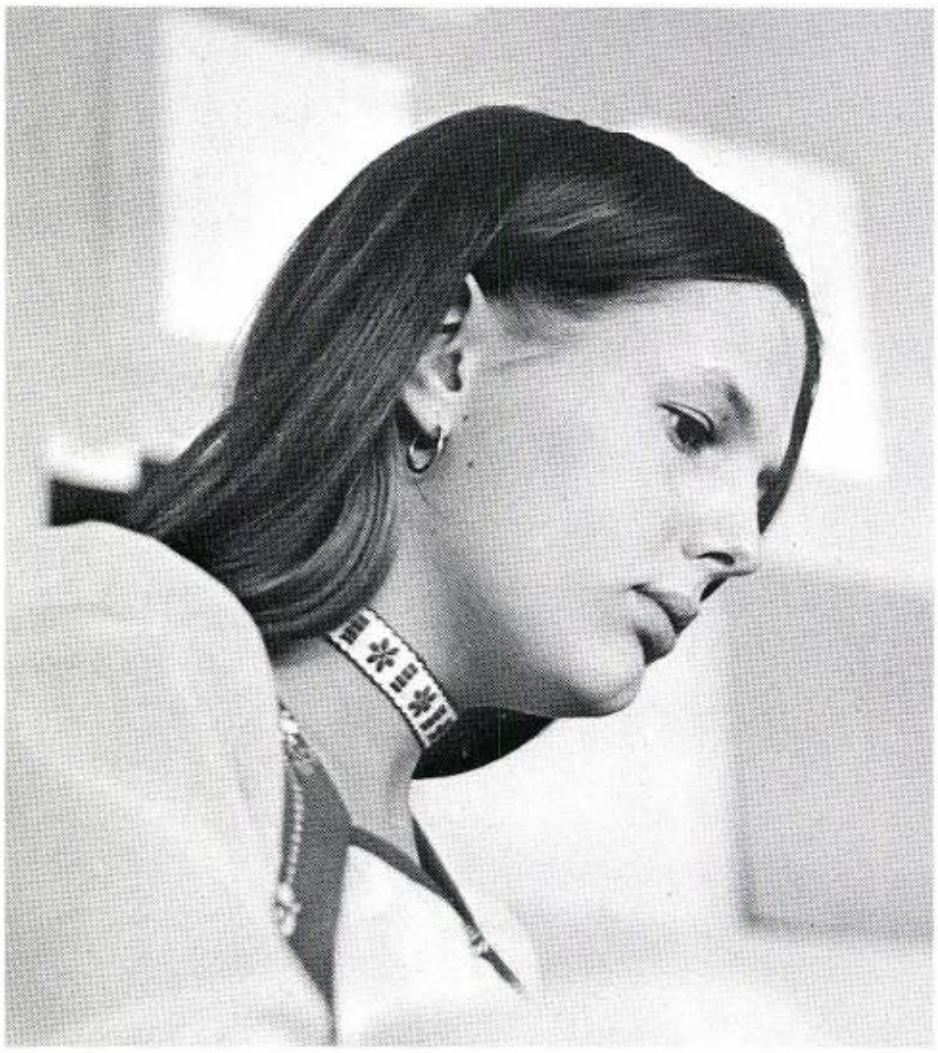
Janice Carter works diligently to create an appealing page which will later appear in the Highlander.



The making of an attractive page takes a certain amount of skill and practice. Here Kevin Richey inspects copy to be used in his layout.

Pat Ludwick, editor of this year's Highlander, has contributed much of her talents to the newspaper. Here, Pat discusses journalism with Greg Lutje, managing editor of the newspaper.

Terry Shrout gets advice and a final O.K. on a layout from Mr. John Mewha, Highlander advisor.



Carolyn Colbert deliberates over various student contributions during the final selection for publication.

Randy Ridel, Lucy Willard, and Rod Seymour work together on the final arrangement of the literary works provided by David Douglas Students.

Crosstown Bus Provides an Outlet for Expression by Talented Students

Sarah Bachhuber, Mr. Mewha, advisor, and Mark Fischer compare notes on the organization and publication of the Crosstown Bus.

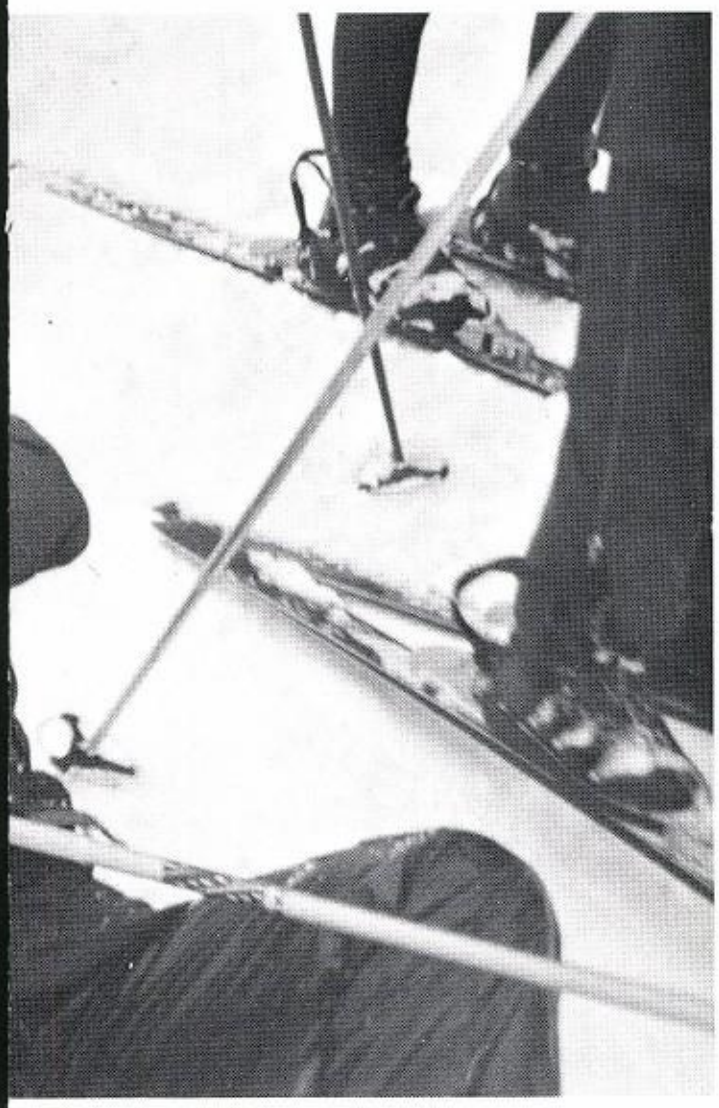
Lucy Willard prepares a tentative arrangement for one of the many pages contained in the magazine.

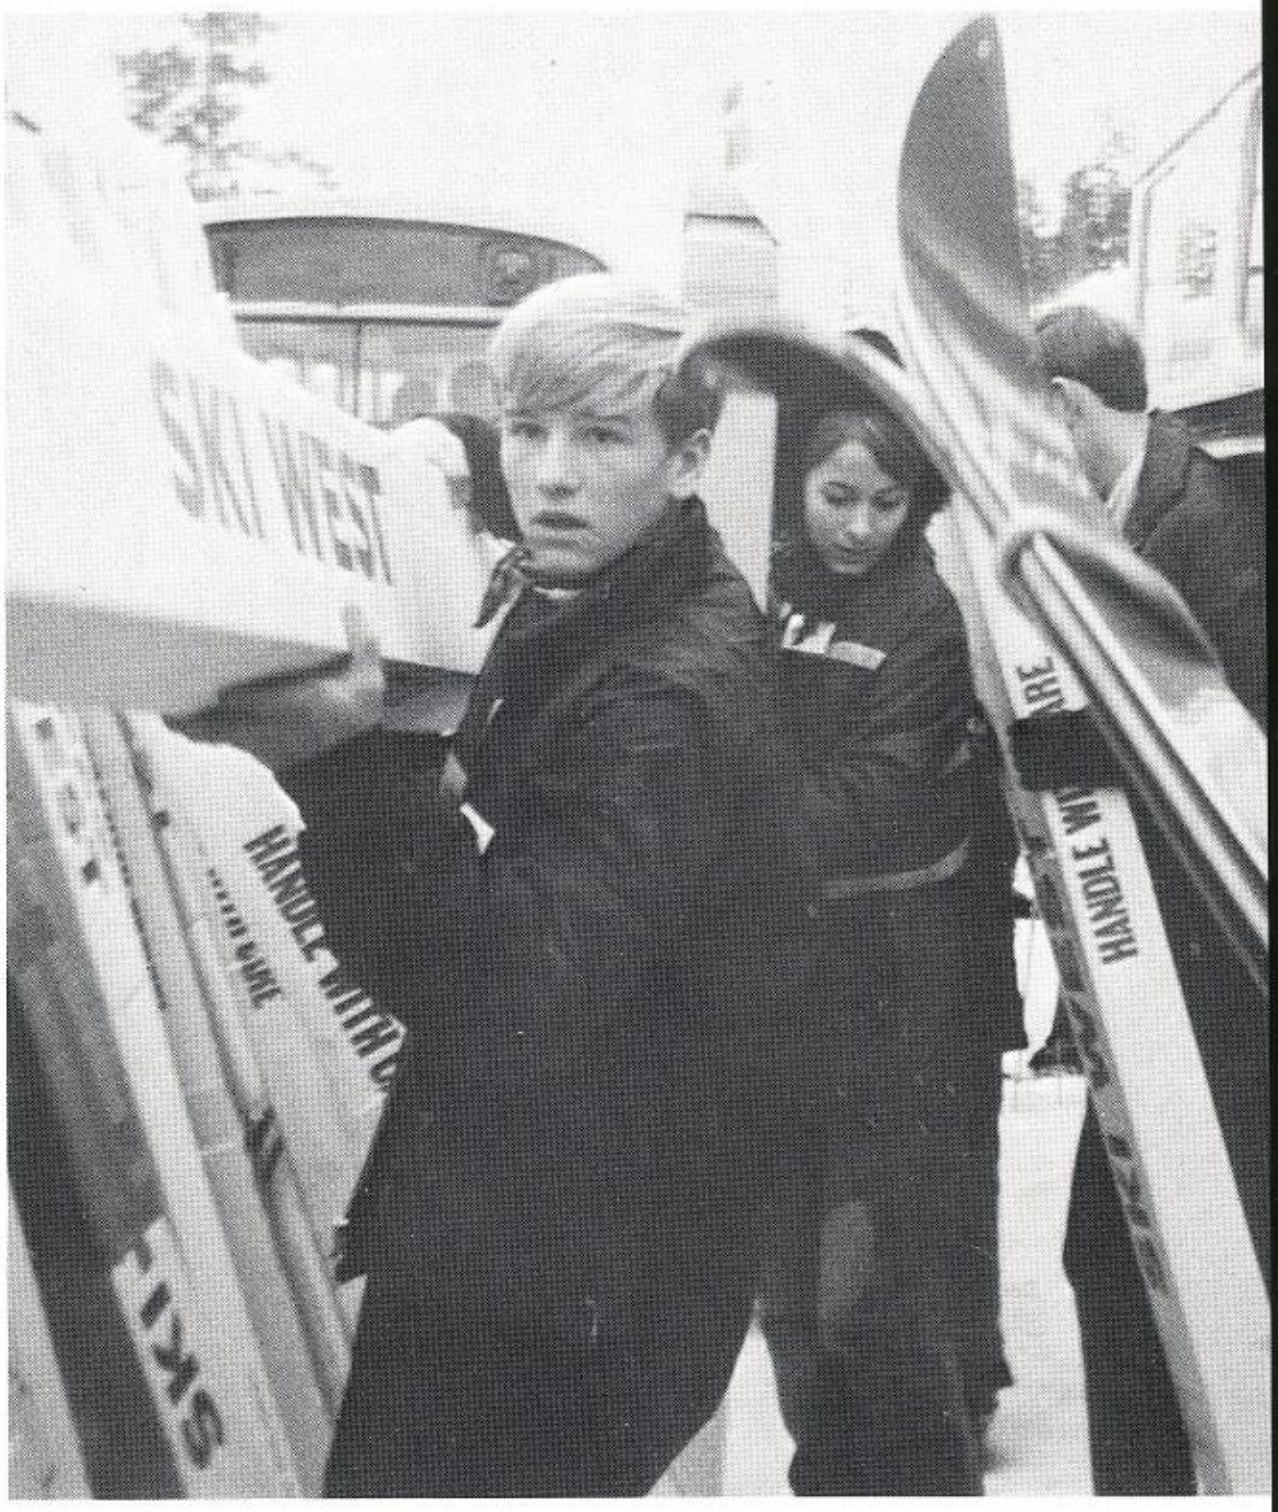
Bob Jeffery waits patiently after the bus ride from Boise to Bogus Basin. The ski group consisted of 45 Douglas students who flew to Boise over the Christmas holidays.

Cheryl Pihl experiences one of the pitfalls of the sport of skiing—falling down. Cheryl is one of the five girls on the David Douglas ski team.

Julie Goodman and Cathy Lundy take a look at the slopes as they are about to start a long and exciting day of skiing. Four days of skiing was one of the most enjoyable parts of the trip.

Ski Club Activities Include Trip to Idaho

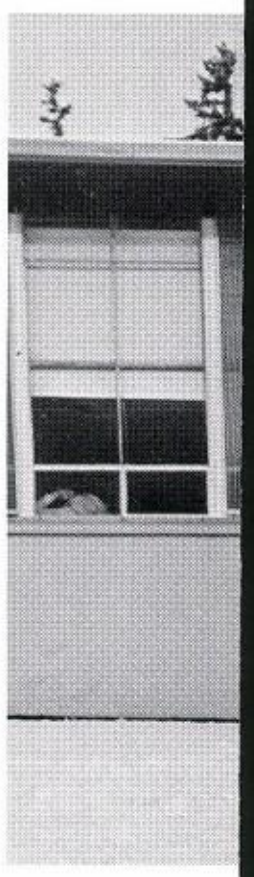




Dave Cramer and Patti Jeffery load their skiis on the bus after a hard and tiring day on the slopes at Bogus Basin, Idaho.

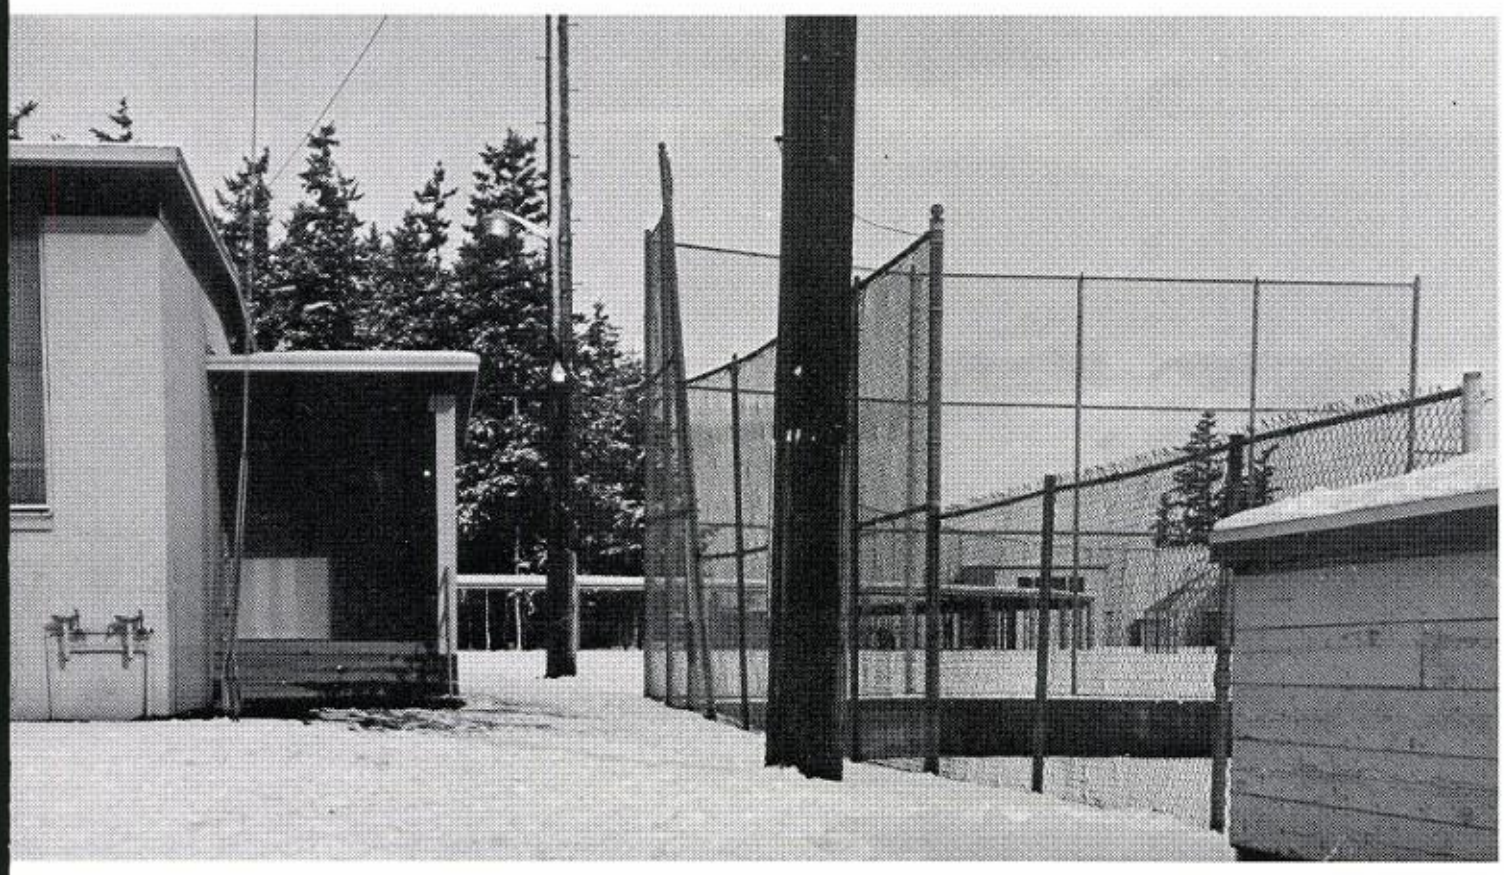
Mr. Larry Cartmill, the trip originator, registers a look of anticipation to a thrilling day of skiing. Mr. Cartmill is also the ski club advisor and coach of the David Douglas ski team.

Rhonda Lemmon and Joanne Stambaugh combine their creative efforts to produce one of the many "snow people" that could be found throughout the courtyards of the school.



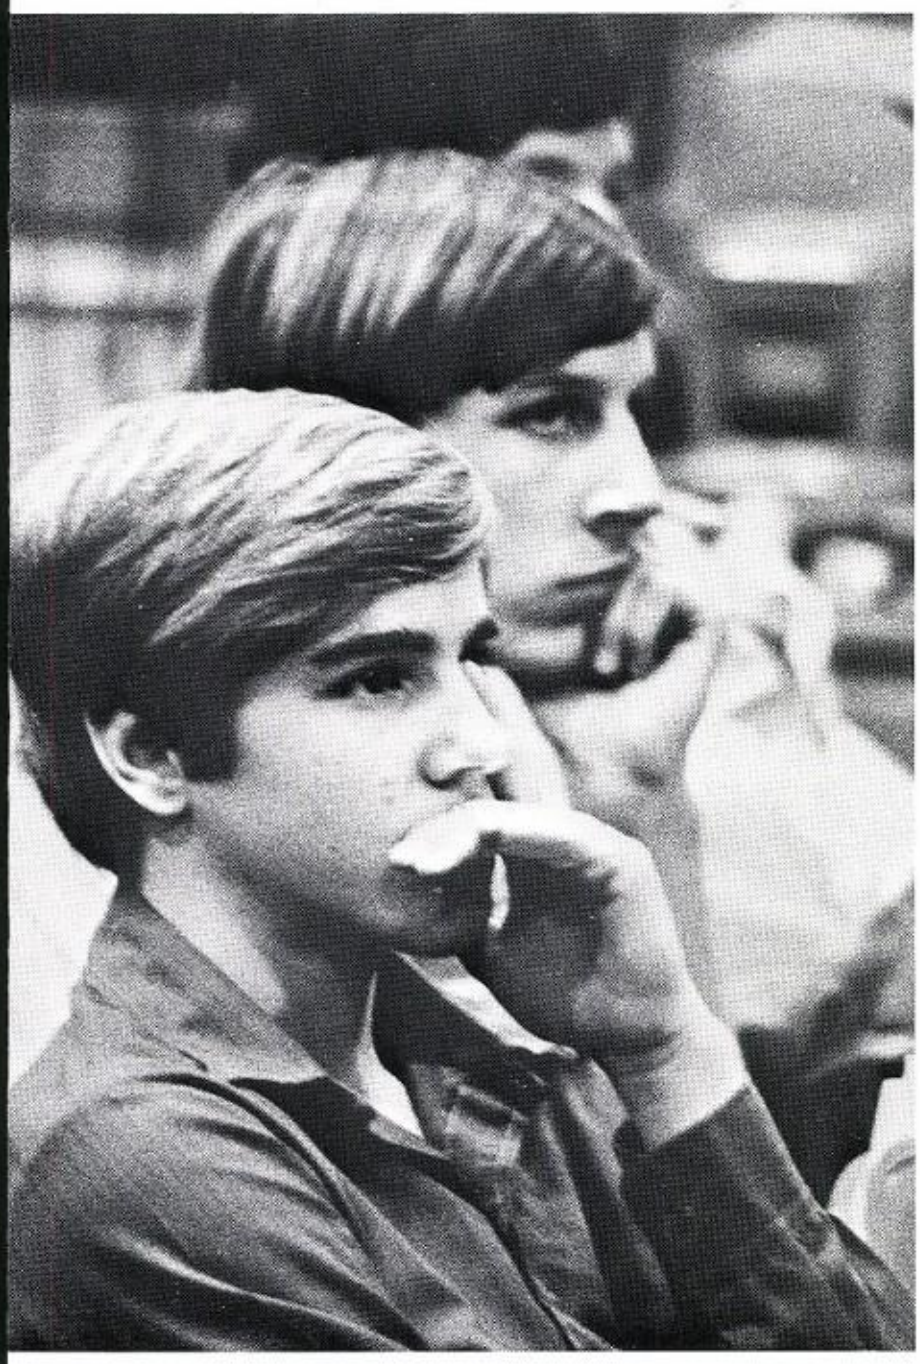
Blankets of Snow Add Variety to Winter Activities

The snowfall brings a quiet serenity to the face of David Douglas, a quiet broken only by the laughter of a student enjoying the winter domain.



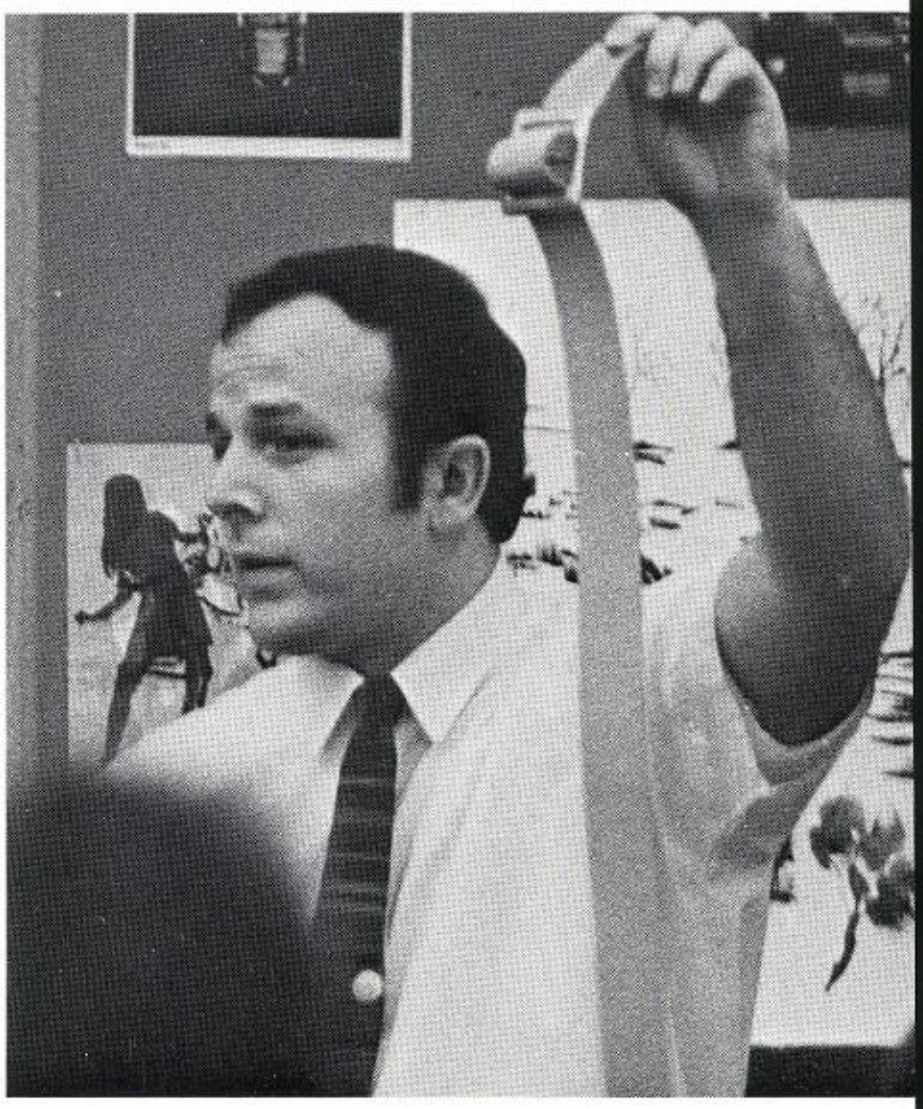
Forecasting Fair Provides Informative Experience for Underclassmen

Many new activities have been provided this year including the Forecasting Fair. Carrie Allison discusses with friends the new variety of classes being offered.



Sophomores John Krause and Gary Murphy listen intently to find out more about the content of upcoming classes. The Forecasting Fair gave students an opportunity to obtain information about next year's classes.

Mr. Monrad Bjorge participates in the Forecasting Fair by explaining the art classes available for next year's students.



Miss Susan Freitag willingly explains an English elective to an interested student at the Forecasting Fair.

Thespians Exhibit Their Abilities During Gammer Gurton's Needle

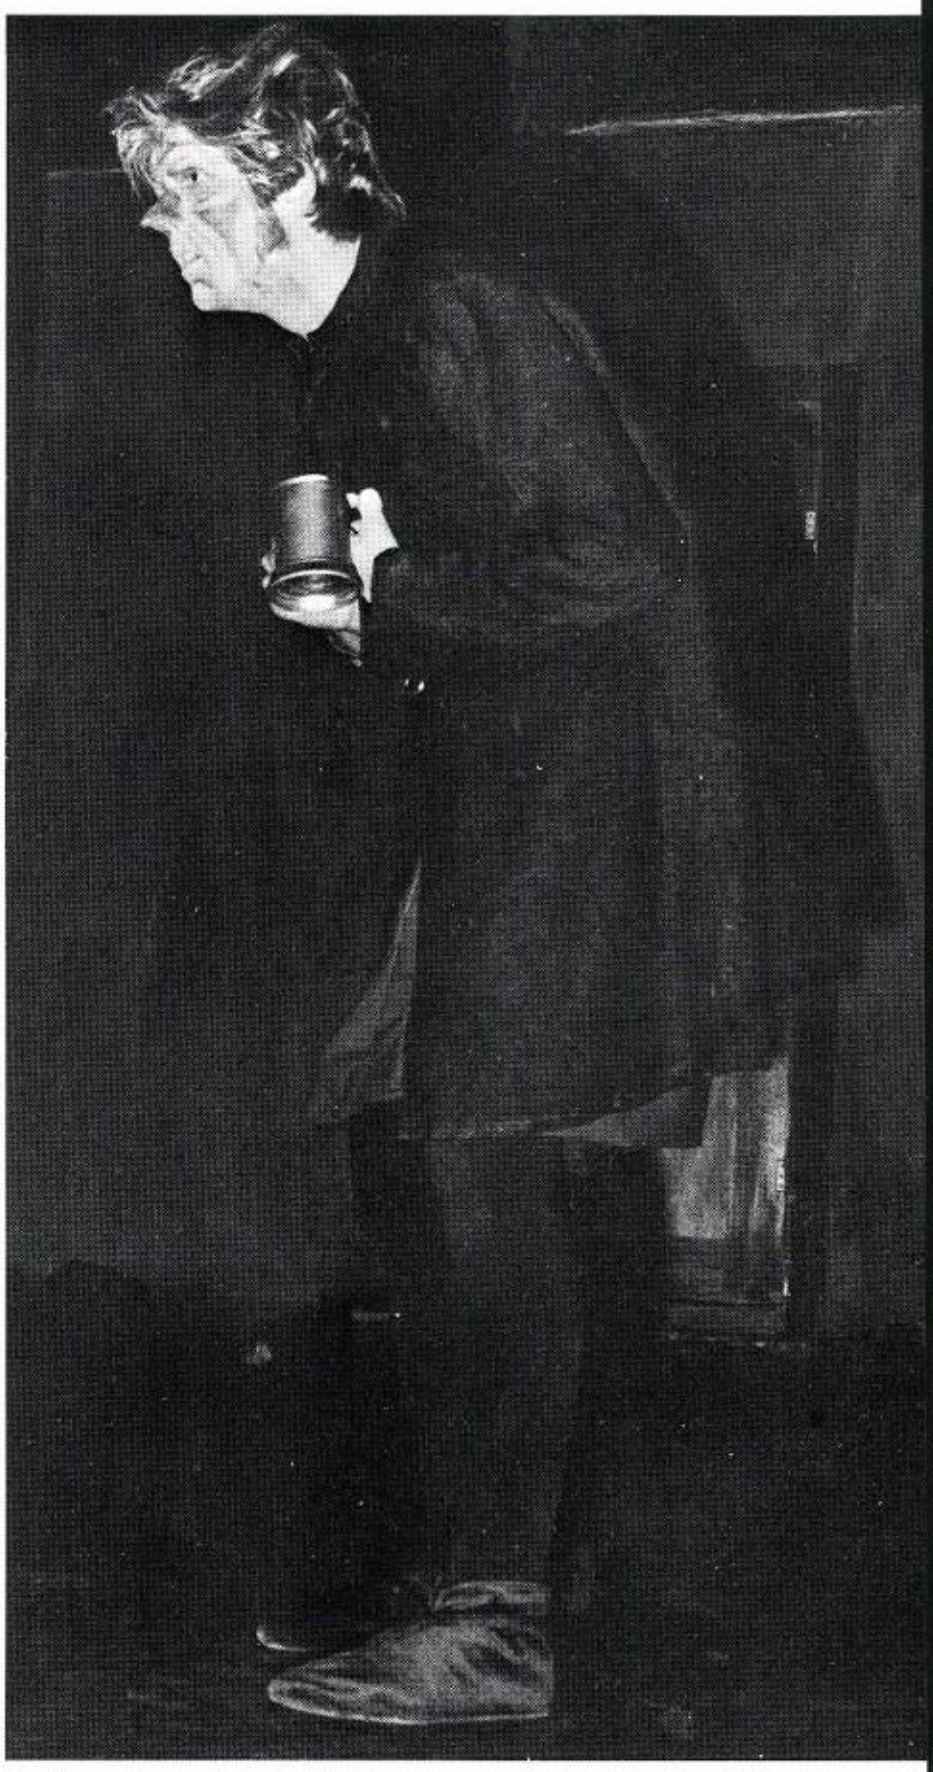
Chris Terry carefully applies eyeliner to the forehead of Tom Stoffregen. Many students worked hard, behind the scenes, to make the play a success.

Gammer Gurton (Gloria Delfin) and Dame Chat (Karey Smith) have a slight difference of opinion over the ownership of the needle. Master Bayley (Tom Freel) sits and listens with total indifference to the whole problem.

Dame Chat (Karey Smith) peers cautiously through the tree branches as Diccon (Scott Othus) accuses her of stealing Gammer Gurton's chicken.

Gammer Gurton and Hodge (Jon Sackett), haggard and troubled, don't know where to look next for Gammer Gurton's needle.

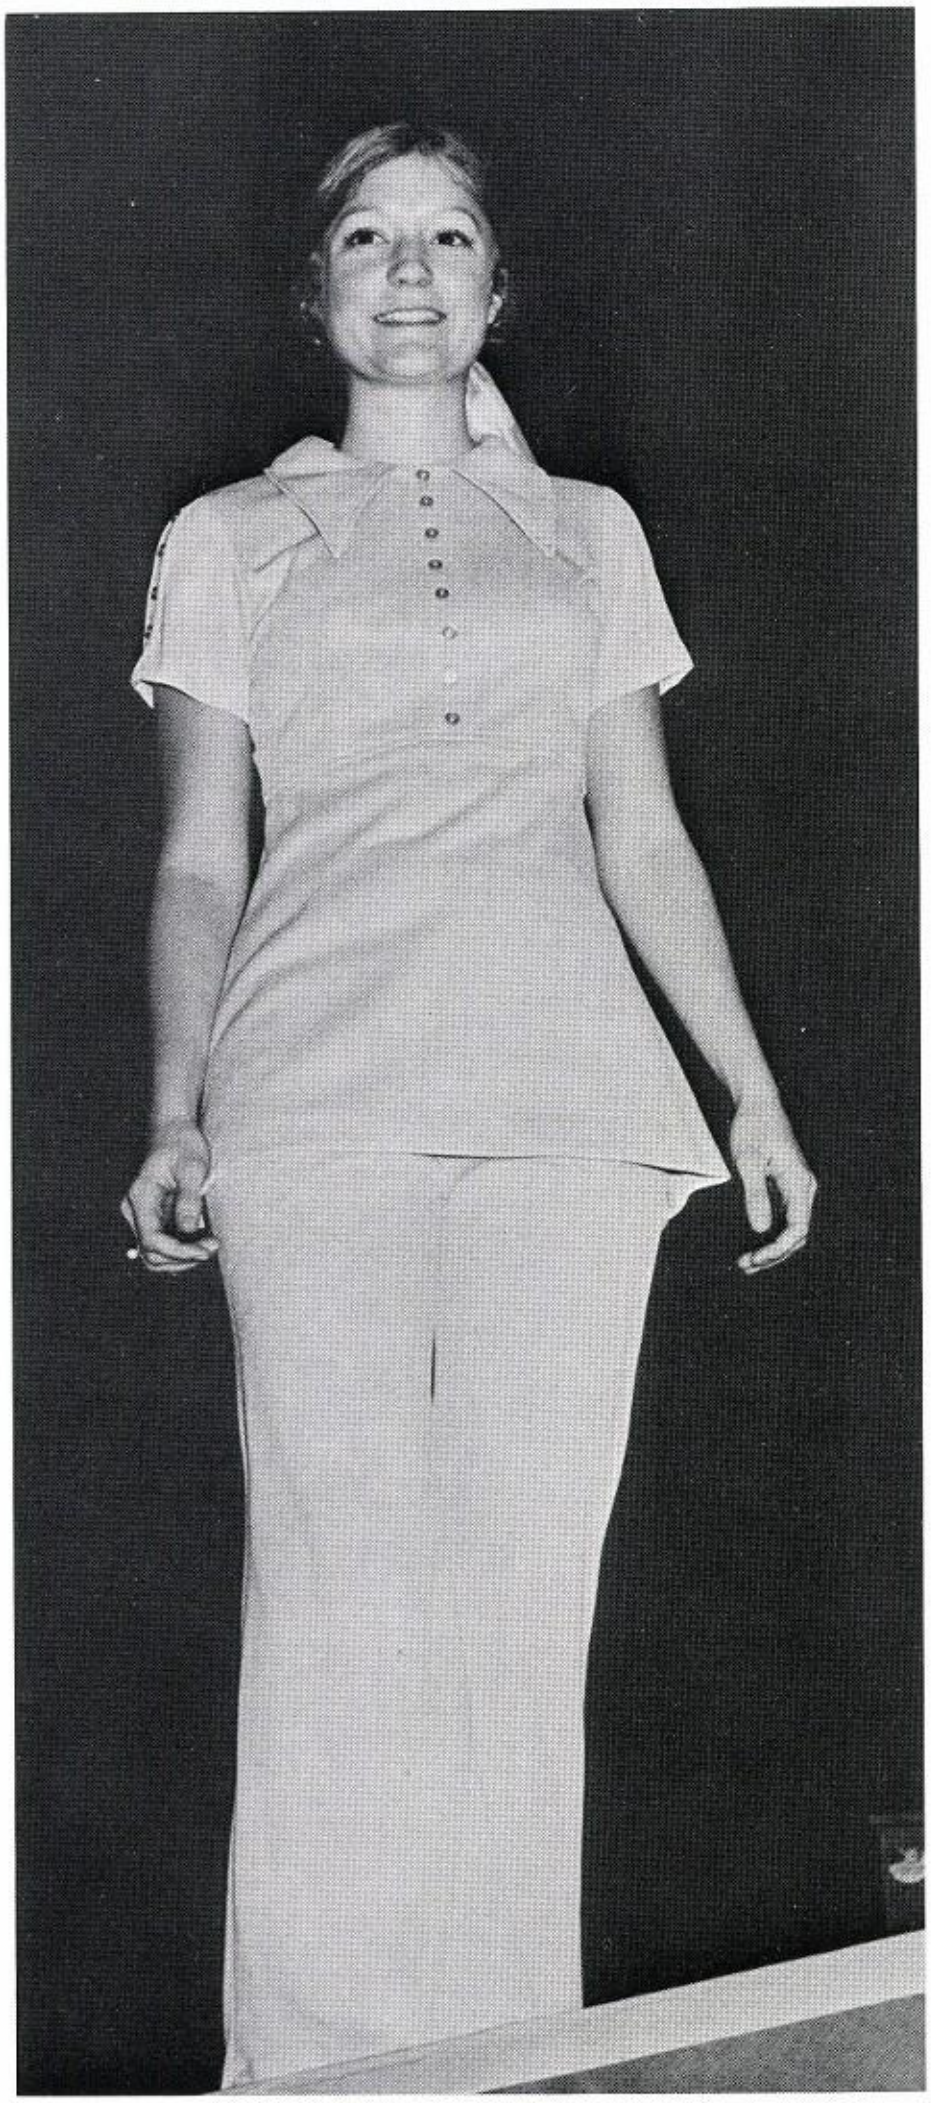
Doctor Rat (Dave Fahlgren) in his own selfish way, complains that he would rather be indulging in drink than out chasing down other people's problems.



Fashion Show, Music, and Speaker Highlight the Father-Daughter Banquet

Members of the Country Blue: Randy Davenport, Ron Lorts, and Bruce Sinclair provided entertainment for the Father-Daughter Banquet with such songs as "Mr. Bojangles" and "Cotton Fields."

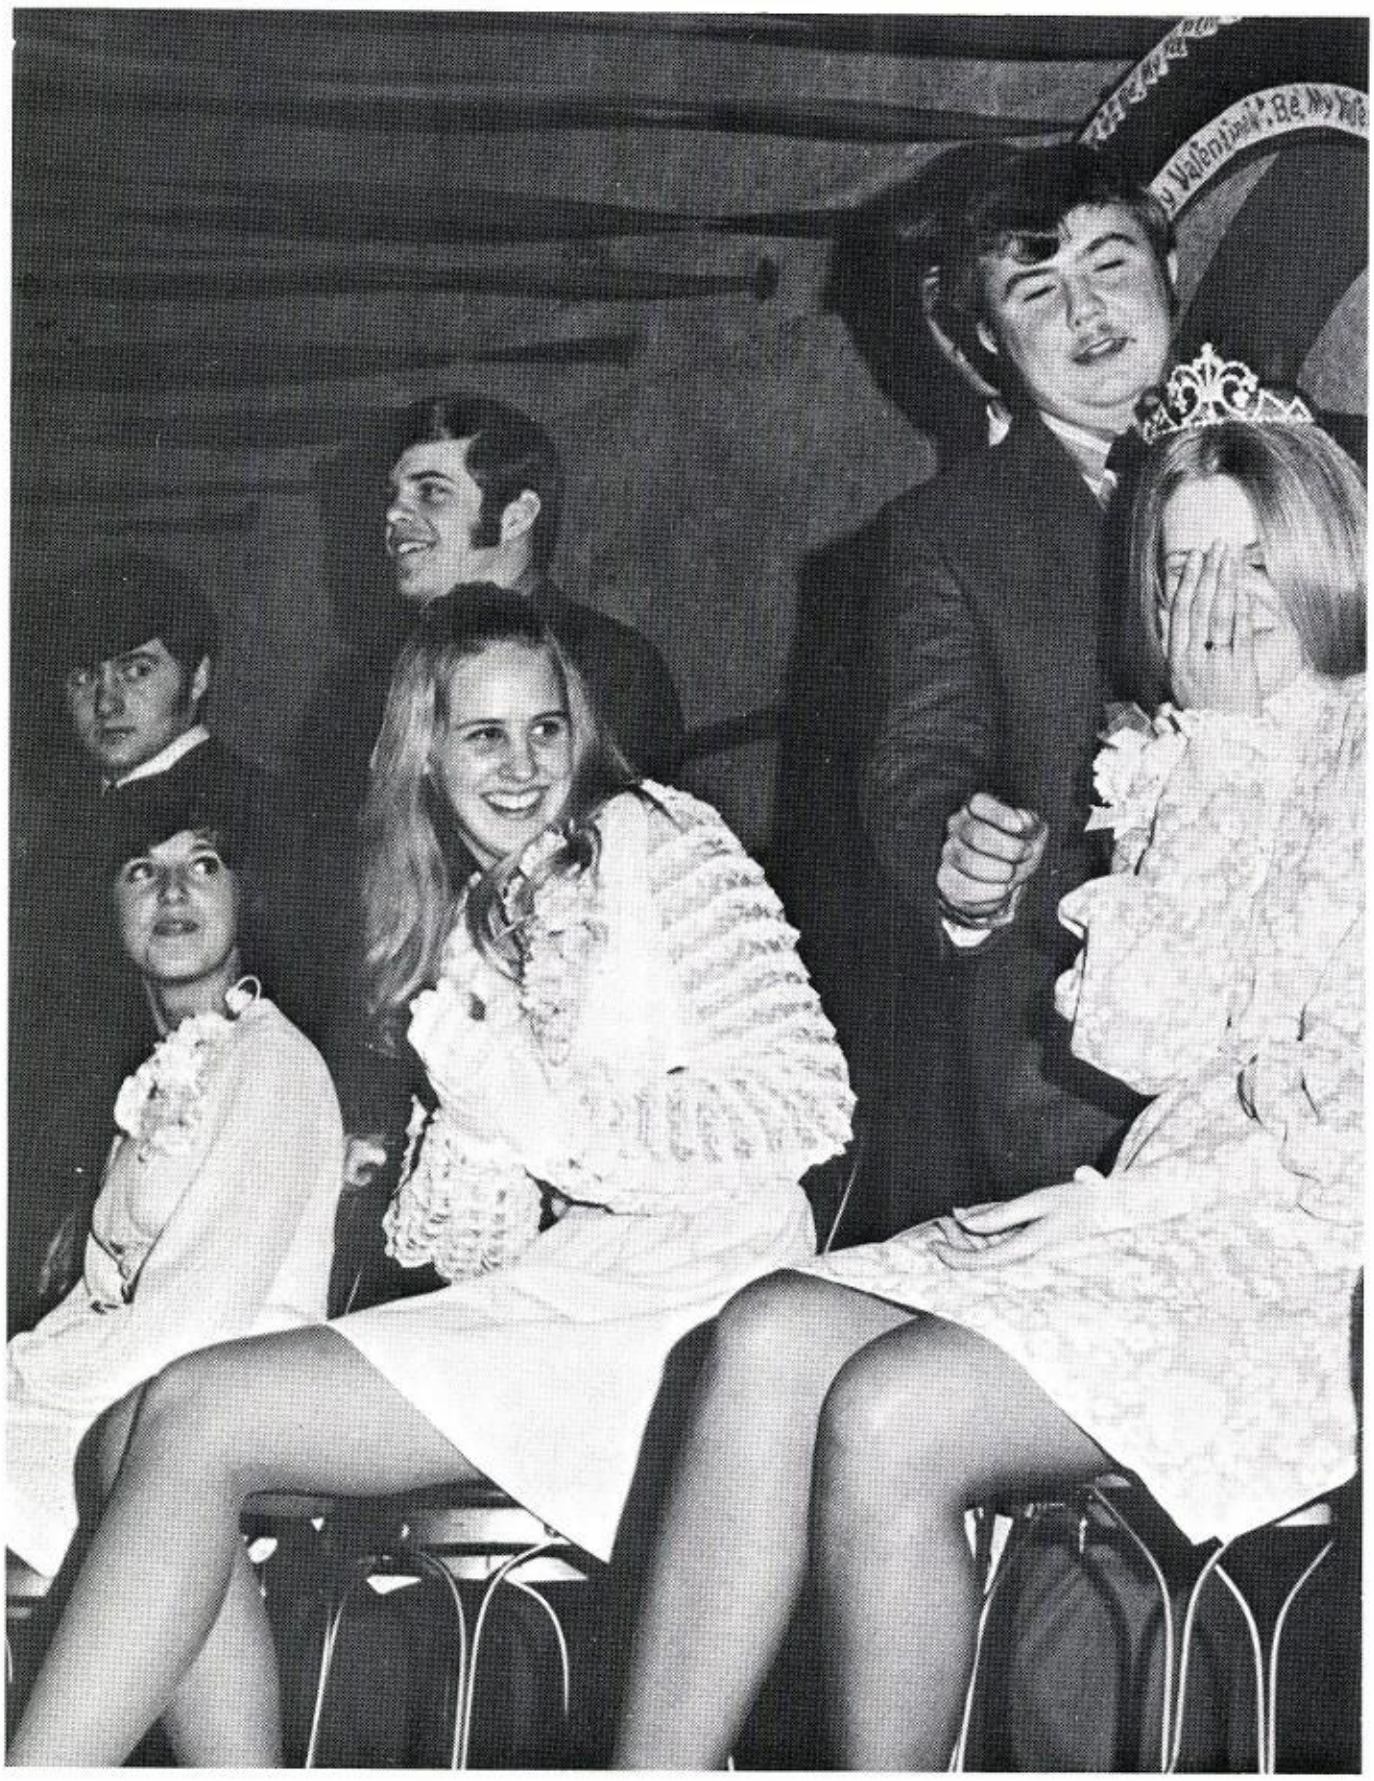
The Father-Daughter Banquet provided an opportunity for fathers and their daughters to become active together in a school related activity. Annette Wallway and her father, Mr. O.G. Wallway, enjoy a meal served by the wrestling team.



Heidi Allison models a pantsuit in the fashion show, one of the attractions of the banquet. Heidi was wearing one of the many outfits provided by Lipman Wolfe Co.

A few words of welcome were given to the fathers and their daughters by Mr. Don Murray, president of Dad's Club.

Court Enhances Sweethearts Ball



Princesses Mary Jane Pope and Juli Millard along with escorts, Carl Pollack and Ron Hill, look on as Master of Ceremonies Marvin Bjorge crowns Rhonda Lemmon Queen of the Sweethearts Ball.

Radiant Rhonda Lemmon shares her excitement of being Queen of the Sweethearts Ball with escort and dancing partner Dick Pierce.

Dancing couples enjoy the romantic atmosphere set by Valentines Day decorations. Regis and Quahla provided the decorations.

Pep Assemblies Add Spirit and Entertainment to School Days

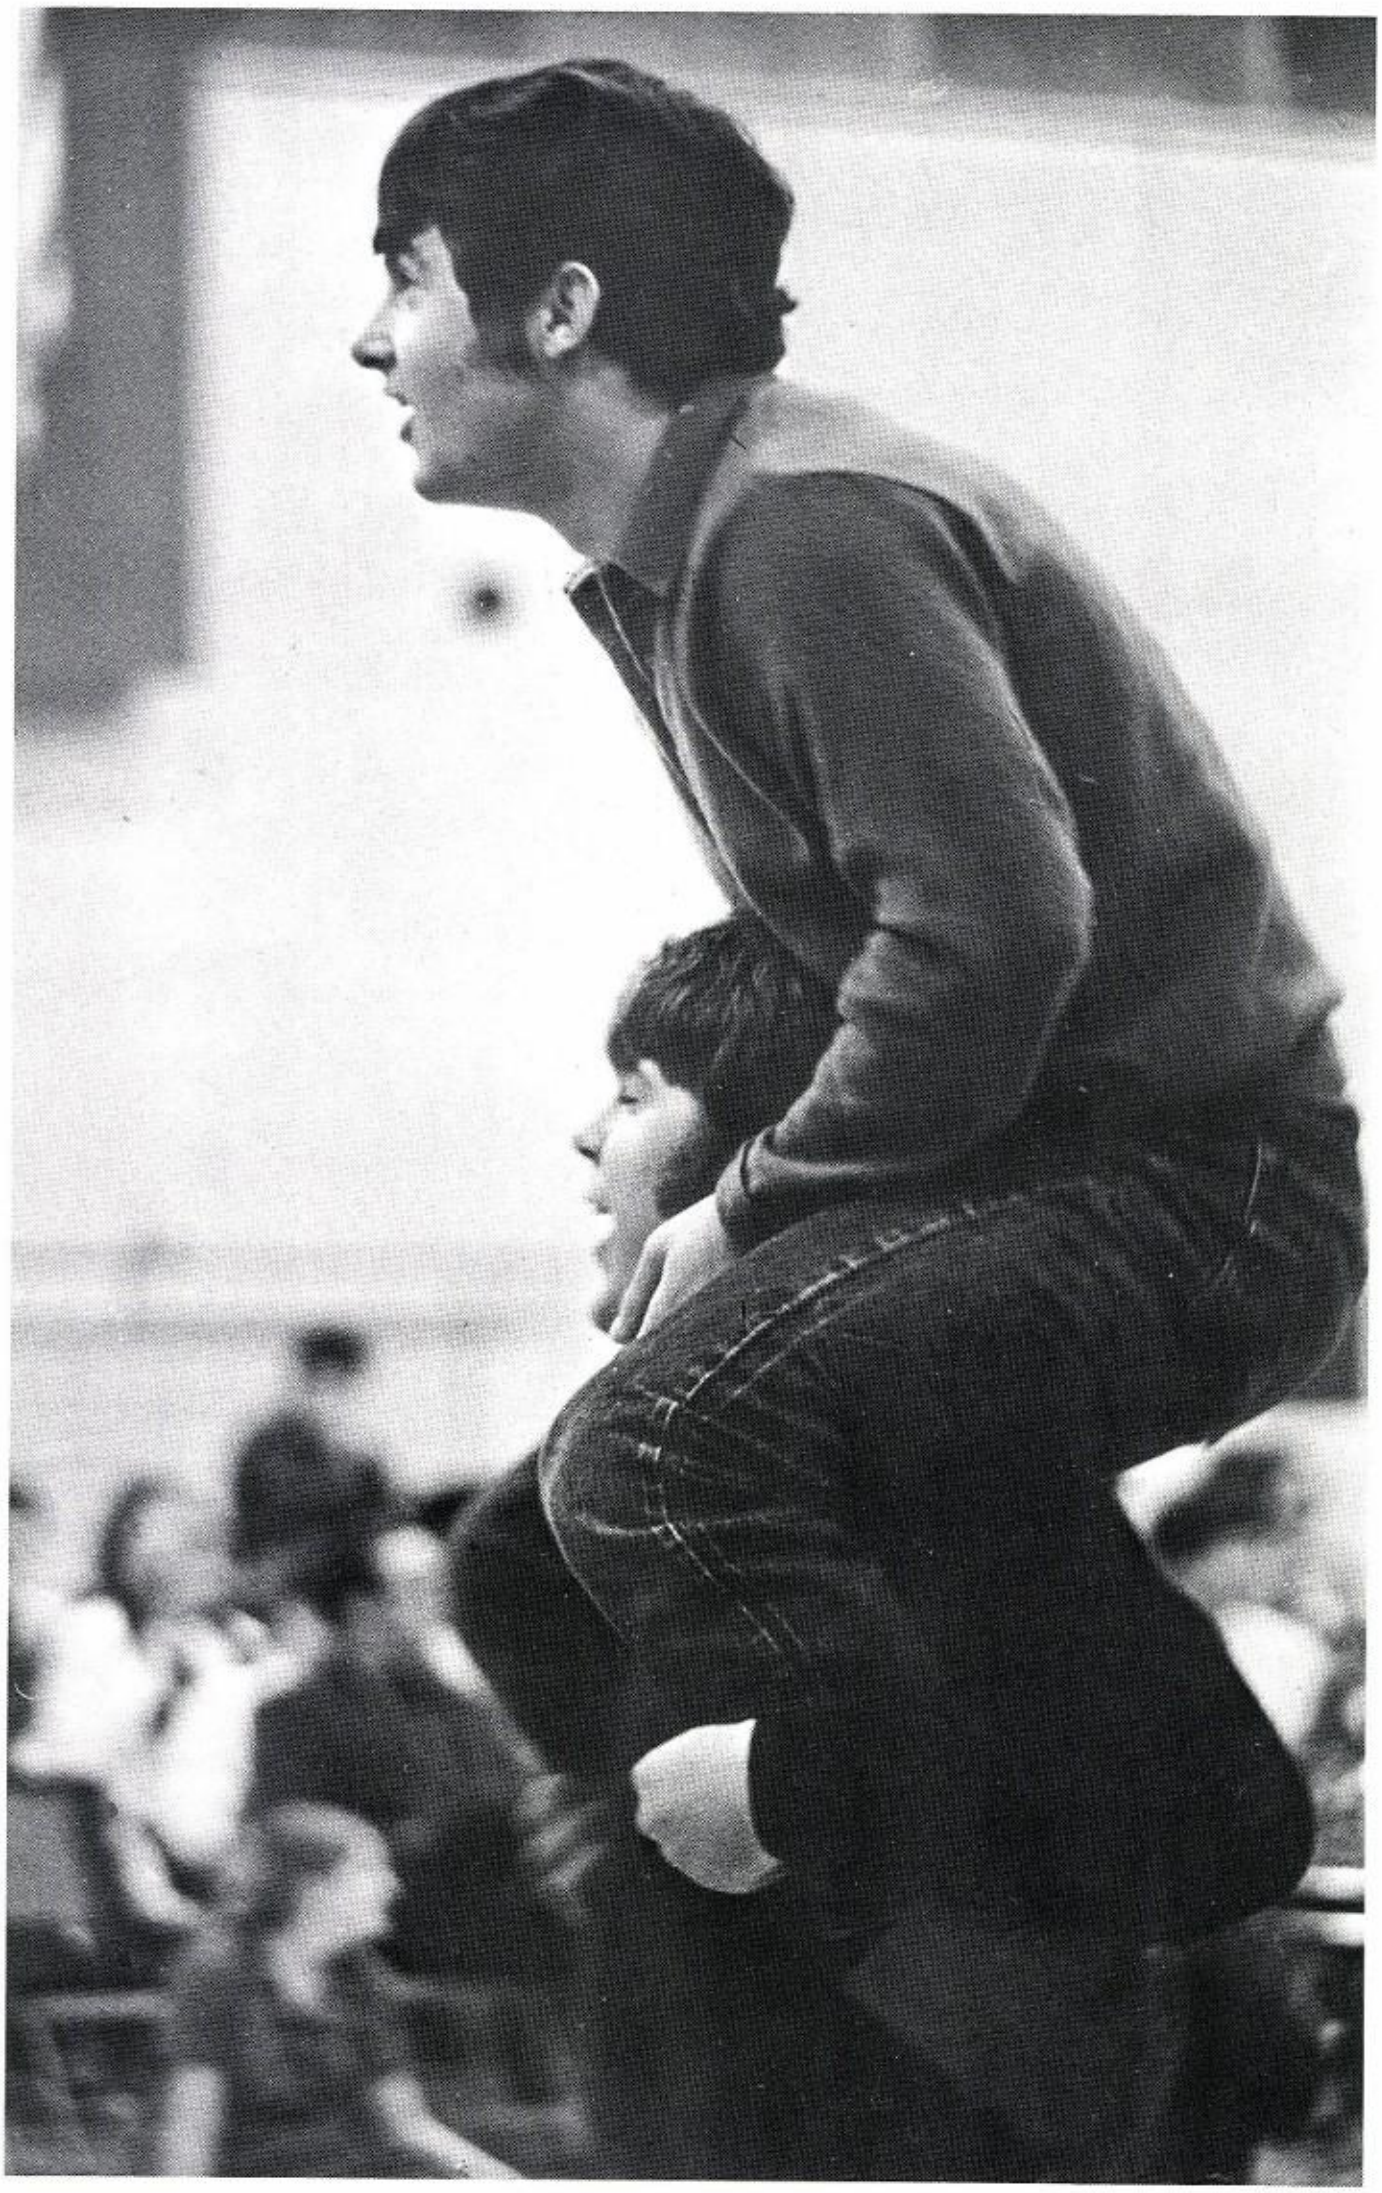
Spring varsity rally member, Debbie Antonacci, dances to the music, which is provided at every pep assembly by the all school band.



Class competition has played a large part of the spirit associated with David Douglas.

Clubs and Organizations Perform Services Throughout the Year

Omni member Ann Thatcher serves coffee to Mrs. McCaleb at the Queens Dessert. Omni performed many duties at May Fete.

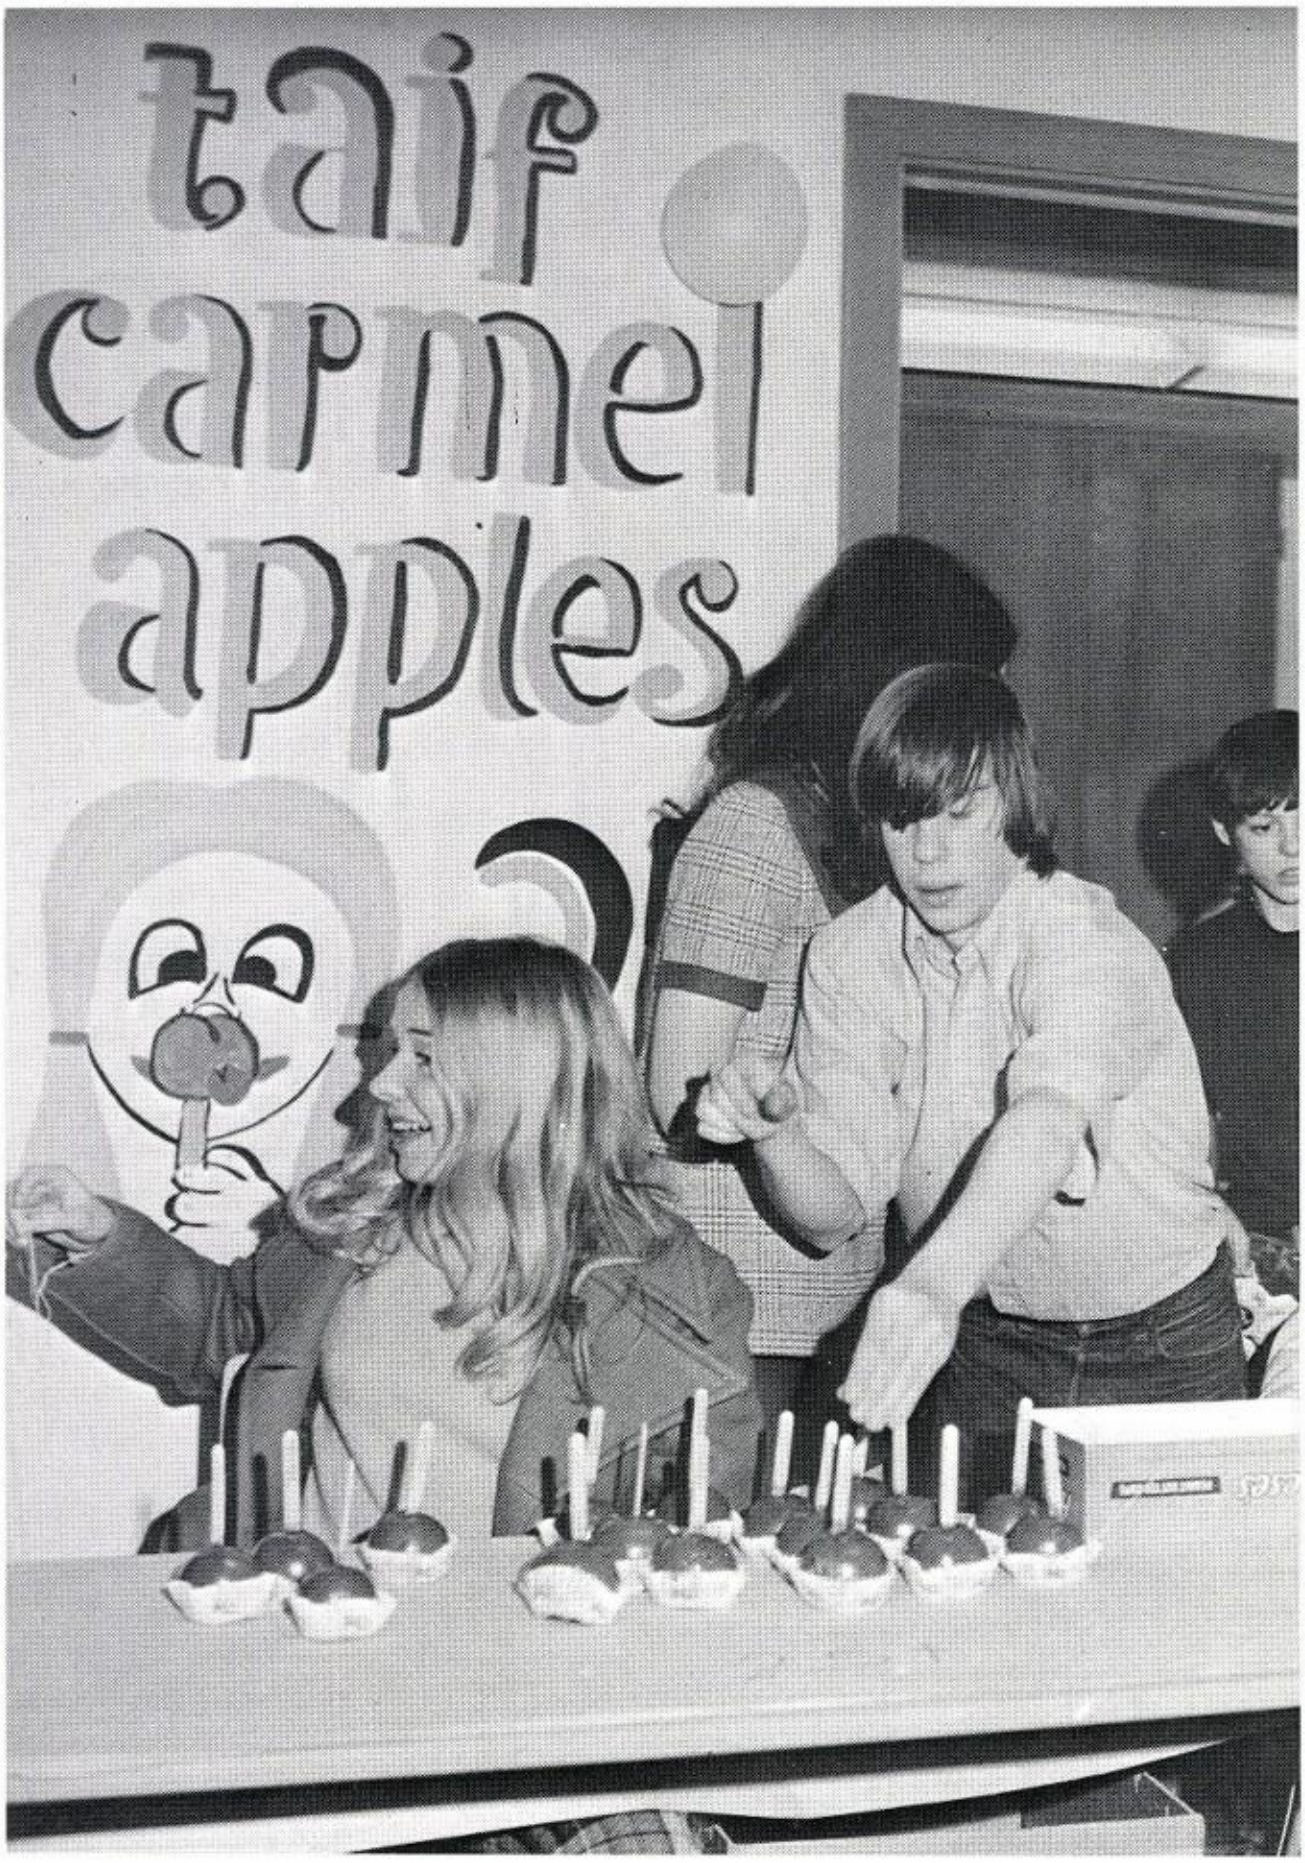
Human Carnival Raises Money for AFS



Taif social service club member Val O'Bryne sells caramel apples to raise money for AFS. Freshman Dave Gould "buys" an apple at the Human Carnival. AFS needed money to send exchange students abroad and bring students to David Douglas.

Junior Class Candy Sale Finances
Junior-Senior Prom

Kathy Powers, junior, checks out two cases of candy to help raise money for the Junior Senior Prom.

Inspired students anxiously reach for a sample of the candy being thrown to them. Prizes were awarded to juniors who sold the most cases of the chocolate bars.

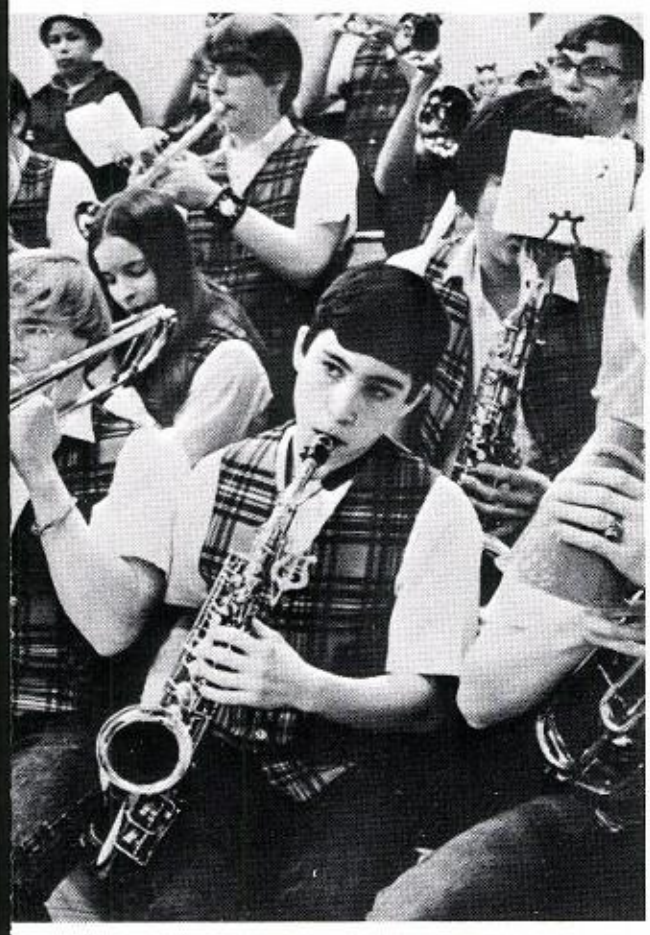
Instrumental Groups Perform for Various School Activities

Football and basketball games are provided with music by various sections of the bands, to add to the support of the teams. Dan Antoni (above) plays his part to add to the volume of the marching band, while the Senior Building pep band initiates a tune at one of the basketball games (below).

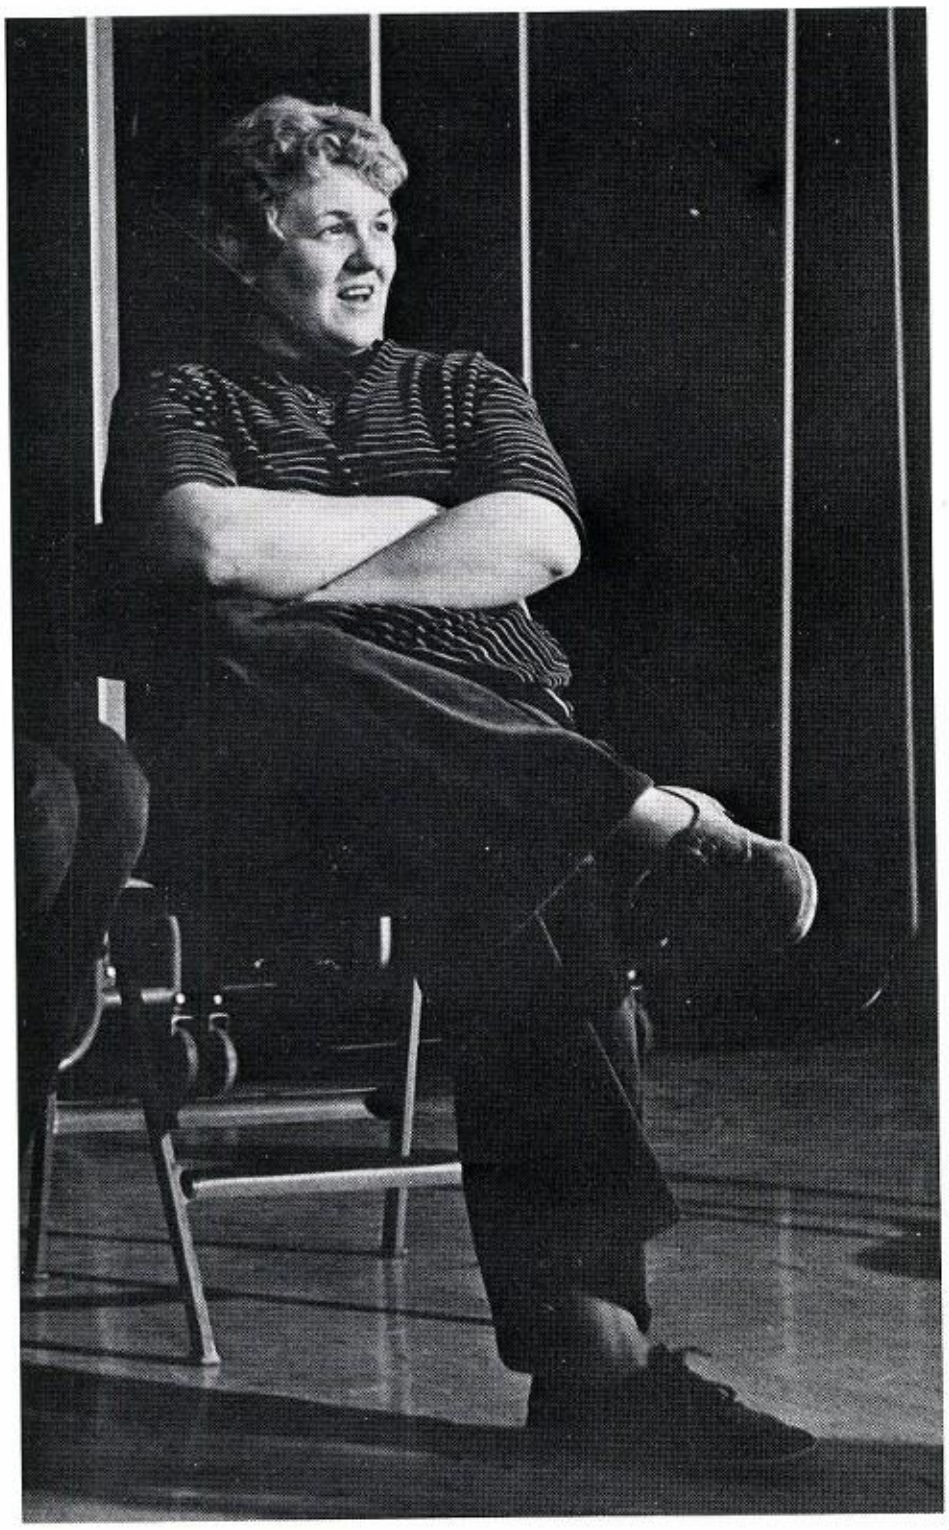
Concentration is the key to success, as Dave Thanem shows while he plays his bass at the instrumental assembly held in the fall.



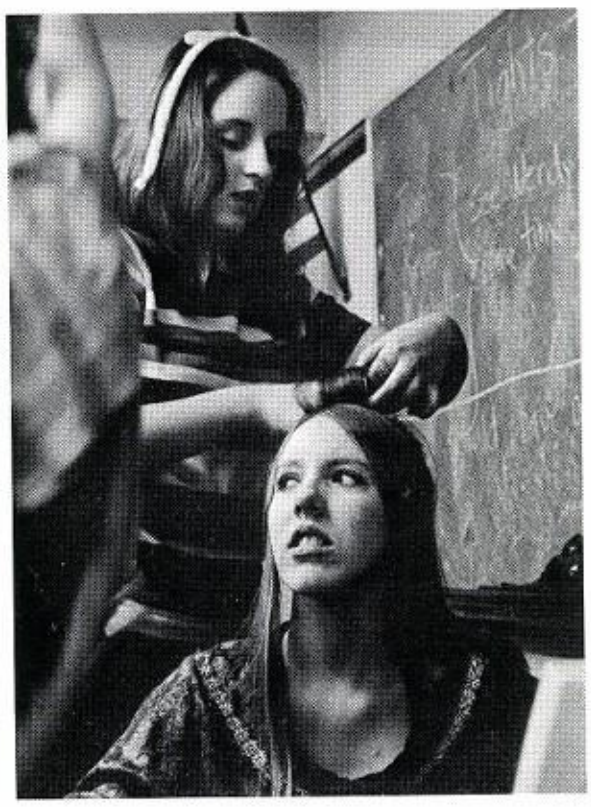
With his trombone resounding, Bob Lumm, along with the rest of the pep band, adds to the excitement of the halftime activities during basketball season.

Looking warily toward one of the other cast members, Carol Nepote (above), waits to put the finishing touches on her make-up, as Barbara Nedrow (right) applies one of the many coats of eyeliner necessary in order to make her eyes show up under the stage lights. Barby Bucholz (below), seeks the aid of Linda Bellmer for putting on one of the various pieces of jewelry made for the play.

Behind the Scenes Work Combined with Actual Performances. . .



Mrs. Rae Mona Reynolds, head director of "Anne of the Thousand Days," sits back to observe one of the many rehearsals necessary for production of the play.



Patti Moore transforms Charlene Brown into a lady of the court of King Henry VIII, in preparation for the all-school Spring production.

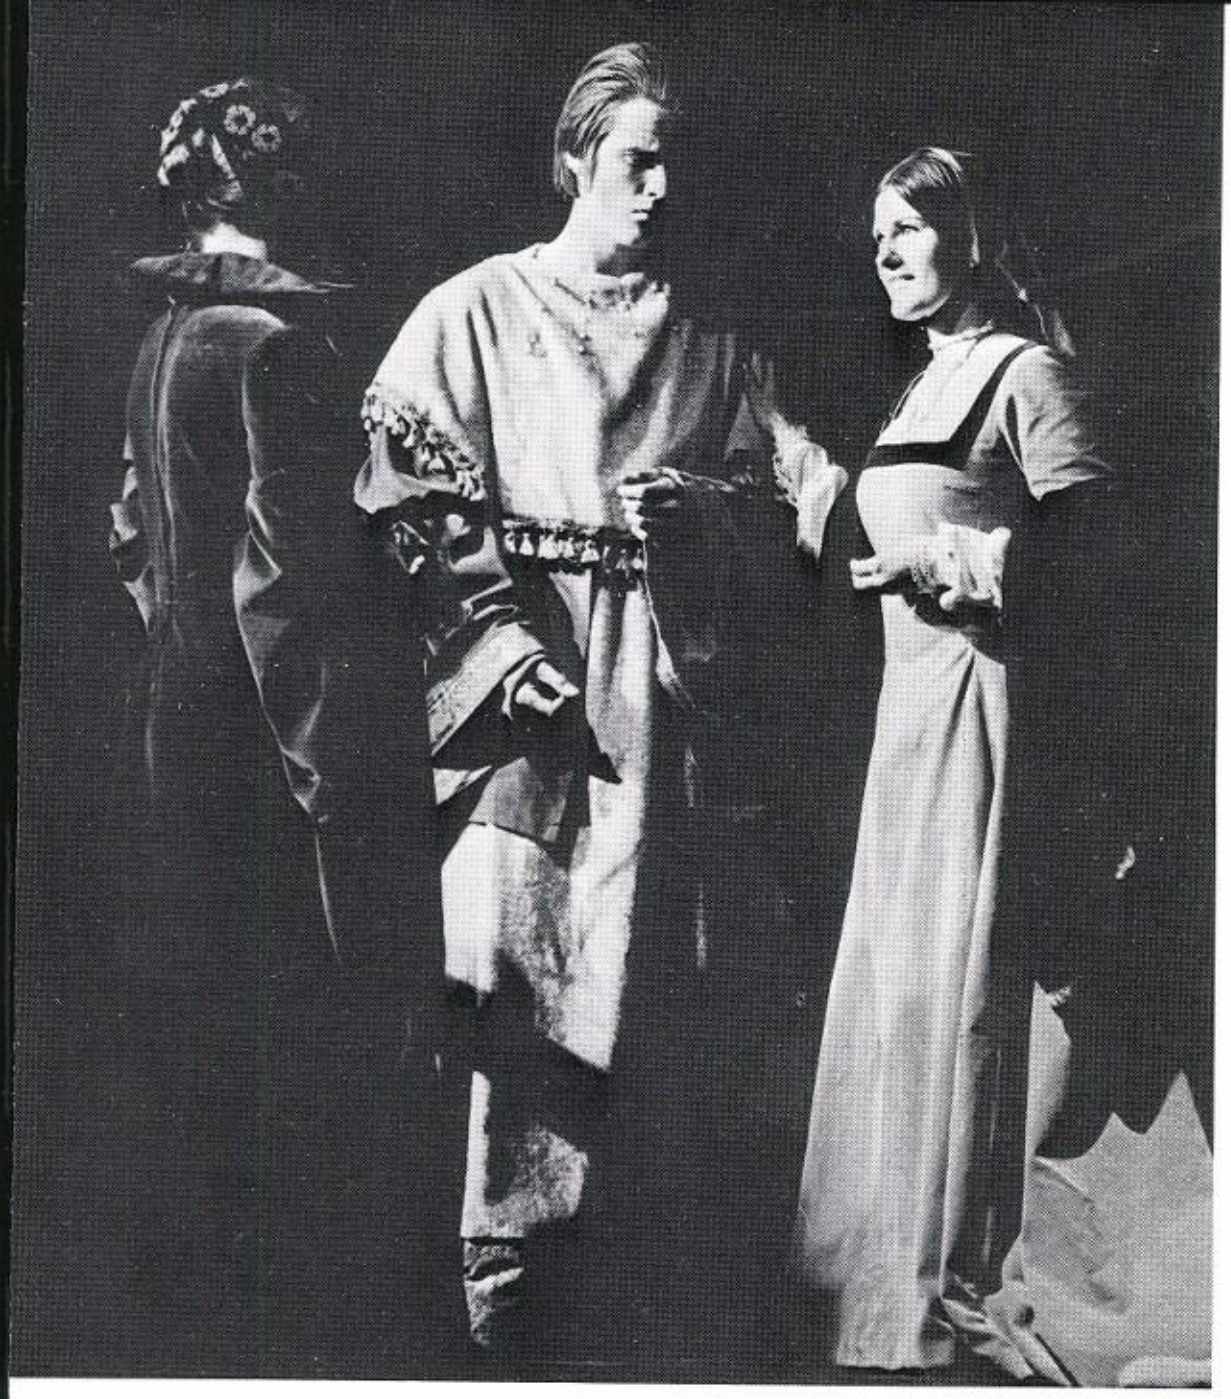
Anne Boleyn (Diana Derhalli) listens to King Henry VIII (Tim Watts) as he tries to persuade her to have his son.

(Above) Anne Boleyn and Mark Smeaton (Lane Hammer) listen to the music provided by courtiers, Madge Shelton (Glendella Brown) and Henry Norris (John Meader), as they serenade the new-born princess. (Below) Mark Smeaton teaches the rest of the court a new card game which was invented by the King.



Elizabeth Boleyn (Sue Schonert), Duke of Norfolk (Pat Stuart), and Mary Boleyn (Barbara Nedrow) discuss the plans for the Ball in honor of the King.

Servant (Barb Standing) lets out a scream as King Henry VIII makes one of his many advances towards the women servants of the castles.

Legislative Field Trip Acquaints Students With Oregon Government

The entire group gathers in the conference room to hear various Senators and Representatives from Multnomah County.

Art Boland, Howard Ferris, and Mike Rosetti take a break in the day's agenda to have a chat with Oregon Governor Tom McCall.

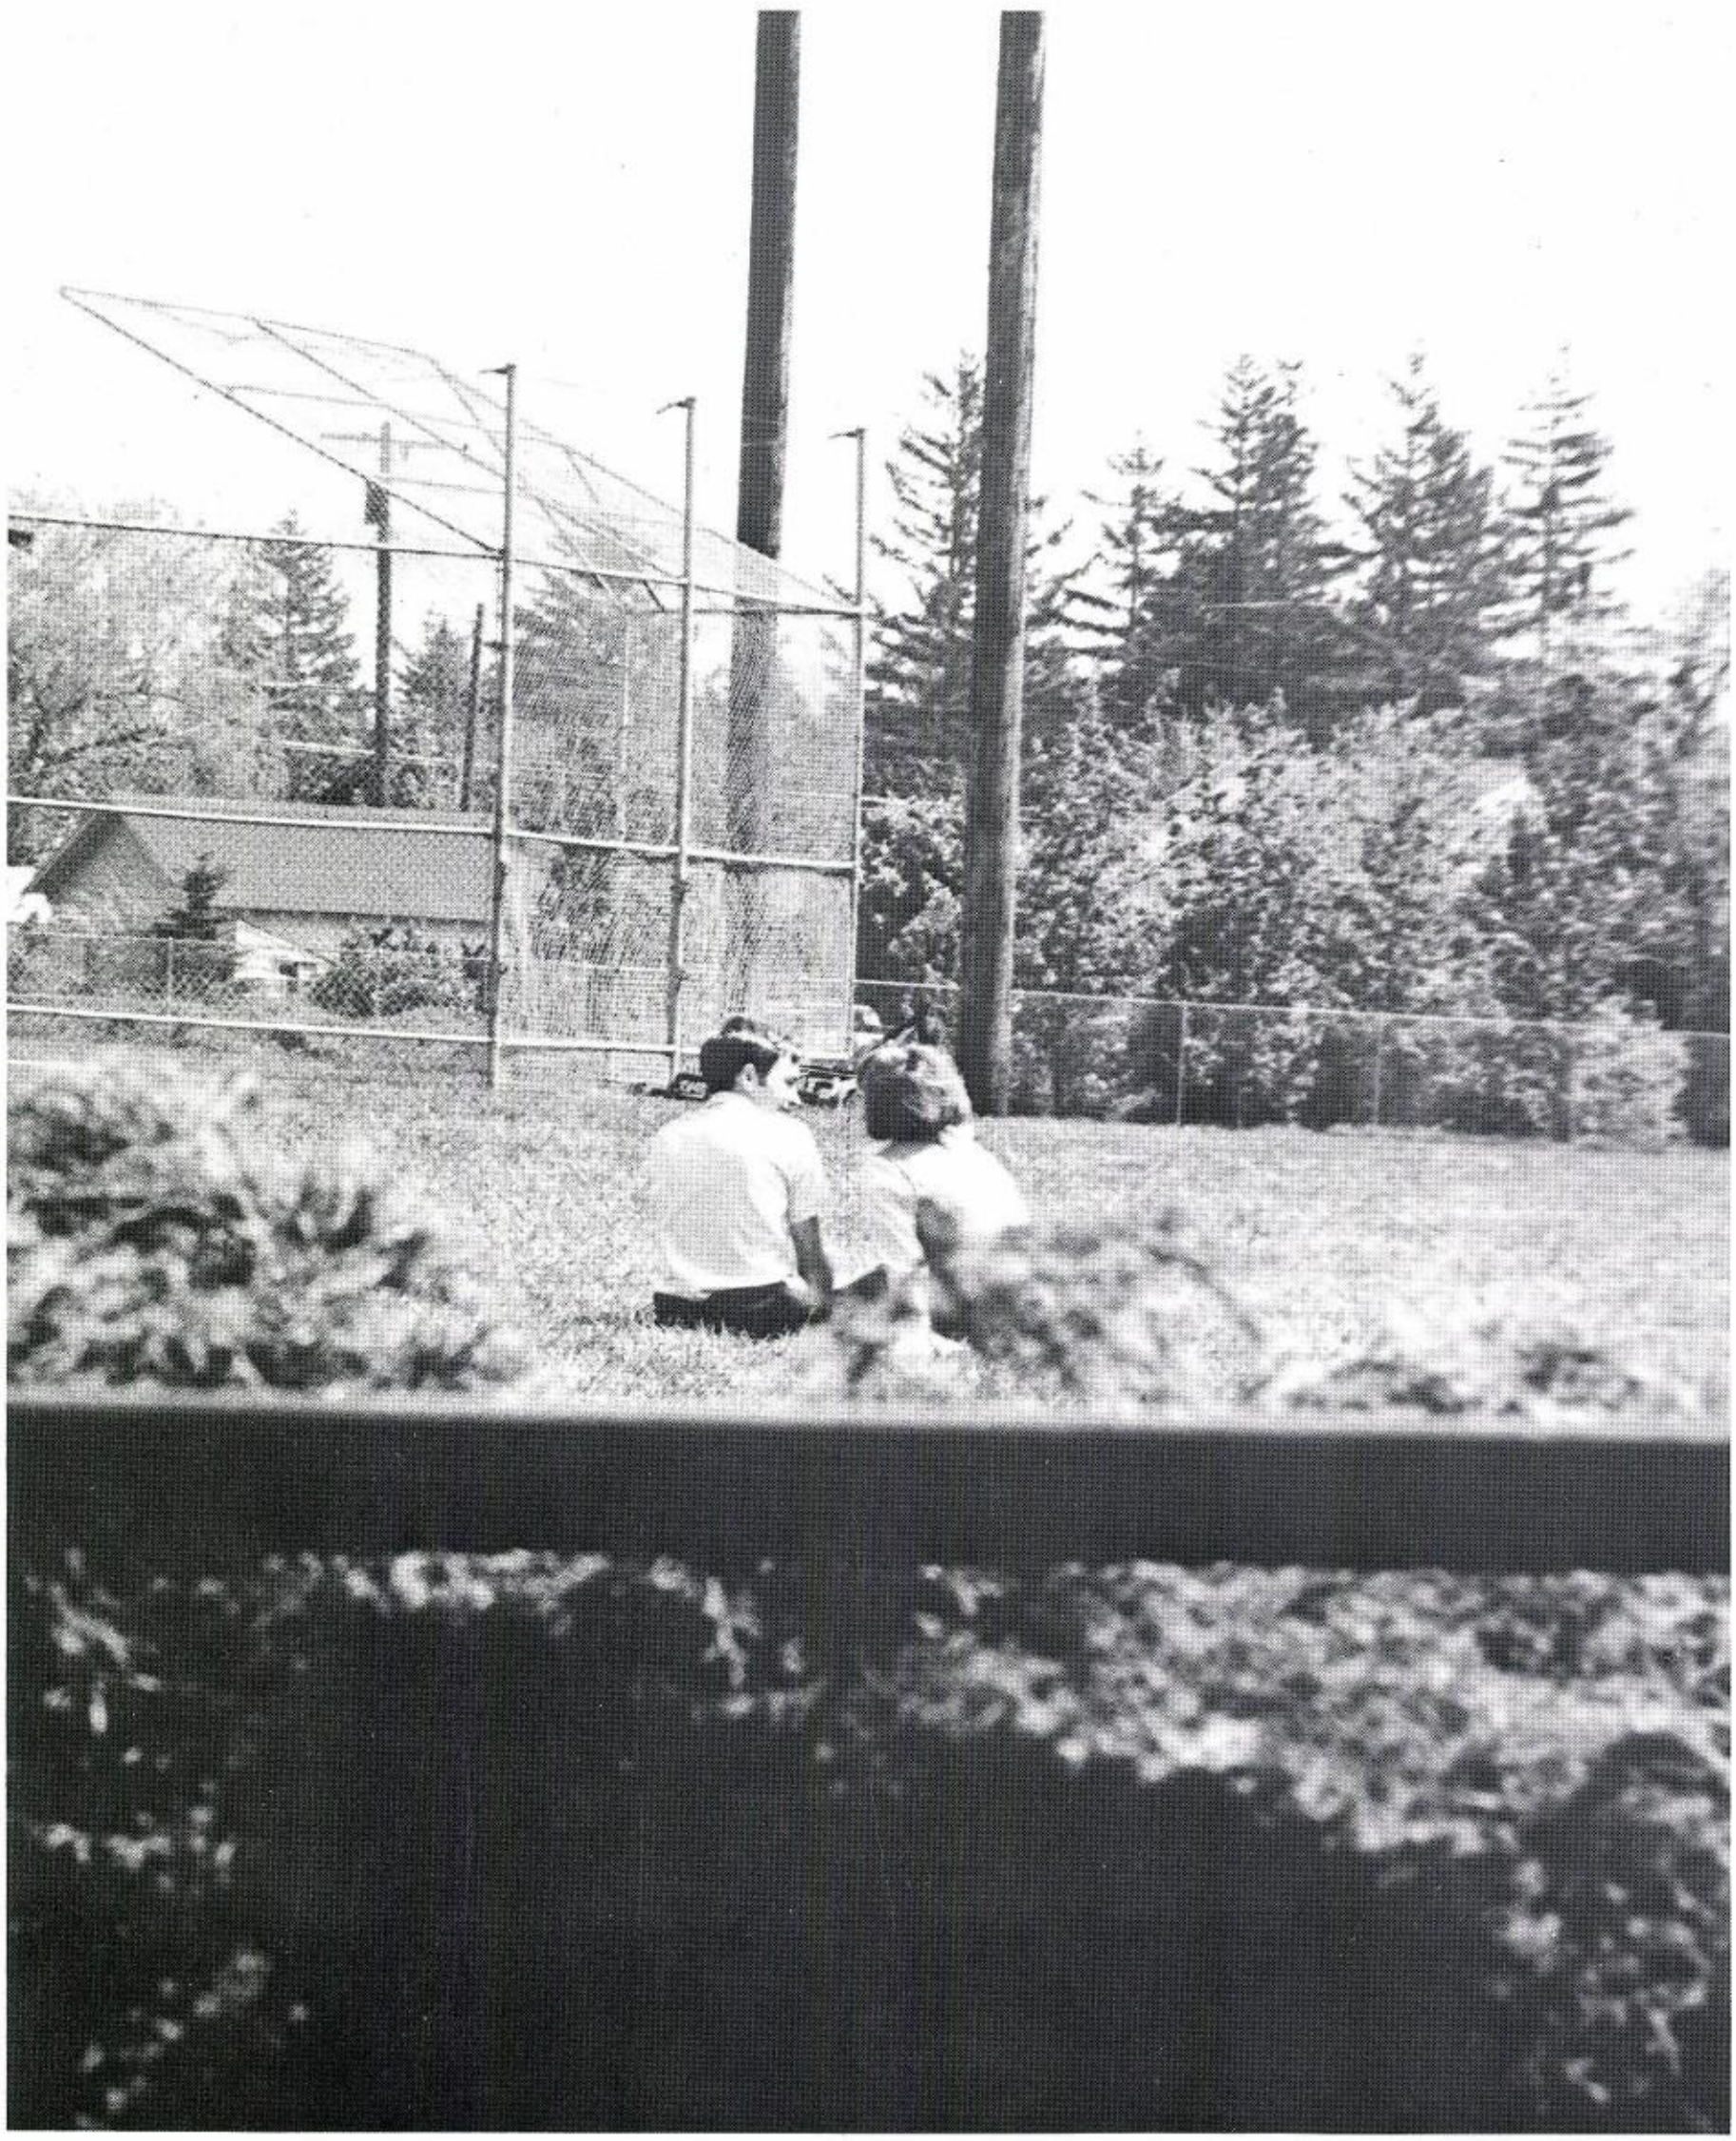
Mauro Cettina listens intently to one of the many legislators that the students involved on the trip had the opportunity to talk with.



Steve McGee and Barbara Groth find a moment of serenity in the warm glow that attracted many of the students to the lawns and courtyards of the school.

Spring Brings Students to the Out of Doors as School Nears its End

Debbie Wheeler (above), Pat Donahue (right), Rick Nelson and Joe McCoy (below) take advantage of the spring sunshine by relaxing, studying, and talking during their I.S. periods.

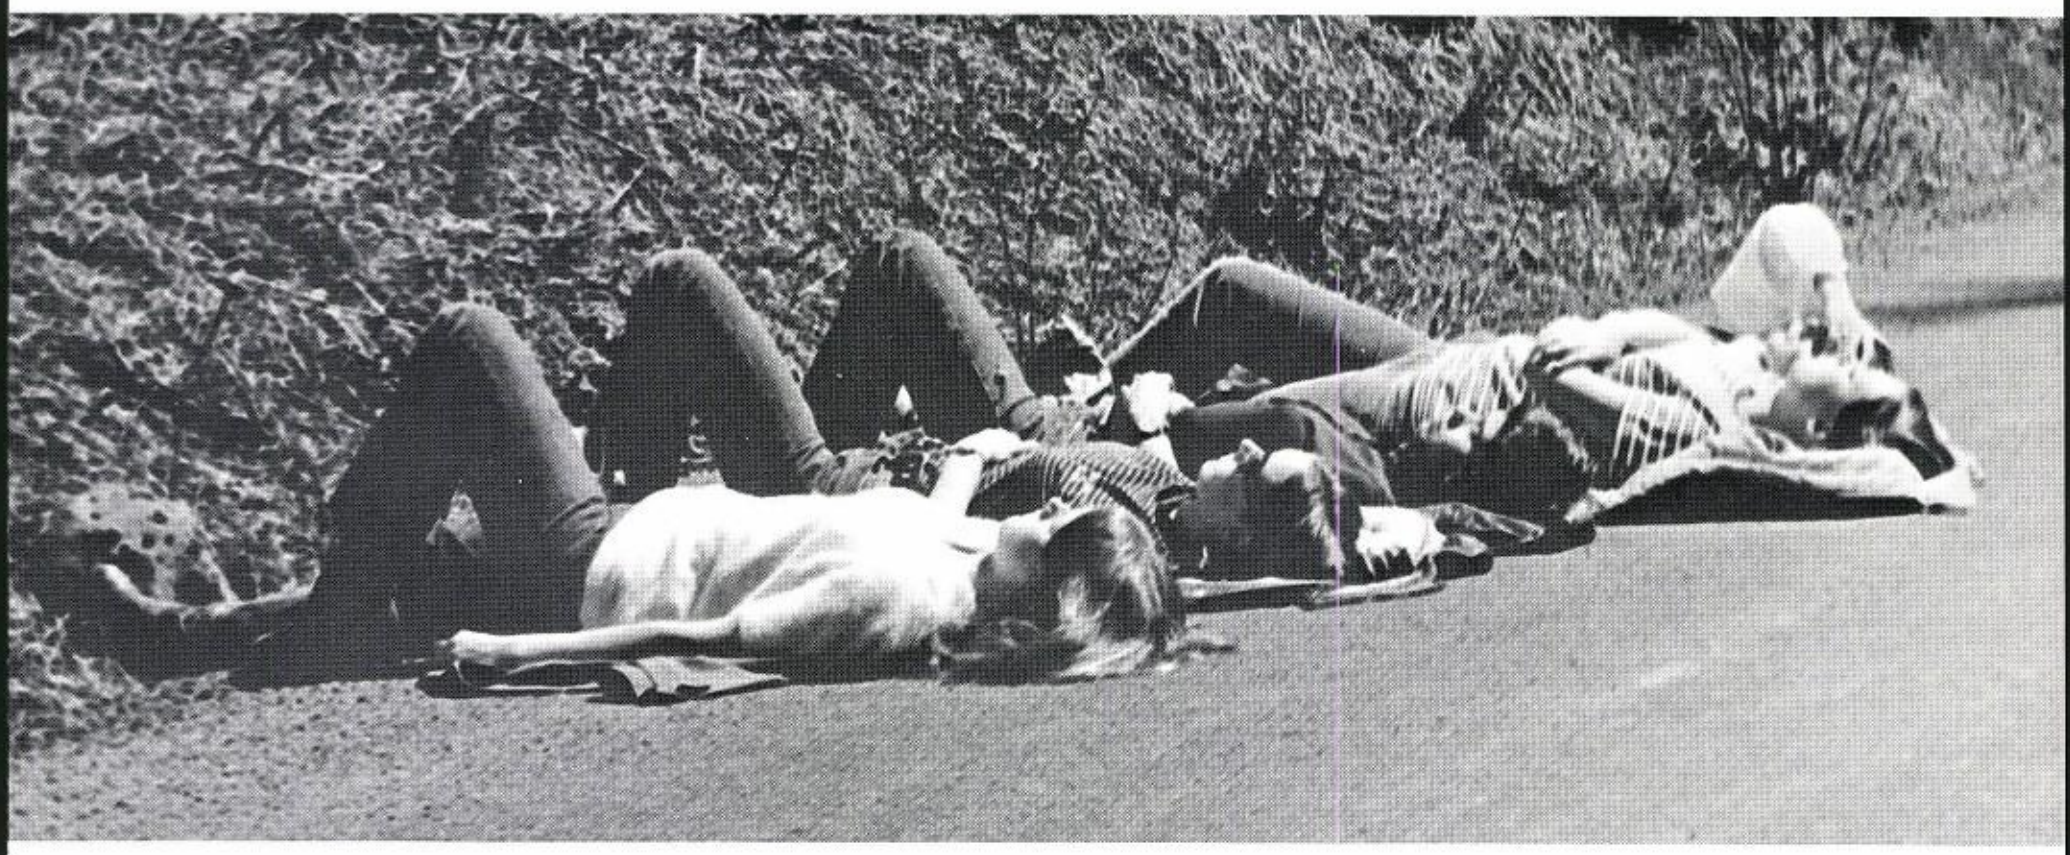
Above, Don Nimz and Kitty Bond take a breather while enjoying the out of doors. Below, senior girls take advantage of the sun, which made a surprise appearance.



Delight from the students was obviously displayed during the assembly, especially when one soldier imitated Tom Jones in a song and dance routine.

Three privates and one corporal pooled their talents together and formed an Army male quartet. The quartet performed at the assembly along with the Army choir.

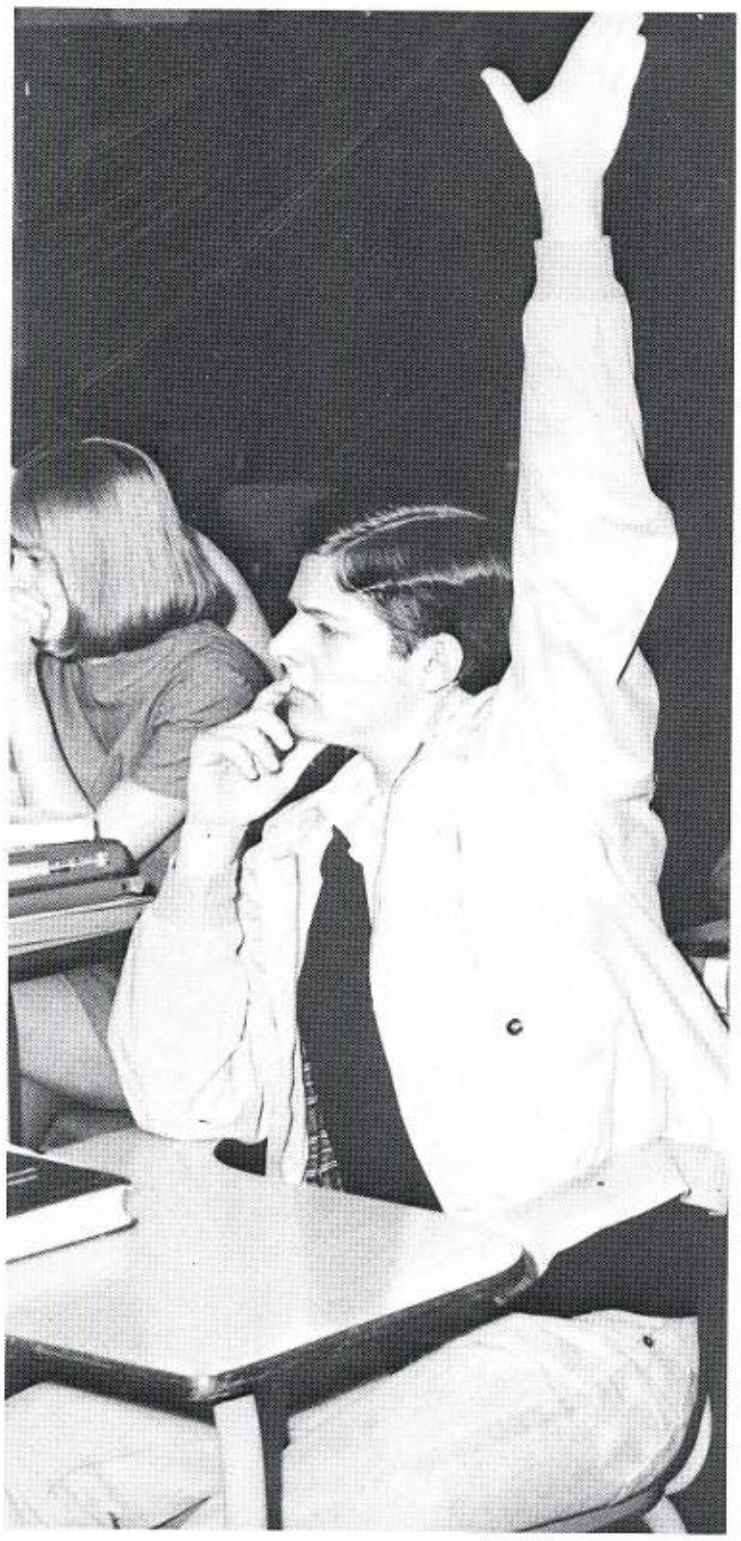
Army Choir Displays Musical Talent at Assembly

This private added enjoyment to the assembly by his musical renditions on the piano. He played for the choir and the various other groups performing.

The United States Army Choir from Washington D.C. performed many numbers, both contemporary and patriotic.

Spring Student Body President Jim Pond was proficient at making his point in the weekly meetings.

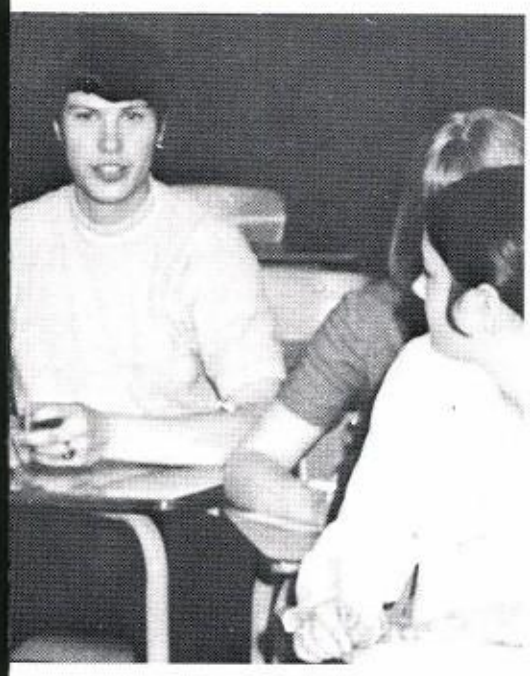
Pursuing an answer to his question, Tom Blair enacts his role as Senior Class Cabinet Minister.



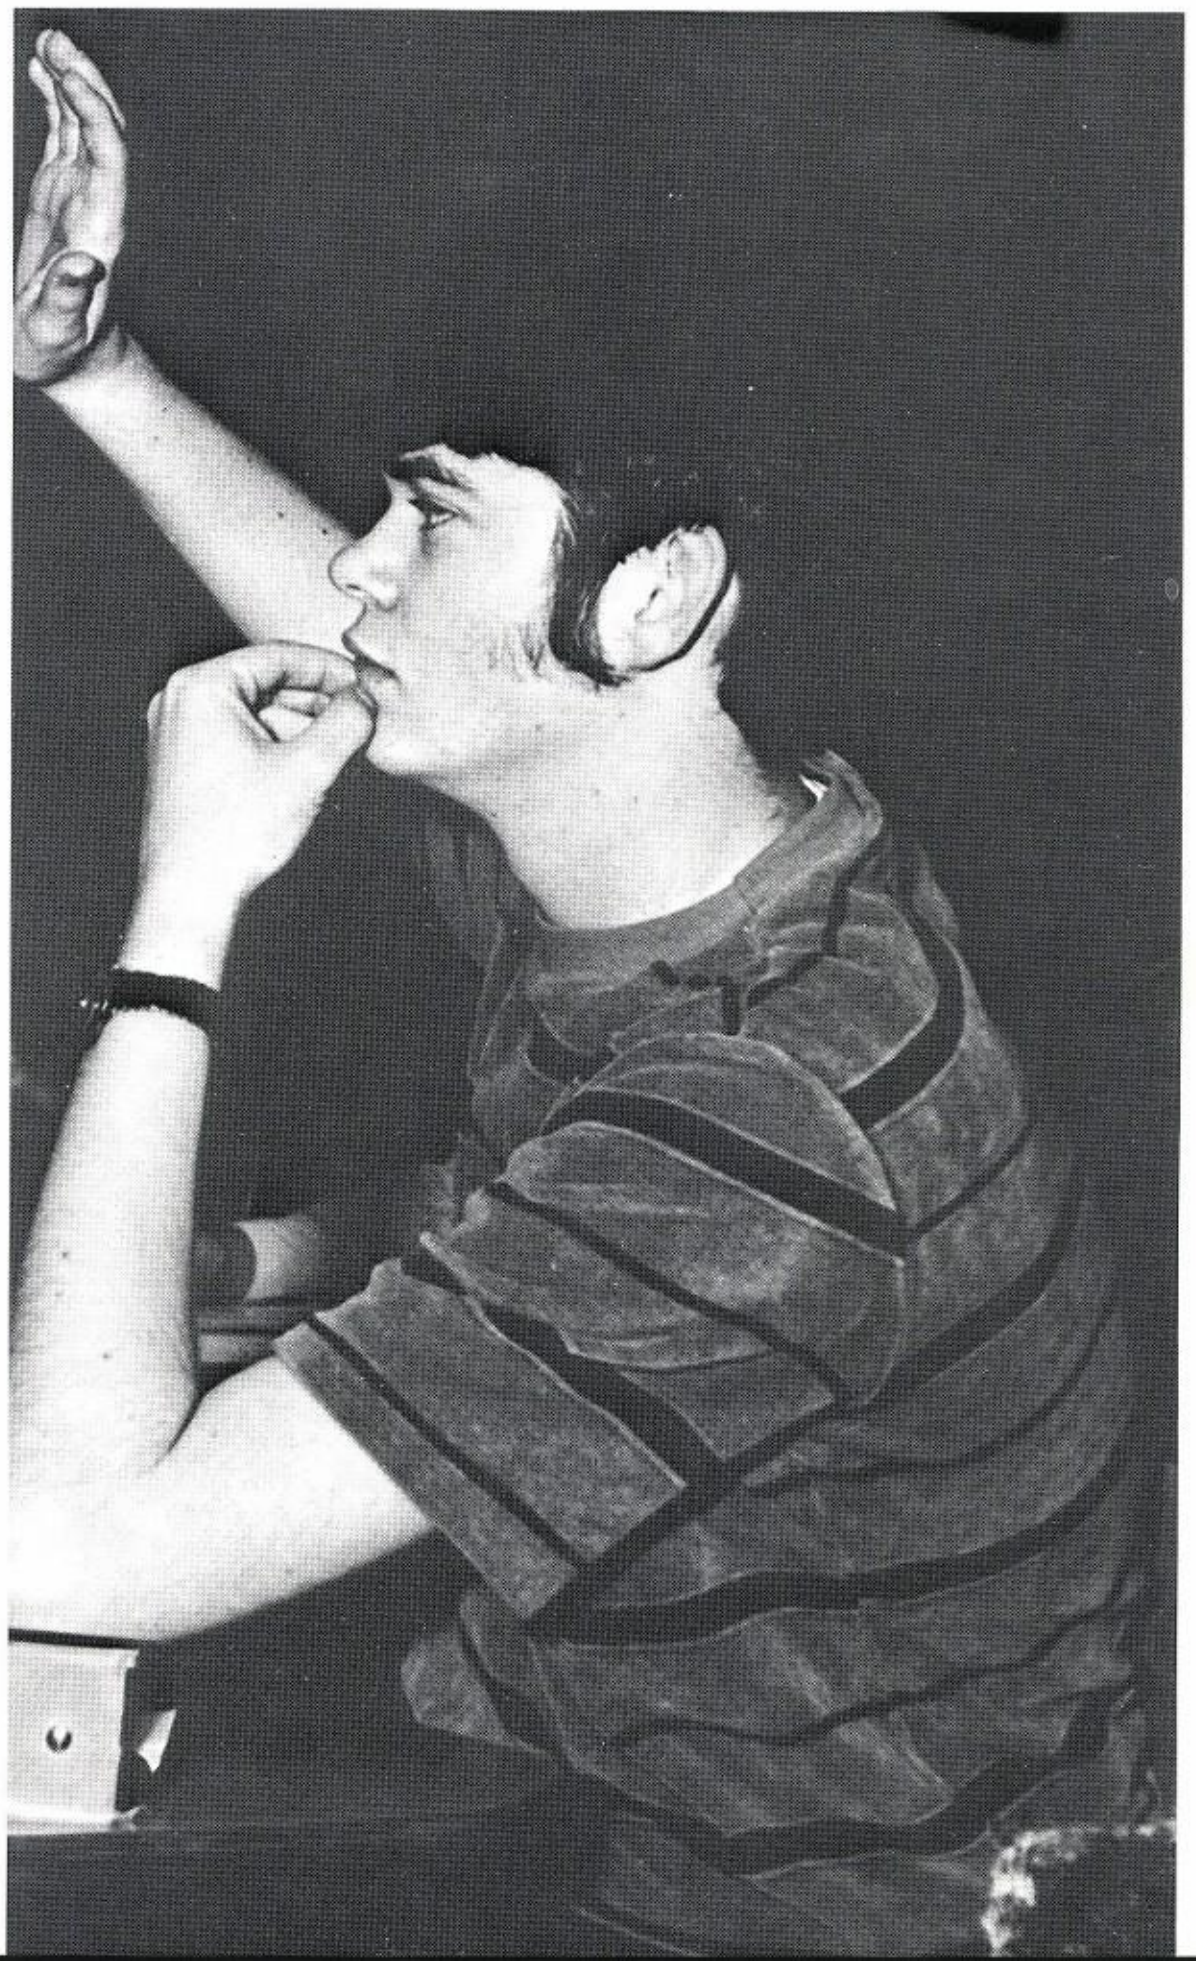
Cabinet members discuss the possibility of instigating an honor hall pass system.

1971 Cabinet Tackles School Problems

Eugene Pronovost checks to make sure all his notes are in order for the proper legislation to be passed.

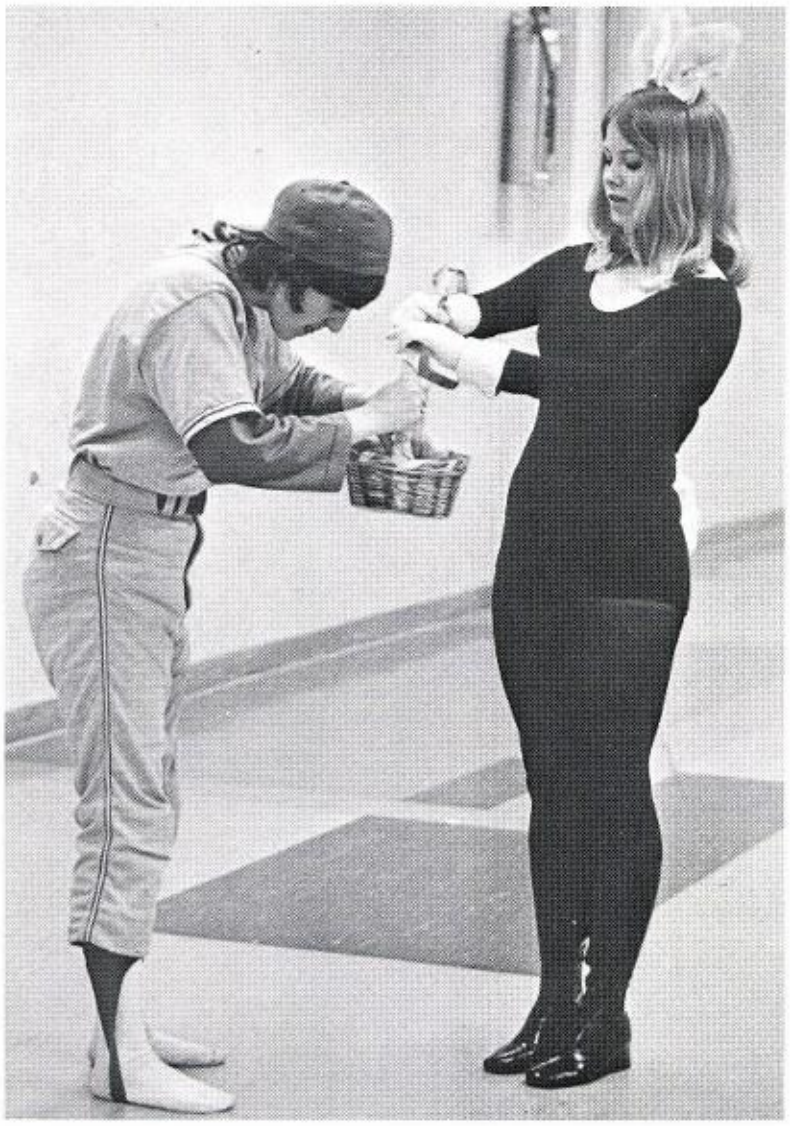


Gary Wallmark waits for a chance to speak on one of the many topics that this year's cabinet deliberated upon.

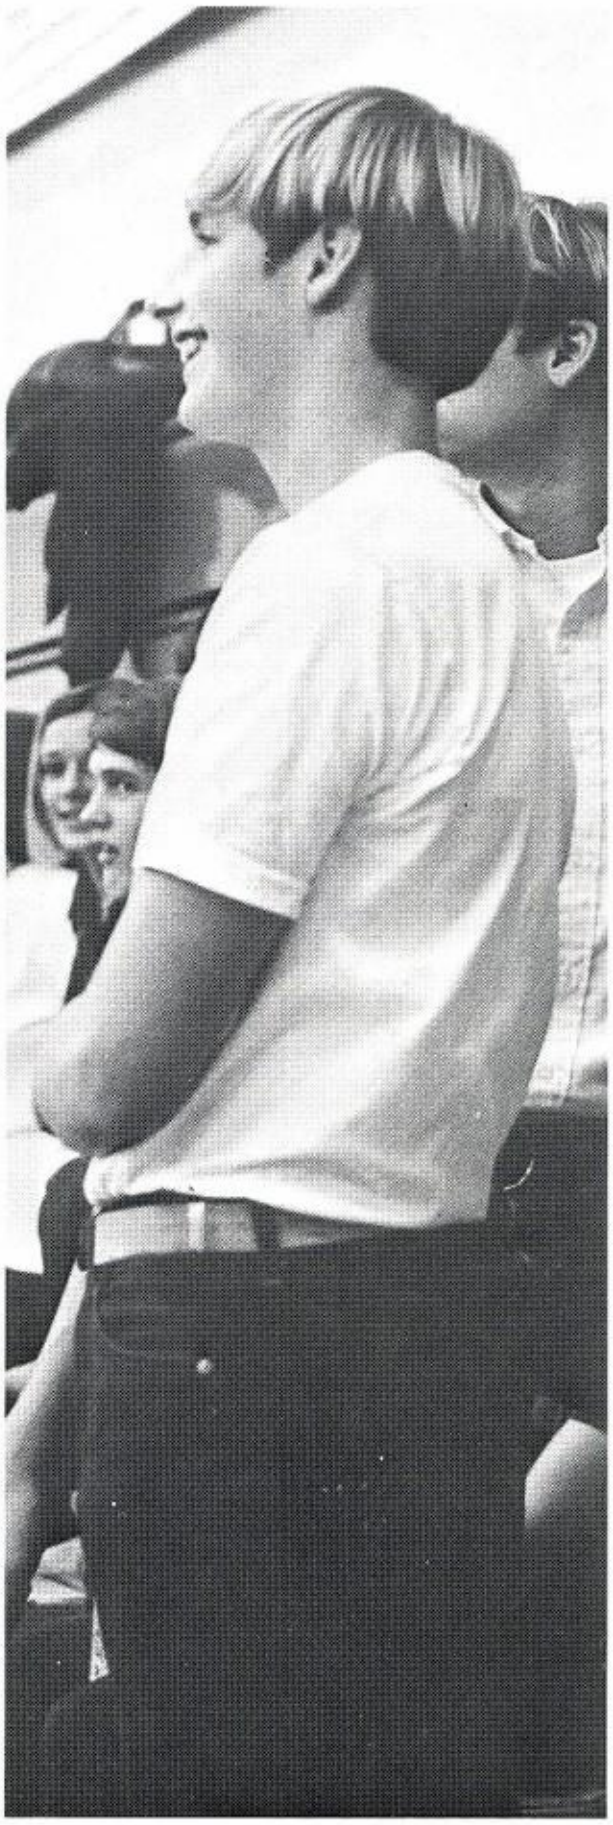


Assemblies Provide Student Body With Entertainment, Competition and Information

The entrance of Mr. Turkey catches the attention of the "Mr. Thanksgiving" court, senior Tim Gregos, who was crowned Mr. Thanksgiving, junior Jon Sackett, sophomore Vic Petroff, freshman Ron Eggiman and their respective escorts Heidi Allison, Joanne Stambaugh, Mary Kralj, and Karen Perry at the annual Thanksgiving Assembly.



The Easter assembly, presented each year by Qualha social service club, brought with it "head bunny" Barby Bucholz and her official Scot baseball star basket checker, Marijane Pope (above). Using a jar of polluted water to prove his point, Mark Weitzel (below) delivers his campaign speech to the students at one of two election assemblies held during the year.



Don Flynn looks on in anticipation as the junior class assembled for an explanation of its annual candy sale used to finance the Junior-Senior Prom.

Mad Hatter Tea Highlights Girls' League Year

Sherri Ross, with her younger brother, models an outfit which she made in home ec. The Mother-Daughter Tea gave girls a chance to show off their clothes they made during the year.

Girls' League's October girl of the month for friendliness in Heather McKeller escorted by Steve Maxwell. Heather along with six other girls were chosen as outstanding girls of the month.

Fashion and Friendliness Make up a Successful Mother-Daughter Tea

Renae Riggs, with teddy bear in hand, models a nightgown. The tea gives mothers a chance to see the newest fashions.

Mary Ann Packer models jump suit made by herself in Home Ec. At the tea girls are given the opportunity to model clothing they have sewn themselves.

Miss Virginia Shaw gives the final dismissal for the girls and their mothers who attended the Mad Hatter Tea. Miss Shaw was declared the official Mad Hatter.

Jean and Jan Purdy play their accordians and sing to provide entertainment for the annual Mad Hatter Mother-Daughter Tea.

Mrs. Clarice Roehm pins a carnation corsage on Mrs. Donna Chalmers, newly elected mother of the year.

Rallies, Majorettes, and Highland Dancers Add Spirit

Tom Stoffregen and the spring dance team members, Barby Bucholz, Barbi Niece, Paula Bush, Gina Cipolla and Karen Perry break into a rousing chorus of the fight song.

Majorette Juli Millard, finishes one of her striking exhibitions of baton twirling for the Homecoming halftime activities.

Attentively watching the game's action, football cheerleader Karen Perry adds to the excitement of the Homecoming game with Jesuit.

Randy Davenport sings a quiet song as the lights were dimmed to set the mood.

The Madrigal Singers, formerly called the Junior Ensemble, prove that even though their name has changed, the quality of their singing has not. Here they add a bit of Christmas spirit to the annual Christmas Assembly.

Concerts Provide an Opportunity. . .

Mark Pierce on the cello and Robert Spellman on the drums add just the right sound to the band during one of their many performances.

Debbie York and Melody Funk combine their musical talents to complete the Spring Vocal Concert that marked the official beginning of Spring.

Drummer Dan Fitzhugh watches and listens carefully for just the right moment to join in with his crashing cymbals and throbbing drums to provide a dramatic finish for the end of the concert.

for Students to Gain Experience

David Plath and Bob Quindt (above) pucker up to provide that special sound so typical of David Douglas Bands.

Sophomore ensemble (above) practices all of those secret hints they were told about during rehearsal, as they work toward perfection of their musical selections. The Sophomore ensemble contains many probable members for the Vagabonds of the future.

Student Talent Shines on Night of One Act Plays

Greg Byler and Rusty Mewha engage in a heated discussion in the senior one act.

The junior production, "Calgary Hill," which received the majority of awards, involved both Jon Sackett and CeeLee Lesowske in a comic portion of the show.

Craig Armstrong, in the senior one act, displays his dramatic ability as he portrays the frustrated head of a large advertising agency.

Contemplating his old aged dilemma, junior Scott Othus relives his life in "The Attic"—the all-school one act.

Queen and Princesses Add to the Beauty of May Fete

Freshman princess Jennie Stephens smiles appreciatively just minutes after having been announced as a member of the court.

Queen Sandra Duarte takes a sip after the toast to the Queen had been made at the annual Queen's Dessert, just one of the many activities surrounding May Fete.

Receiving a rose as her name is revealed as junior class princess. Nicky Kovach shares her excitement with those present at the 1971 May Fete announcement assembly.

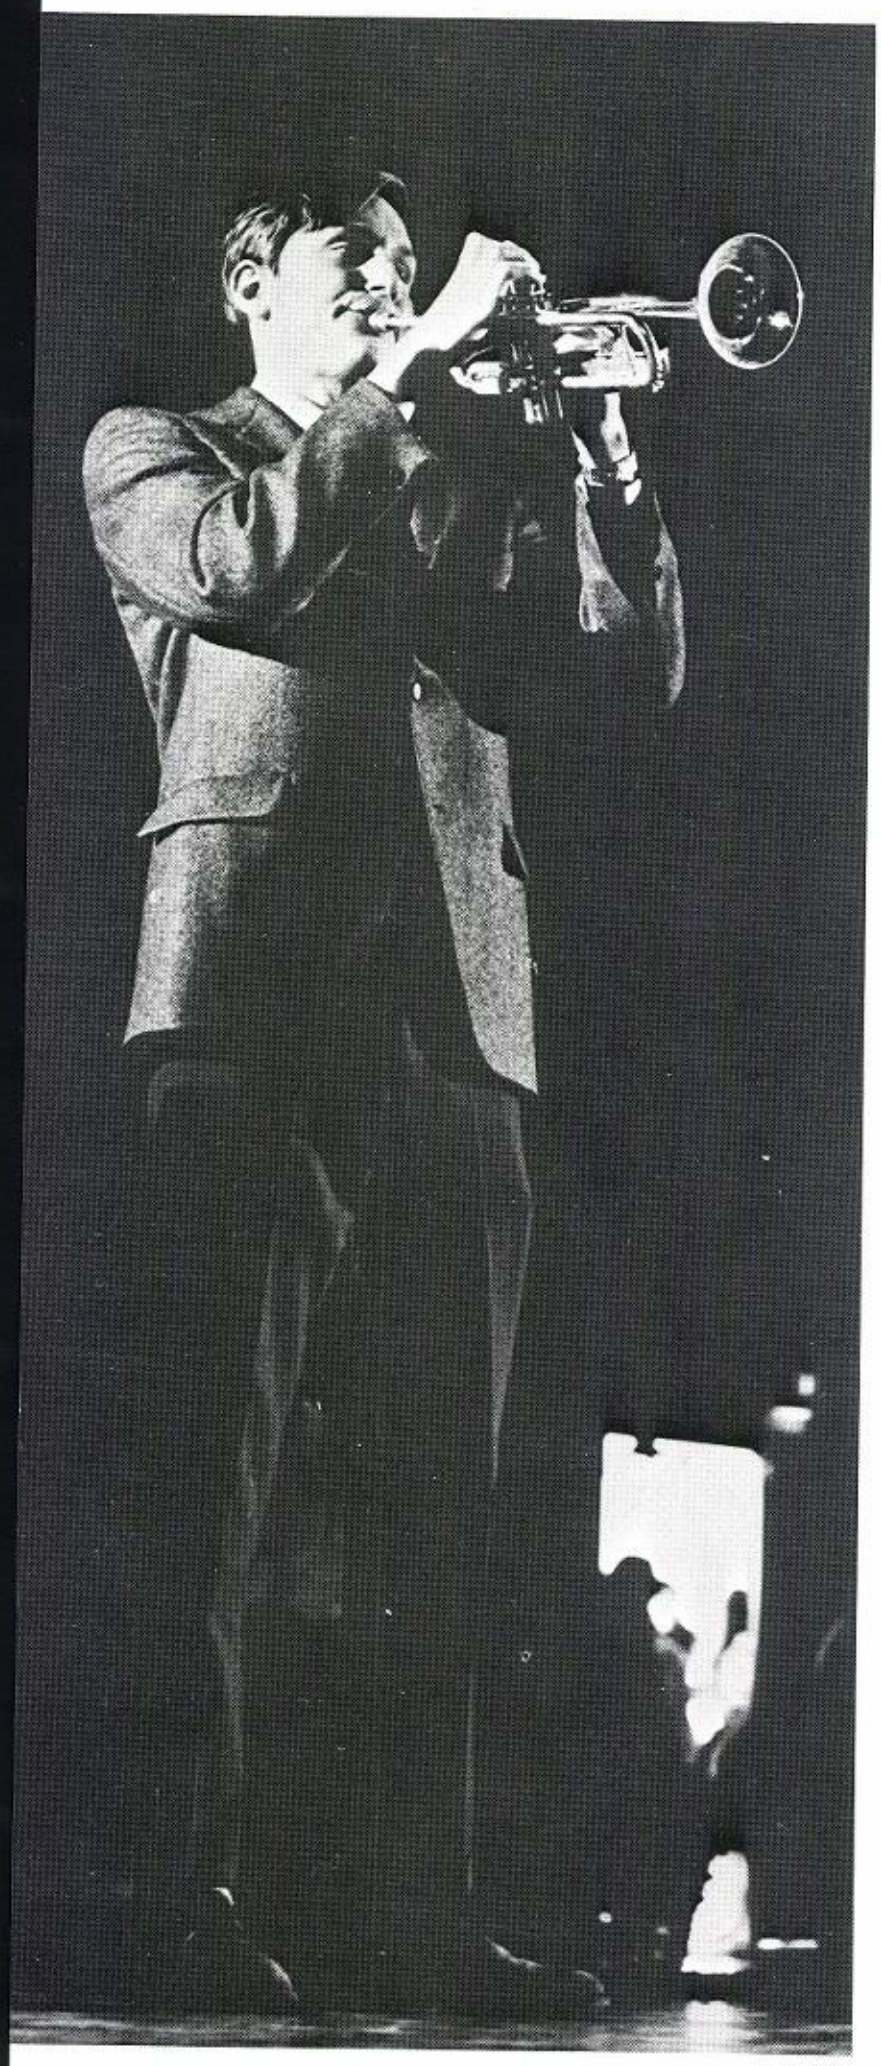
Pam Kehrli relates her experiences as last year's honored Queen to Jon Sackett, inter-club council president.



State champion trumpeter Mel Bartels entertains the Queen and her court at the afternoon May Fete assembly activities.

Addressing her subjects of David Douglas High School is Queen Sandy I, assisted by her royal escort, Jim Pond, Spring Student Body President.

Coronation Draws Douglas into the Magical Kingdom of "Songs of Spring"

Karen Perry, Crown Princess, escorted by Fall Student Body President Bob Jeffery, prepares to make her full curtsy for the satisfaction of the student body.

Senior Princess Dixie DeHaven, escorted by Senior class president Rick Boro, makes her entrance into the realm of "Songs of Spring"—the theme for this year's May Fete.

Mr. Funk receives his knighting as "Sir Wilbur" from Queen Sandy as the court looks on in approval.

Tommy (Skip Amos) encounters the miraculous town of Brigadoon and tries to find out what the mystery is that surrounds it.

The townspeople of Brigadoon invite all to join them at the fair down on MacConnachy Square, as their town appears on its one day in a hundred years.

May Fete Festivities Drawn to Close by Scottish Musical 'Brigadoon'

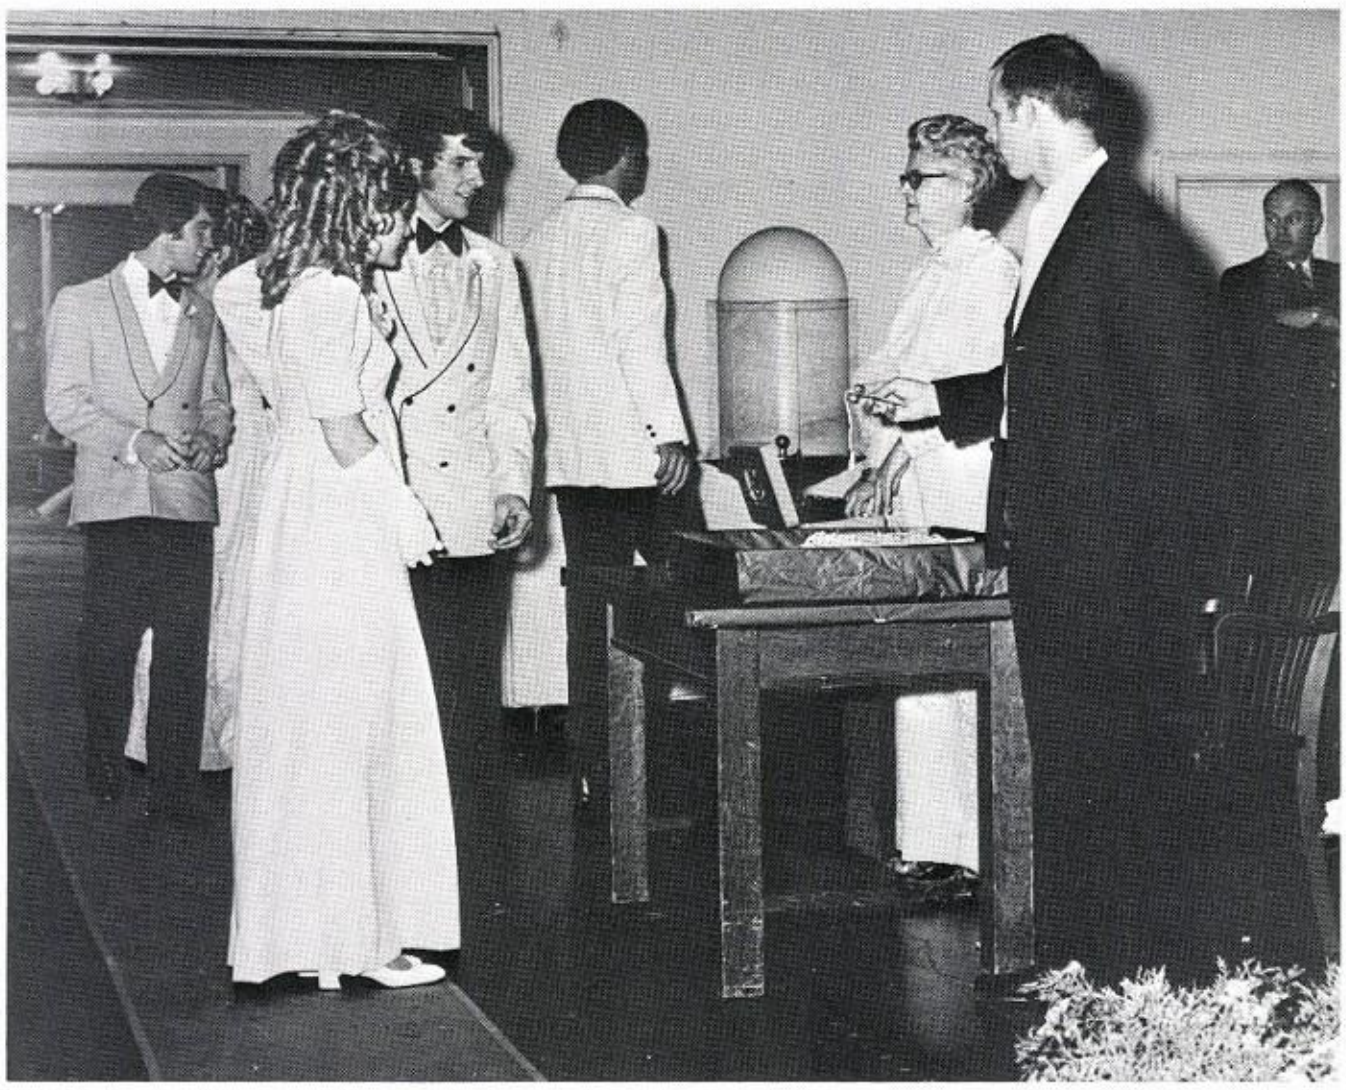
Fiona (Monica Correia) tells the people of Brigadoon why she doesn't wish to be married, in her song, "Waiting for my Dearie" (above). Meanwhile, Meg (Debbie Field) convinces Jeff (Steve Brozene) to join her at her place (below), and Jean (Barby Bucholz) dreams of her wedding to be (right).

Masonic Temple Hosts Junior-Senior Prom

The Junior-Senior Prom was a highlight of the year. Many couples who came to the Prom were greeted with a cheerful and charming atmosphere, and settled down to enjoy an amiable evening with friends.

Among those who attended the Prom were Karen Perry, Stan Skreslet, Kathy Hays, and Mike Moses. These couples, among many others, were immediately caught up in the happiness of the pleasant surroundings.

Mrs. Helen Miller and Mr. Roger Price acted as Prom advisors, making sure everything was in order for the dance. Here, they take the tickets of Bob Jeffery and his date, Sherri Anderson.



Linda Kuehl serves punch and cookies at the Junior-Senior prom. She along with many others help to make this prom a success.

Jay Coleman and his date Colleen Murphy take a moment's rest to catch their breath. The prom was held away from the school at the Masonic Temple for the first time.

Michele Lenhart, her date Mike Burchalk, and Kit Kertz check their coats before starting their evening of dancing. The theme of this year's Junior-Senior Prom was "A Time for Us."

Among the couples enjoying the romantic mood of the prom were Lois Wasem and her date Greg Watson. This year's prom was regarded by many to be one of the most successful proms in the history of David Douglas.

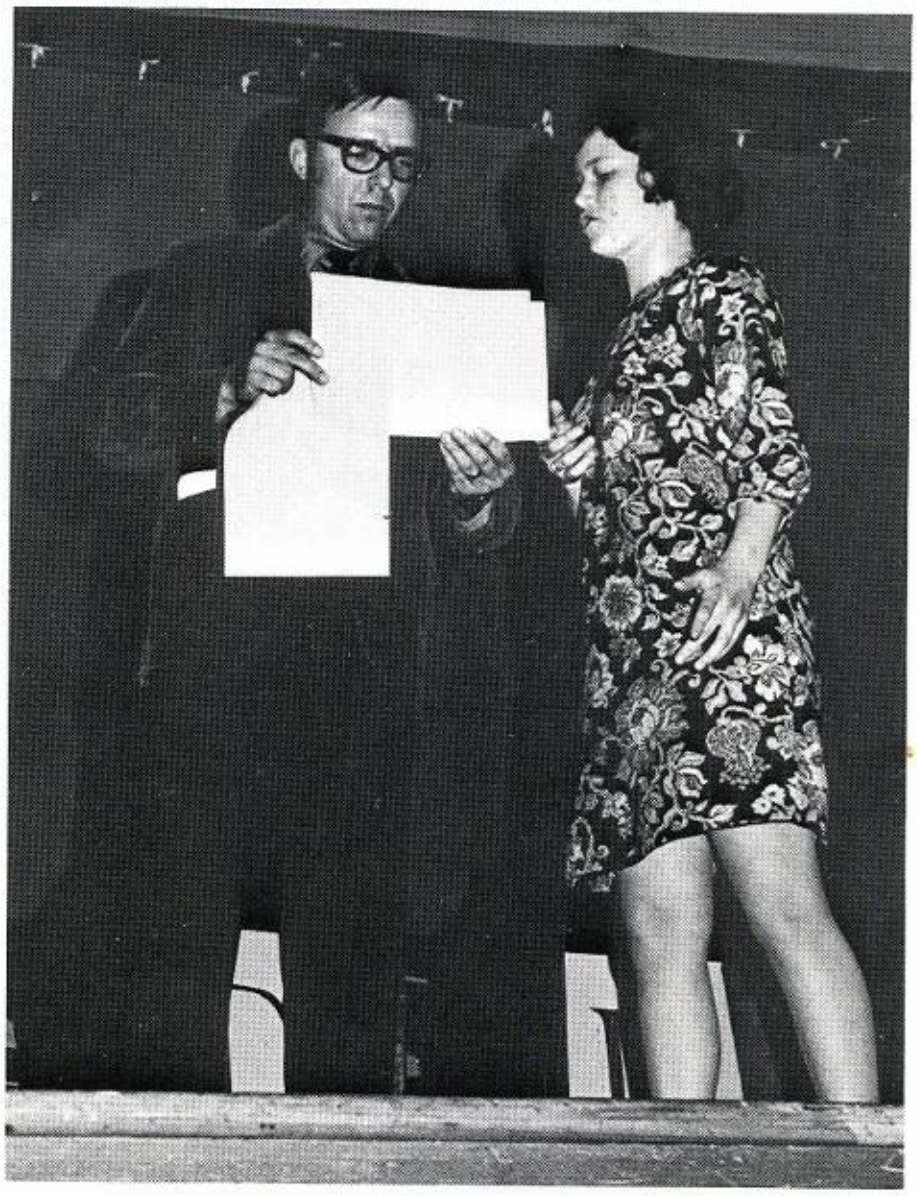
Senior Recognition Night Salutes Outstanding

Steve McGee proudly exhibits the award he received when he was named Outstanding Senior in Music. To be eligible for this award a student must be active in orchestra, band, or choir.

Master of Ceremonies Gary Wallmark presents Mr. Martini with a 1970 calendar, to help him organize last year's school activities.

Seniors

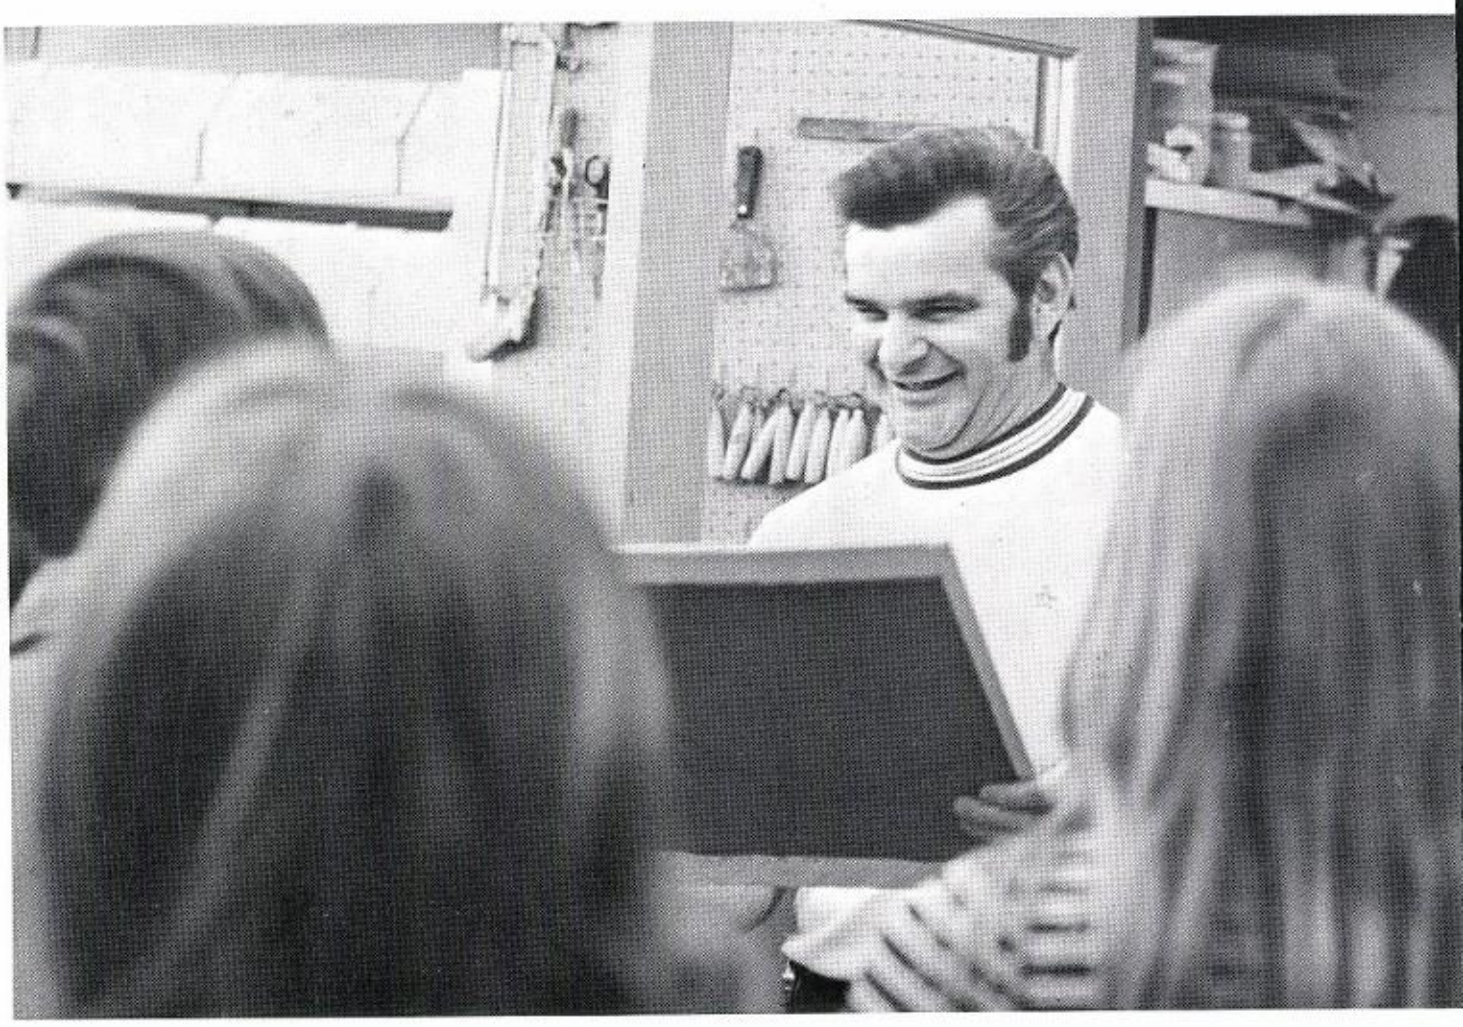
Mrs. Baer congratulates Dixie DeHaven as she receives an award for excellence in business machines.



Mr. Morrell presented several Music Department awards for excellence in band, orchestra, and choir.

Kathy McGuire examines her tassle after receiving her cap and gown on the last day of school for the seniors.

Carefully packing up pottery he has made throughout the year, Randy Wiedmaier prepares to end his school career, while (below) other ceramic students present "Papa" Hahn a plaque in his honor.



Last Day for Seniors Ends in Flurry of Excitement and Reminiscing

Checking out their newly acquired graduation attire, Naomi Steenson, junior, helps Leslie Houghton and Rhine Rhuder get ready to leave school on the final day.

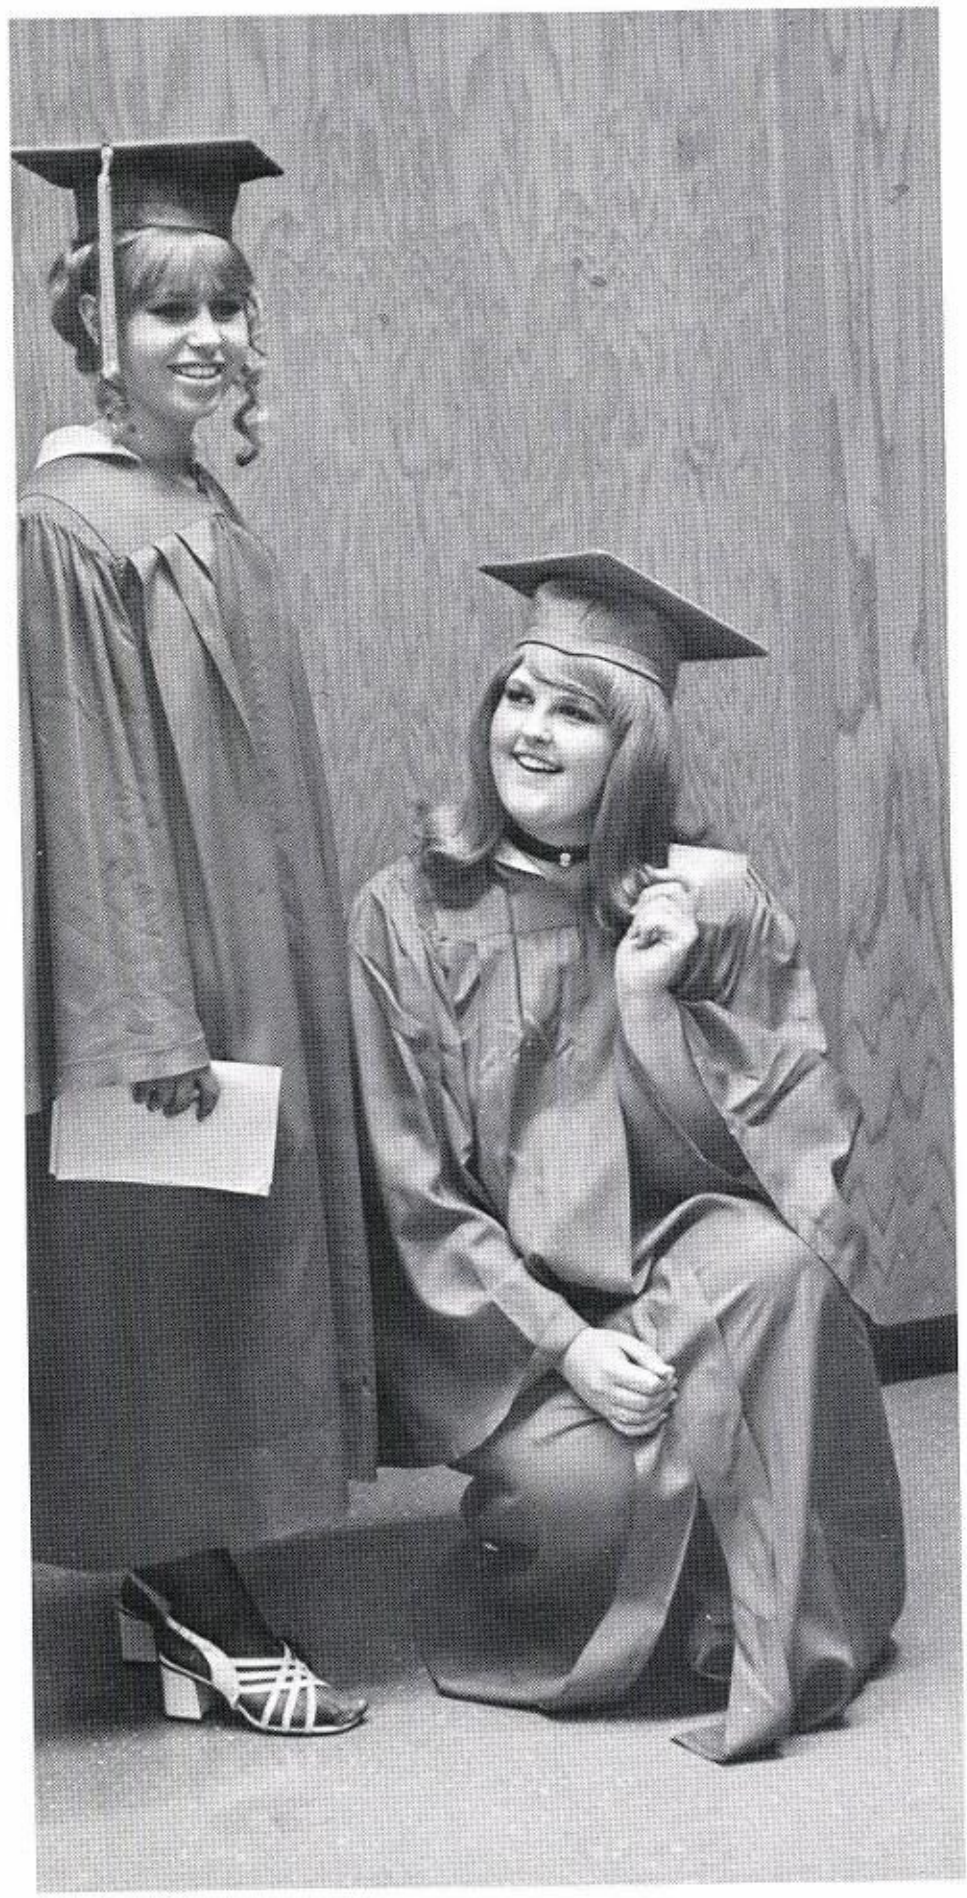
Sue Wolf and Sheri Queen offer some advice to Debbie Auker about the fitting of her graduation cap and gown.

Receiving his cap and gown as the last official act done by the seniors at school, Dave Bischoff checks to make sure everything is in order.

Despite being warned by the administration to keep the halls clean, jubilant seniors created a carpet of wall to wall papers, which Mr. Darby, Mr. Bryson, Mr. Ludwick, Mr. Utz, Mr. Kom and Ricky Purdy pitched in to help restore to normal.

Graduation— A Time of Excitement and Looking Forward to the Future

The seniors had to wait for some time before they could line up for their entrance. Nancy Lorts and Darcy Cameron, in their robes and waiting for the ceremony to begin, pass the time by talking to one another.

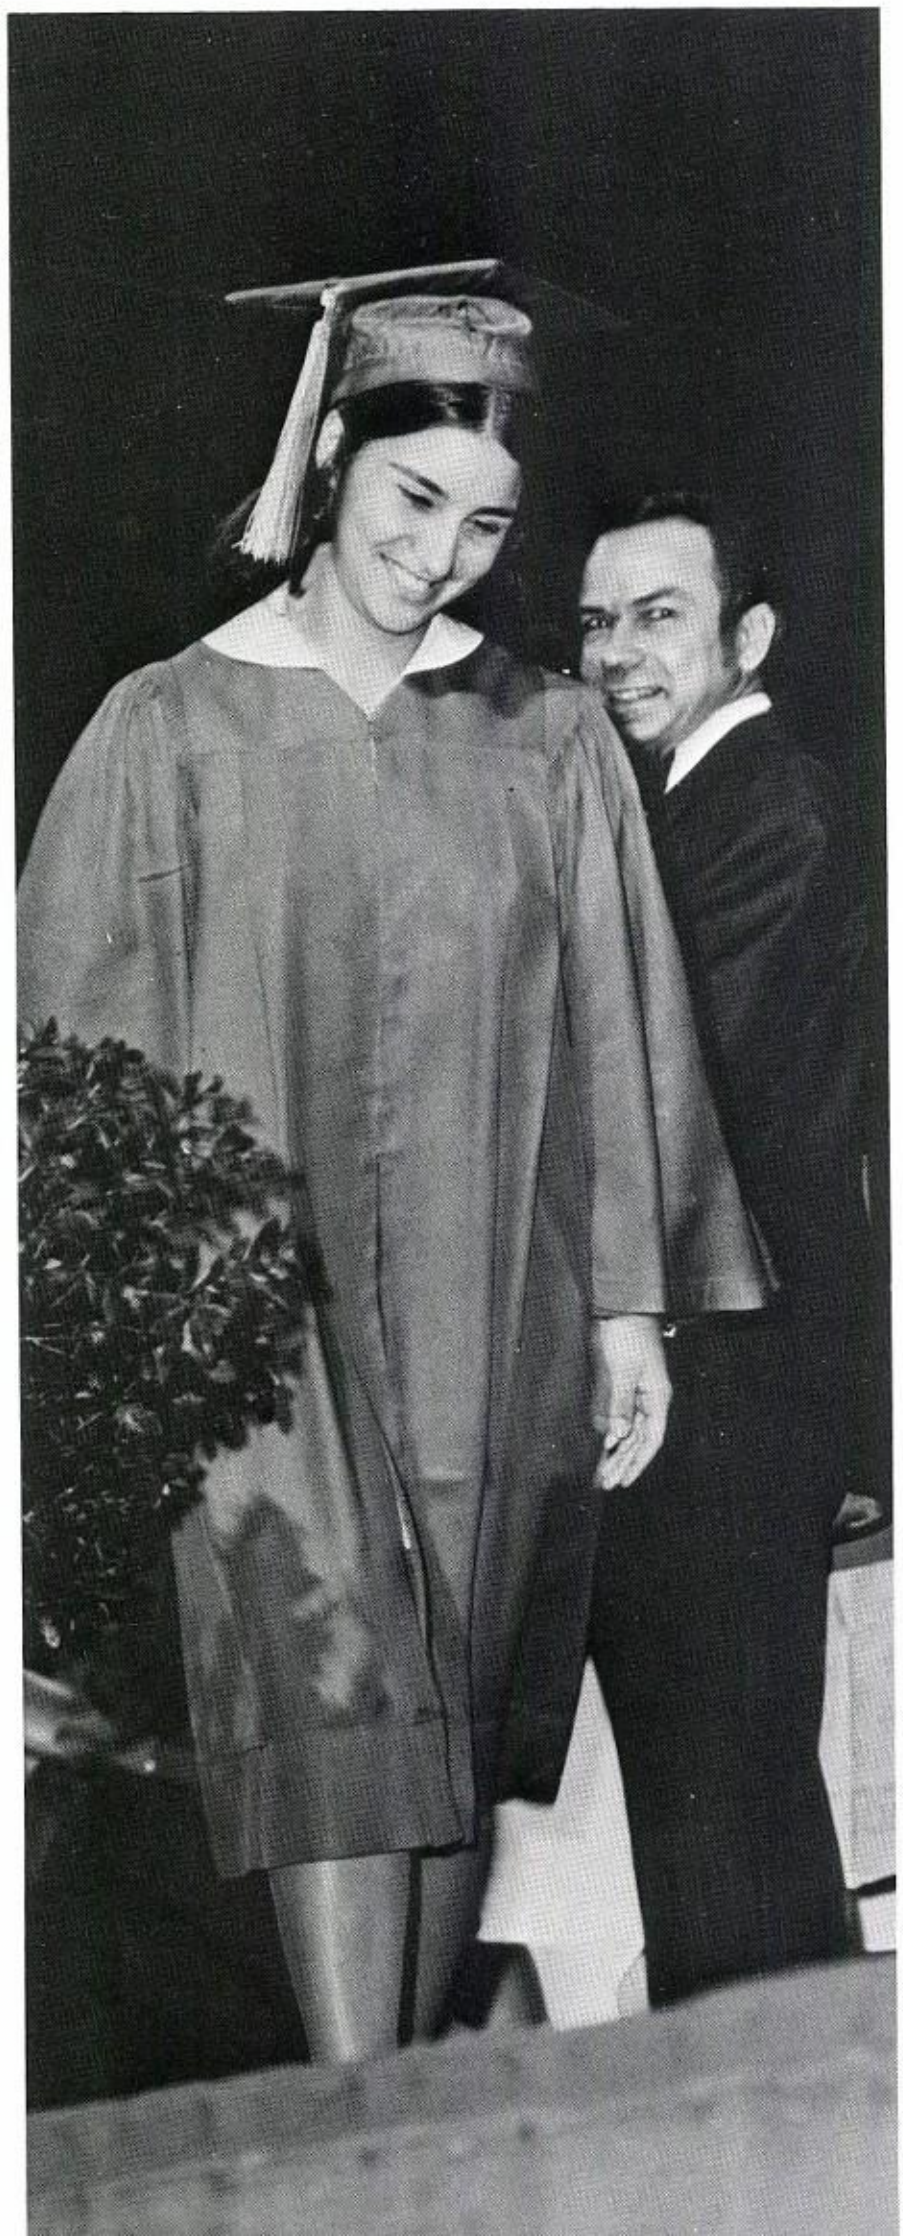


This year the seniors had only one commencement practice to attend, therefore making it hurried but organized. Diane Lundbom takes time out from the hustle and bustle to speculate and daydream.

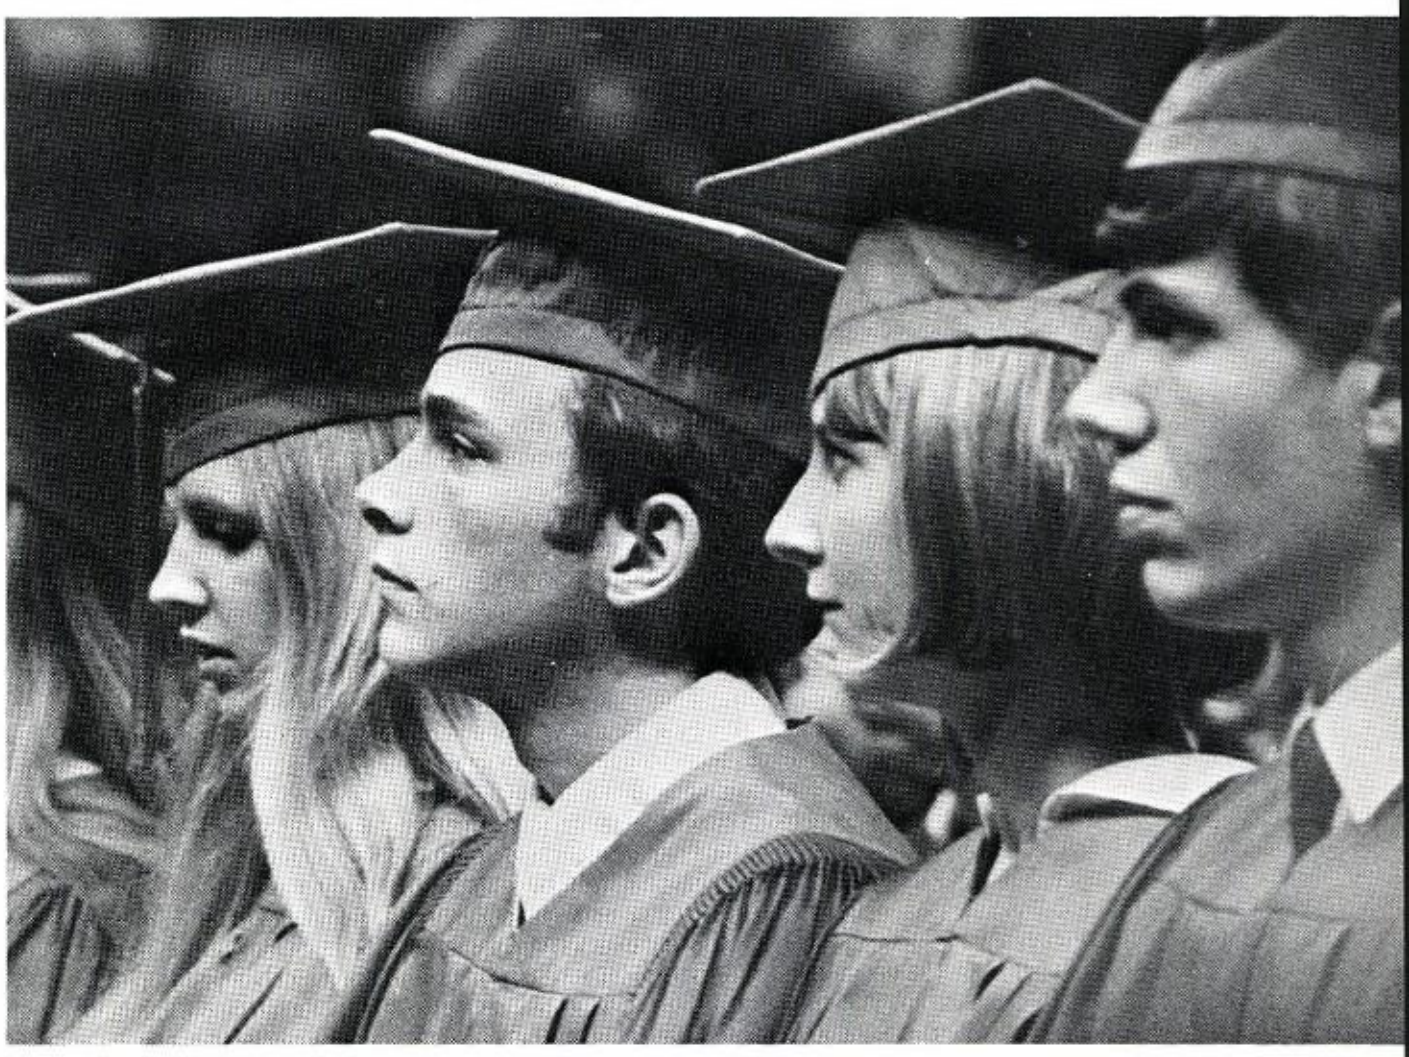
Robed and ready, the graduating seniors line up in their prospective order and prepare to begin the ceremony by making the slow procession to their chairs.

In between instructions and practice, there was plenty of time for talks with friends. Kathy Walker, using her hands to emphasize her point, makes good use of her free time.

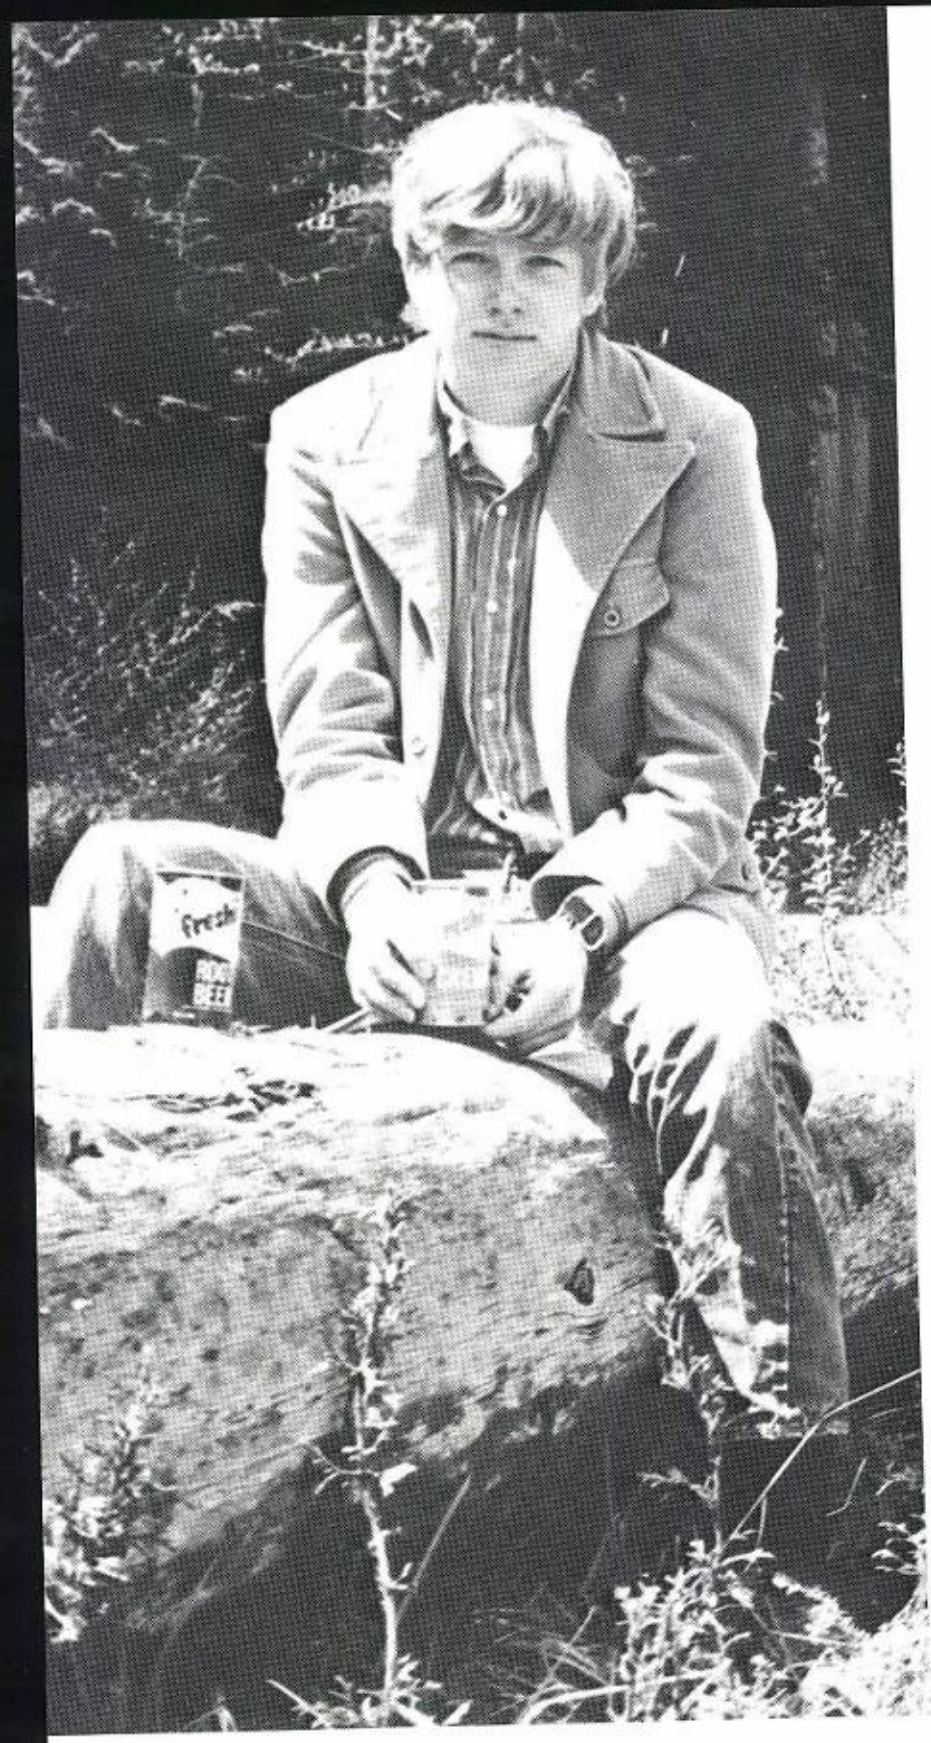
Sandy Duarte, A.F.S. student from Brazil, smiles and walks across the stage after saying a few words to the graduating seniors.



The many faces of the seniors during graduation reveal their feelings and emotions on finally graduating from David Douglas High School.



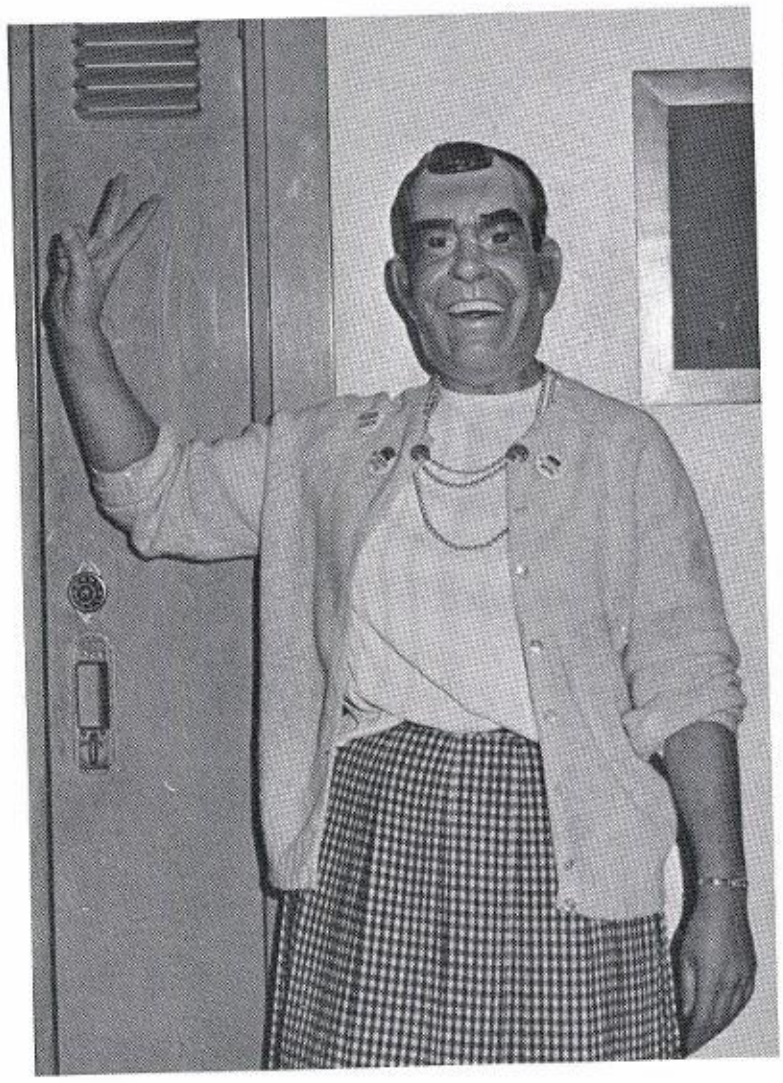
Rhonda Lemmon, Steve McGee, Barbara Groth, and Glenn Patterson attentively watch the graduation ceremony. The ceremony consisted of speeches, presenting of awards, and the receiving of diplomas.



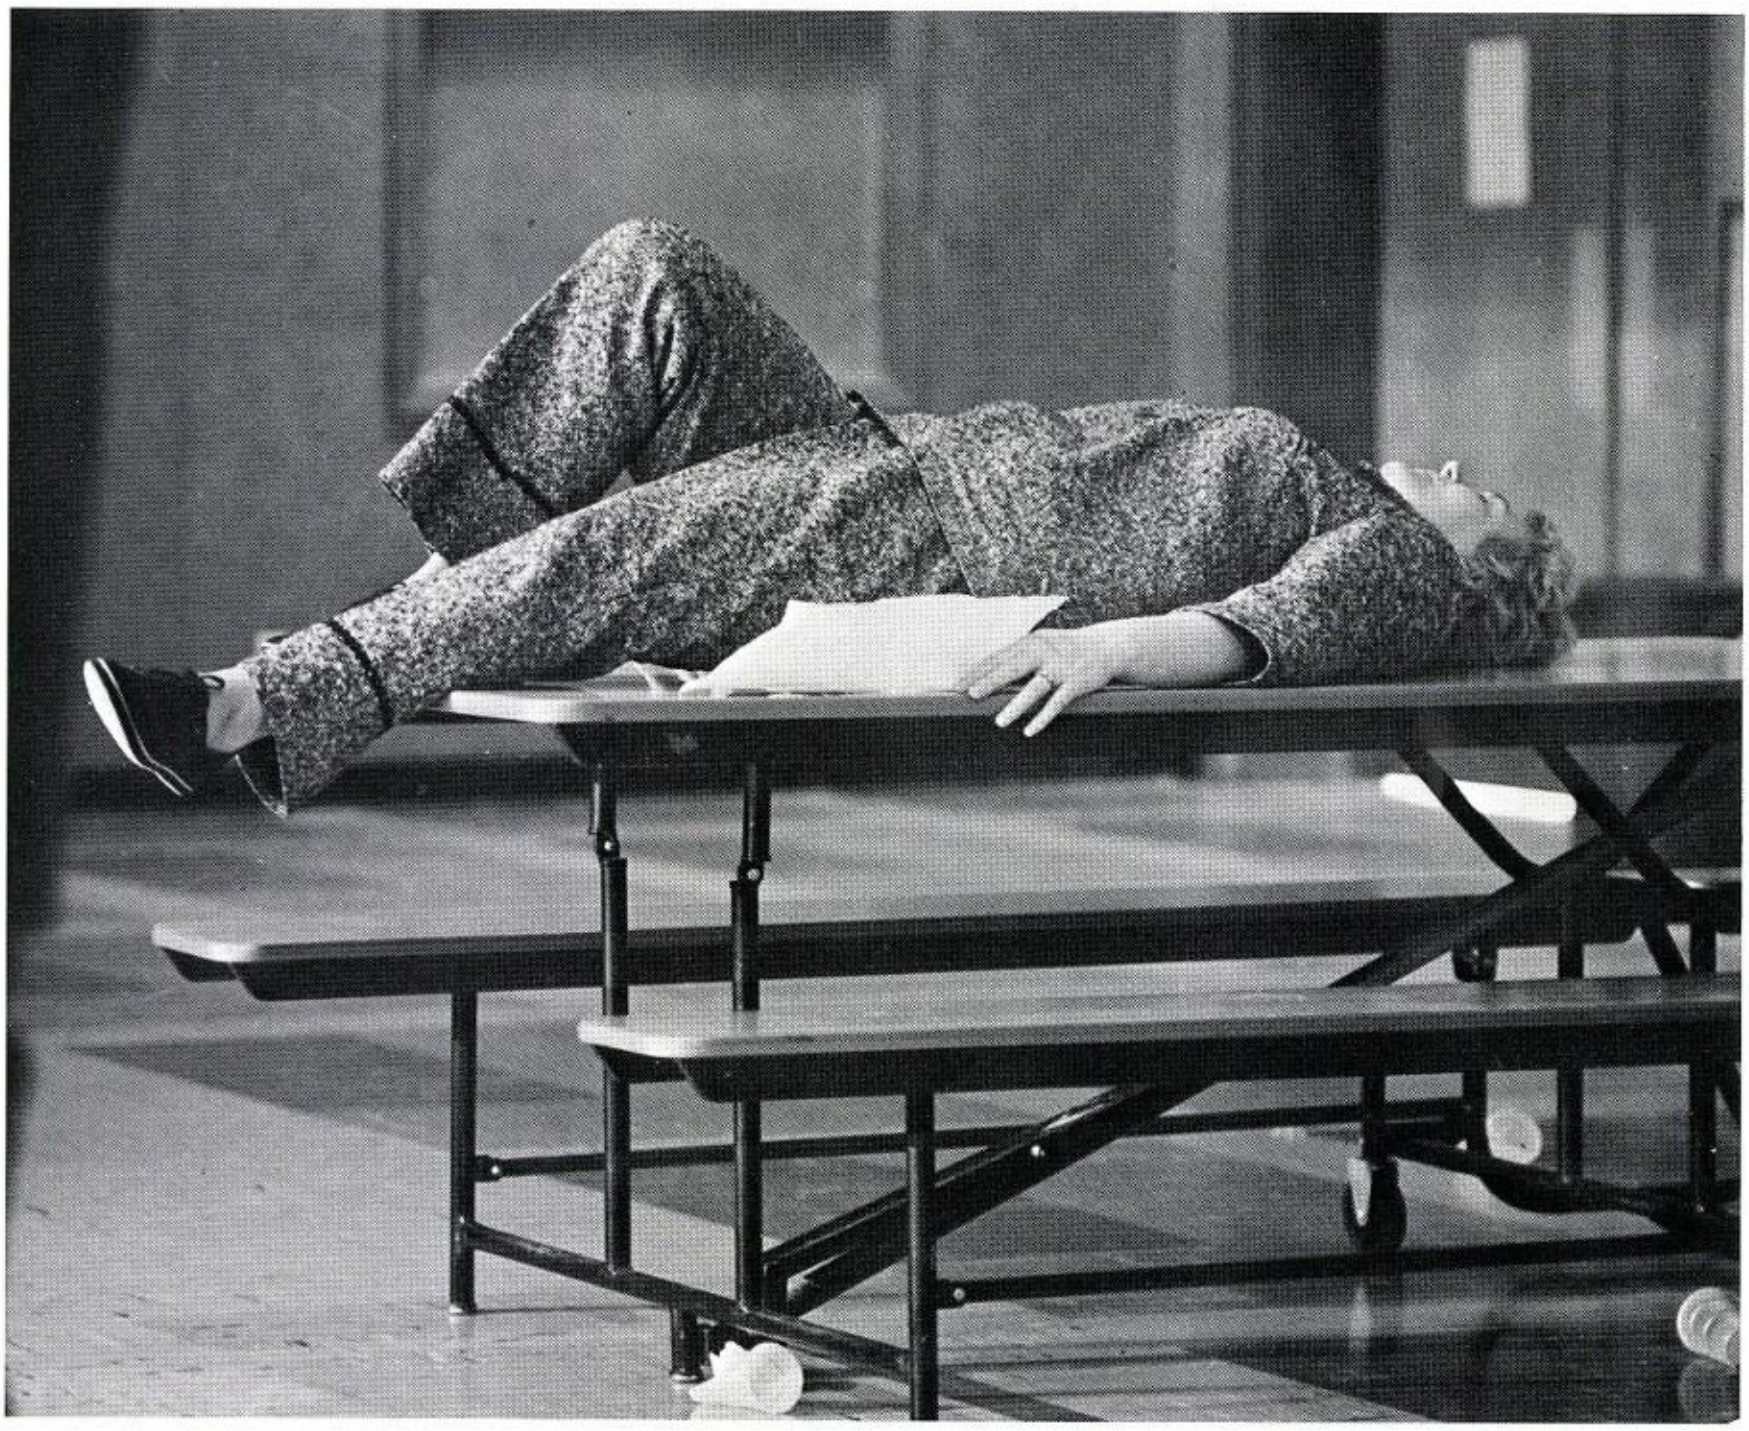
Creme soda in hand, senior Mylo Curtis enjoys the natural surroundings that were found by many students this spring on various field trips.

The Ski Club's trip to Bogus Basin gave Lynn Meng (above) the opportunity to ski in other areas besides those in Oregon, while teacher dress up day held in the fall of the year allowed teachers, such as Miss Shirley Brown (below), to express themselves.

Sociology students Tom Blair and Linda Crowe get a chance to experience for themselves the renowned "Scalloporachi Day."



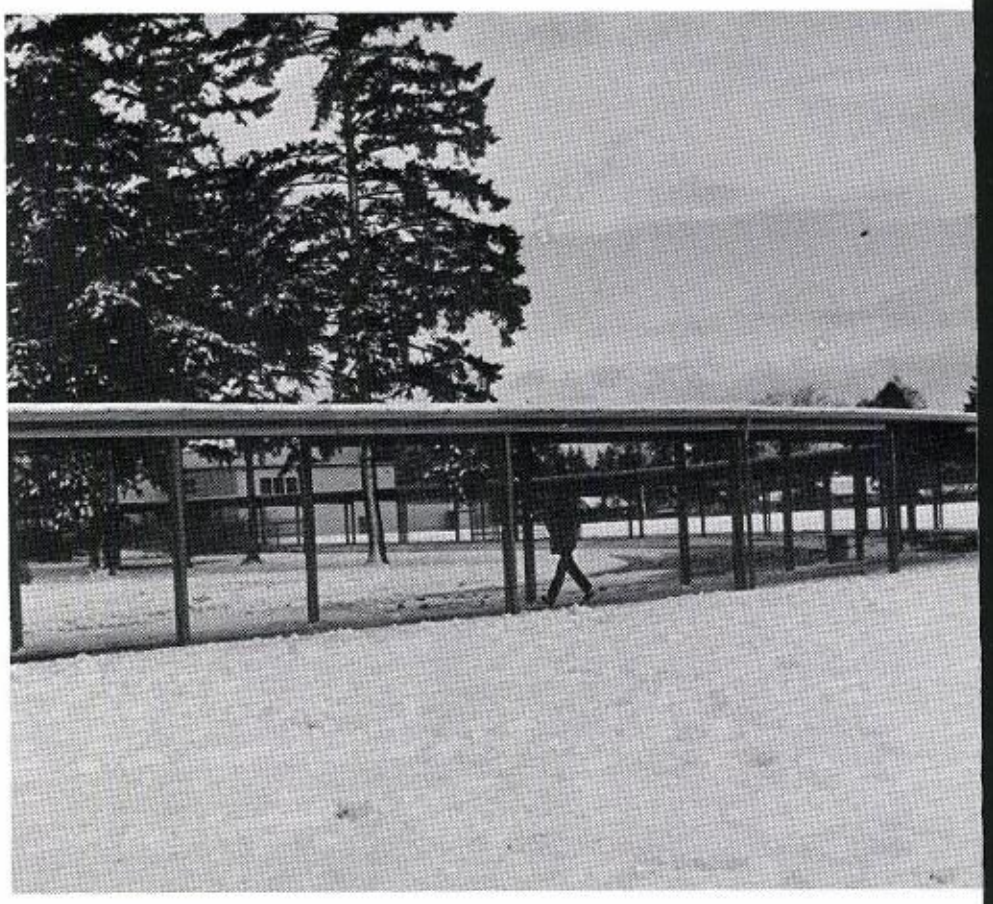
One Last Look. . .



One rare moment of solitude is enjoyed by Mrs. Reynolds as she catches some rest between her endless teaching, directing, and befriending.

Patti DeRoest imitates a char woman in a humorous dance routine during the intermission of the Mother-Daughter Tea.

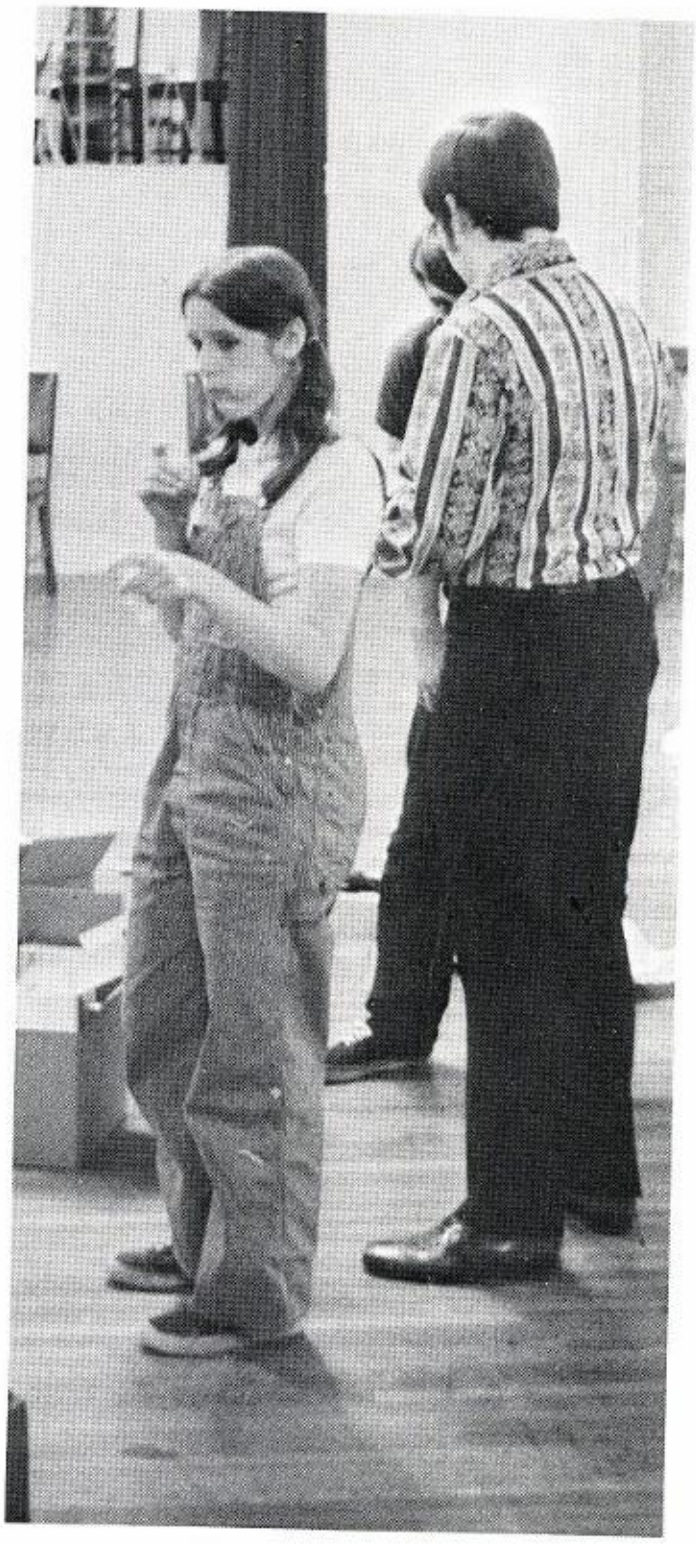
A lone student, braving the winter cold, walks from the Junior Building to the Senior Building.



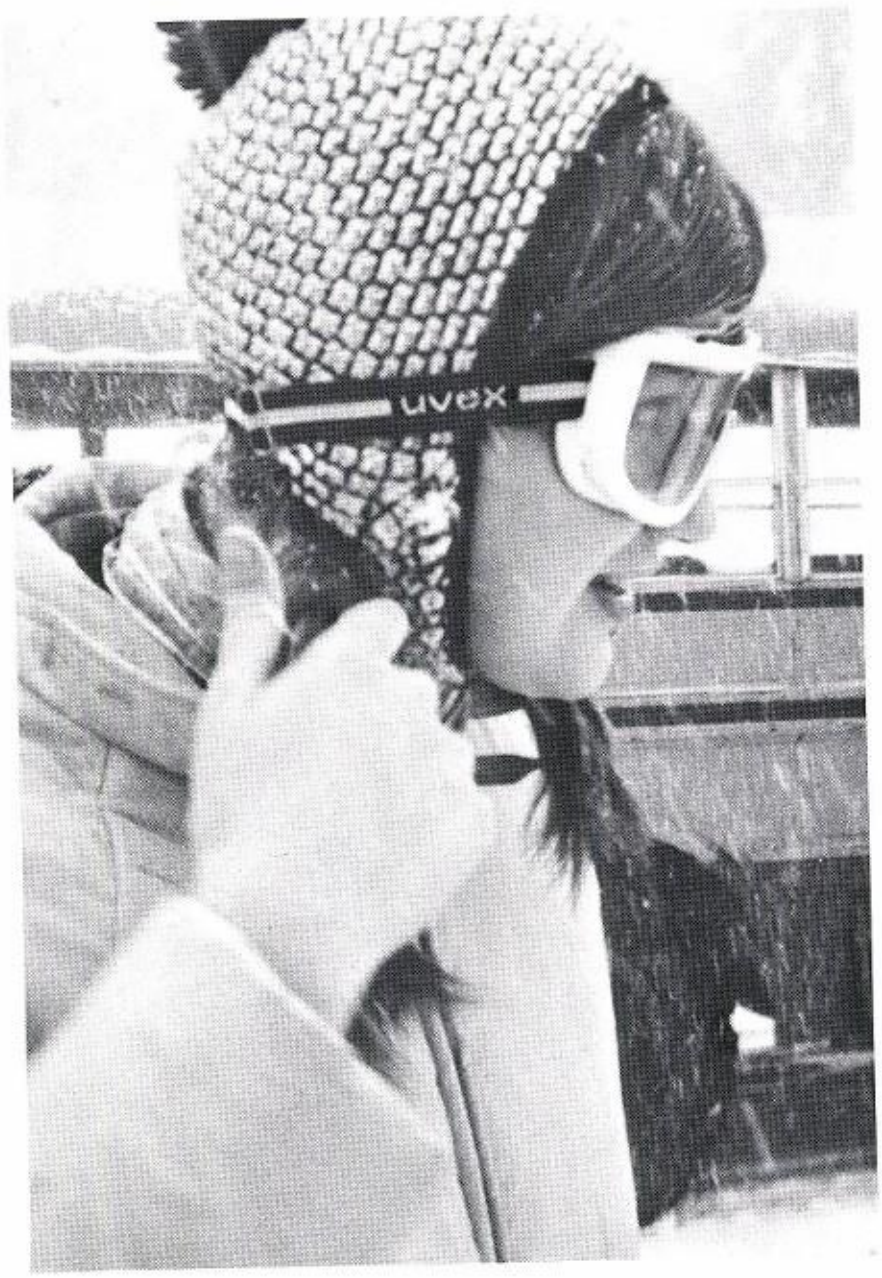
Two football fans, Linda Wagner and Brenda Muldoon, sit in the bleachers, along with other Scots, and attentively watch the game.

All dressed and ready for a night of dancing and fun are Betty Jean Repp and Tom Lincke.

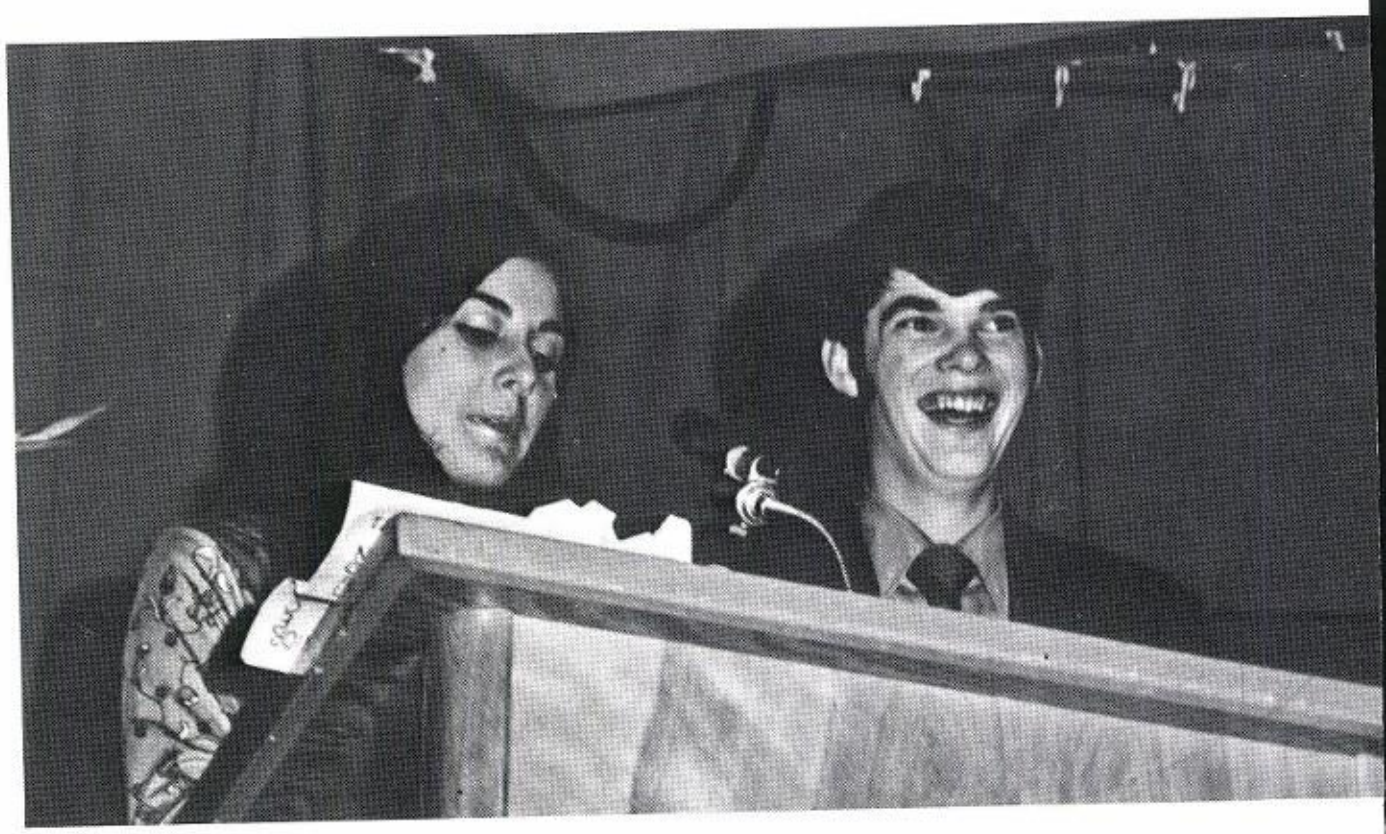
A member of the decoration committee for the prom, Kathy Klum takes time out to rest from a busy schedule.



Valerie Smith and her date, Marc Price, take time out from the prom to flip through the program.

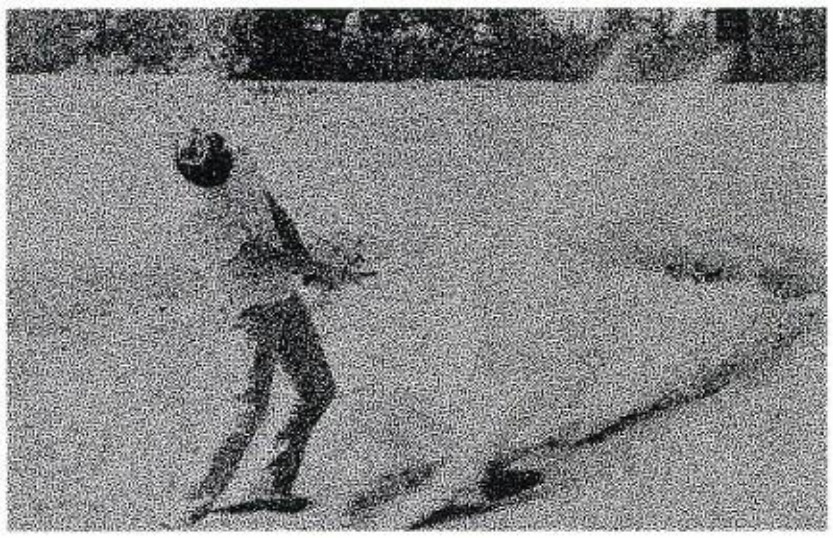


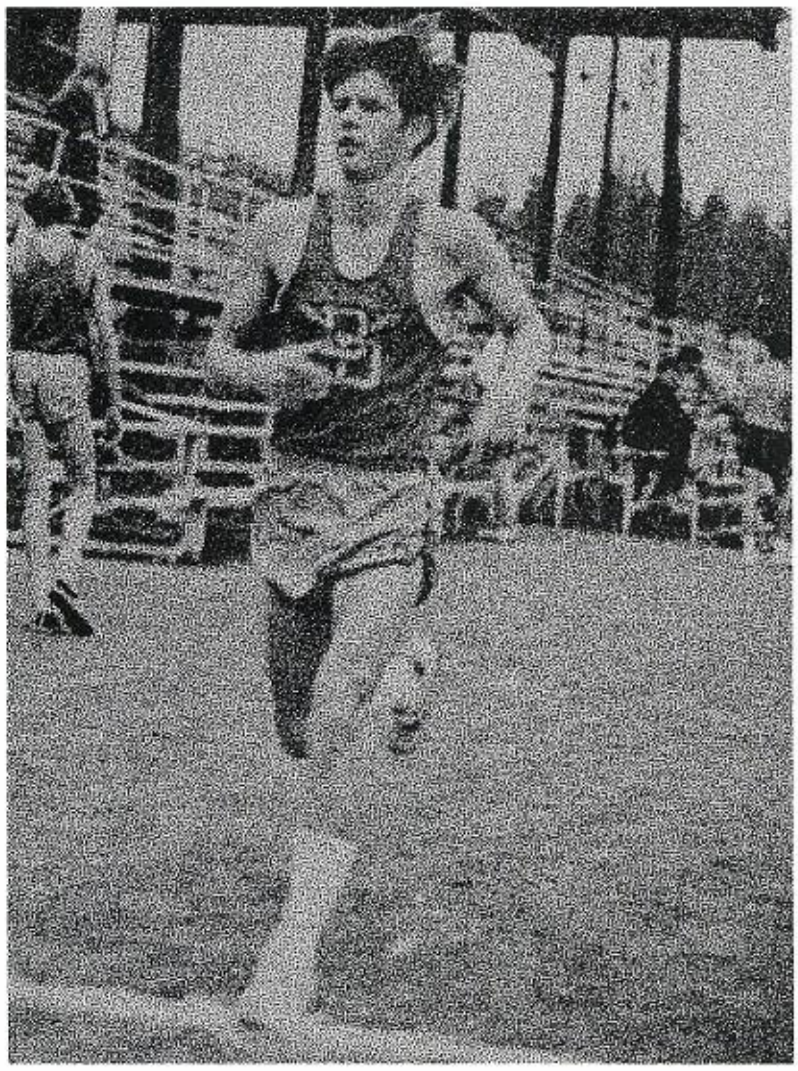
Janet Howard prepares herself for a cold and snowy day on the slopes. The Ski Club enabled its members to use the excellent facilities available on Mt. Hood.



Mary Kralj and Gary Wallmark, mistress and master of ceremonies at the Senior Recognition Night, announce a variety of award winners.

Competition





Scot Tankers Take Third Straight Double

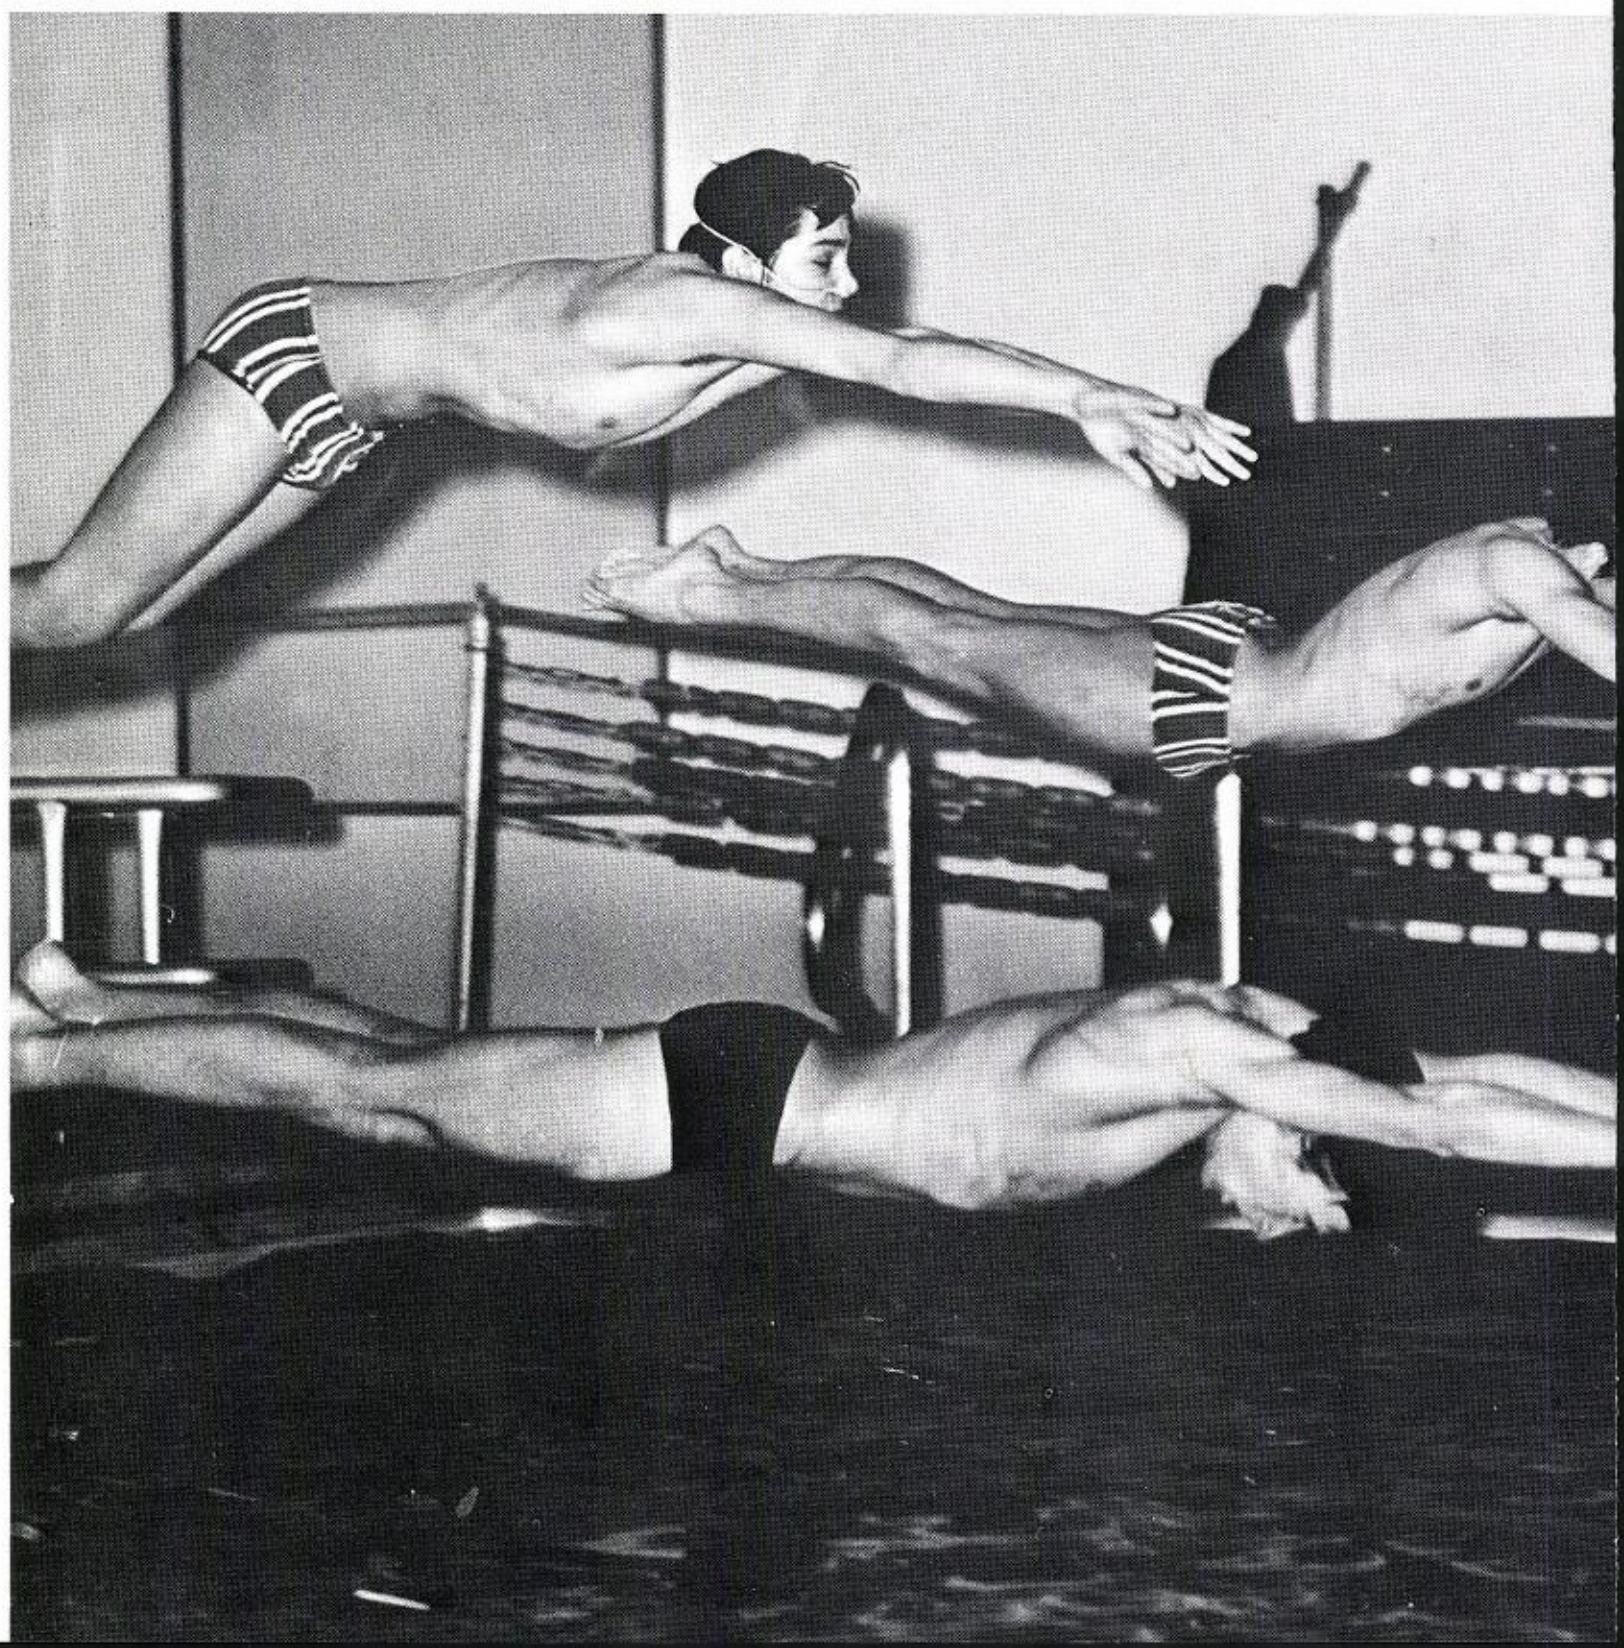
The efforts of Coaches Don Jacklin and Carl Von Tagen paid off as the Scots' boys and girls teams took both State Championships for an unprecedented third straight year. The boys have won three years in a row, and the girls four straight. In the process of taking State the two teams combined broke eleven individual state records.

Both teams exhibited a high degree of spirit throughout the season, which is a good indication of the excellent coaching received by the swimmers and the determination that they possessed.

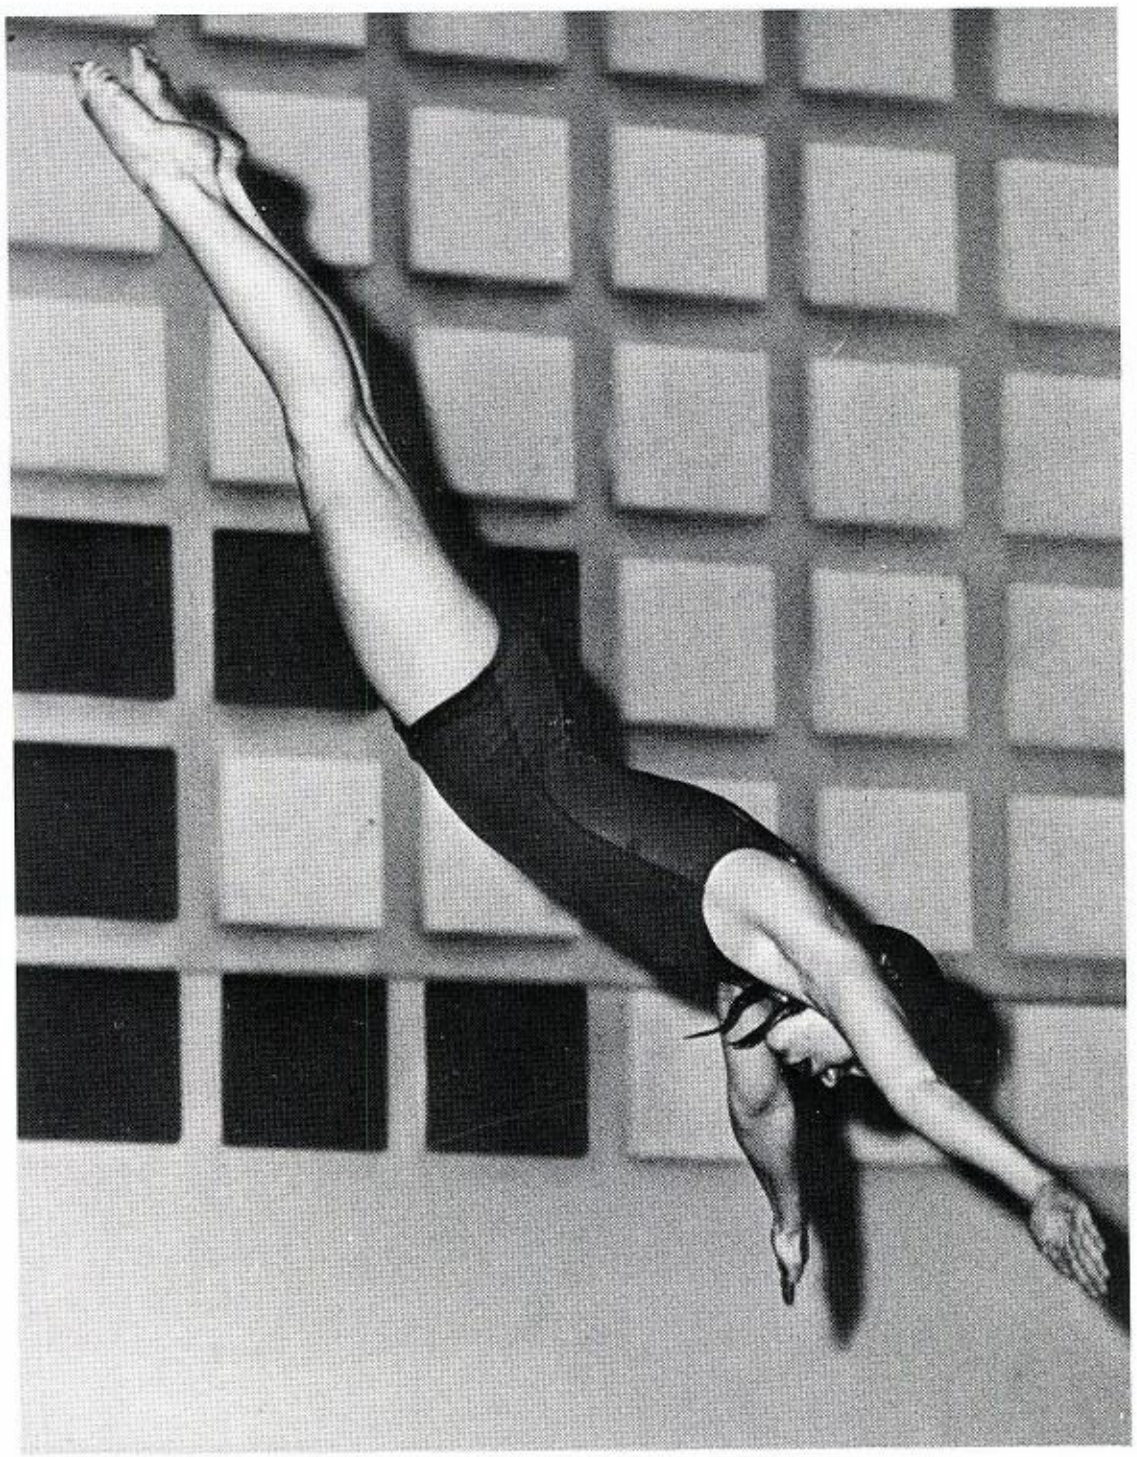
The girls compiled a six win and no loss record for the regular season. Over a five year period they have won forty-five straight dual meets. The most inspirational girl swimmer and team captain was Terri DeRoest.

The boys compiled an eight win and one loss record. The most inspirational boy swimmer was Scott Bryant and the team captain was Randy Rankin.

With the sounding of the starting gun, Marty Kehrli, Mike Ainslie, and Scott Bryant spring forward striving for the best start. Their fine performances were instrumental in the Scot's winning season.



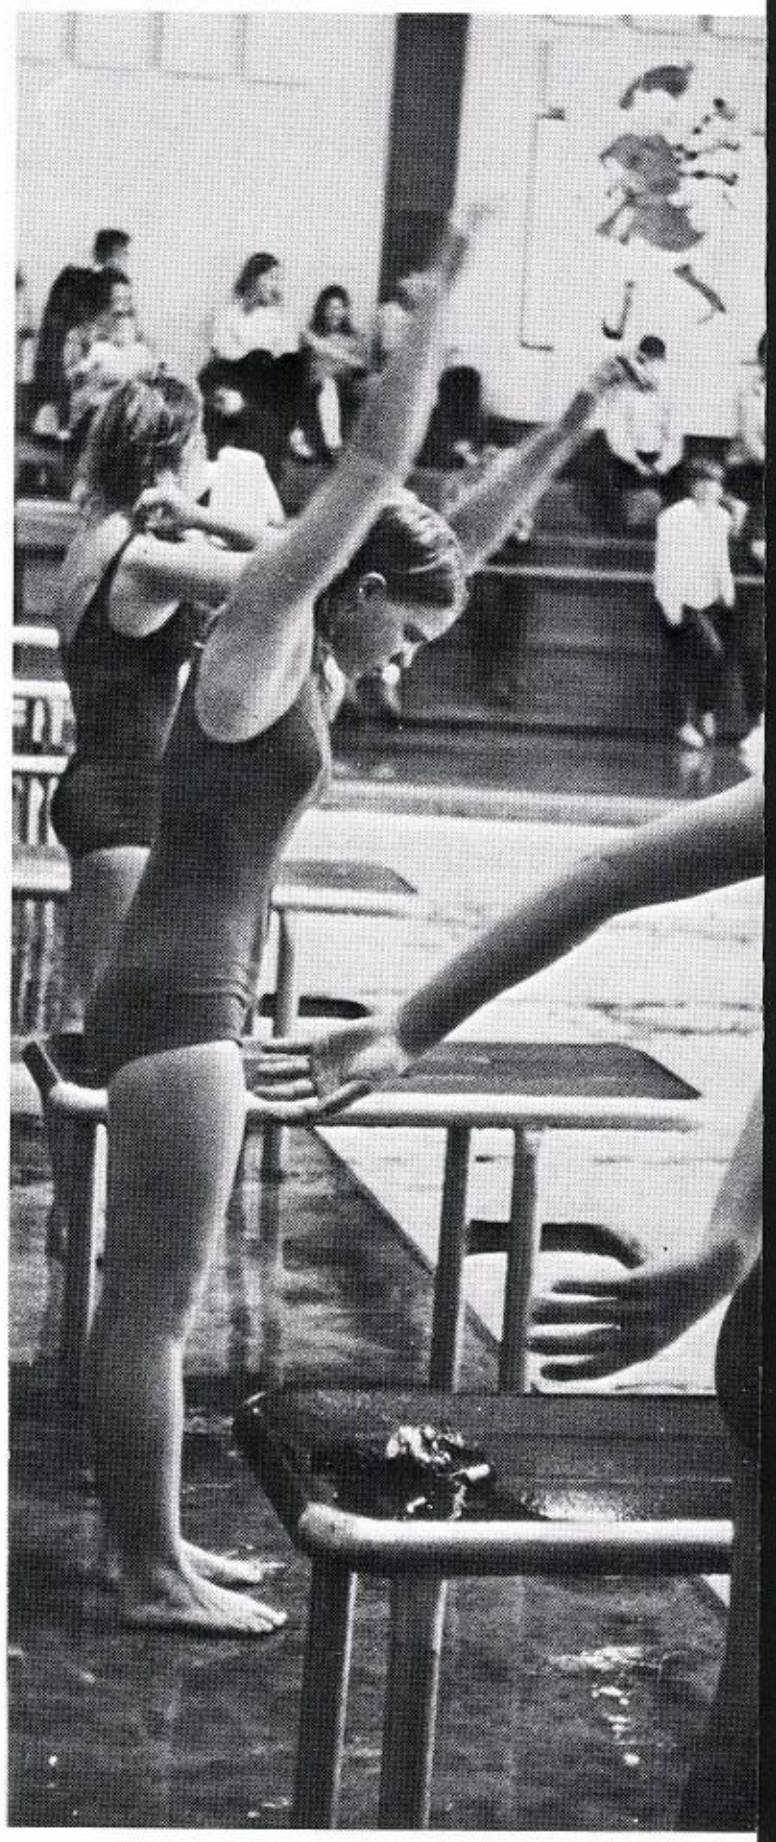
Championship



Linda Larson shows that hours of practice and excellent coaching result in a satisfying experience. Because she is the only girl diver, Linda proved to be an invaluable asset to the team.

Pat DeRoest and Corrine Biamont led enthusiasm and encouragement to fellow members of the team. The result of this spirit was an unblemished record for the girls' team.

Preparing for a race are Wendy Moore and Linda Larson. Preparation is very important to the swimmer both mentally and physically.



A swimmer's two toughest opponents are the clock and himself. Sophomore Mike Ainslie, shown here in backstroke competition, has proved to be a master of both in his first two years of participation on the Scot's varsity team.

Scot Harriers Combine Spirit and Strength

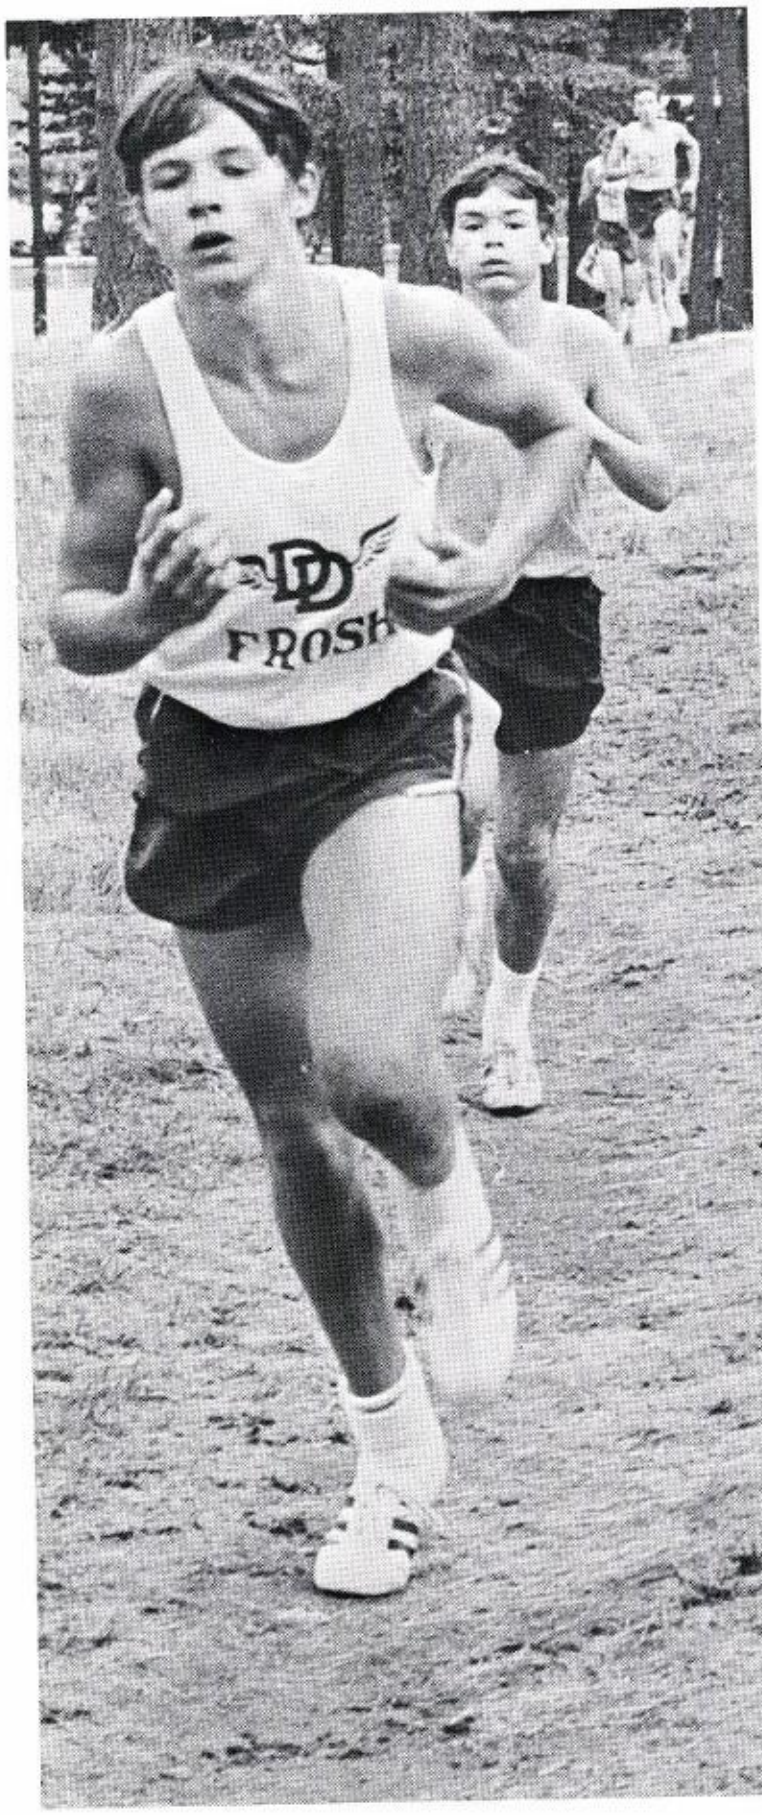
Cross country may not attract hundreds of people, but it's just as exciting and strenuous a sport as football or basketball. It takes great skill, strength, and endurance to run the distance at such speeds as these harriers.

The Scots were building this year for an outstanding season next year. In dual meets the varsity compiled a three wins, four losses and one tie season. They placed third in a fourway meet at Barlow, and in the Metro League District meet they finished seventh in the standings.

The varsity team had many fine runners this year, including seniors Mark Eddington and Dave Bischoff, juniors Dave Hamilton and Roger Haynes, and sophomores Ross Morris and Greg Gustafson. Gustafson was good enough to make the Metro All Star Team.

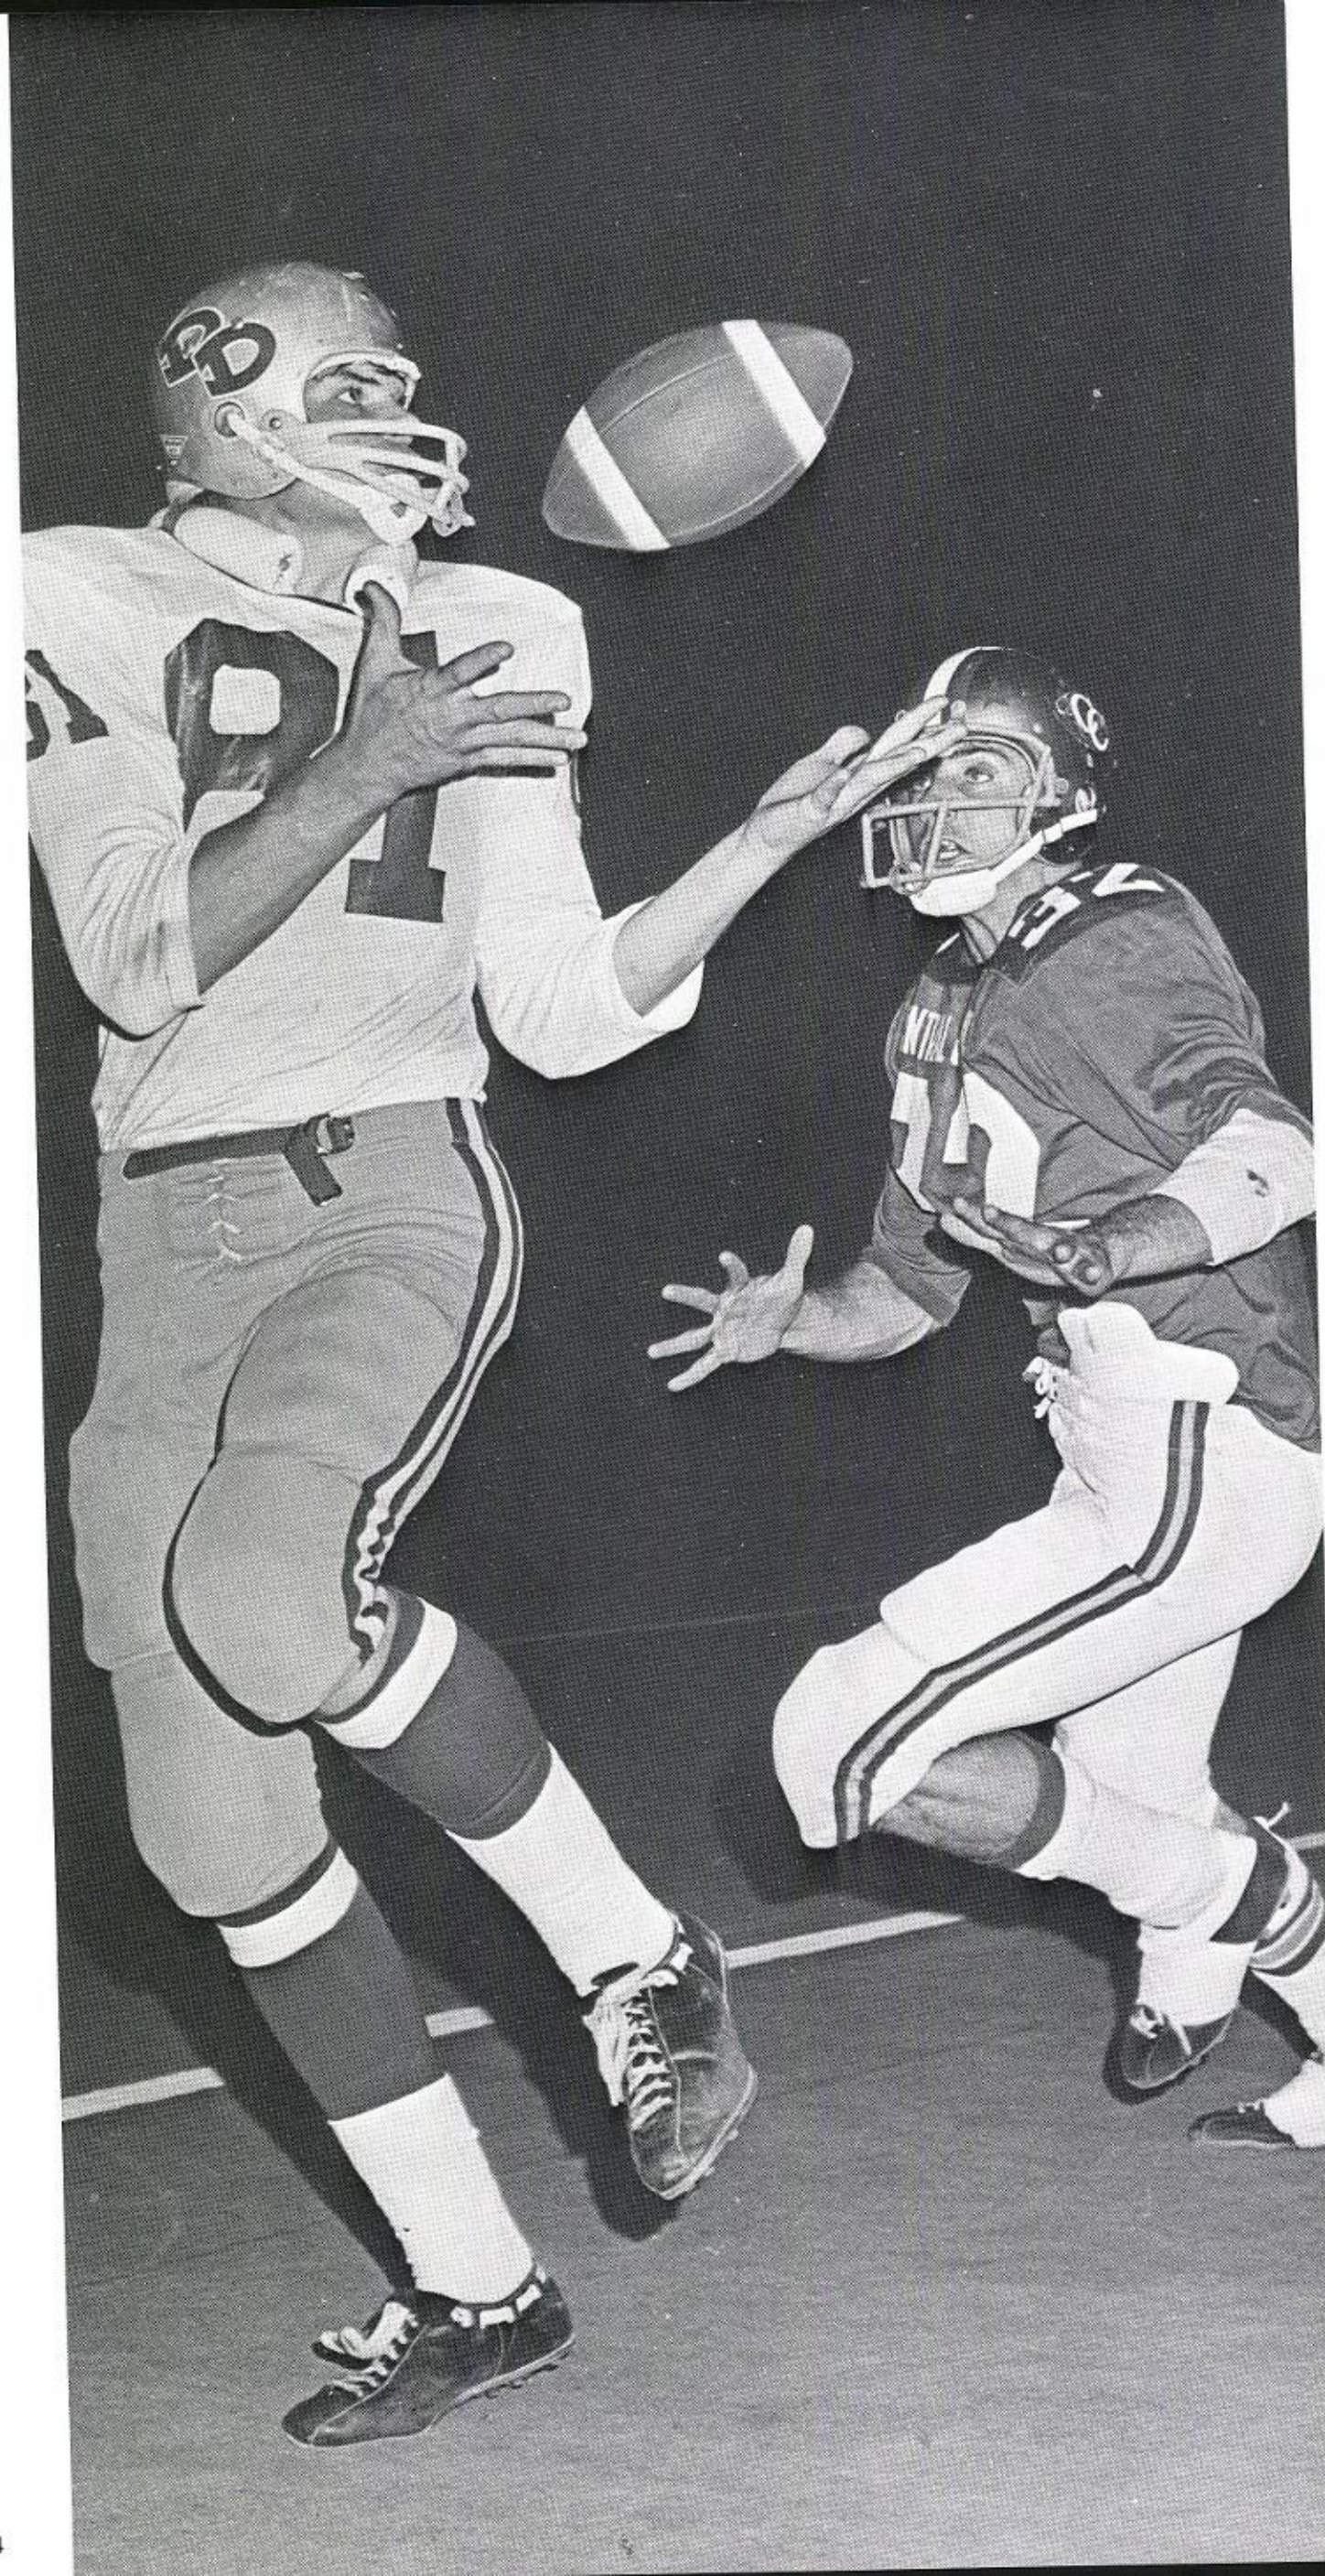
In the lead at the halfway mark are the Scots' three leading runners Greg Gustafson, Mark Eddington, and Russ Morris. Their fine efforts led them to many victories.

Pat Fricke of the frosh squad maintains a narrow lead over his competitor while the remainder of the Scots trail behind. His expression shows the mental as well as physical strain this sport requires.



The varsity's three top men Gustafson, Morris, and Eddington enter the final stretch in positions one, two, three with only one Jesuit man beating out Roger Haynes and Dave Hamilton in the rear.

The starting line is the first chance to get ahead and stay ahead. The Scots take full advantage of this as Coach Walter Skowhede sounds the starting gun.



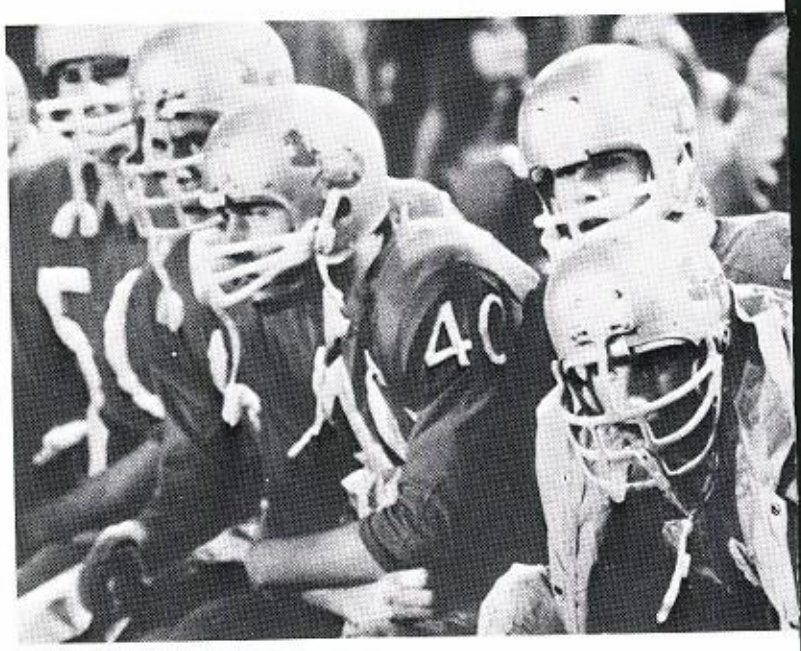
Tight end Steve Browning slips past a Central Catholic defender and snags a pass in the game between the Scots and the Rams.

Scots End Season with 4-4-1 Record

The Scots had a even win-loss record for the 1970 football season: four wins, four losses and one tie. Although they did not do as well as in past years, there was outstanding individual talent displayed. Ken Alldritt, Ron Averett, Greg Horner, Jim Mattsen, Terry McEwen, Steve Drakulich, Ken Sampert and Ron Hill were eight Scots gridders placed on the Metro League's All-Star team lists. Of these eight, Alldritt was first team offensive guard and Averett second team defensive linebacker. On the second team were running back Greg Horner and defensive tackle Jim Mattsen. Honorable mention awards went to quarterback Terry McEwen, end Steve Drakulich, defensive guard Ken Sampert and back Ron Hill.

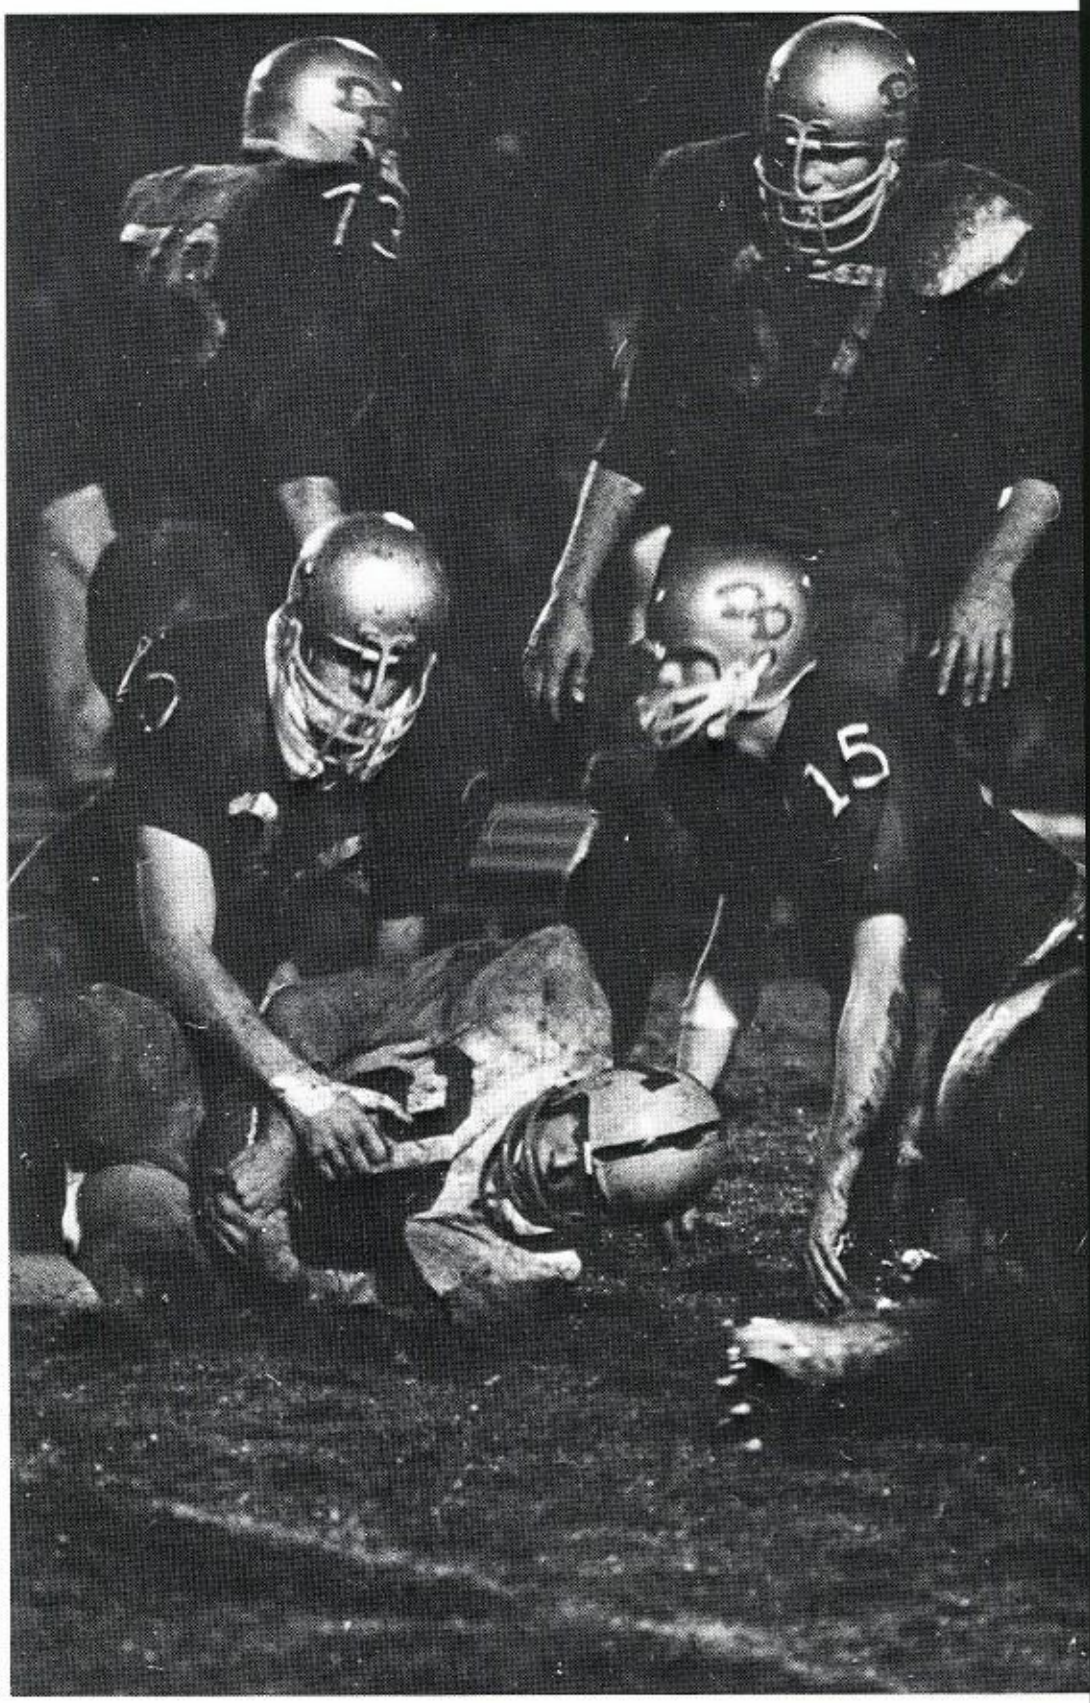
Fullback Bill Harrington (24) takes a handoff from quarterback Terry McEwen (10) in a rush against Beaverton. This was the second year for McEwen as the starting quarterback for the Scots.

New Metro Circuit Provides Tough Opposition



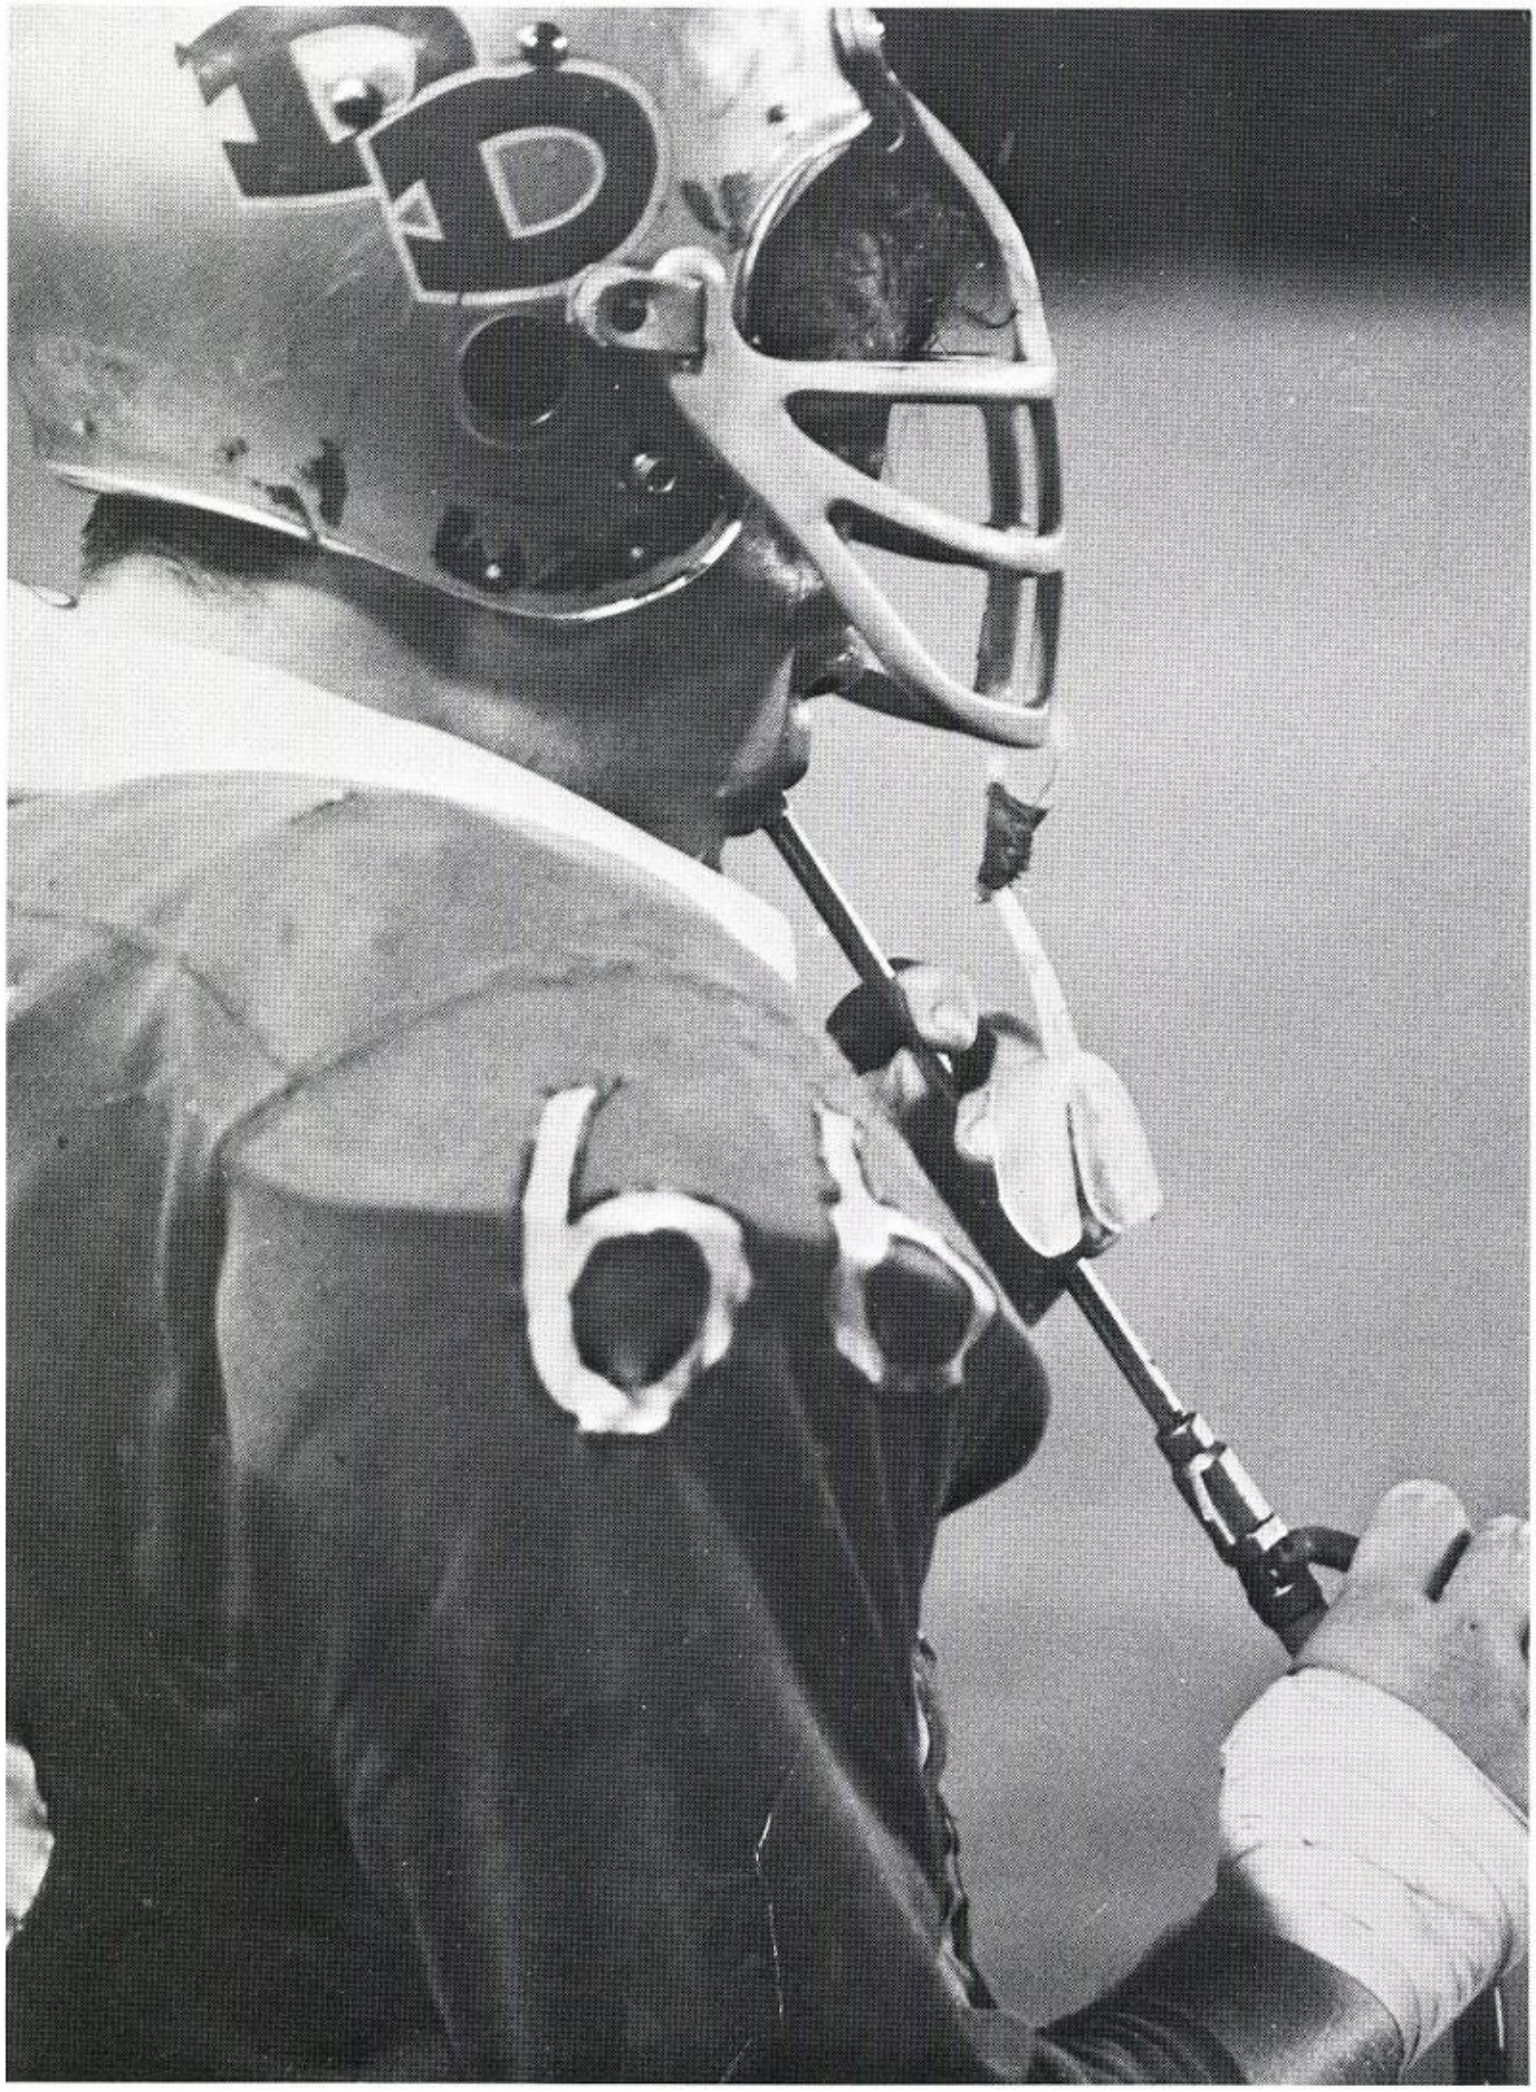
Team members watch on as the Scots battle Jesuit. The bench was called on many times during the season because of the various injuries encountered by the Scots.

Ron Hill (25) strives for extra yardage as Jesuit players converge for the tackle. Due to injuries, Ron missed most of the season, and yet playing both offense and defense he made the Metro All Star honorable mention team as a defensive back.



Scot defensive players Dave Hunt (15), Ron Hobbs (30), Bruce Miller (73) and Ken Sampert (67) hover over a downed Crusader. Douglas' defense had trouble stopping Jesuit's attack.

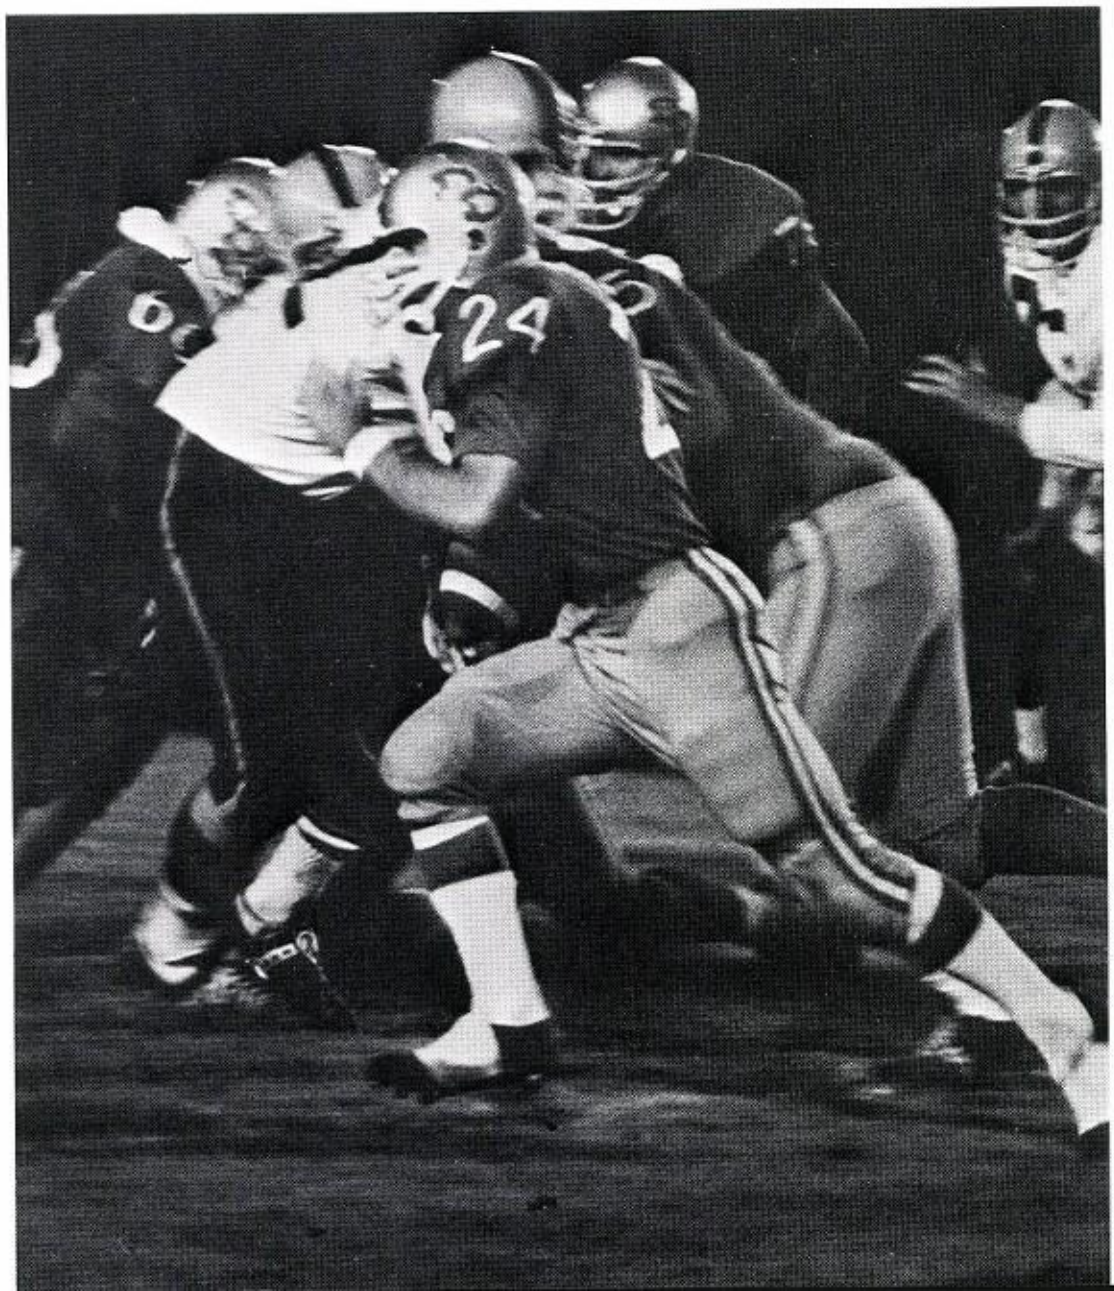
Scotsmen Look to Next Year's Challenge



Ken Alldritt, one of the Scots eight Metro All-Star team members gets a drink of water and a moments rest before returning to the field.

Ken Sampert (73) and Dave Hunt (15) prepare to bring down a Central Catholic Ram. The Scots lead most of the game until Central started their charge and defeated the Scots in a heartbreaking loss, 22-14.

Scots' offensive line clears a hole for fullback Bill Harrington in the Beaverton game. The Scots tied the Beavers in their first league game of the season.



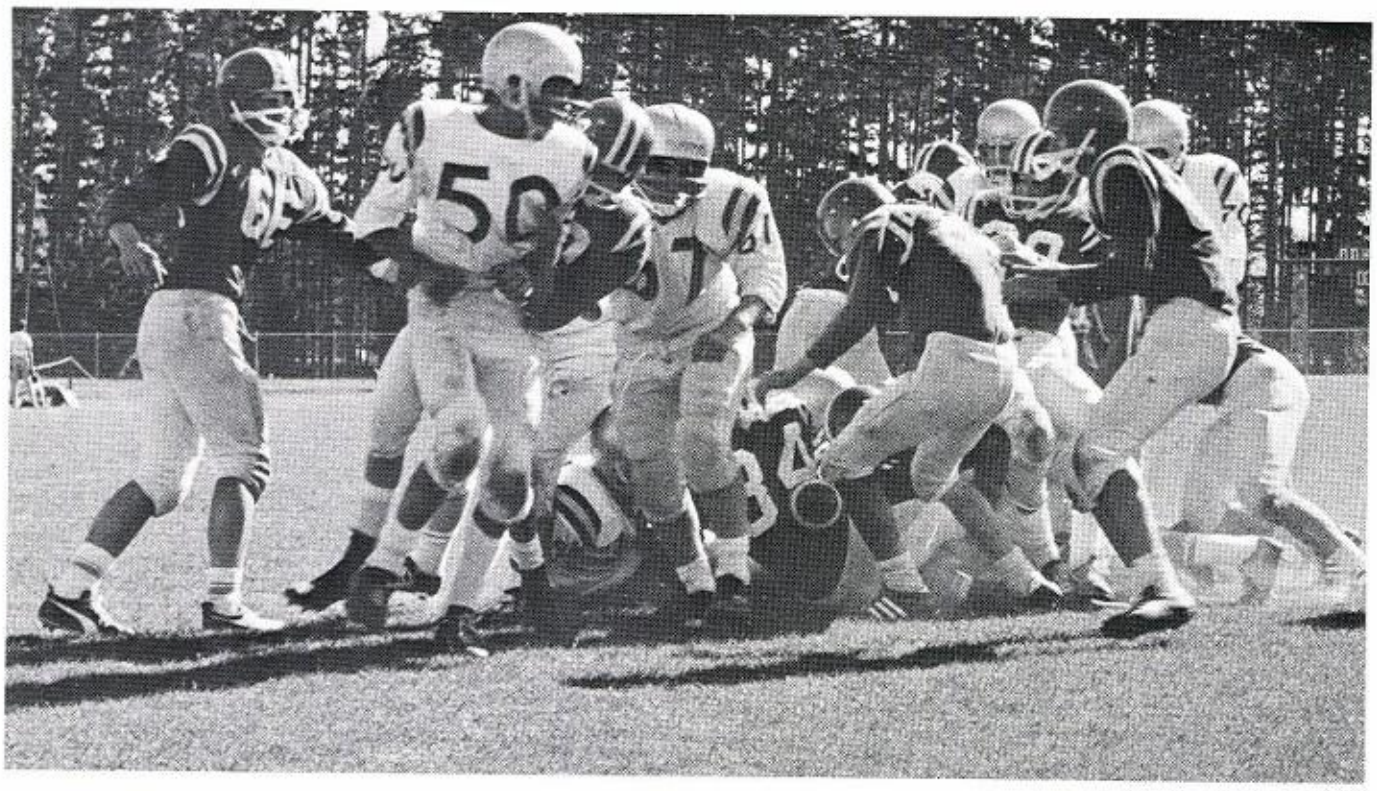
Underclass builds for the Future

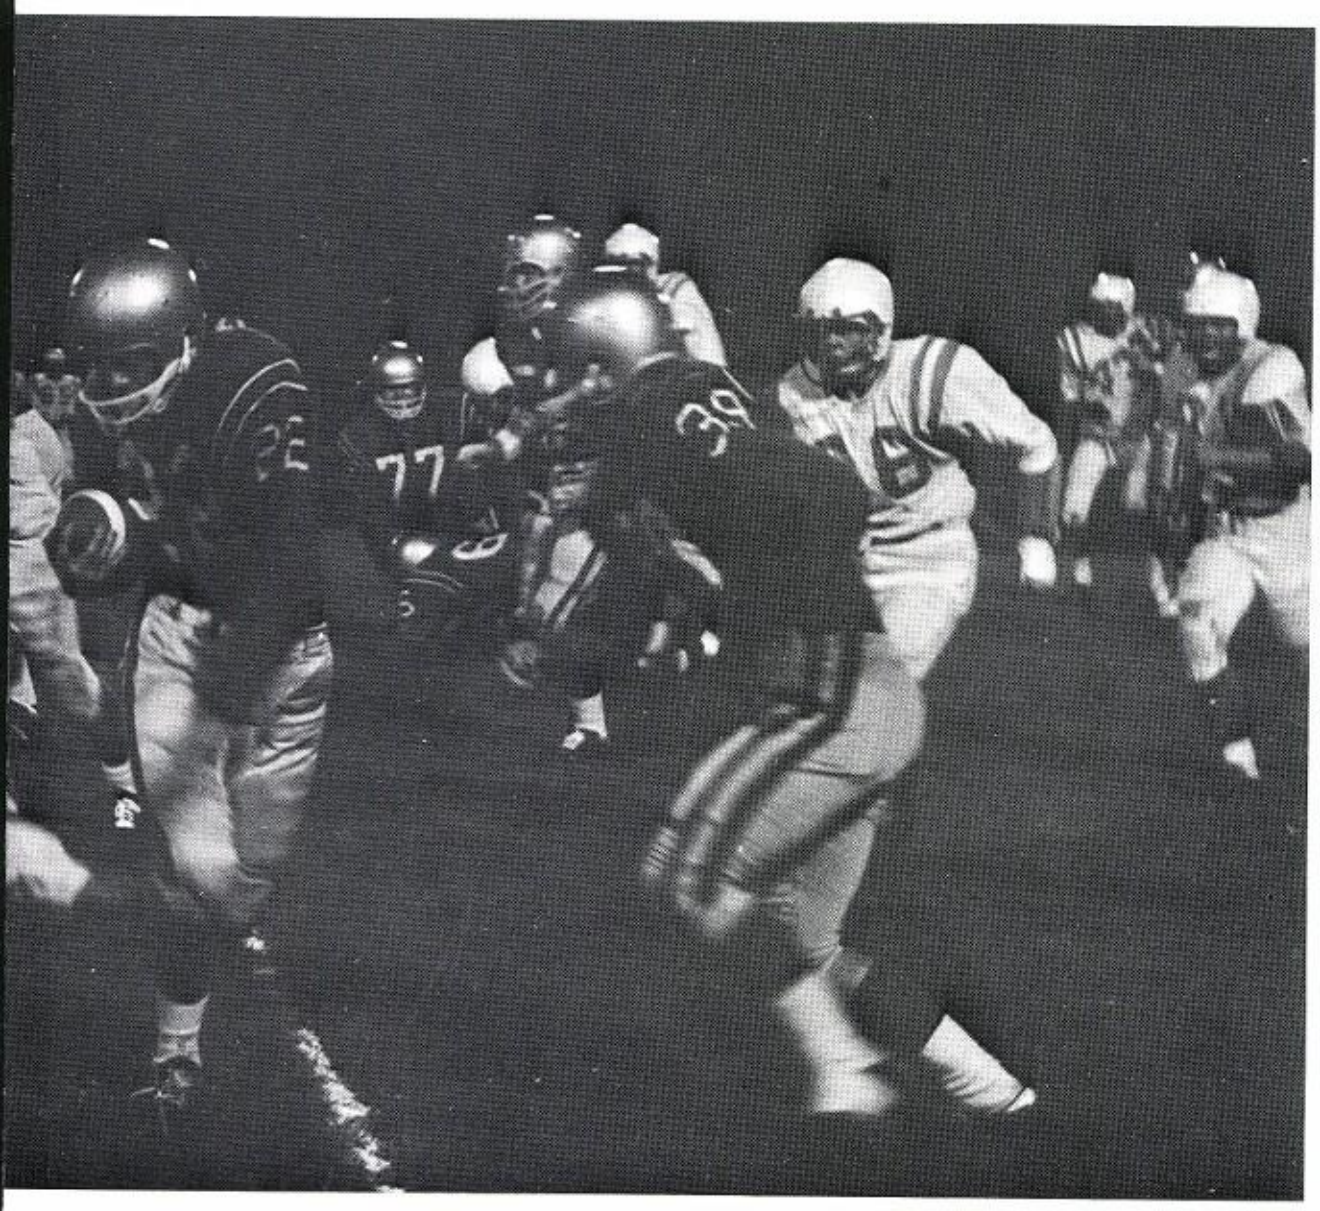
The J.V. and frosh football teams found it hard to get moving this season. The frosh were divided into two equal teams: the red having a record of 0-6, and the gray team a record of 2-4. The J.V.'s ended their season with a 2-5-2 record. Although there were not a lot of games won, the experience gained was important for future teams at Douglas. Dave Glennon and Bruce McEwen were two outstanding offensive players for the J.V. team, while Tom Harrington starred on defense.

Sophomore Bill Serdar streaks along sideline in a play that went for long yardage. Bill was one of the main running-backs for the J.V. team.

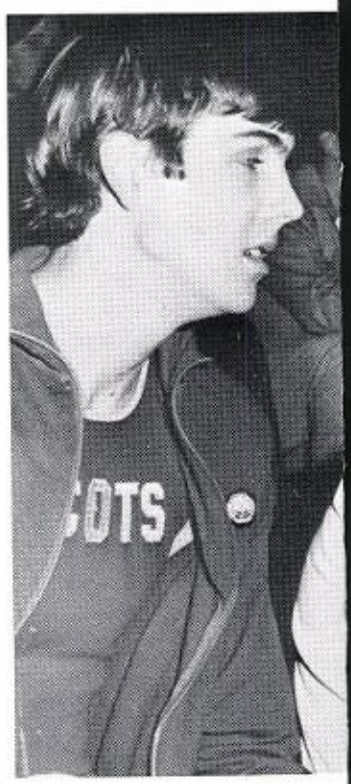
Dave Glennon (22) displays his running ability as Tom Harrington (39) pulls to block. Glennon was a stalwart for the J.V. backfield.

The members of the frosh offensive team scramble for the fumble in their game against Beaverton. With all the individual talent shown on the frosh teams this year the outlook for next year's J.V. team is good.



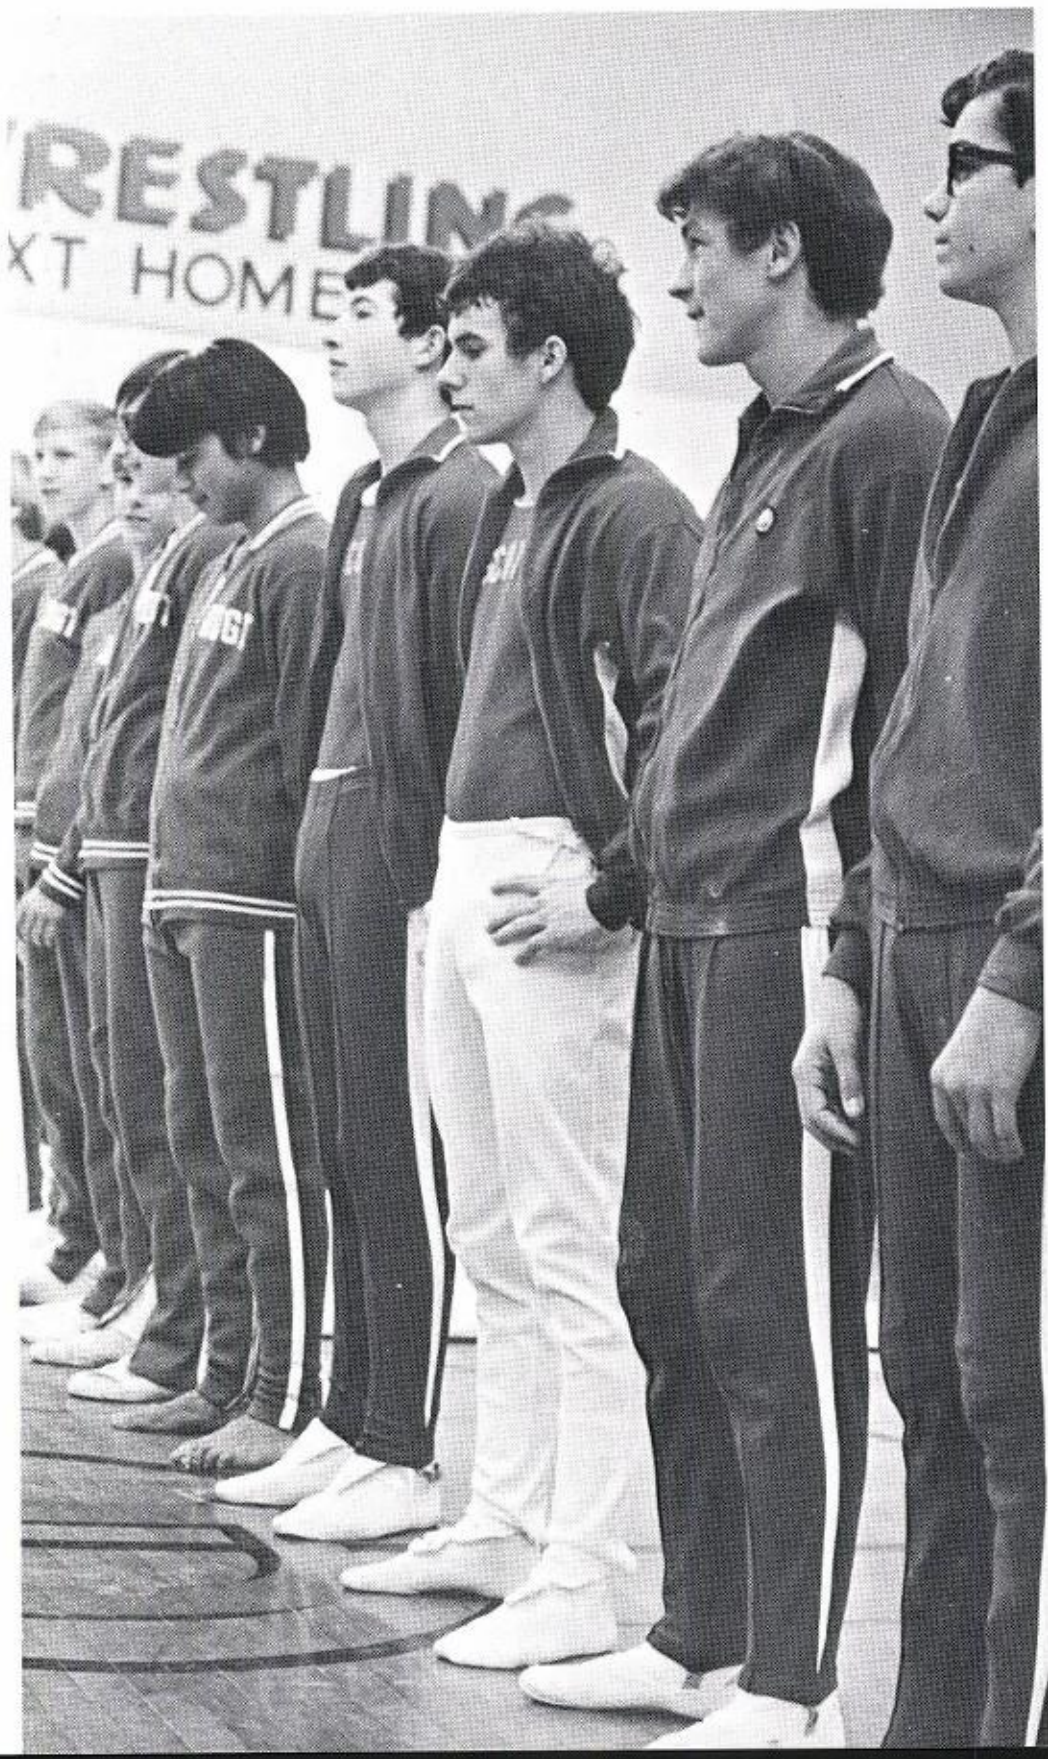


Boy Gymnasts Capture State Title

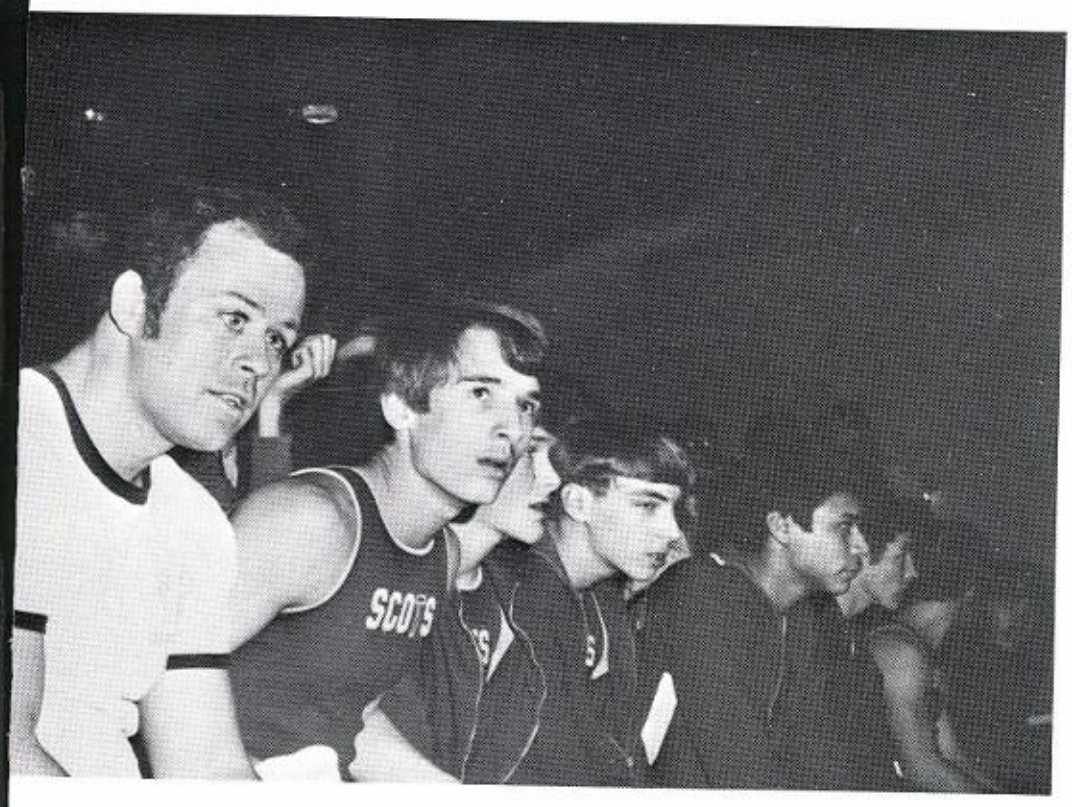


After five consecutive years of placing second at State, the boys gymnastics team edged South Eugene by 4.4 points to take the State championship. This was South Eugene's first second place after a previous record of eight straight firsts. The team, coached by Mr. Rod Ostboe, also went through the season with only one loss, that to South Eugene by 1.2 points early in the season. The varsity gymnasts also took first at District. Team captain Ron Nissen, took second in all around competition at State behind first place finisher Ross Cauthorn. Doug Ingham, Dave Lapeyre, and Steve Monroe were three other Scot gymnasts who took places at the State meet.

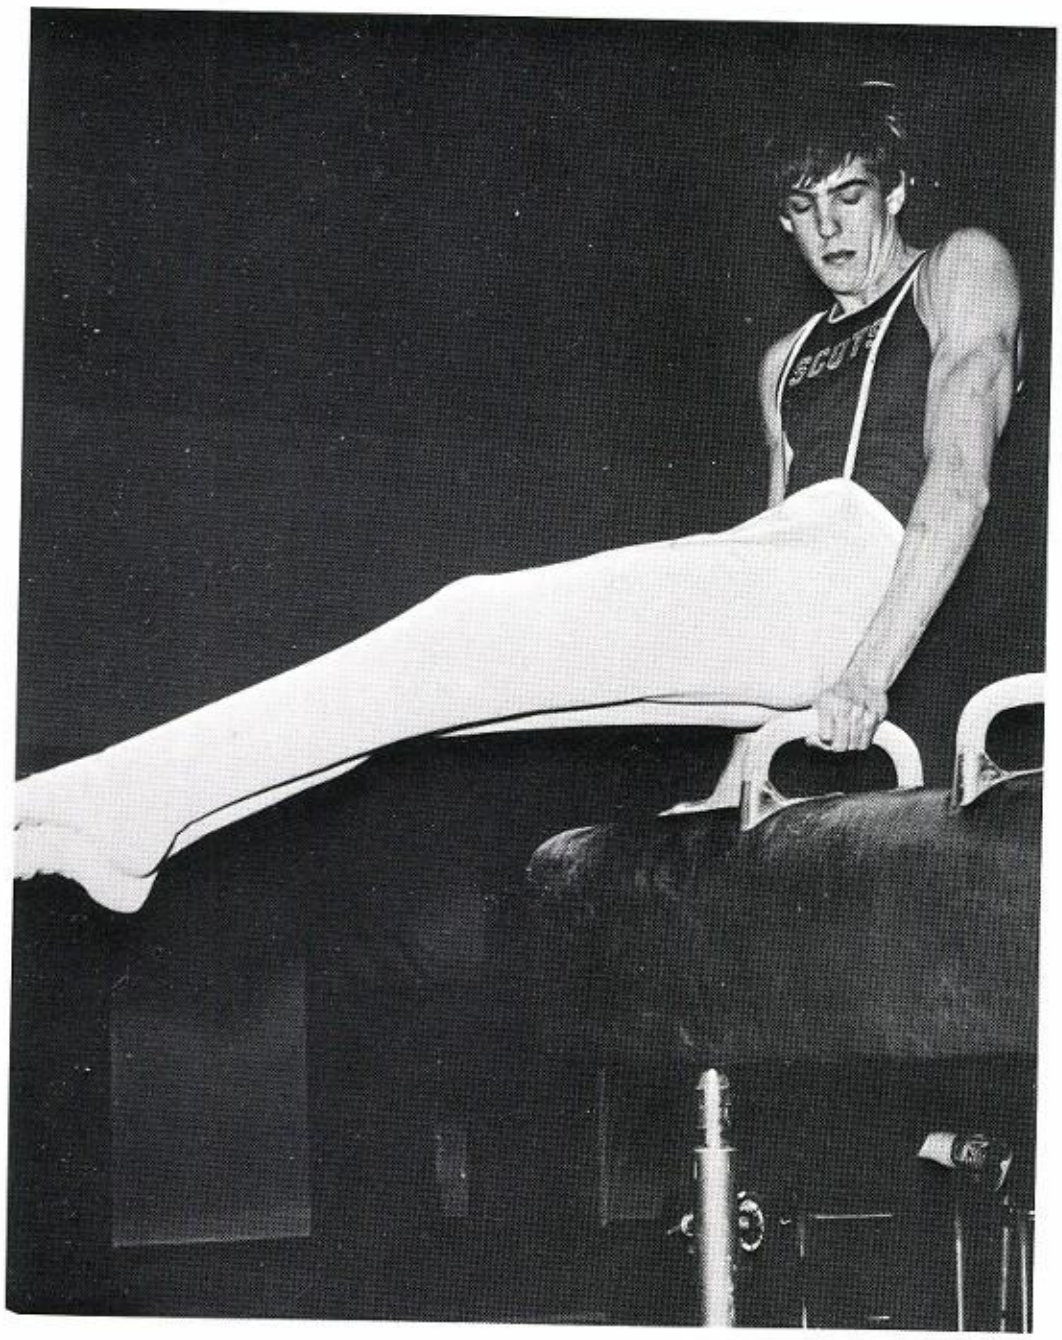
The girls' gymnastics team, led by Gayle Hamilton and Karen Heber, did equally as well by taking the girls' State championship with Gayle placing third and Karen placing fifth in all around competition. This was the second time in six years the girls have taken State, and they did it by a wide margin of 7.75 points with their rival being North Eugene. Since none of the girls will be graduating, their coach, Mrs. Charlene Dauenhauer expects another championship team next year.



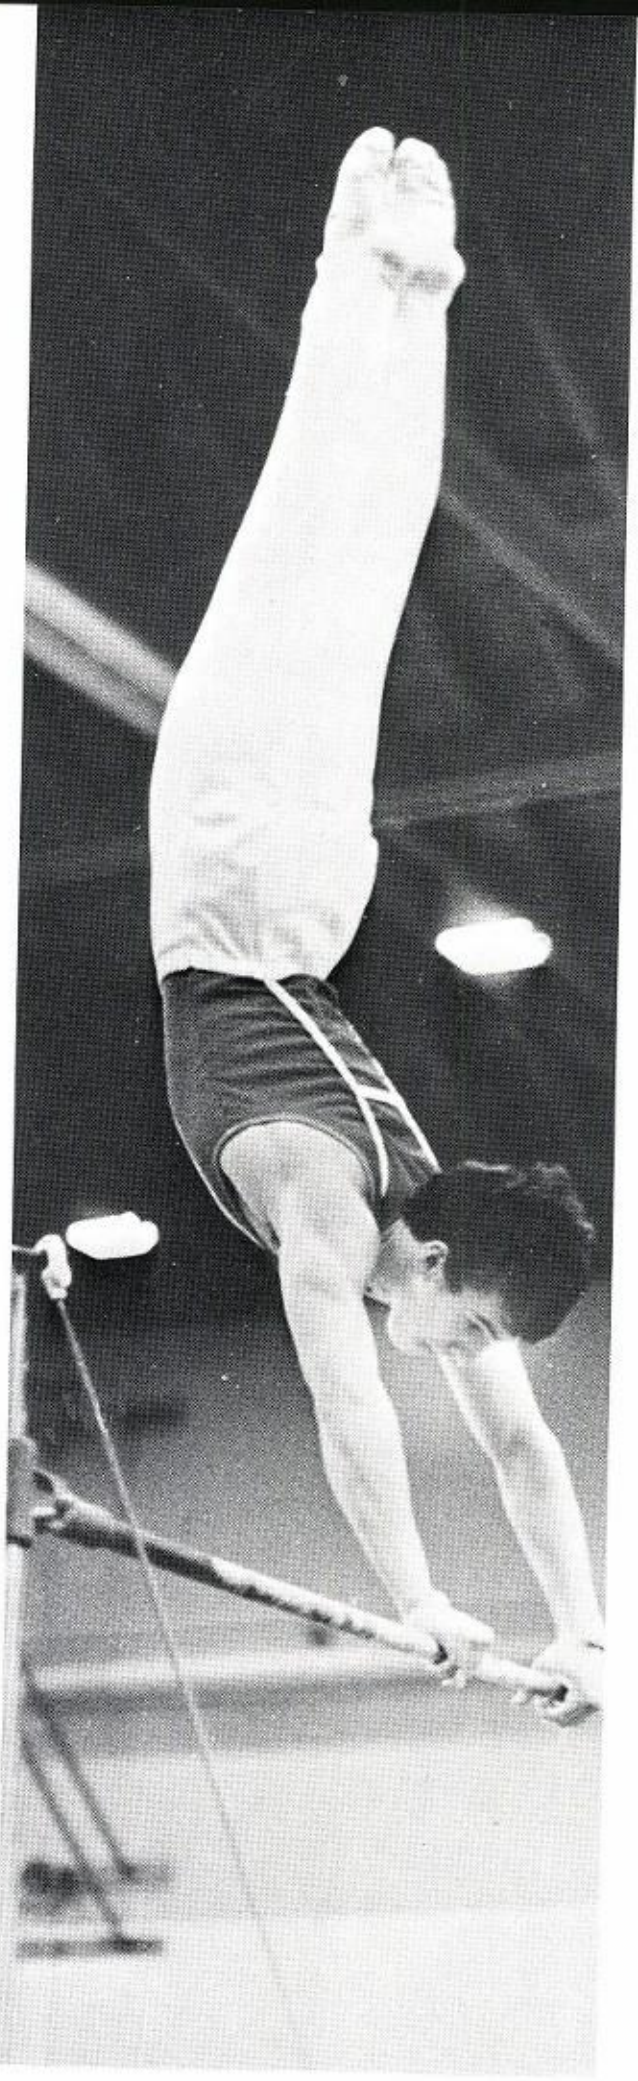
The introduction of the team to the audience is all a part of a gymnastics meet.



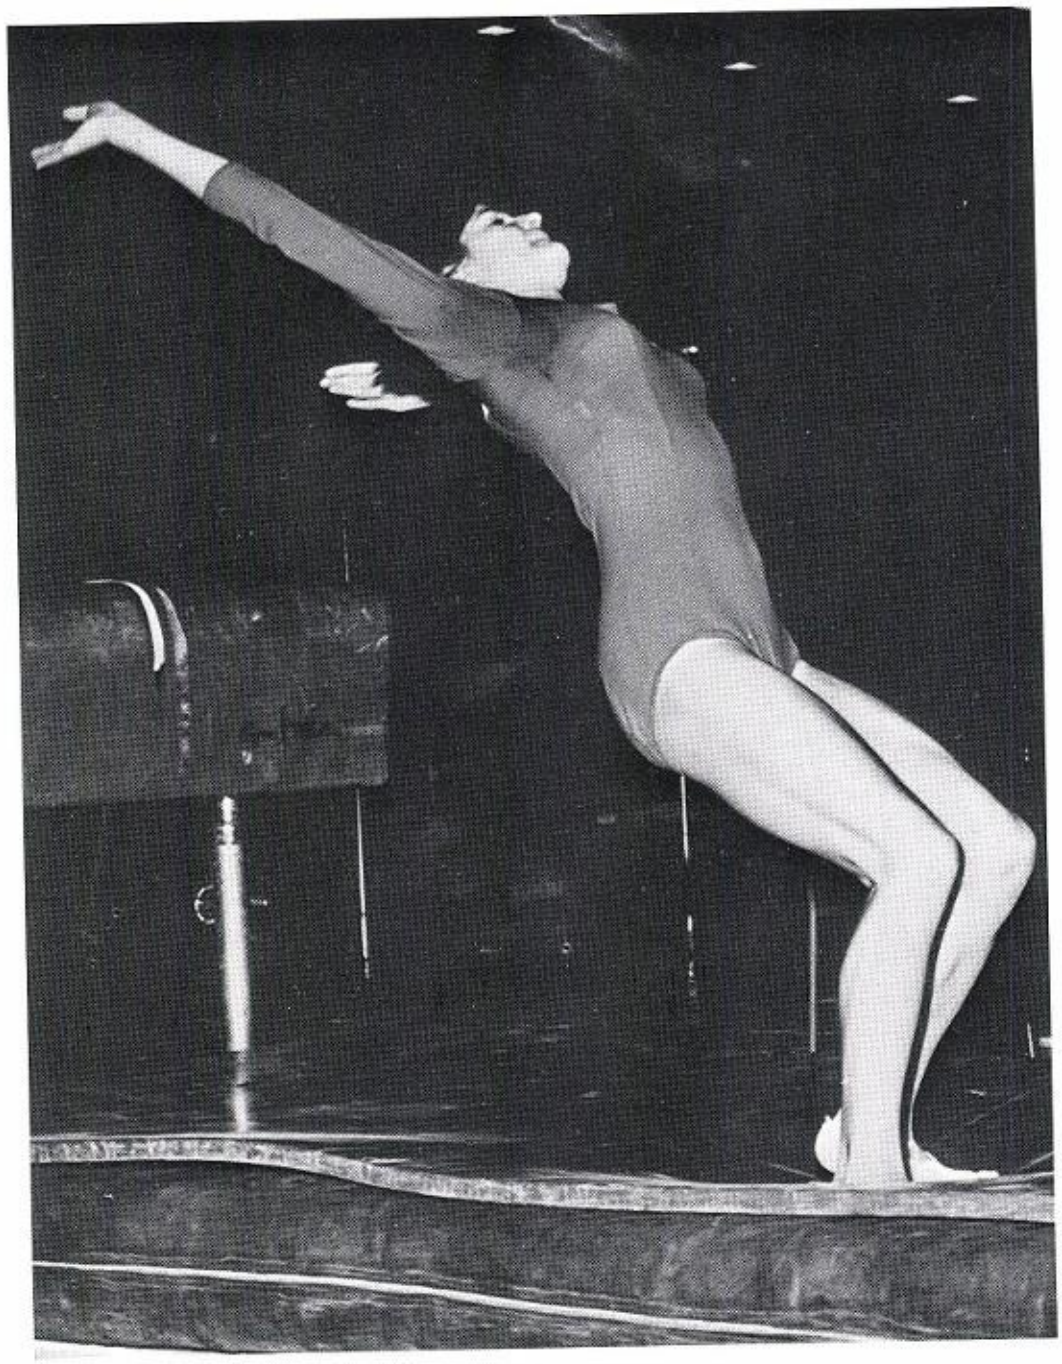
Coach Rod Ostboe, who came to Douglas last year as a P.E. teacher, has coached the boys gymnastics team to a second in State title competition last year and a first in State this year.



Senior Doug Ingham, a State champion on the side horse as a junior, again showed his superior talent by taking second place in State on the side horse.



One of the Scot's leading gymnasts, junior Steve Monroe performs on the high bar. Steve placed fourth at State in all around competition and will be an all around man on next year's team.

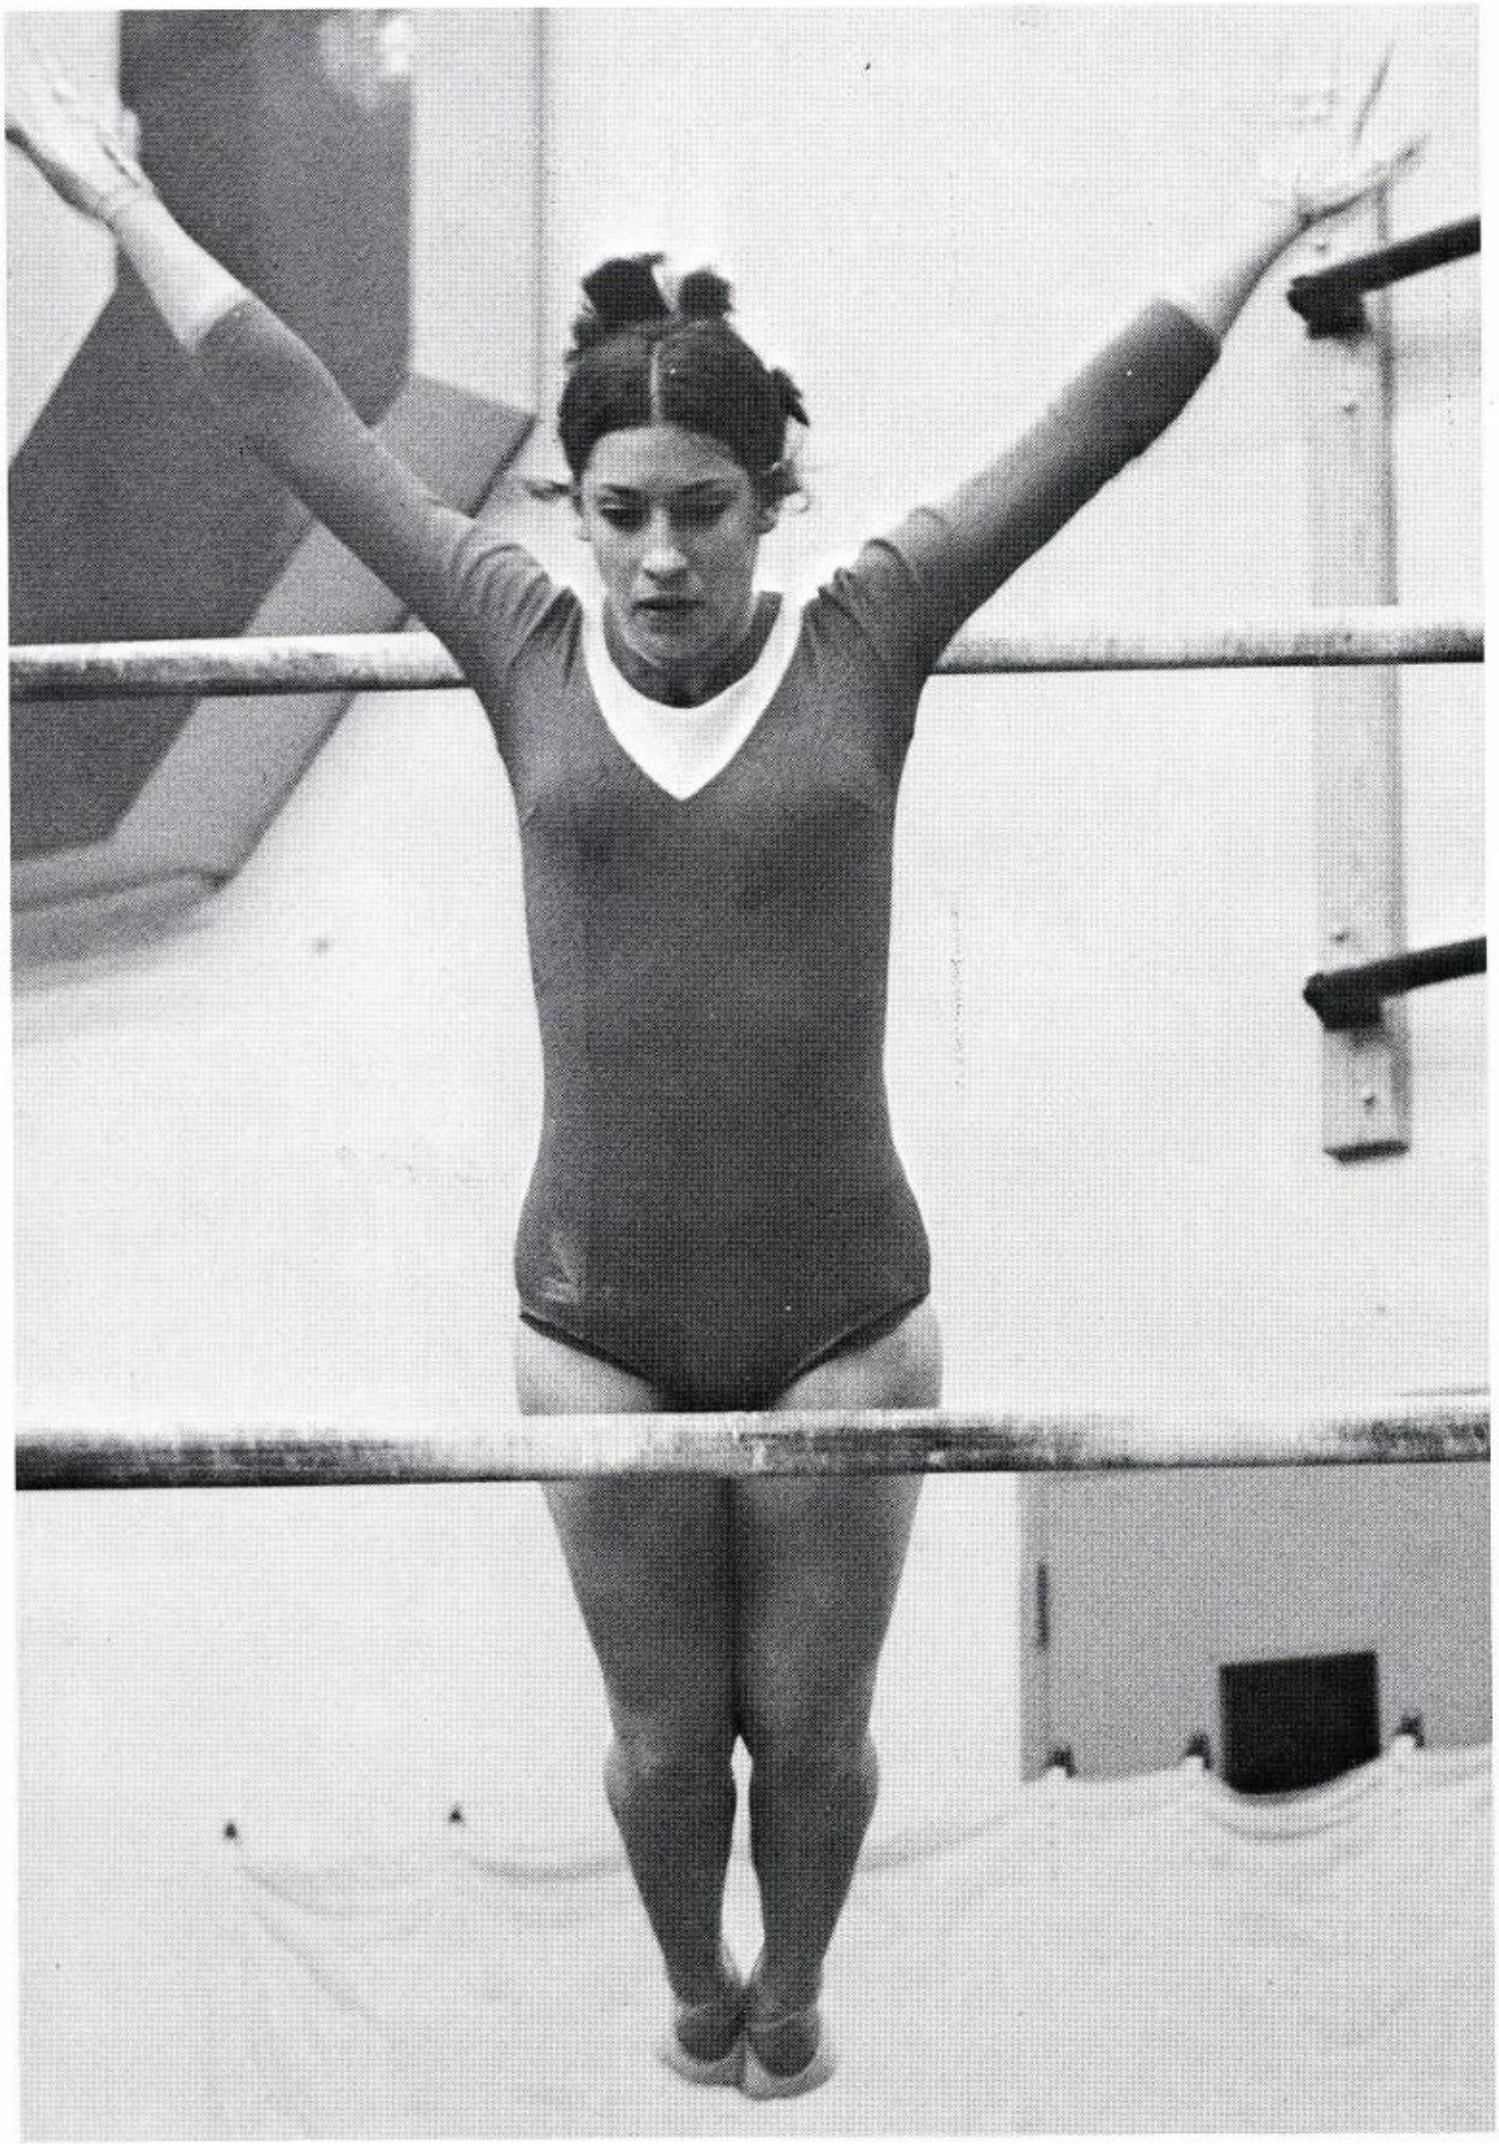


Kathy Monda exhibits her form in the vaulting competition.

Members of the varsity girls gymastics team line up after being announced. The girls did well this year, and their coach, Miss Charlene Daunhaurer, expects another fine team next year.

Girls Take Second State Championship

Gayle Hamilton is caught in mid-air before going on to another move in her routine on the uneven parallel bars. Gayle took first place at the District meet in all around competition and second place at State.

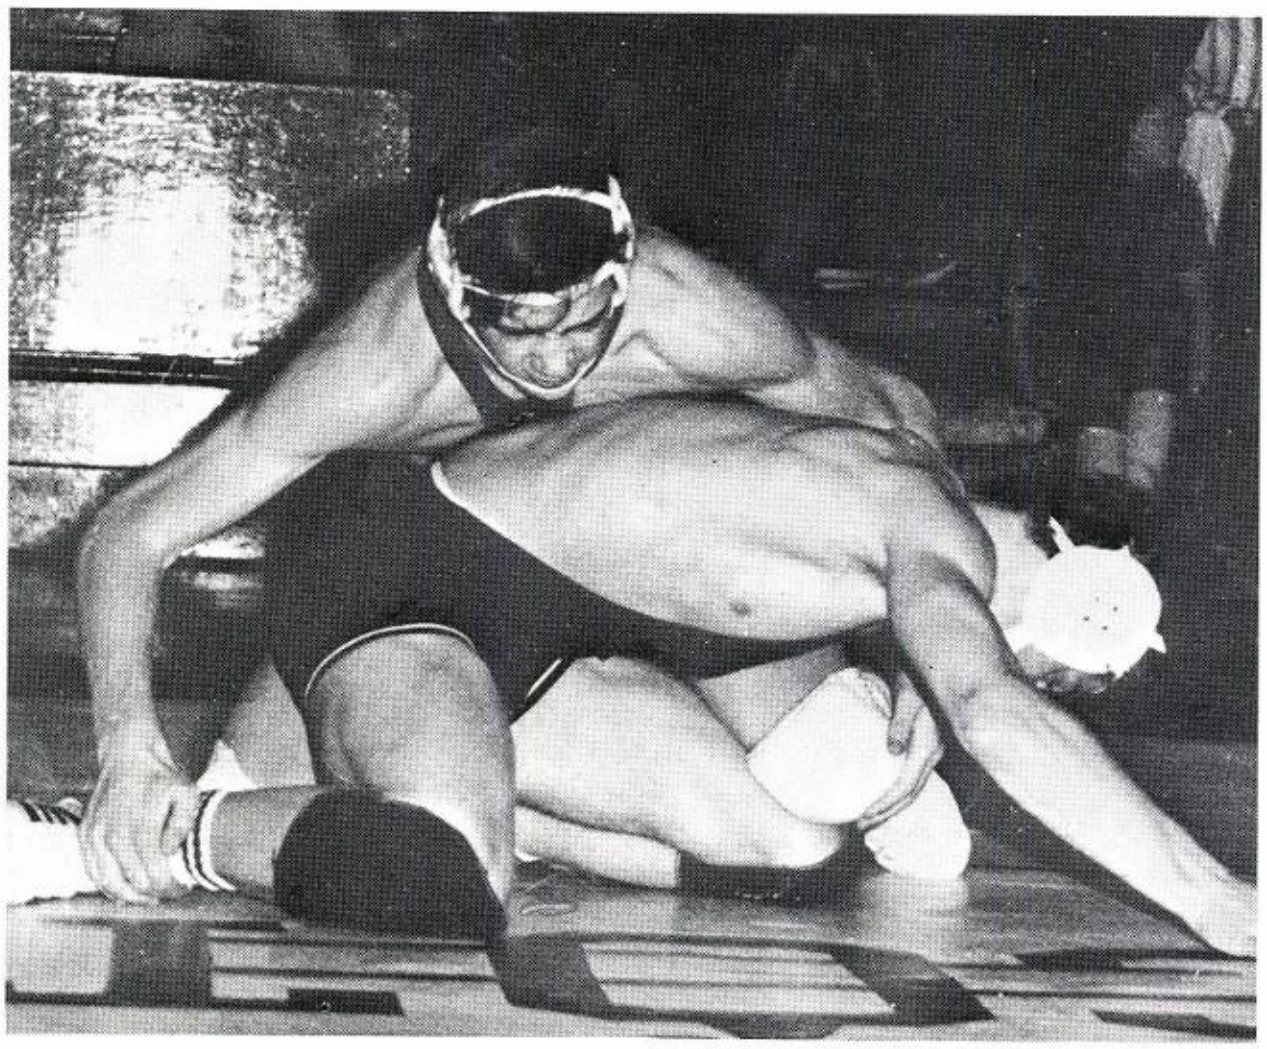


Varsity Wrestlers First in Metro, Second in State

The State Championship eluded the Scot varsity wrestlers for the second year in a row at the State tournament held at Corvallis. The Scots fell short by two points, finishing second behind the AAA champions, Rex Putnam. The final score in that meet was Putnam 47, Douglas 45. Although the matmen had to settle for a second place State finish, they were Metro League Champions and extended their undefeated dual meet streak to 50 straight wins.

Senior Tim Gregos was the only Scotsman to make the finals at State. Tim decisioned his man in the final match to take first place in the 115 pound weight class. Seniors Steve Browning, wrestling at 191 pounds, and Rod Seymour, heavyweight, both placed third at the State meet. Other Scot wrestlers that placed were junior Steve Daniels who took fourth place in his 136 pound weight class and sixth place finishers Mike Smith and Bill Marlow.

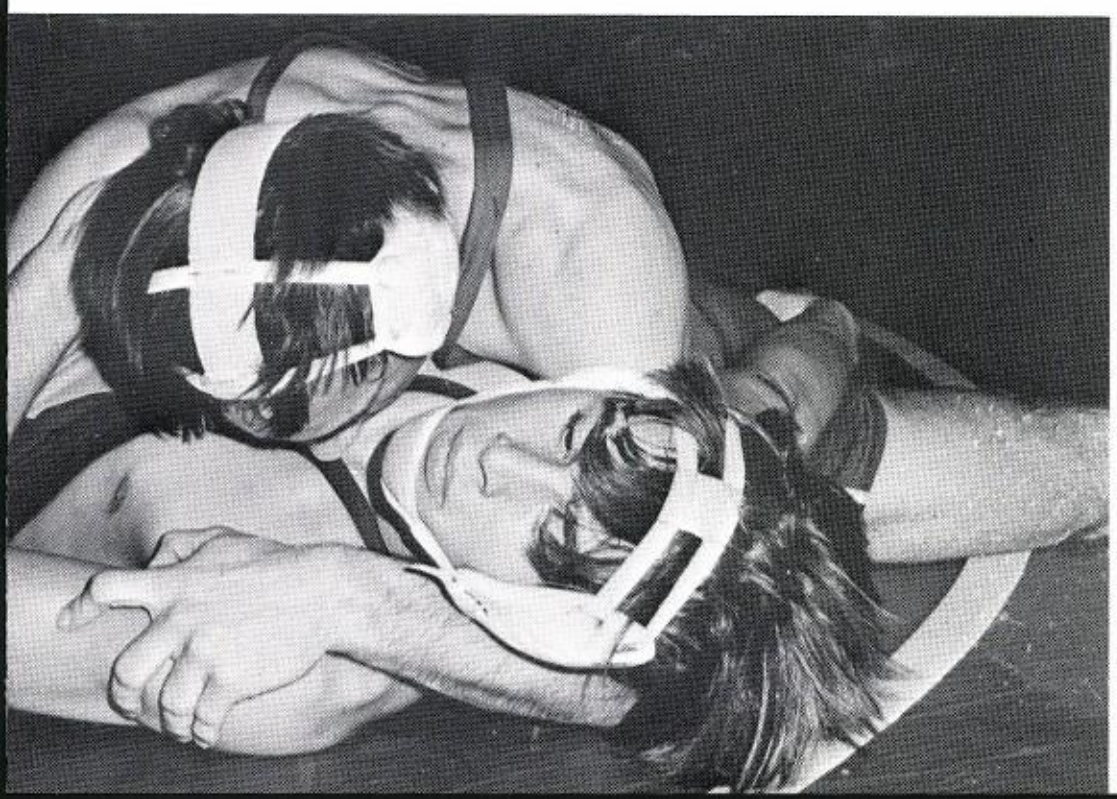
Coach Delance Duncan felt the Scots had some tough breaks, and the State title could have gone one way or the other.



Varsity II wrestler John Wolowicz strains to bring down his opponent.

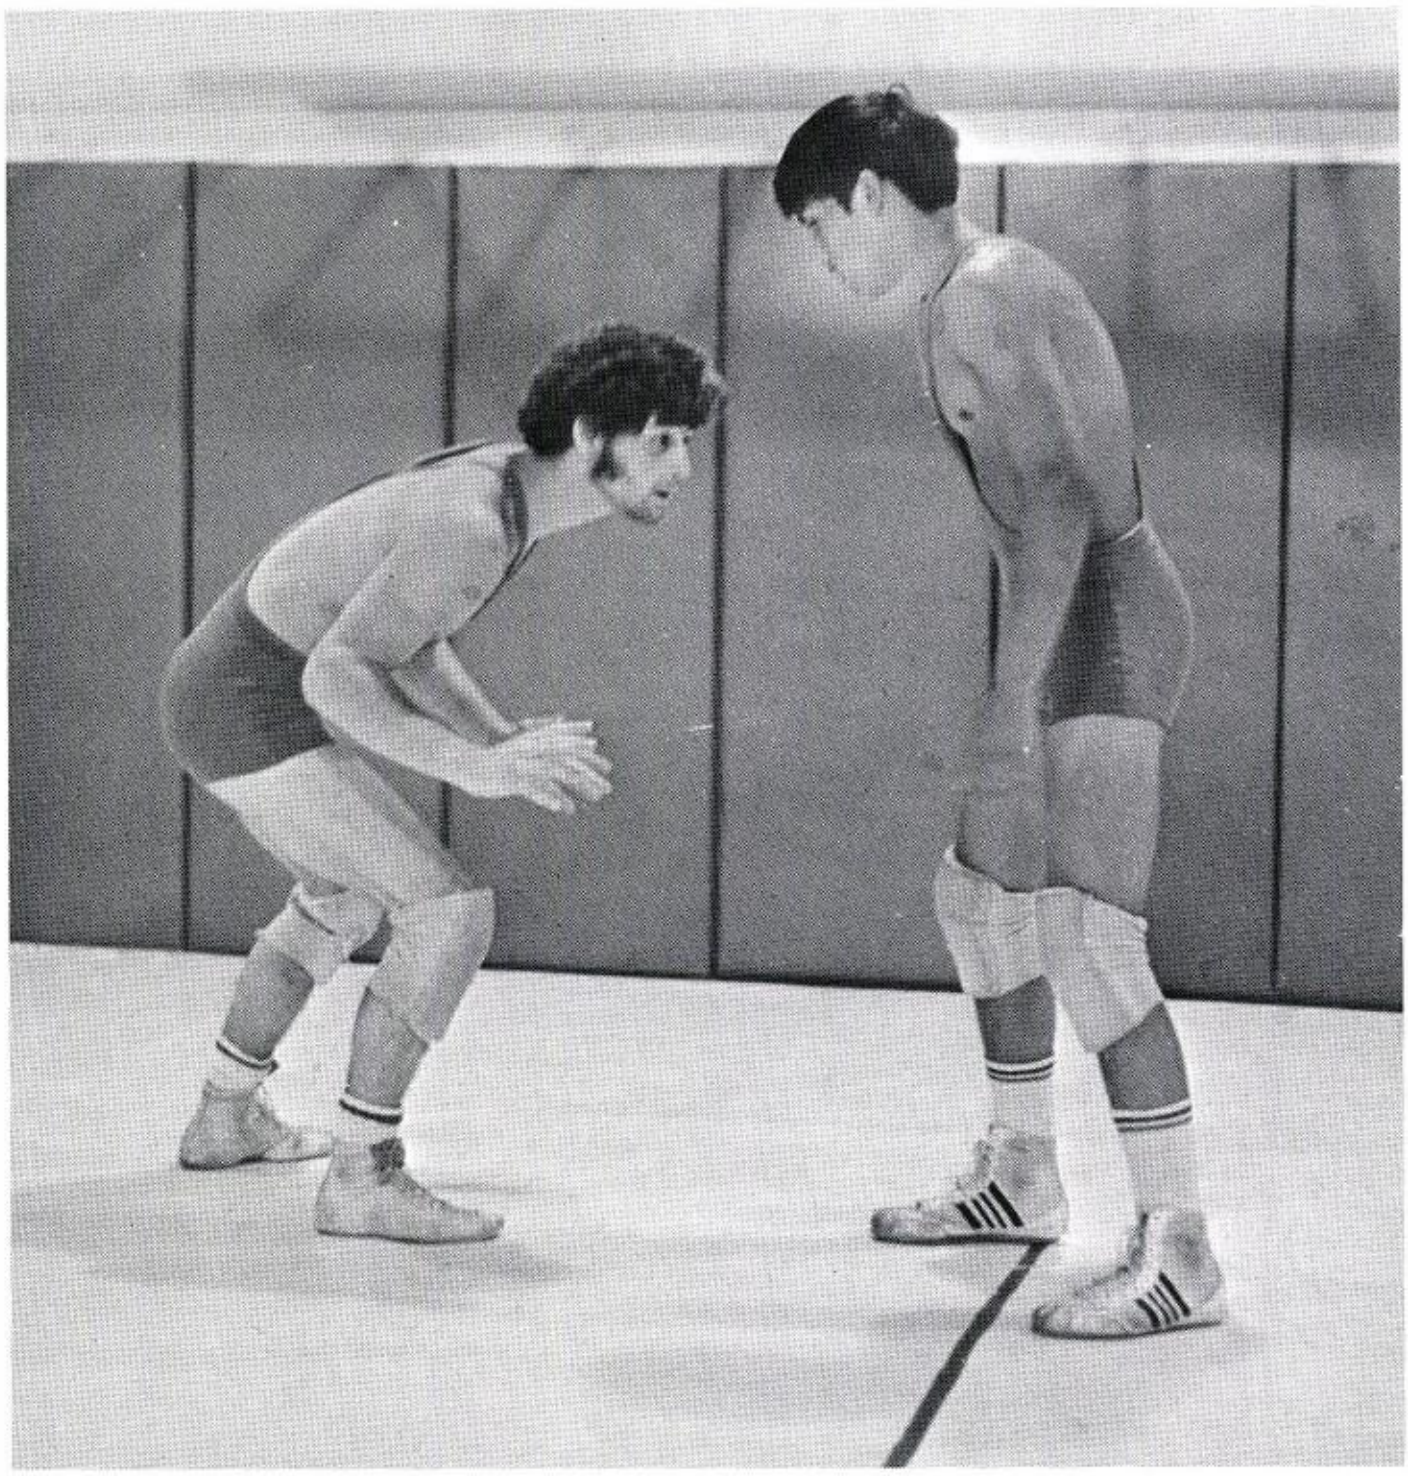
Steve Daniels rides his Hillsboro opponent while attempting a break down. Steve wrestled at 136 pounds and was named the outstanding junior wrestler for the Scots.

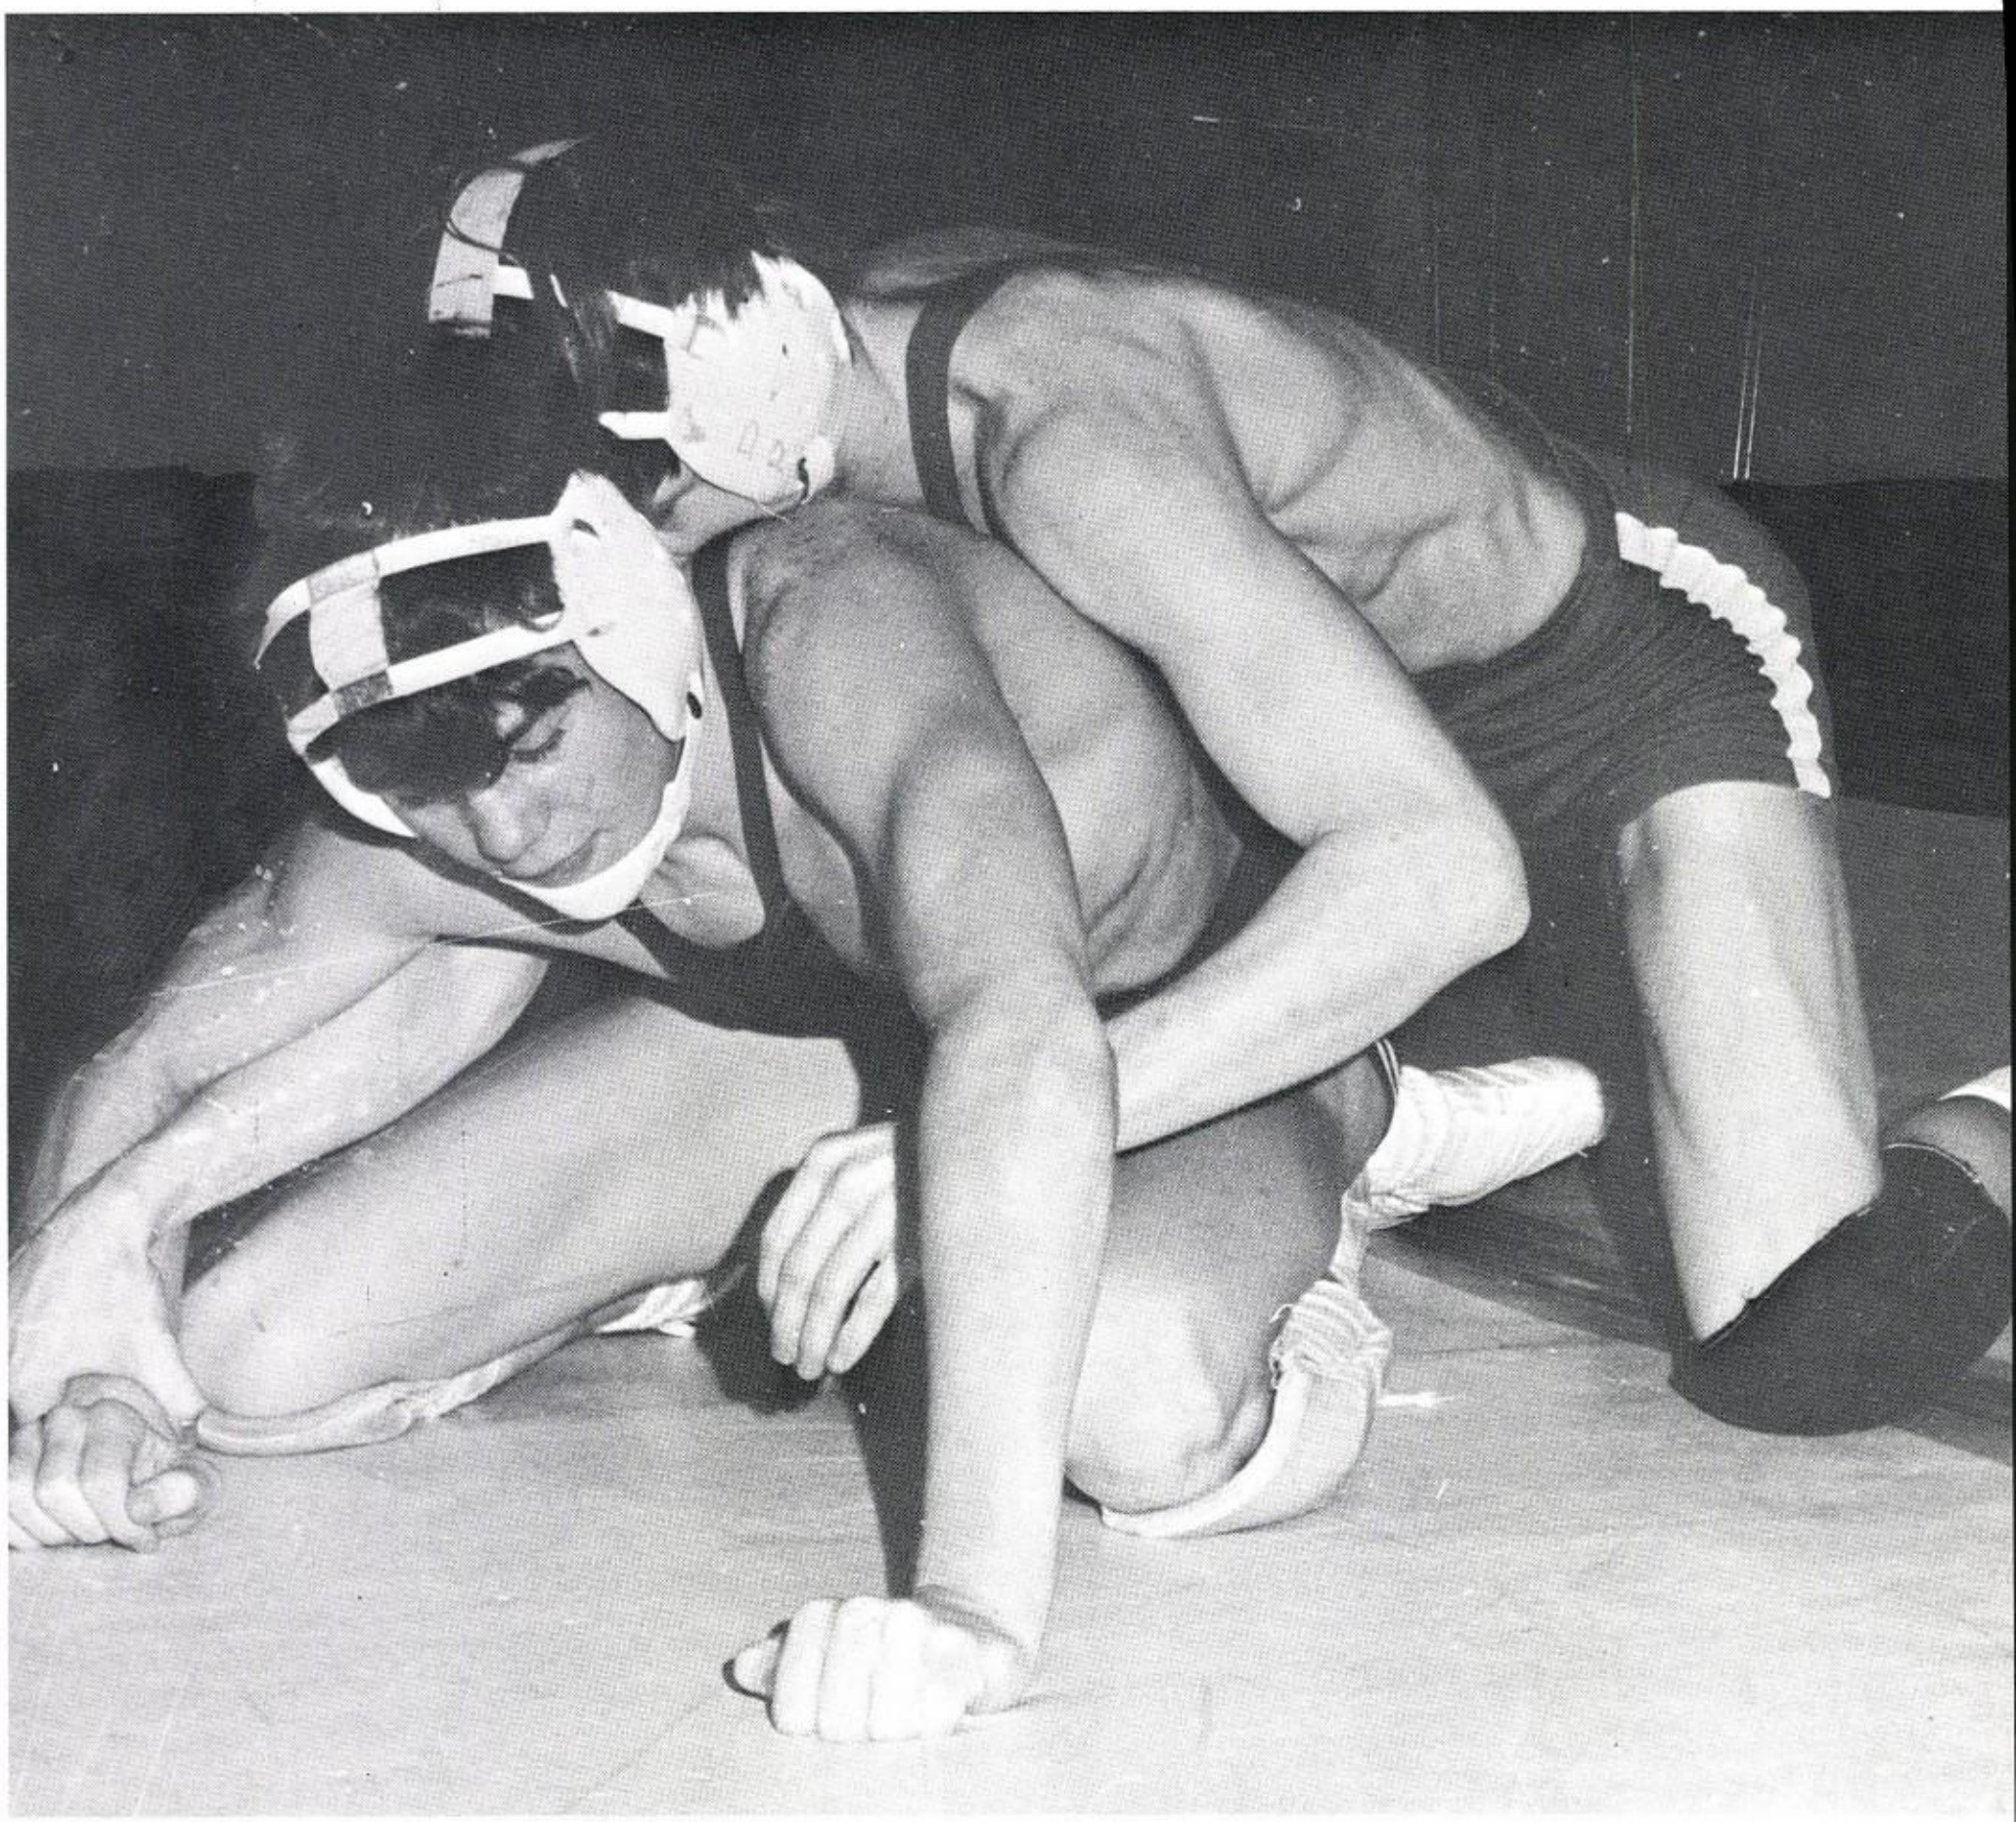
Junior Bill Marlow used a reverse half nelson in an attempt to pin his opponent. Bill wrestled at 157 pounds.



Wrestlers Show Poise in Competition

Juniors Steve Daniels and Mike Smith have continued their wrestling workout after school to be ready for the tournament that will give them a chance to travel to Japan. Also working out was senior Steve Browning and junior Bill Marlow.





Senior Ivan Smith uses a wrist ride while trying to bring his man to the mat. Ivan wrestled on the Varsity II team at 115 pounds.

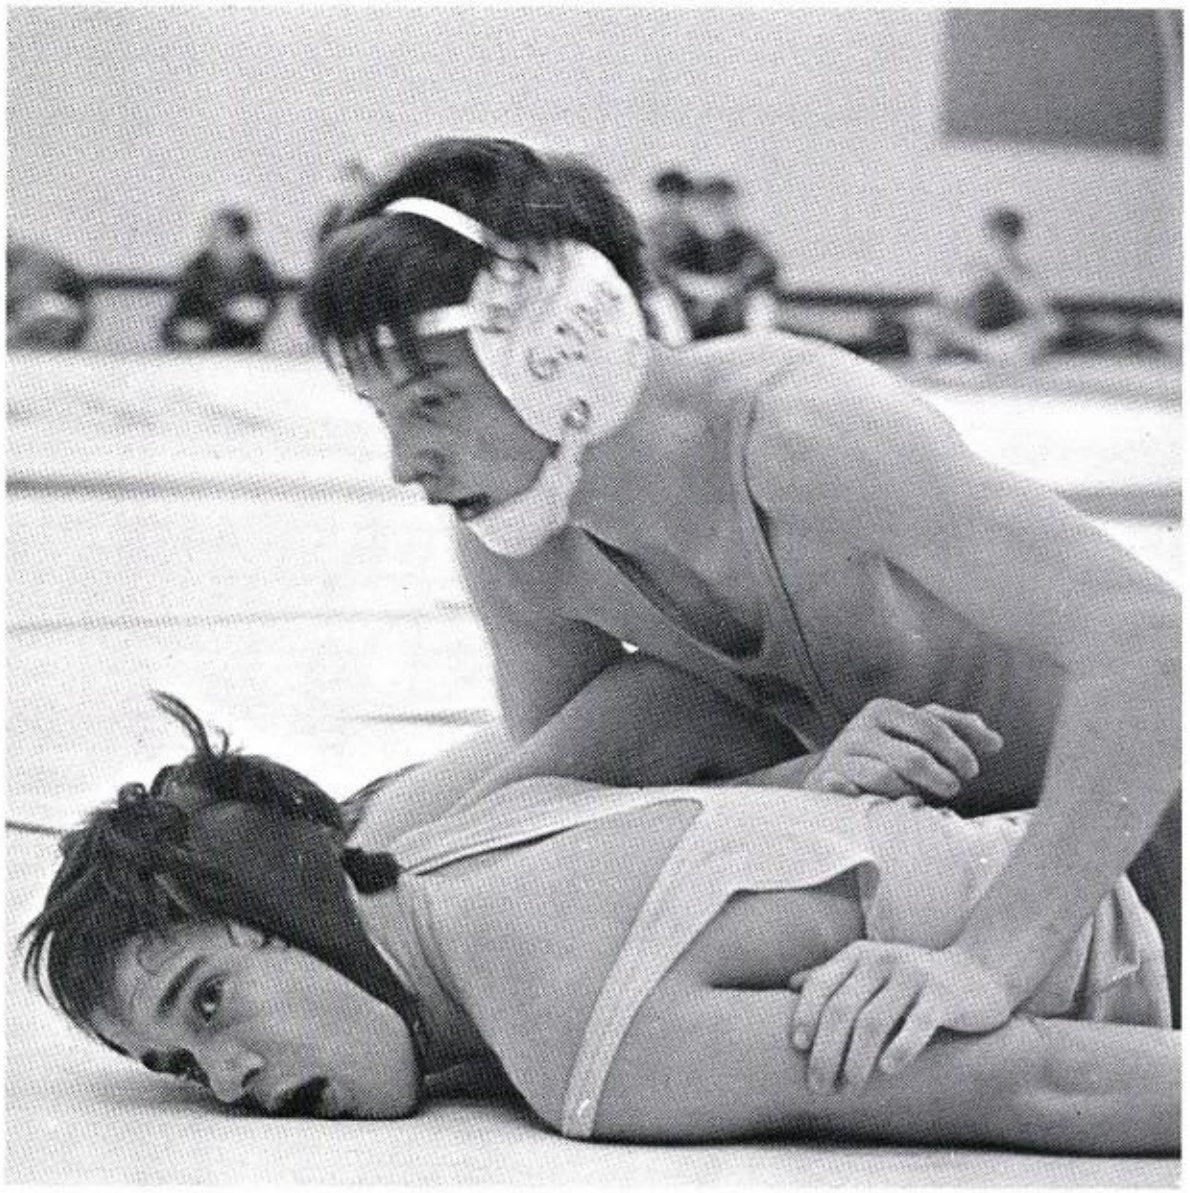
Strength Shown by Frosh and J.V. Matmen

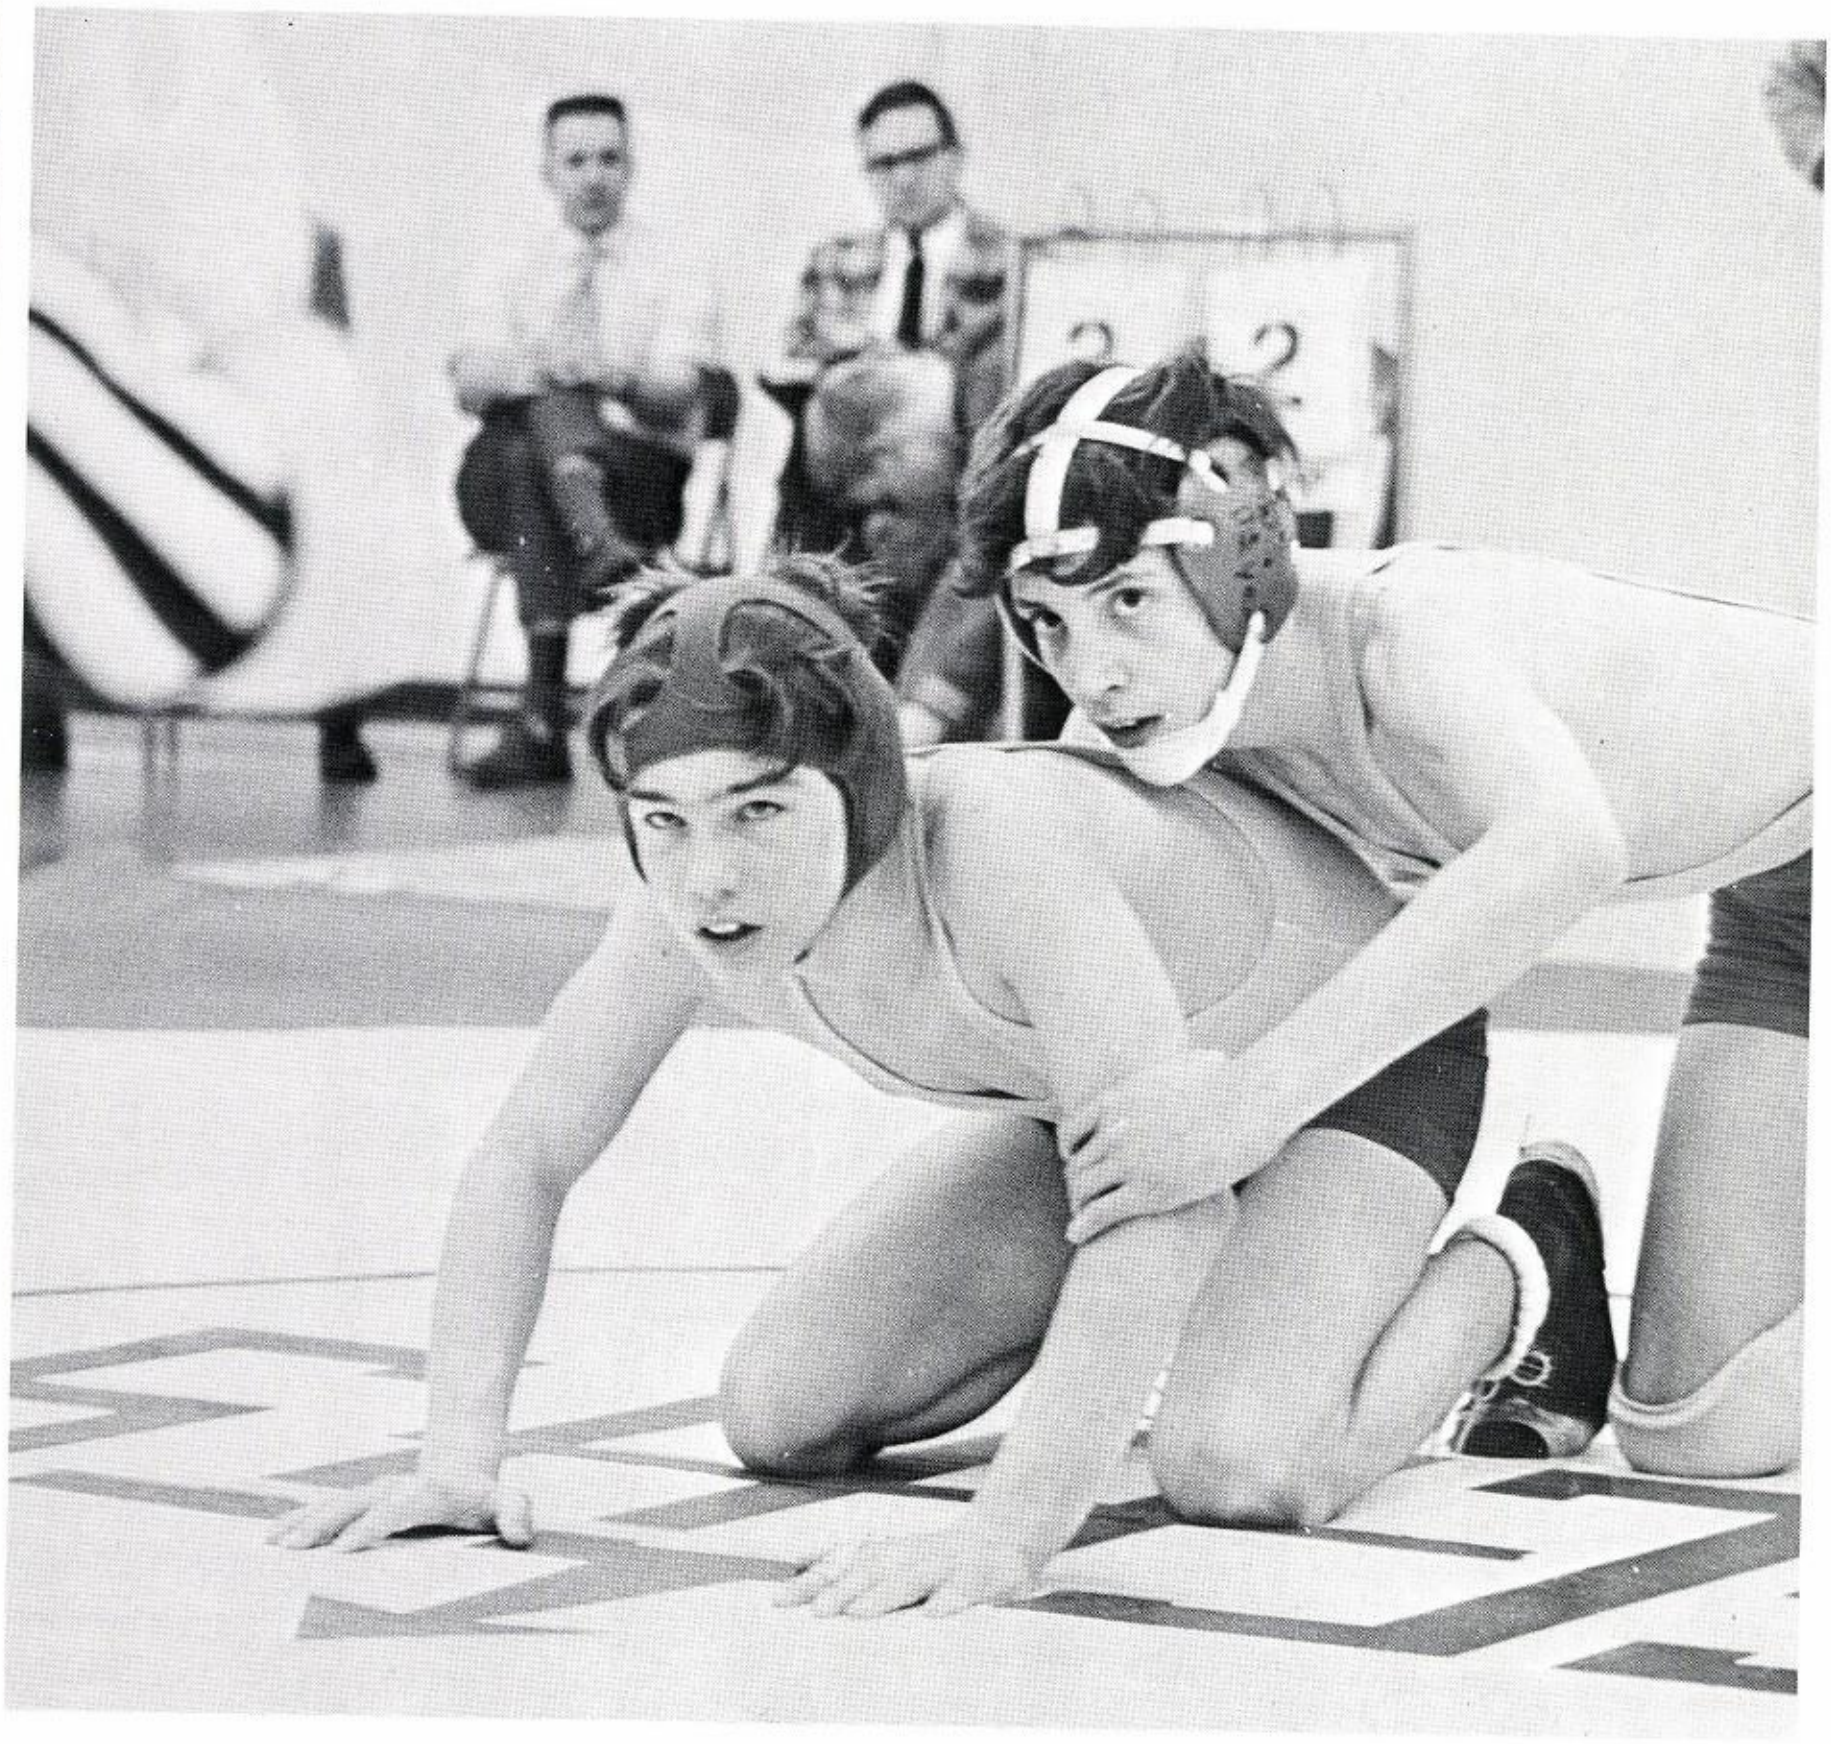
The underclass wrestlers ended their season with a strong surge. The J.V. team had a final record of 6 wins and 2 losses. The frosh placed second in the Metro League. The freshmen, coached by Mr. Monrad Bjorge, also had a first place in the Grant Invitational Tournament. Some of the outstanding freshman wrestlers were Rob Young, Ron Eggiman, and Rick Parks with Randy Walruff having the most pins.

The J.V. matmen were coached by Mr. Ron Conner and Mr. Bill Watt.

Coach Mr. Monrad Bjorge had given his experienced coaching to the frosh matmen for five years.

Wrestling at 136 pounds, Bruce Gillett attempts an arm bar on his exhausted opponent. The freshman team placed second in the Metro League.





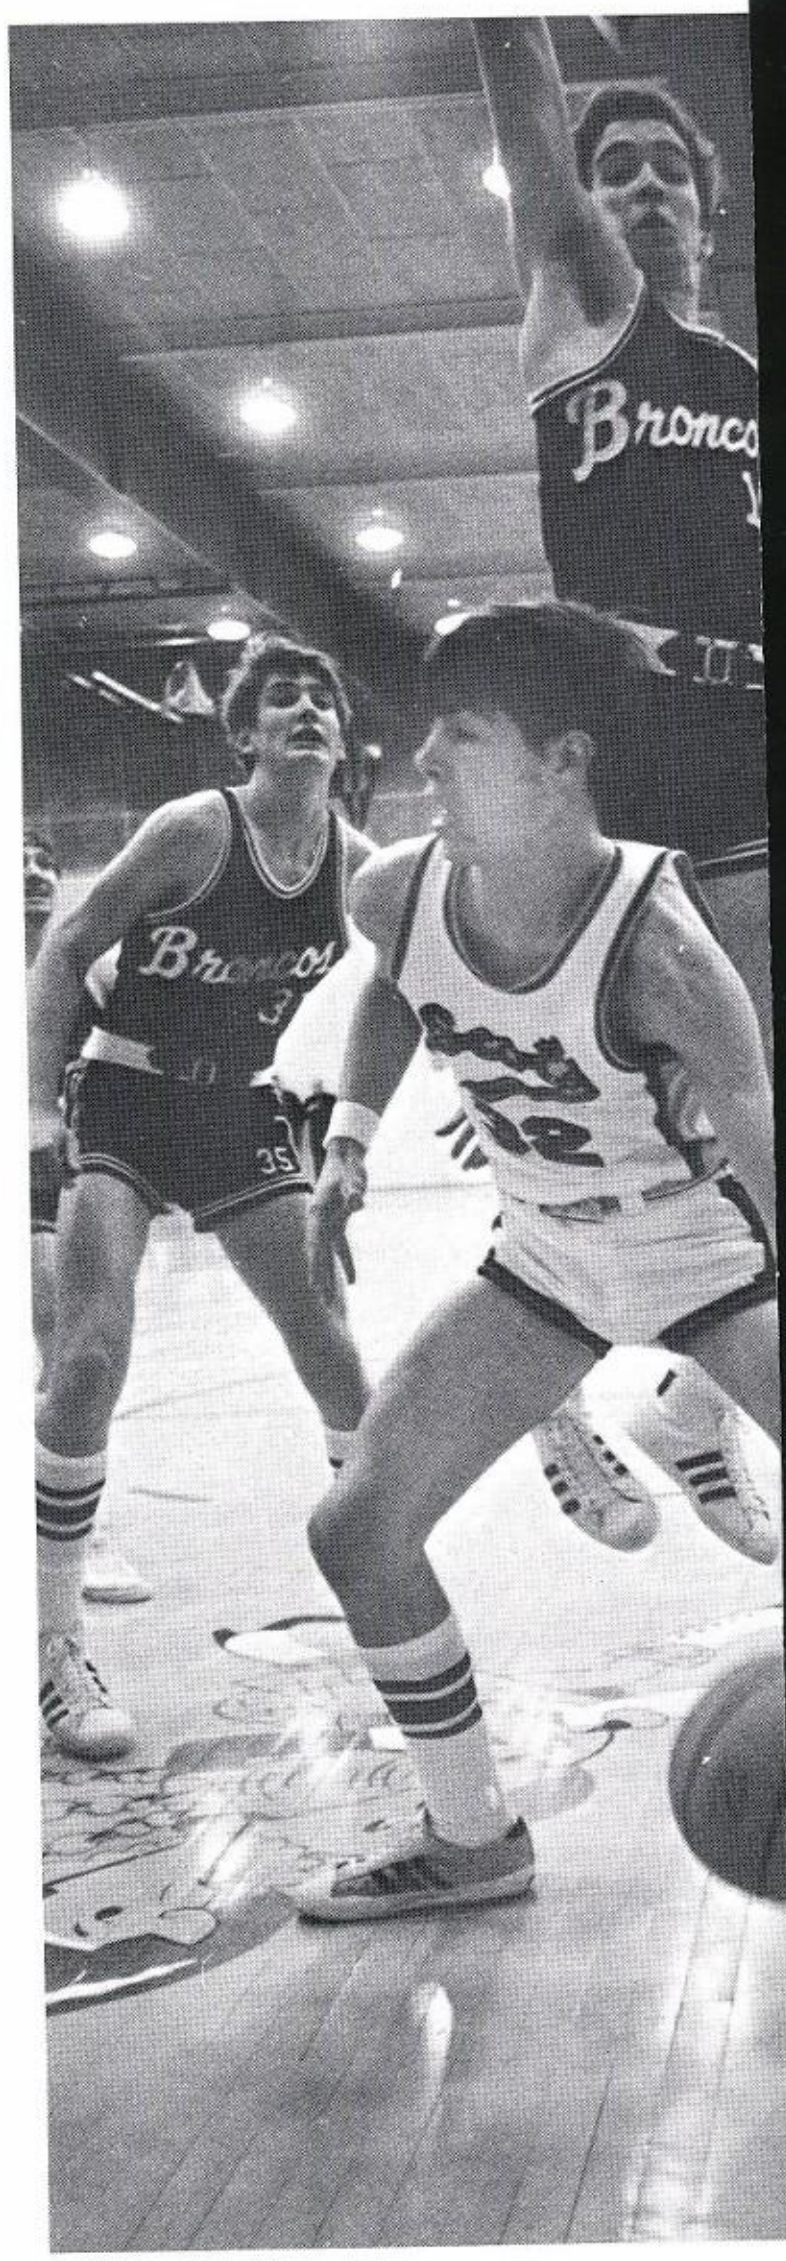
In the referee's position, freshman Bob Beyer waits for the signal of the official to continue the match. Bob wrestled at 110 pounds.

State Tourney Slips Past Scots

The Scots had another fine basketball season under Coach Truman Osburn. With three returning starters: Glenn Patterson, Terry McEwen, and Greg Horner, the Scots had a good framework to build on. Others who saw considerable action this year include Burl Wheaton, Steve Drakulich, and Ron Hill.

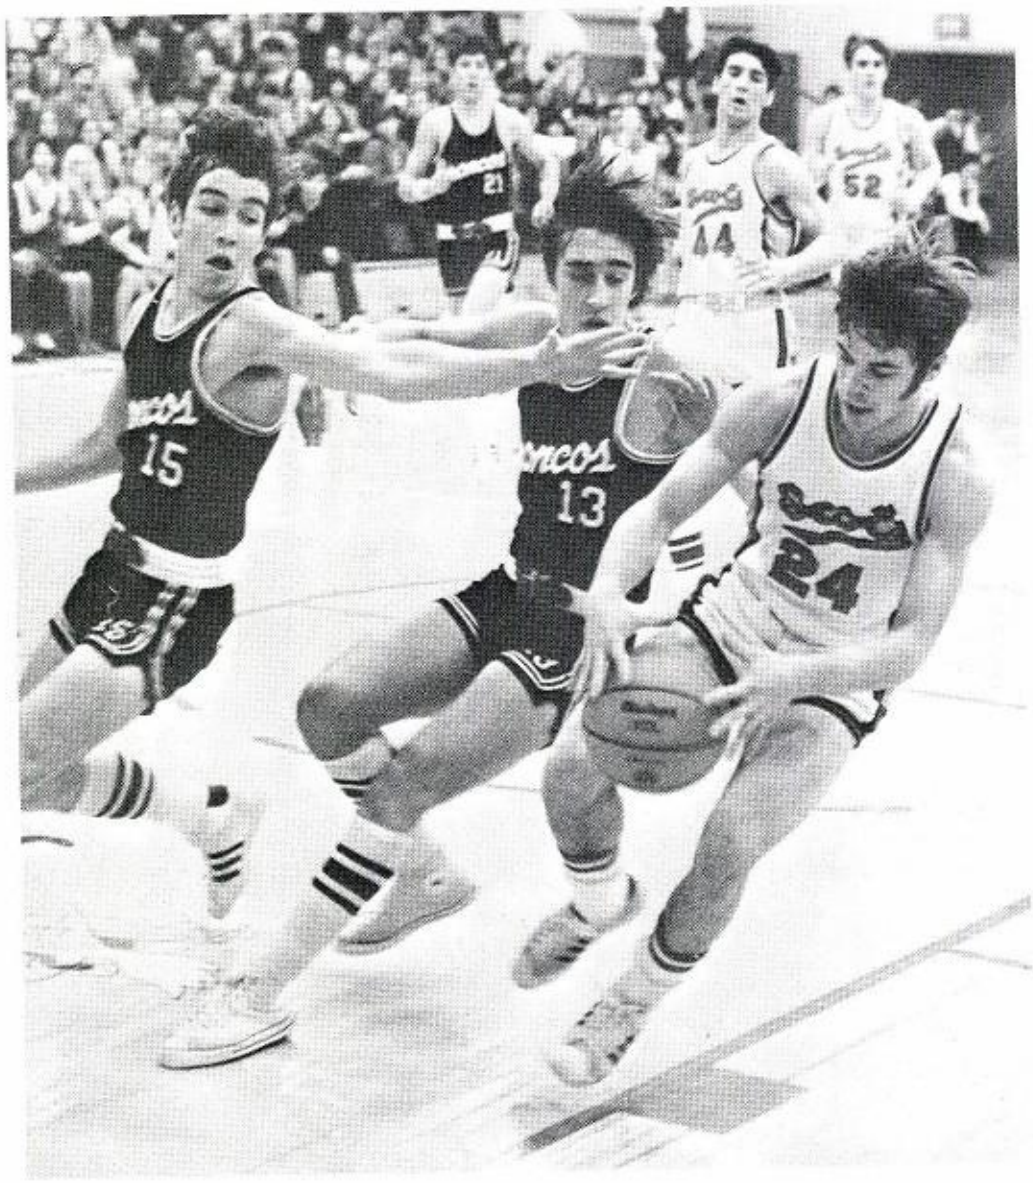
The Scots missed going to State by one point, losing to Parkrose in the Metro play-offs. The Douglas men were nipped by the Broncs when Parkrose made a free throw with one second remaining in the game. The contest ended in a 45-44 loss for the Scots.

Many fine players on this year's squad will make up the nucleus of next year's varsity team. Some of these returning varsity players are Juniors Steve Bakke and Brad Smith and Sophomore Robin Gulde.



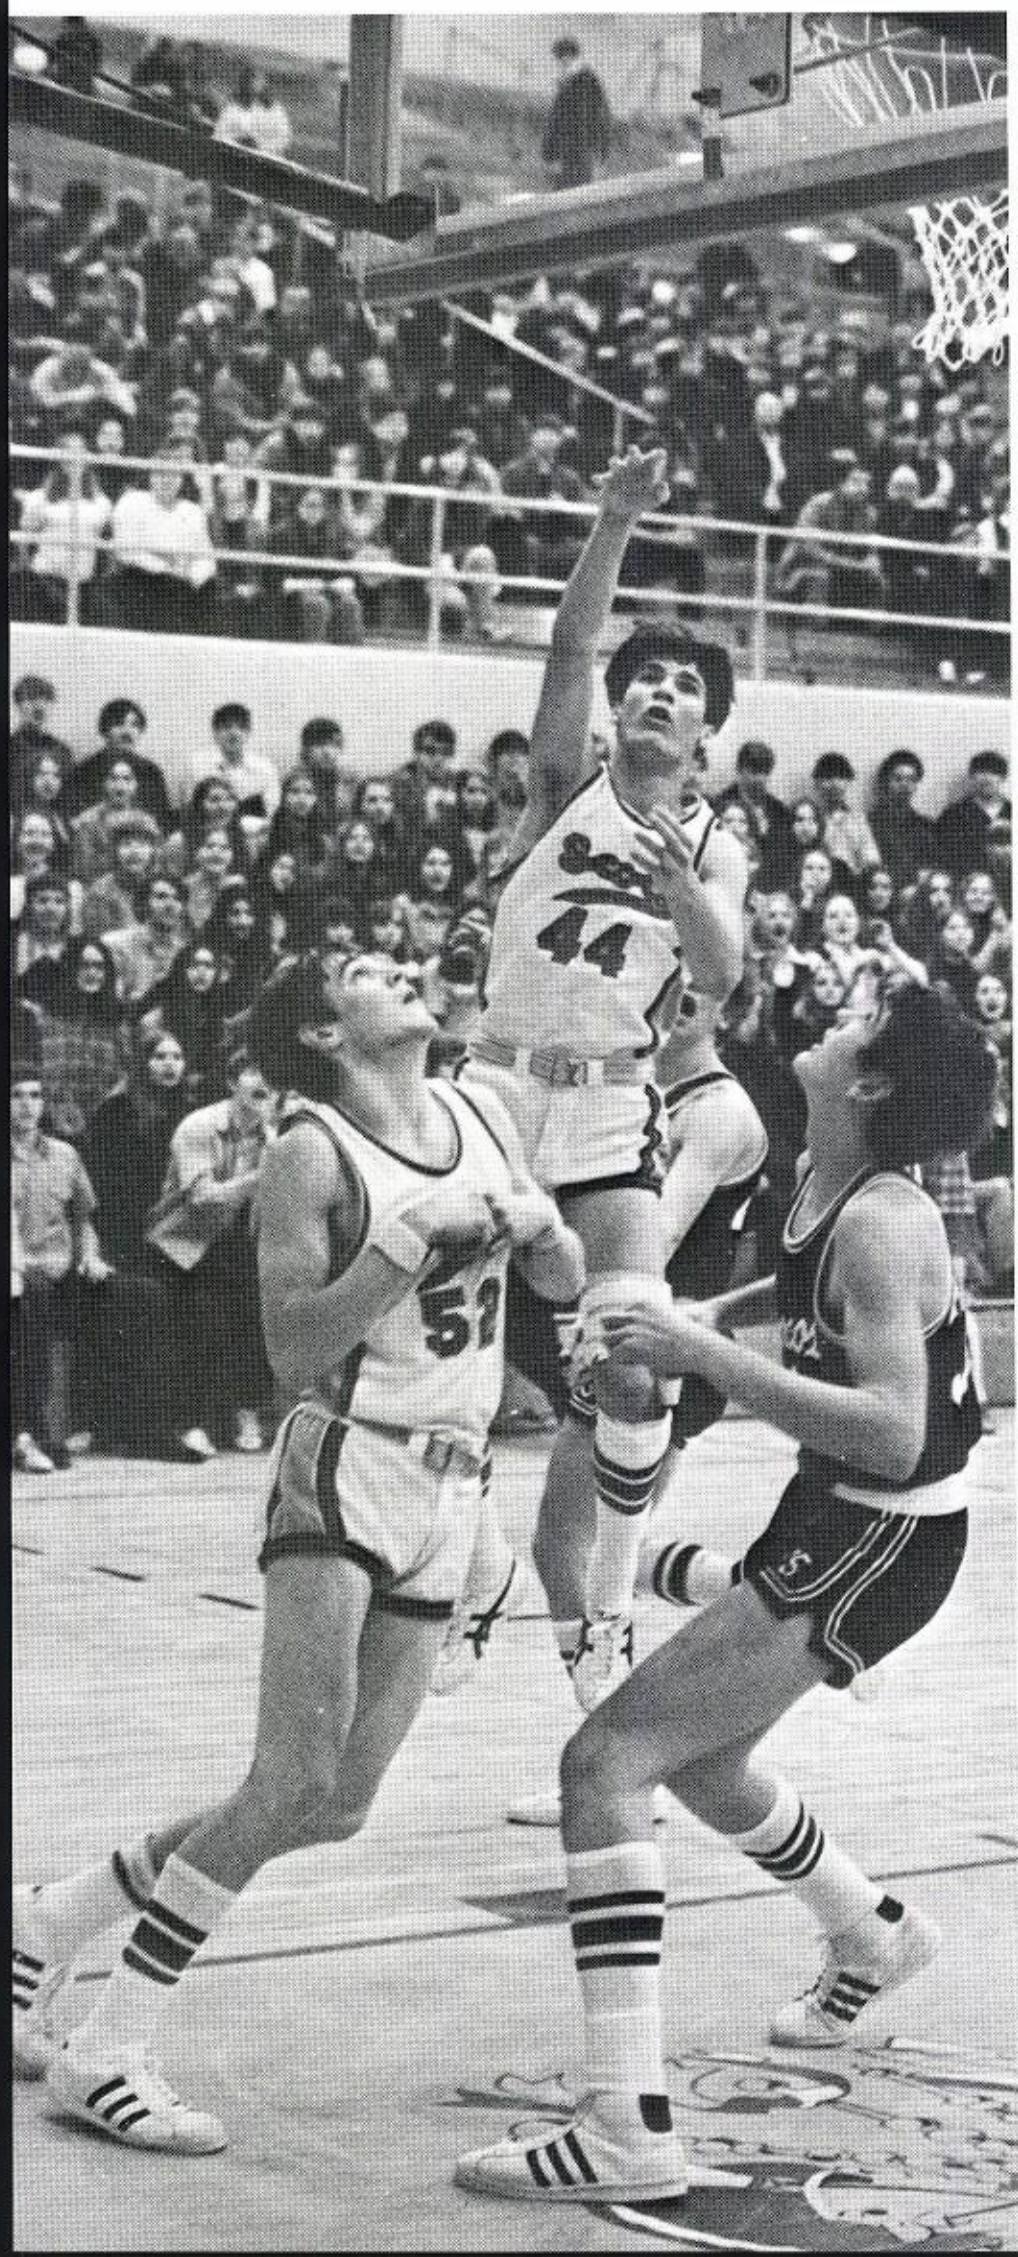
Terry McEwen maneuvers in under the basket to set up a shot. As both guard and forward, McEwen was instrumental in many Scot victories.

Ron Hill intercepts the ball from two Parkrose men to gain possession for the Scots. Hill proved a key player in all of the Scots' games.

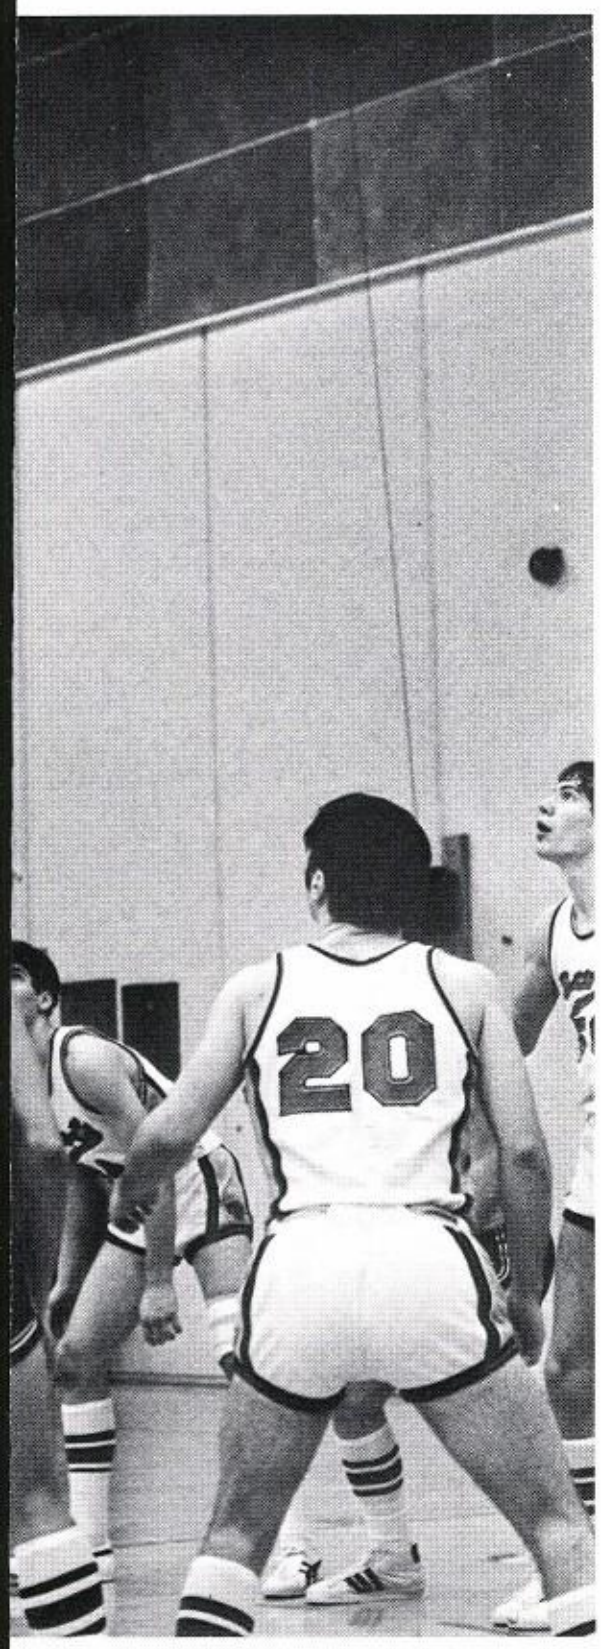


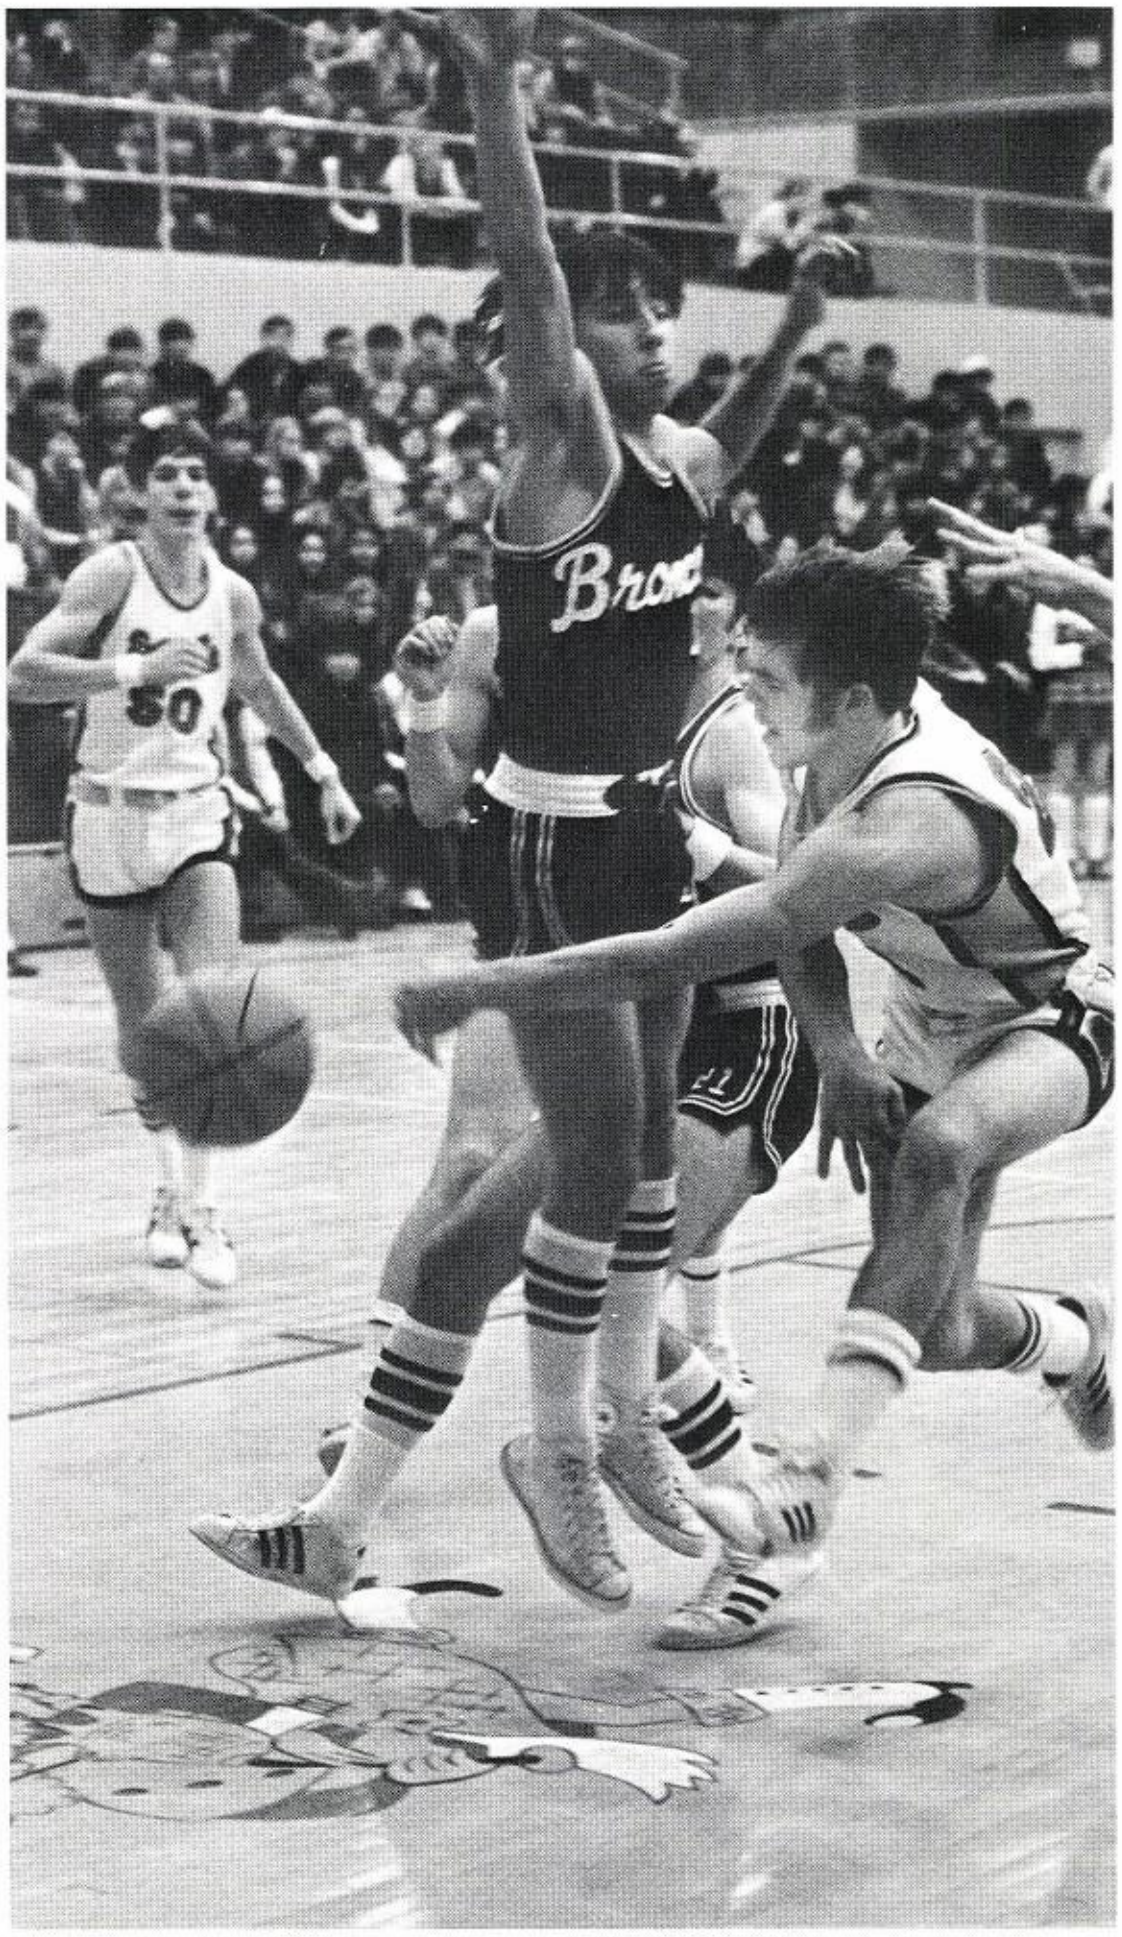
Coach Osburn takes advantage of the time-out to plan the necessary strategy to help the Scots on to victory. The Scots won this first game against Parkrose 67 to 60.

Steve Drakulich shoots for the Scots, while Burl Wheaton stands by rebounding. Drakulich was the leading scorer for the Scots this year.



Burl Wheaton clearly out-jumps his Parkrose opponent to win the possession of the ball for the Scots while the rest of the team watches intently. His fine jumping ability has paid off in many situations for the varsity team.





Ron Hill passes off to team captain Glenn Patterson around three Parkrose men. Teamwork was important in all the Scot victories throughout the season.

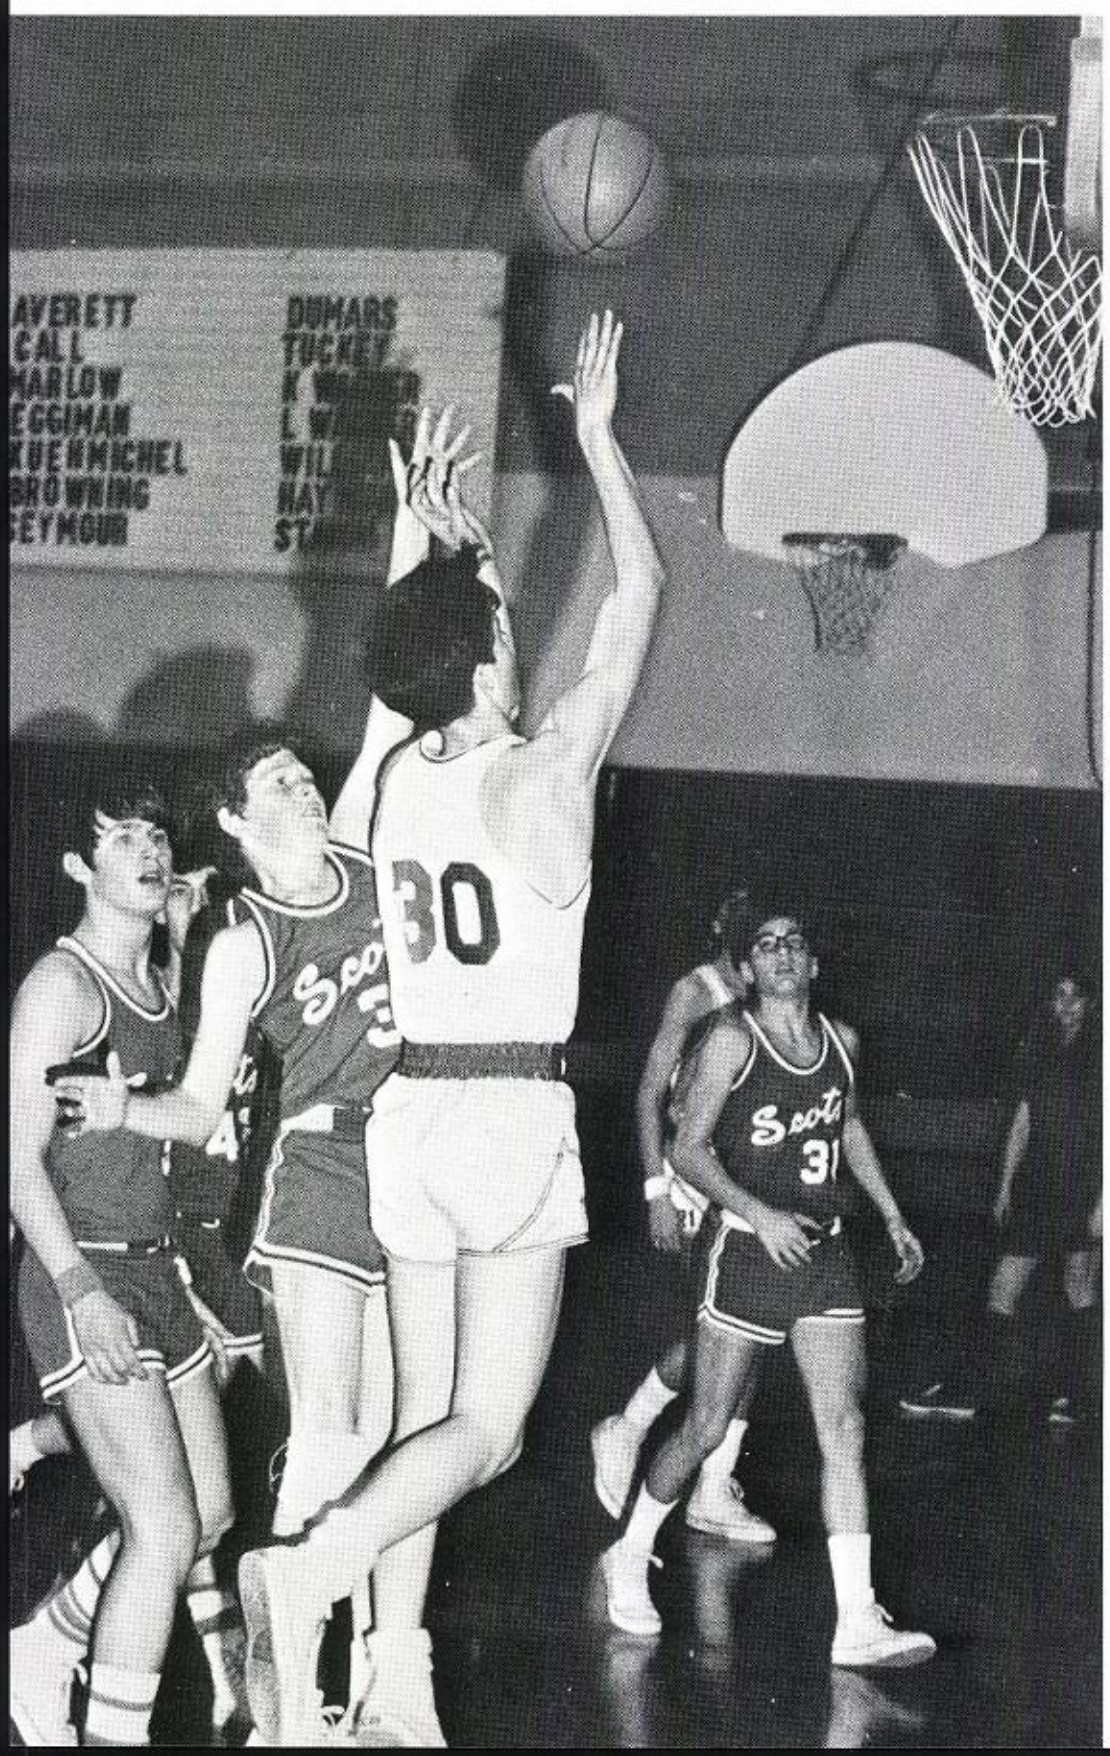
Underclass Builds for Varsity Competition

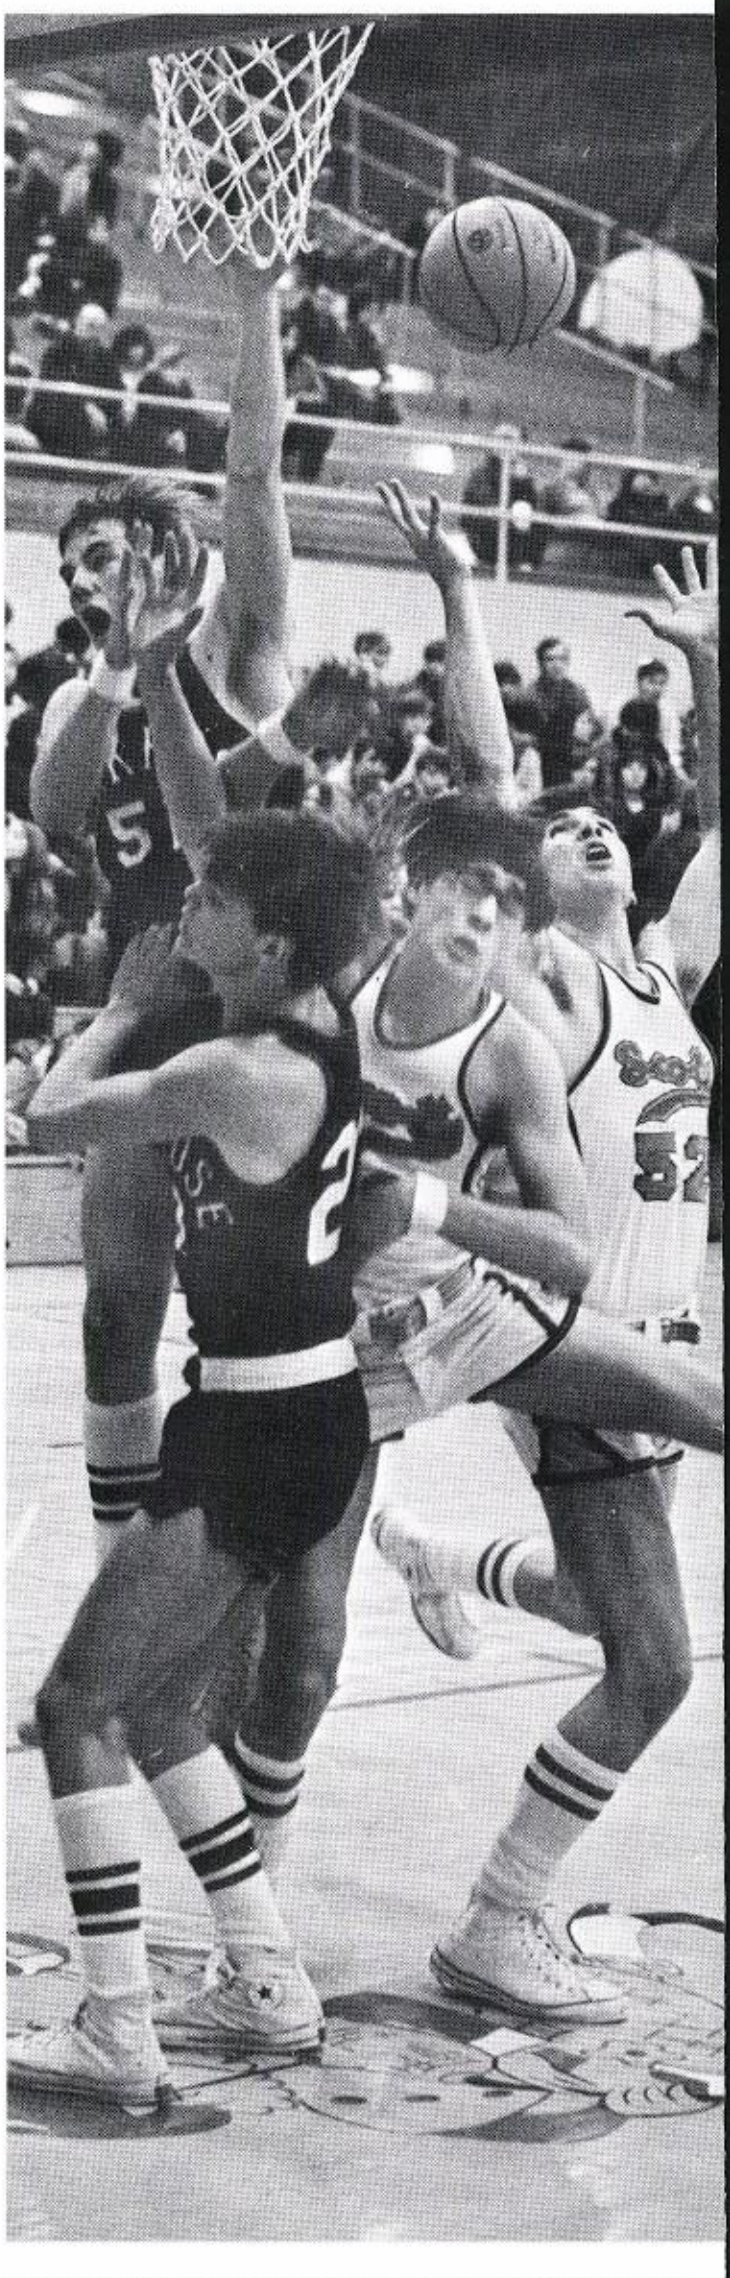
Experience makes the difference, and the JV's got just that this year. This experience will pay off in the next few years as they join the Scots' fine varsity team. Under Coach Merritt Kelsay the team won 8 and lost 14.

The JV II made up of sophomores and juniors showed great spirit and effort this season. Under Coach Hal Zurcher they won 7 and lost 13.

This year the Frosh were divided into two basketball teams: the Red and Grey teams. The Red under Coach Bill Haller compiled an 11 win and 10 loss record. The Grey team under Coach Jim Nibler had a 7 win and 14 loss season.

Frosh Red's Mark Petroff, Gary Nash, Dave Short, and Rich Boland look on as Glen Klute (30) of the Frosh Grey shoots. The civil war game ended in a close 36-35 win for the Frosh Grey.





J.V.'s Kevin Hamilton collides with a Parkrose player while Rick Rier attempts a rebound for the Scots. The Scots efforts were not enough as Parkrose outscored the JV's 60 to 40.

Tom Harrington puts up a shot for the JV team while Kevin Hamilton and Kim Wilcox move in to assist. The game ended in defeat for the Scots after their comeback attempt against Jesuit failed.

Inexperienced Varsity Squad Eyes Future

The varsity boys' track squad coached by Walter Skowhede, Rod Ostboe, Milton Staple, and Barry Rotrock ended the season with a record of 2 wins and 7 losses. More important than the win-loss record was the valuable experience the team gained.

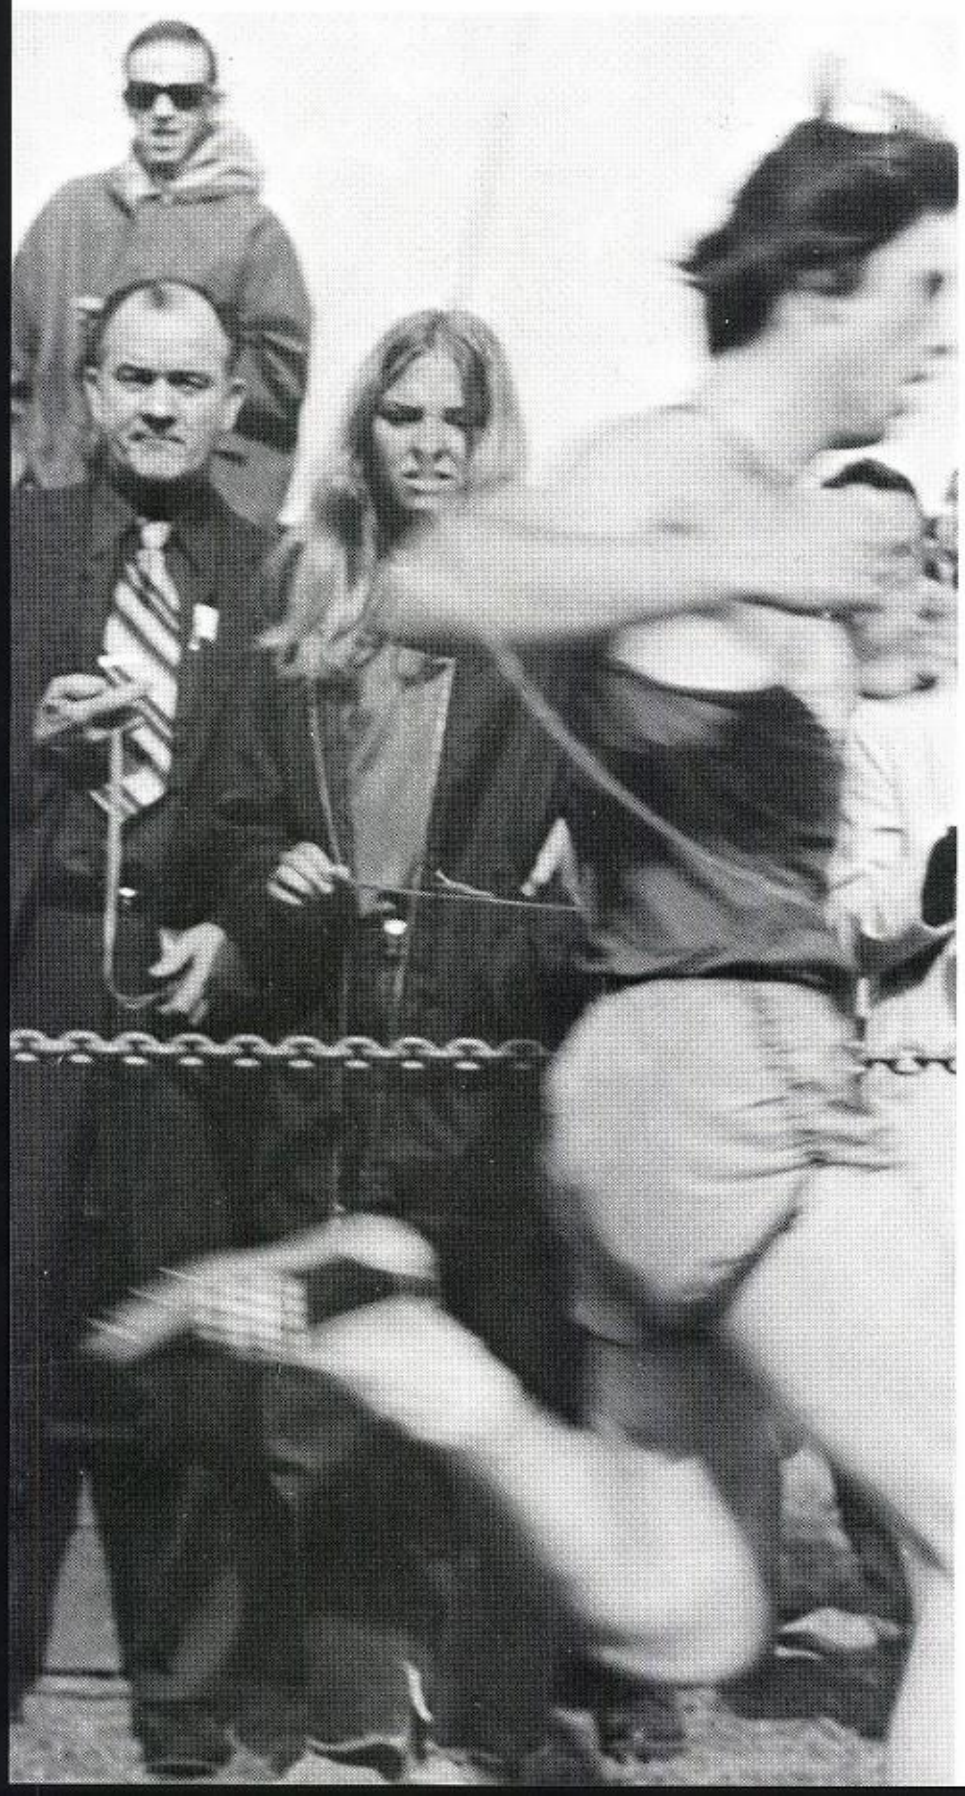
An outstanding trackman this year for the Scots was Greg Gustafson. He established a new school record in the 2 mile by breaking the old record 9:40.2 with a new timing of 9:39.4. Another trackman of promise was Bill Serdar who tied a sophomore record in the hundred yard dash with a 10.1 timing.

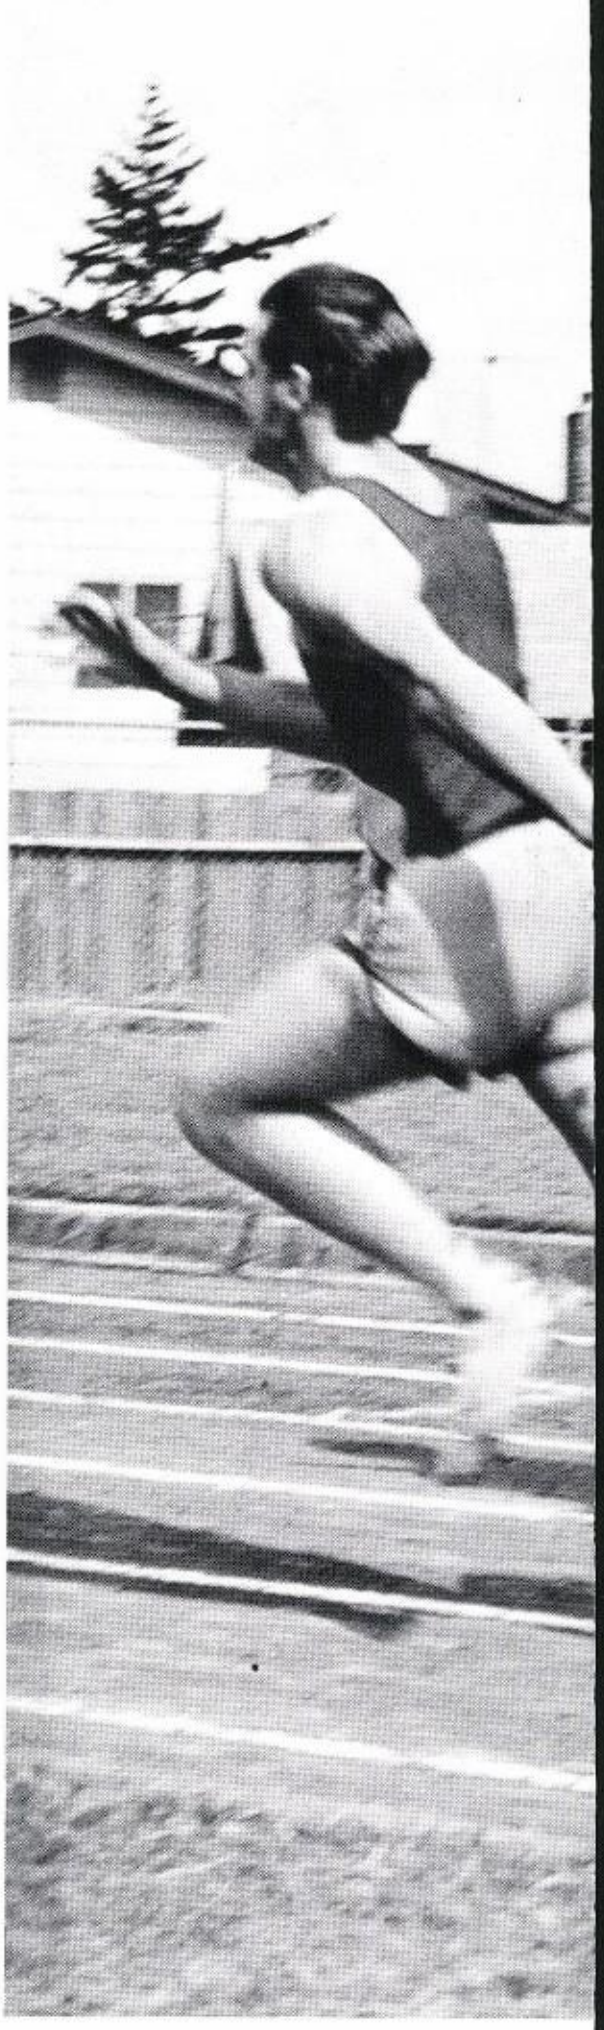
Other fine trackmen were Dusty Lawson, Ed Nichenko, Steve Bakke, Chris Rodman, Jerry Renfro, Mike Sabin, and Randy Pliska.

Sophomore Andy Hess puts the shot with the talent that made him the top discus and shot man for the Scots. Mr. George Kom records his results.

Giving the last important push over the bar. Dusty Lawson scores another victory for the Scots. Dusty and Ed Nichenko were the top high jumpers this season.

First across the finish line is the Scots' Tom Stoffregen in this distance event. The Scots took this honor many times through-out the season.





Jerry Renfro (right) hands off to Mark Foote (left) in the 440 relay. The baton passing is very important as a bad hand-off could easily lose the race.

Starting low to get the best start is sophomore Bill Serdar who was either the first or second man across the finish line in the 100 and 220 yard dashes in league meets this season.

Freshman Mark Wilson shows good form while opening up a lead over JVs Mike Ray and Charles Holland in the high hurdle event.

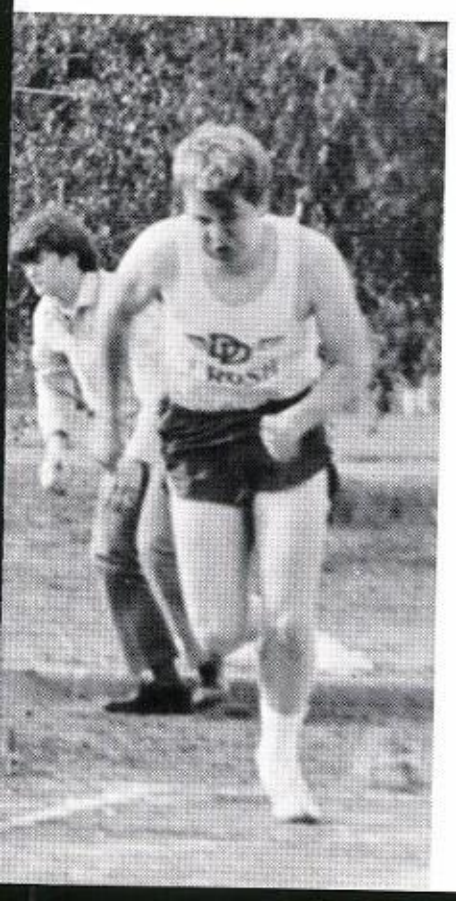
Outlook is Bright for Future Track Teams

Under the direction of Head Coach Walt Skowhede and Assistant Coaches Milt Staple, Rod Ostboe, and Barry Rotrock the Frosh and JV trackmen experienced a season that was not measured in terms of a won-lost record. Coach Skowhede employed the use of many freshmen and sophomores on the varsity team thereby weakening the Frosh and JV teams considerably. So, this was a building year for the varsity and a learning year for those on the Frosh and JV teams. Coach Skowhede did cite JVs Dennis Doble and Carl Sandstrom along with Freshmen Steve Wiley, Ken Galloway, Mark Wilson, Steve Lister, Jim Caudle, Pat Fricke, and Kim Delap as outstanding performers for the underclass teams this season.

Freshman Paul Hutson makes a successful attempt over the bar in the high jump.

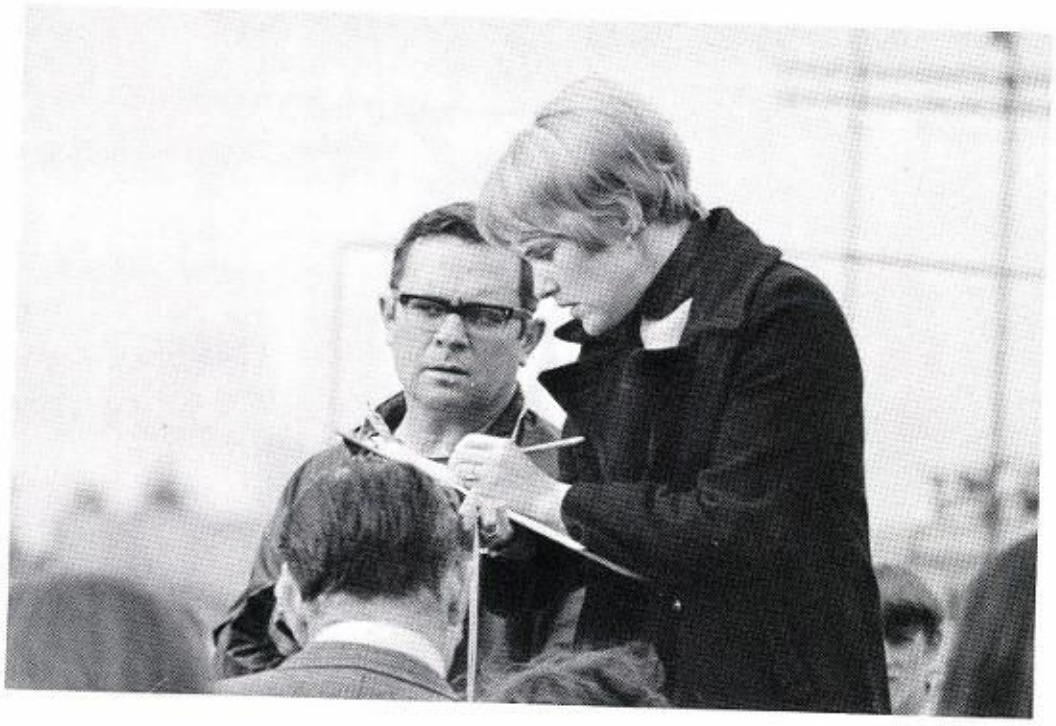


Lassies Claim League Championship

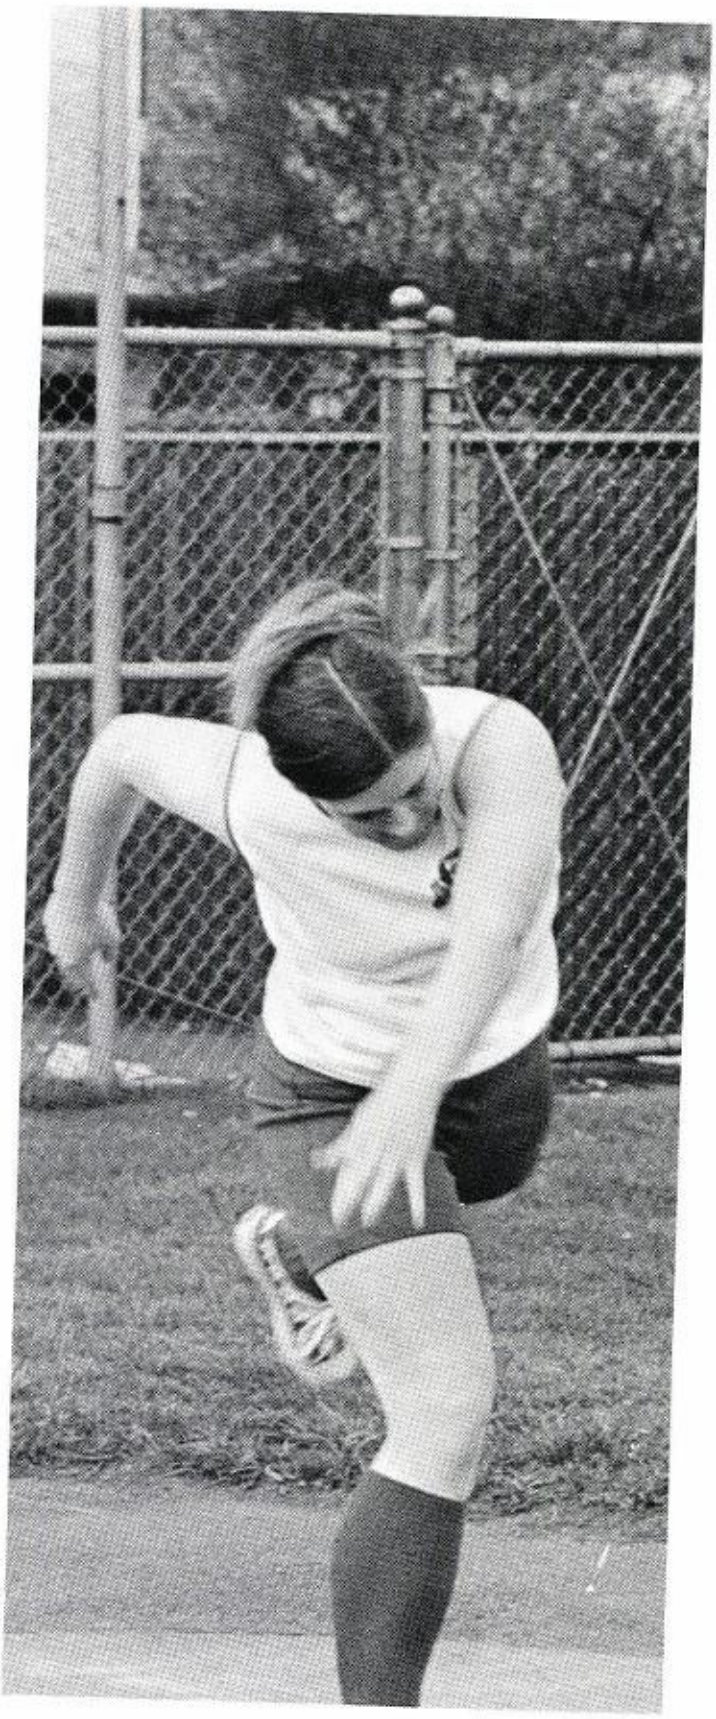
The David Douglas girls' track team had another victorious season this year under the coaching of Miss Gladys Michael. In league competition the lassies had an undefeated season, winning all their duel track meets, including two outside meets with Franklin and Grant High Schools. This gave them the league championship. The Scots placed third in District, falling behind Hillsboro and Sunset.

Co-captains Toni Young and Kathy Burke were both outstanding performers this year in more ways than one. Toni earned the most points during the track season. Kathy was voted the most inspirational person on the team. Three school records were broken this year. Barbara Taylor broke the school discus record at 107 ft. 10 inches. Toni Young broke the shot put record at 37 ft. 11 inches, and the 440 relay established a new school record timing of 54.5.

Barbara Taylor, completing her last of three years on the track team, displays mature form in the discus throw. In the discus event Barbara placed first in District and fourth in State.



In every track meet the recording of time and placement of winners is most important. Mr. Milton Staple and Miss Sue Freitag take time after school to participate in this activity.



Running in the 880 track event, Joy Rogers, Barbara Bryan, and Judy Vaillancour arouse interest from two on lookers from the opposing team.

Senior Kathy Burke exerts all her strength and effort in the shot put. She needs this concentration to throw the ball the distance she wants. Kathy placed fifth in District.

Golf Teams Place High in Metro, District, and State

Caught in the rough is junior Nancy Krogh. Nancy lead the girls' team with a 40.5 stroke average.

Once again the boys' and girls' varsity teams were successful on the golf course. The boys' finished second in Metro, one match behind Lake Oswego and third in District. The girls', for the third straight year, finished first in the league. Three girls, Nancy Krogh, Holly Loeb, and Lynn MacKeller competed as the team at State. They earned a tie for second.

Leading varsity boys were Brent Murray, Stan Skreslet and Wayne Anderson. Brent, a sophomore, had a average of 37.33 and finished sixth individually at state.

For the girls, top golfers were Nancy Krogh, Mary Kleeb, Holly Loeb and Lynn MacKeller. All four are returning for next year.

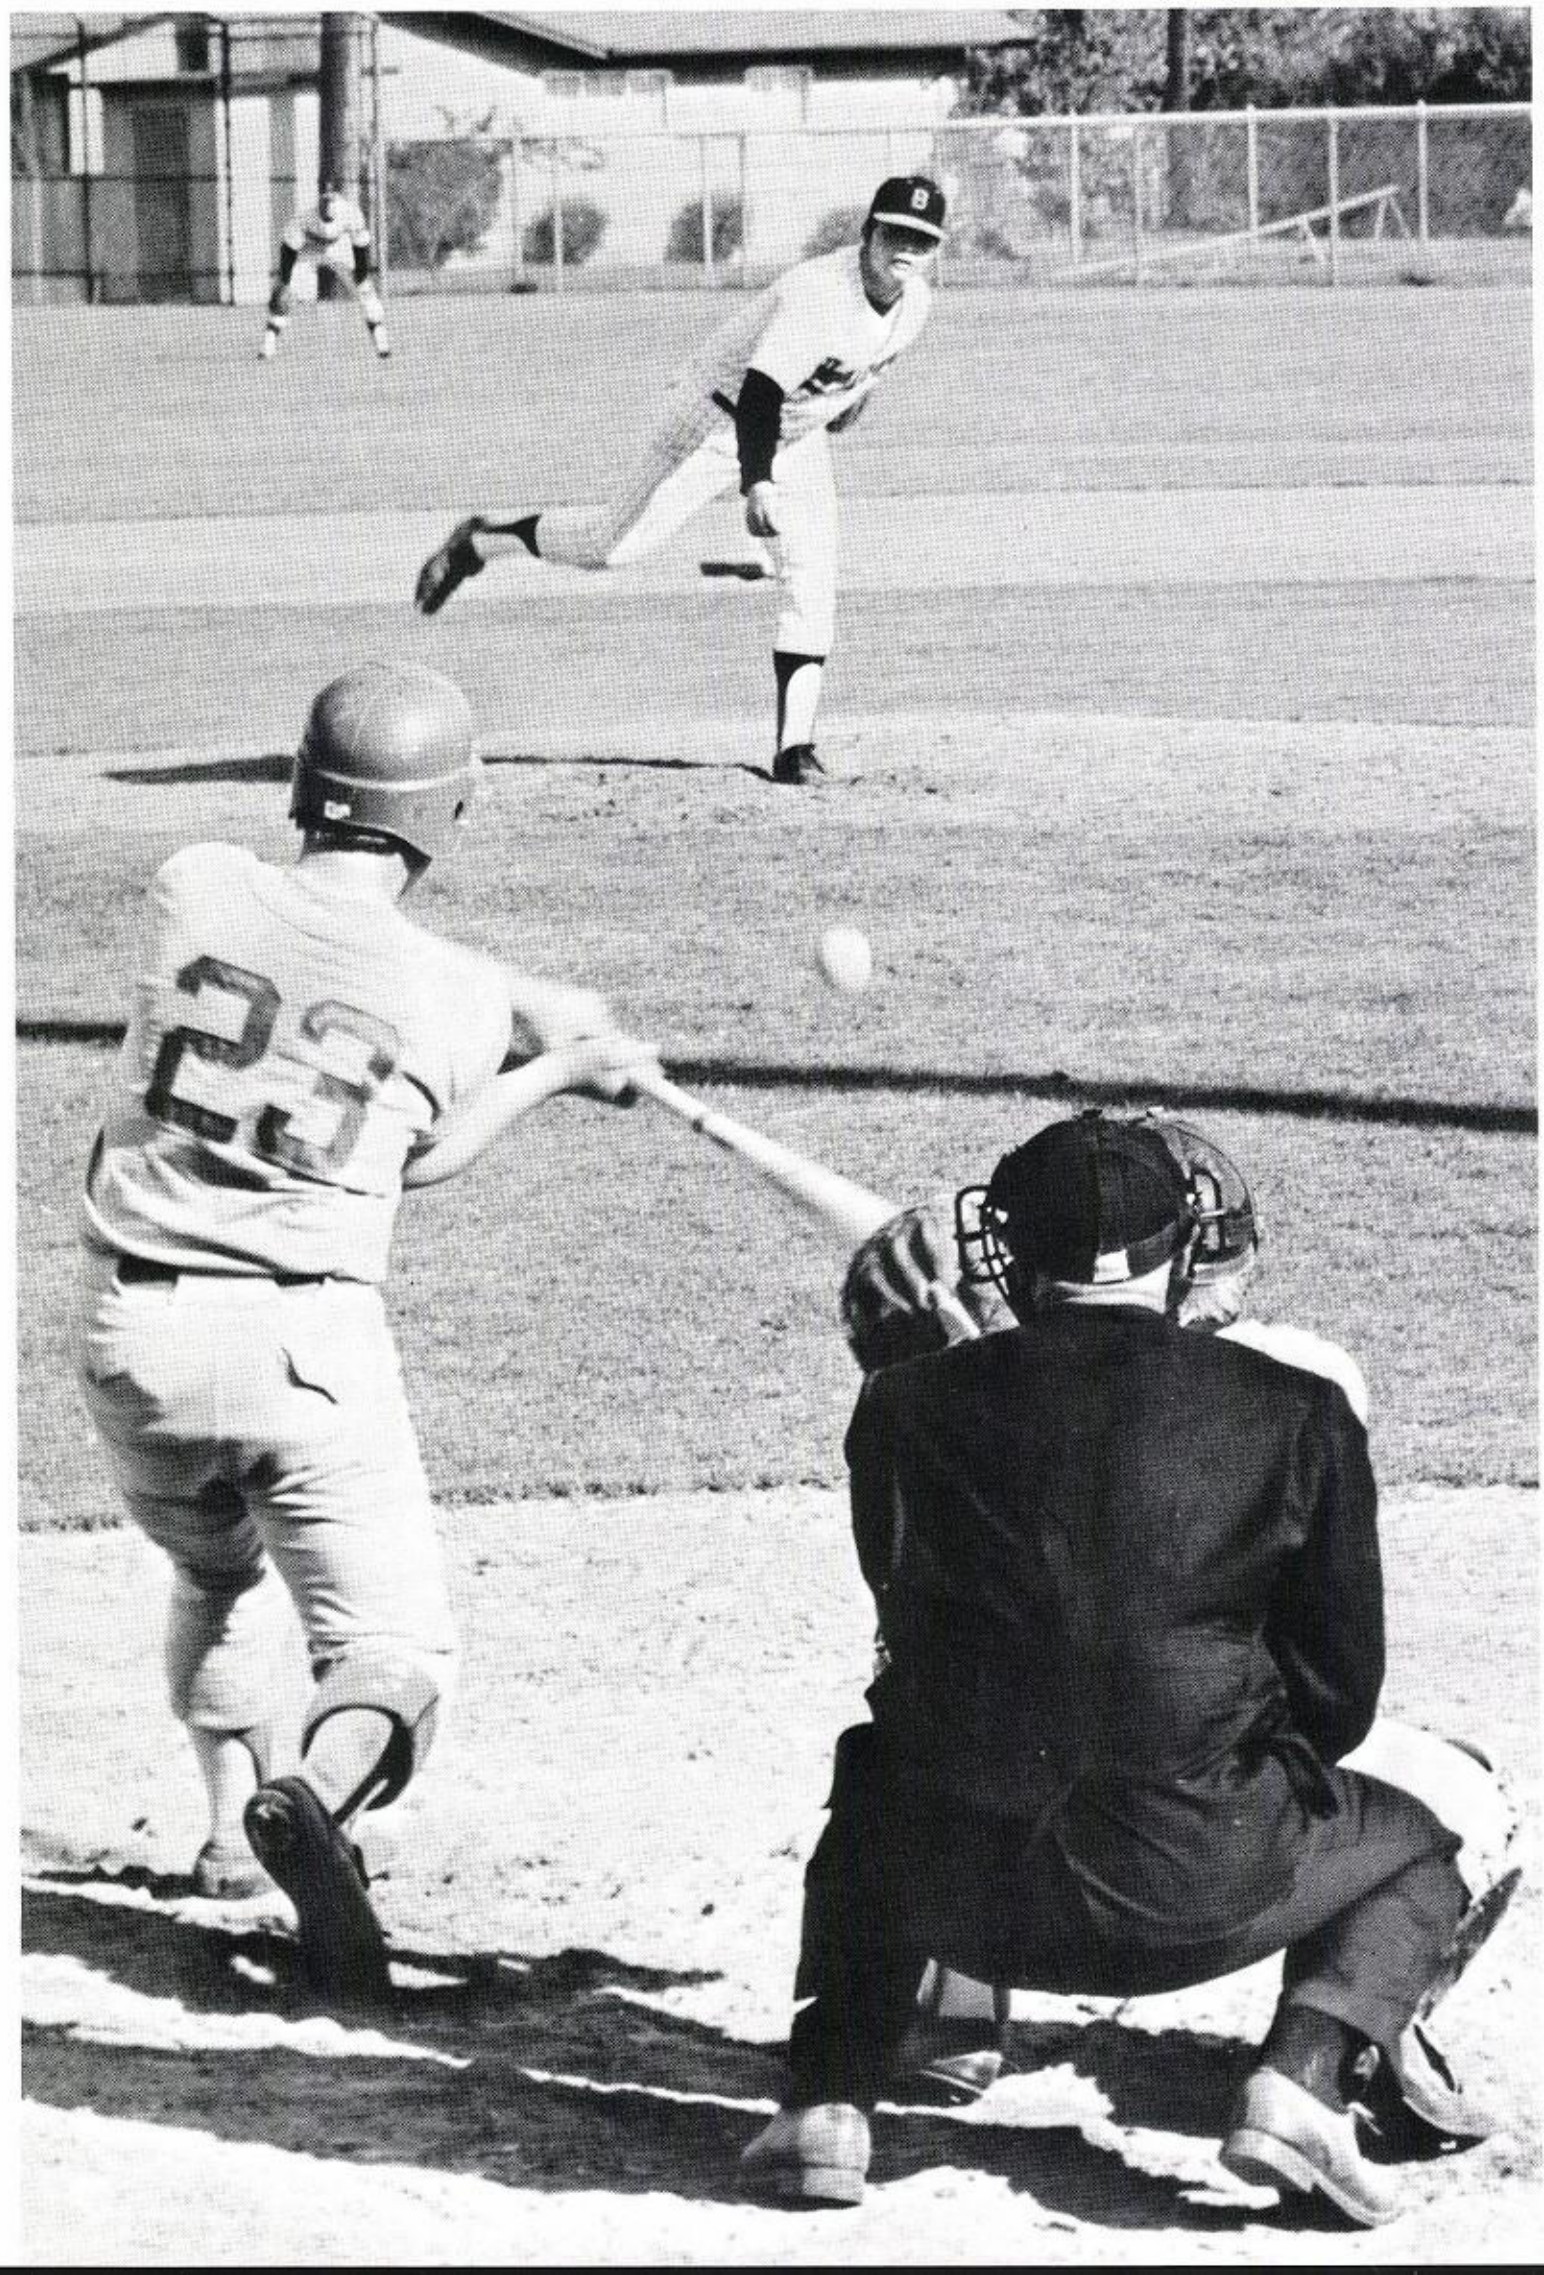
Sophomore Wayne Anderson watches as his ball heads towards the green. Wayne was the third ranking member on the boys' team.

Junior Holly Loeb waits patiently as an opposing golfer prepares to putt. Holly was one of three girls who competed for State honors.

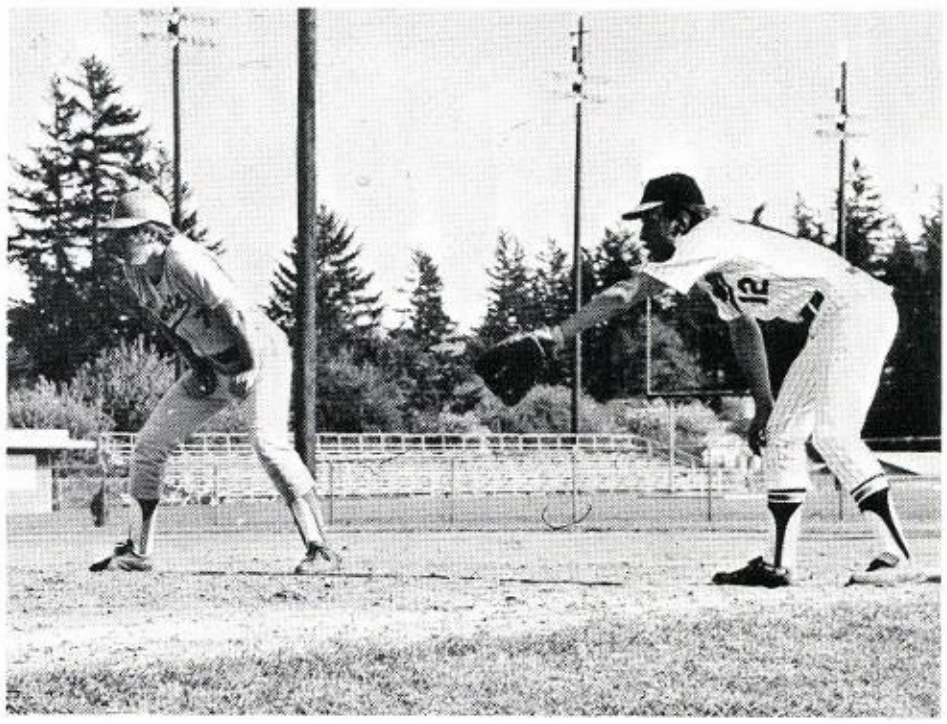
Exhibiting his putting is senior Stan Skreslet. Stan was second on the boys team with an average of 39.4 per game.

Scots Finish Third in League

Ken Alldritt displays good form at the plate during a game with Beaverton. Ken was also ranked as one of the Metro League's top catchers and was one of the standouts on this year's team.

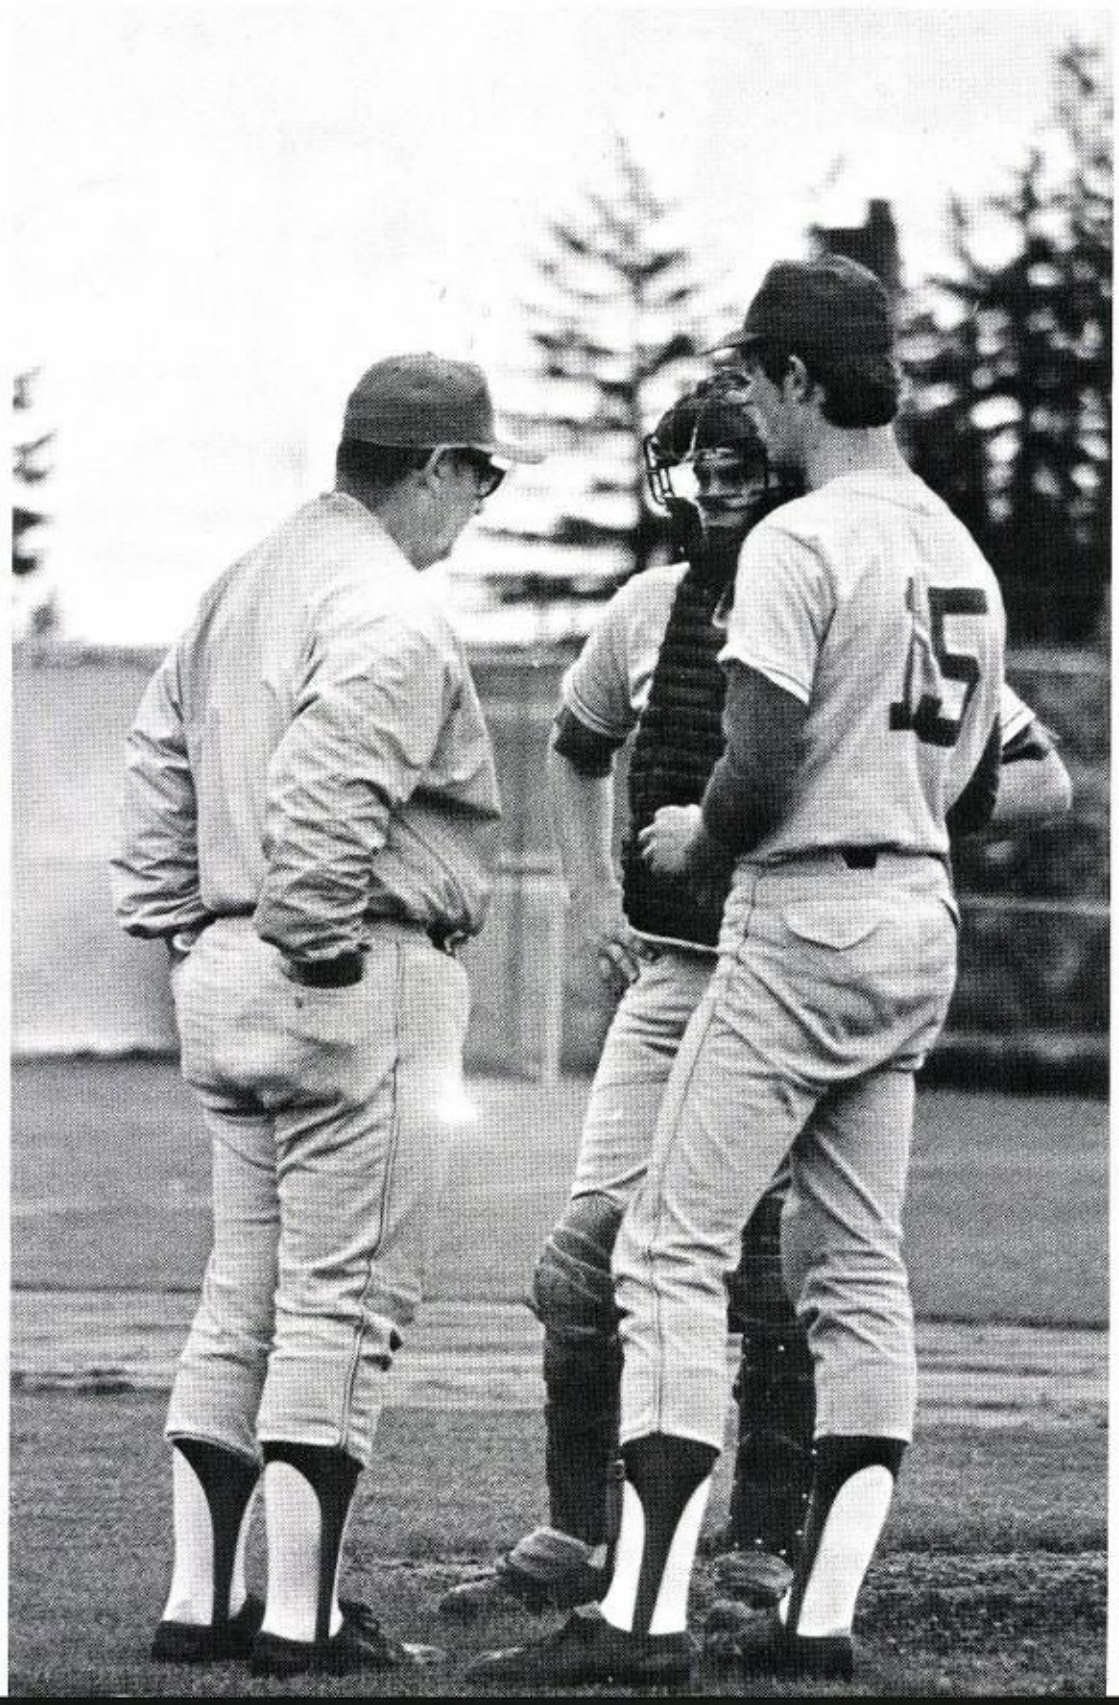


The David Douglas baseball team ended their 1971 season in third place, having a record of 8 wins and 8 losses. Sunset stopped all hopes of the Scots going to the playoffs by defeating Douglas in the next to last game 4 to 3. Even though the Scots had a disappointing season, there were many outstanding individual performances. Ken Alldritt was ranked one of the league's top defensive catchers. Greg Horner showed leadership ability in the field and was a top hitter on the team. Senior Ron Hill led the Douglas squad in hitting with a .300 average. The pitchers were Terry McEwen, Dave Dillingham, Fred Hanson, and Dave Hunt.



Jeff Ellers takes a wide lead as the opposition's first-baseman waits for a possible pickoff attempt.

Catcher Ken Alldritt and pitcher Terry McEwen (15) hold a mound conference with Coach Jack Nash.



The Scot bench watches as a teammate goes to bat, each player hoping as one that the batter can get on base and eventually score.

Terry McEwen grimaces as he hurls the ball toward home plate. McEwen's form on the mound made him one of the bright spots on the team.

Terry McEwen (15) and Jeff Ellers trap an opposing player in a rundown between bases.

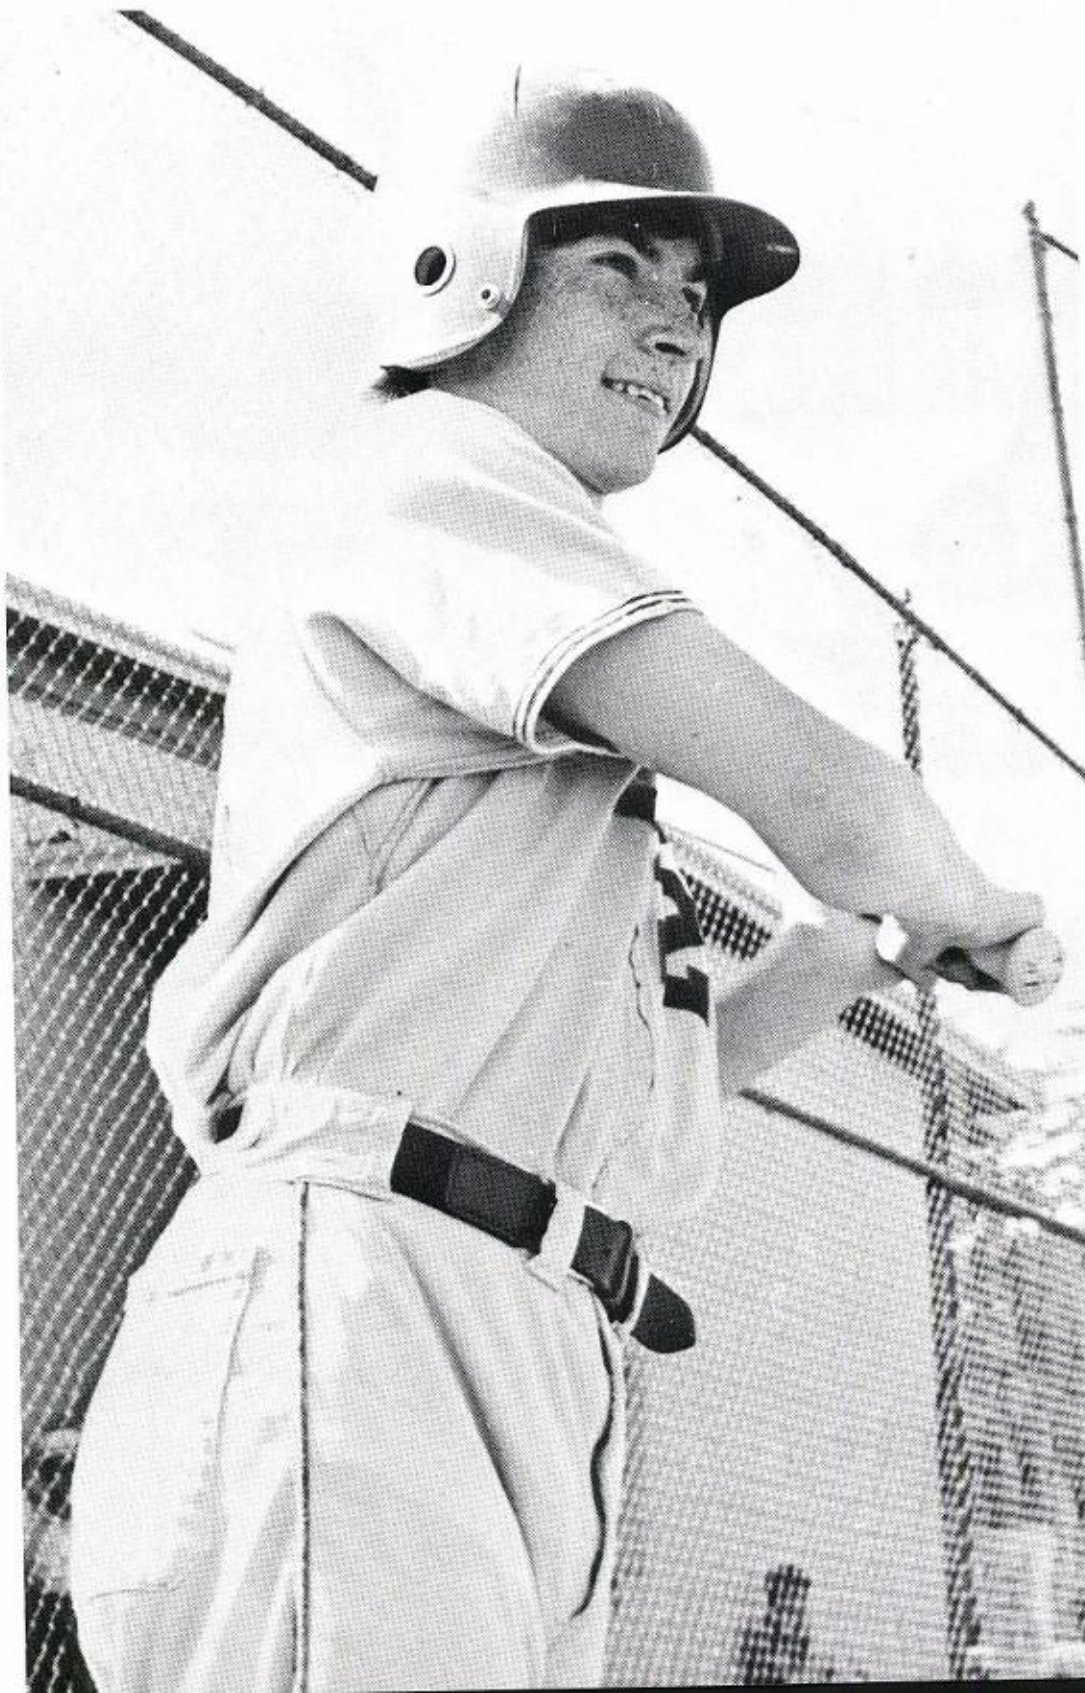
Underclassmen Complete Winning Seasons

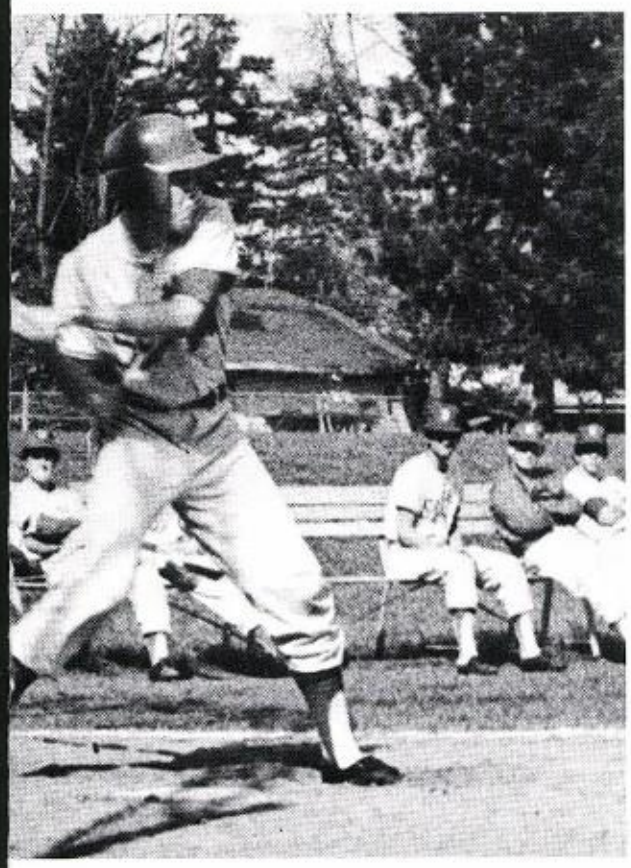
The Junior Varsity squad under Coach Ron Conners compiled an inspiring 12 win, 5 loss and 1 tie record, including two preseason wins. Outstanding pitcher for the JV's was Gary Butenschoen with a 4 win and 1 loss record. Outstanding hitters were Pete Michalski, Gary Mattsen, Mark Goodwin, Brad Barnes, and Ron Banks.

The Frosh teams also had winning records. The Red team, under Coach Ketil Moksnes ended with an 8 win, 8 loss, and 2 tie record. The Gray team under Coach Bob Gray finished with an 11 win and 8 loss record.

From these fine records the future looks good for next year's JV and Varsity teams.

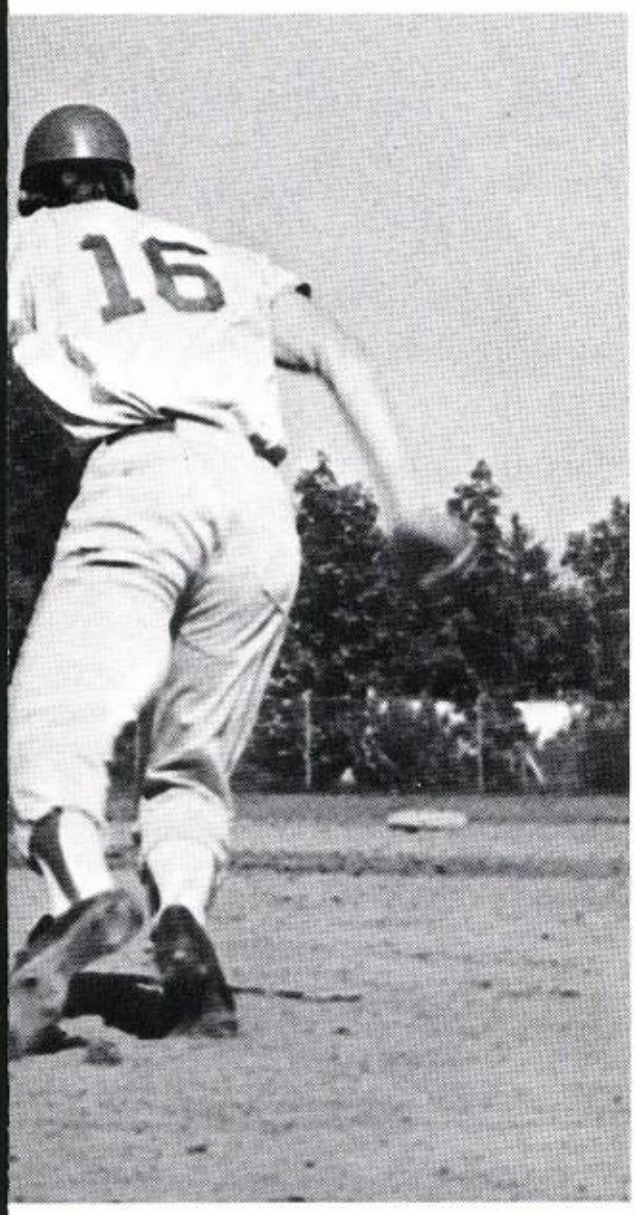
Dennis Seamore grins as he swings the bat looking forward to the upcoming action.





The Frosh Gray team was victorious over the Red team twice this season. Here the Gray's Dave Christenson is batting and the Red's Mike Hughes is catching.

Archie Langford, sophomore, watches the action as he prepares to bat for the Scots.



Pete Michalski sprints on his way to second base. Pete was one of the JV's strongest hitters.

Girl Netters Succeed, While Boys Build for the Future

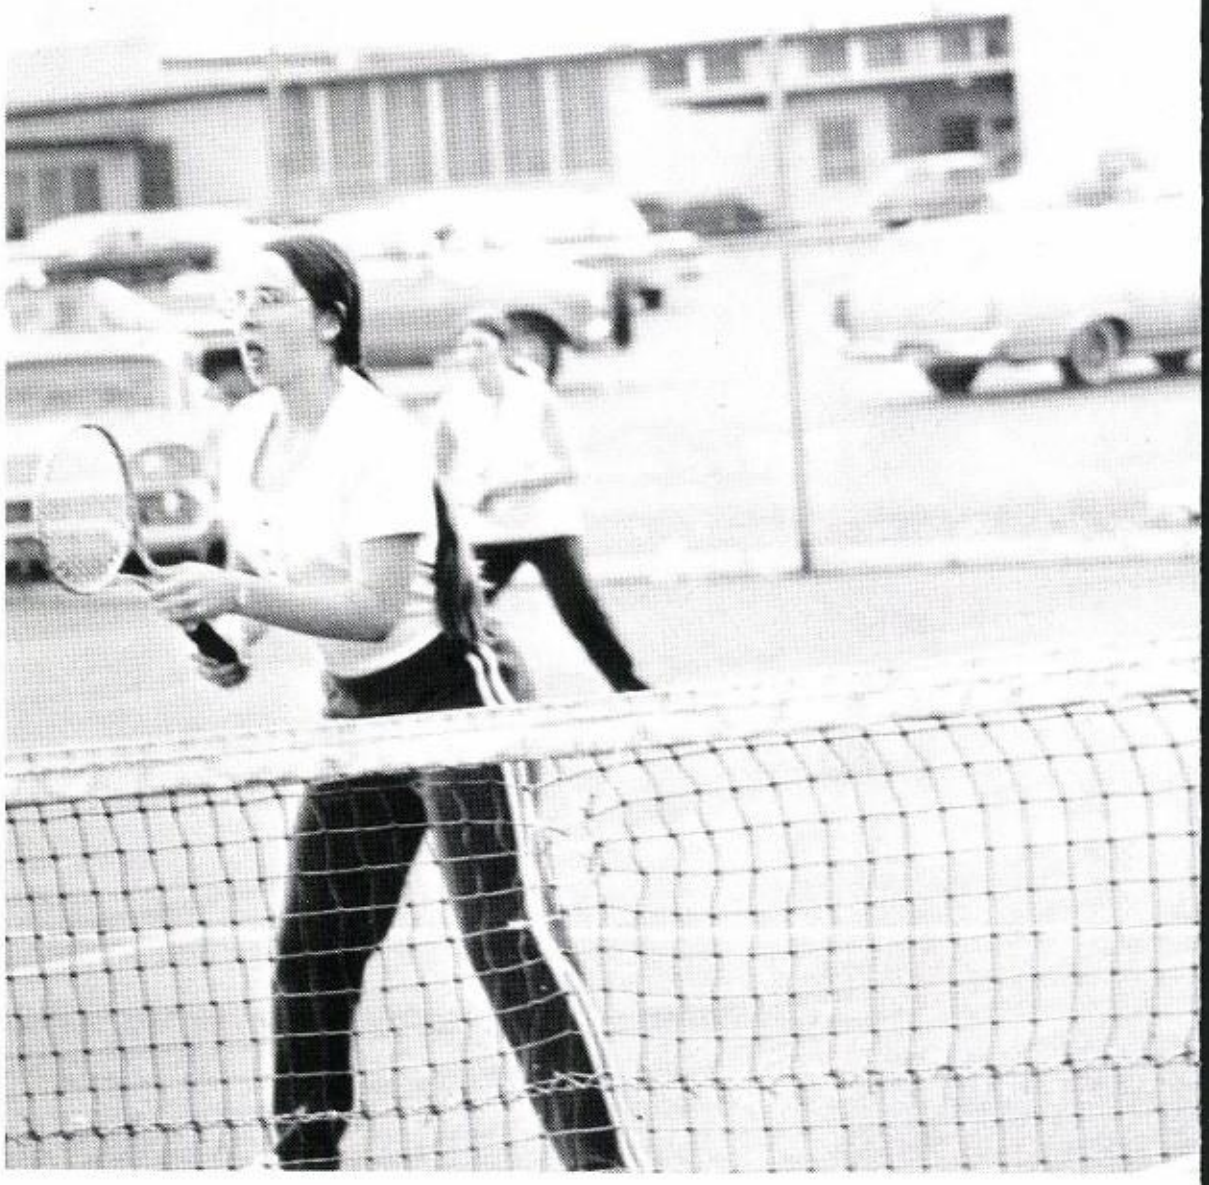
Sophomores Kim Wilcox and Dave Low prepare for another practice session. Practicing is very vital to any individual if he wants to make the team.

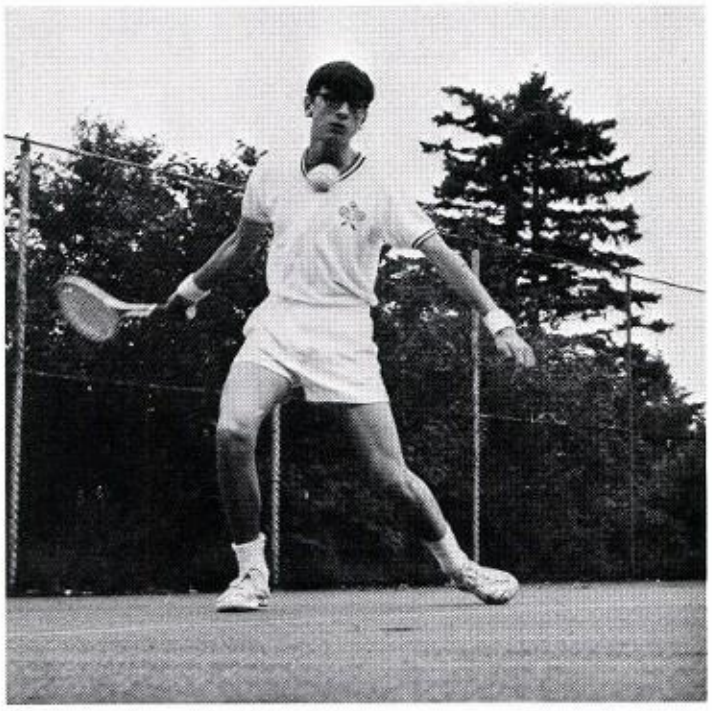
Under the new tennis coach, Miss Sue Christenson, the girls' tennis team went undefeated this season which enabled them to claim the league championship. At District the Scots tied Aloha in team points to share first place. After placing first in District doubles competition, Debbie Borchers and Delores Payne went on to capture second place at State.

When asked the reasons for the girls' success, Miss Christenson modestly refused to claim much credit, saying instead that the real reasons for the State title was the abundance of natural talent and the devotion of the girls.

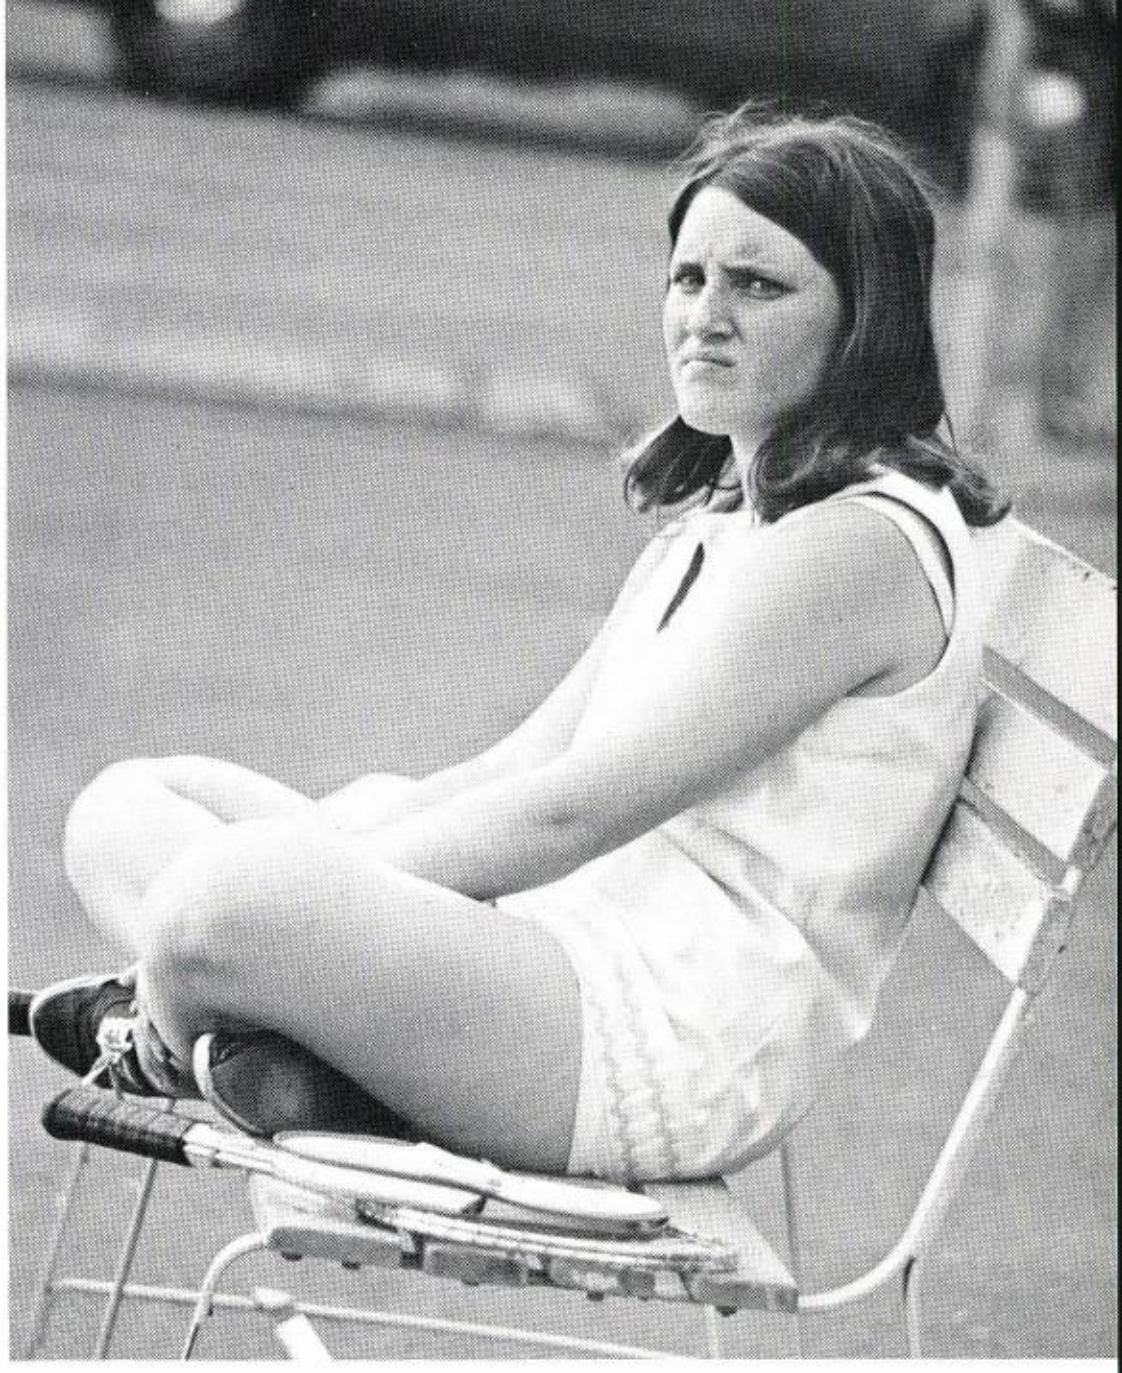
The boys' tennis team, under the coaching of Mr. Jim Nibler, had rough playing this year against the challenging Metro competition. The netters were not able to post a single team victory. They also placed low in the District meet and were not eligible to go to State.

Polly Picco and Sue Schmid, the number one doubles team in the Metro League during the season, spend many hours after school practicing and working together as a team. Coach Sue Christenson demonstrates the drive and determination needed to make the team a winner. At Senior Recognition Night Miss Christenson won the Coach of the Year Award.





Mark Kralj takes a strong forearm swing preparing to return the oncoming ball



Junior Peggy Lister, who plays third in singles, sits exhausted after a good tennis workout.

Mark Kralj and Kim Wilcox confer before practice begins.

Ski Teams Complete Second Season

This was the second year for the David Douglas ski teams coached by Mr. Larry Cartmill. Although they were lacking in number, the teams had a fine season.

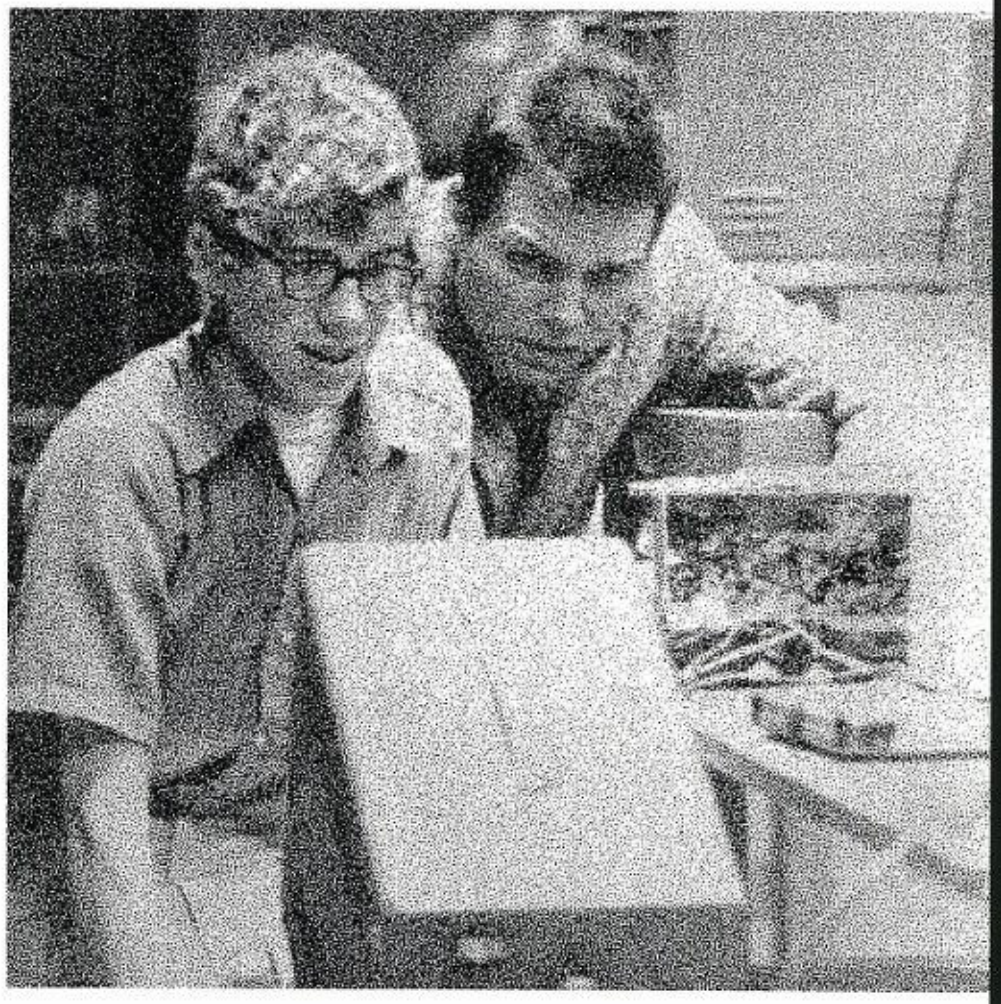
The girls team tied for third in league competition with Parkrose, placed fifth at the District meet and notched a ninth place standing at the State meet on Mt. Ashland. The boys team placed ninth at District, preventing them from going on to the State meet.

Cheryl Pihl and Lynn Meng, both juniors, were the outstanding skiers of the year. Cheryl placed in District and nineteenth in State, and Lynn was thirteenth in District and twenty-fourth in State. The outstanding boy skier was junior Don Wolsborn, who placed twenty-second in District.

Don Wolsborn prepares to race against the tough combination of the clock and the venturous slopes. His determined efforts put him at the top of the Scot boy skiers.

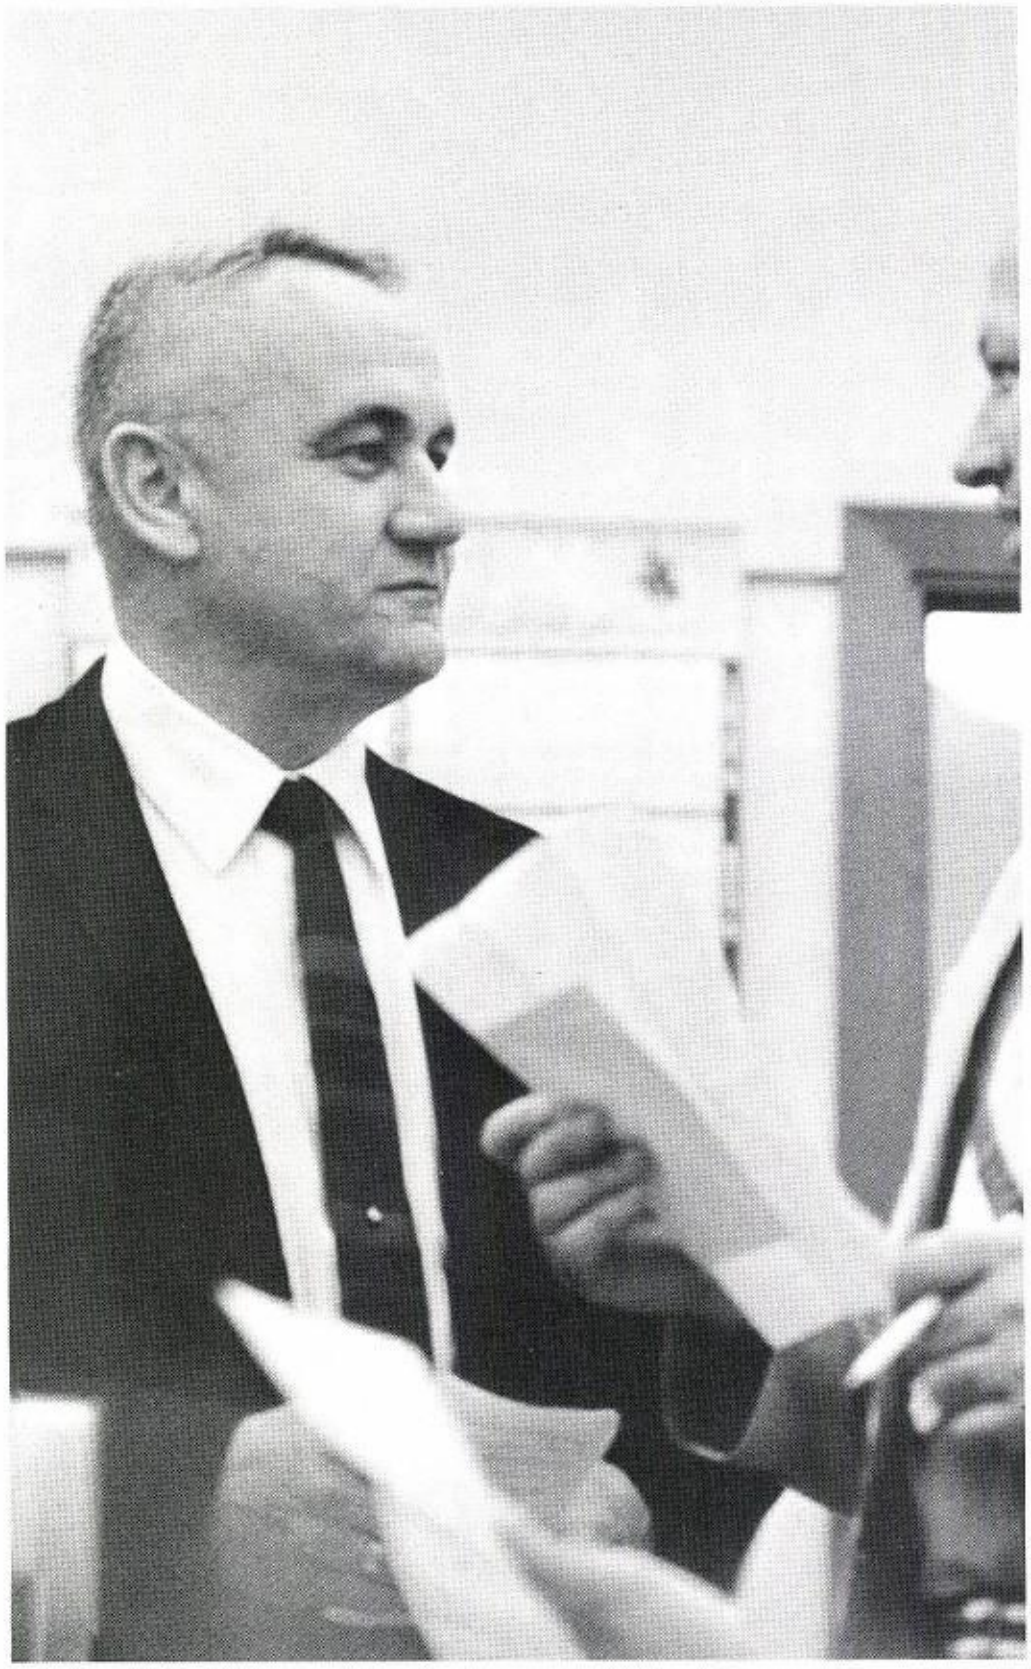
Don Wolsborn and Mike Burchak strap on their skis readying themselves for the next run at Ski Bowl on Mt. Hood.

Motivation



Beyond the book his teaching sped,
He left on whom he taught the trace
Of kinship with the deathless dead.
Sir Henry Newbolt

Mr. Richard A. Miller-Principal



Who are the "deathless dead"? They are the voices from the past, who have left a storehouse of knowledge which the teacher must transmit to his students. The teacher is continually searching for the right path into the minds of his students, attempting to stimulate an understanding of the wisdom of the past, and a response which shows that understanding. This is the essence of the entire process of learning. The men and women of the faculty dedicate their entire being toward the successful completion of this goal.

Sometimes the going is rough, when they must administer discipline or must work long hours as advisers for clubs in addition to preparing lesson plans and working with students during I.S. periods. Most of the time, however, the members of the faculty meet the incessant problems and challenges successfully.

They enjoy the many rewards of teaching: the close association with the young men and women who must soon become responsible members of society, and the satisfaction of contributing to their ability to think and create.

Students never fully appreciate the total dedication of the teachers, counselors, and administrators at David Douglas, but the faculty is satisfied in knowing that their dedication results in young individuals who are fully prepared to enter the adult world, through having a clear understanding of the voices of the "deathless dead."

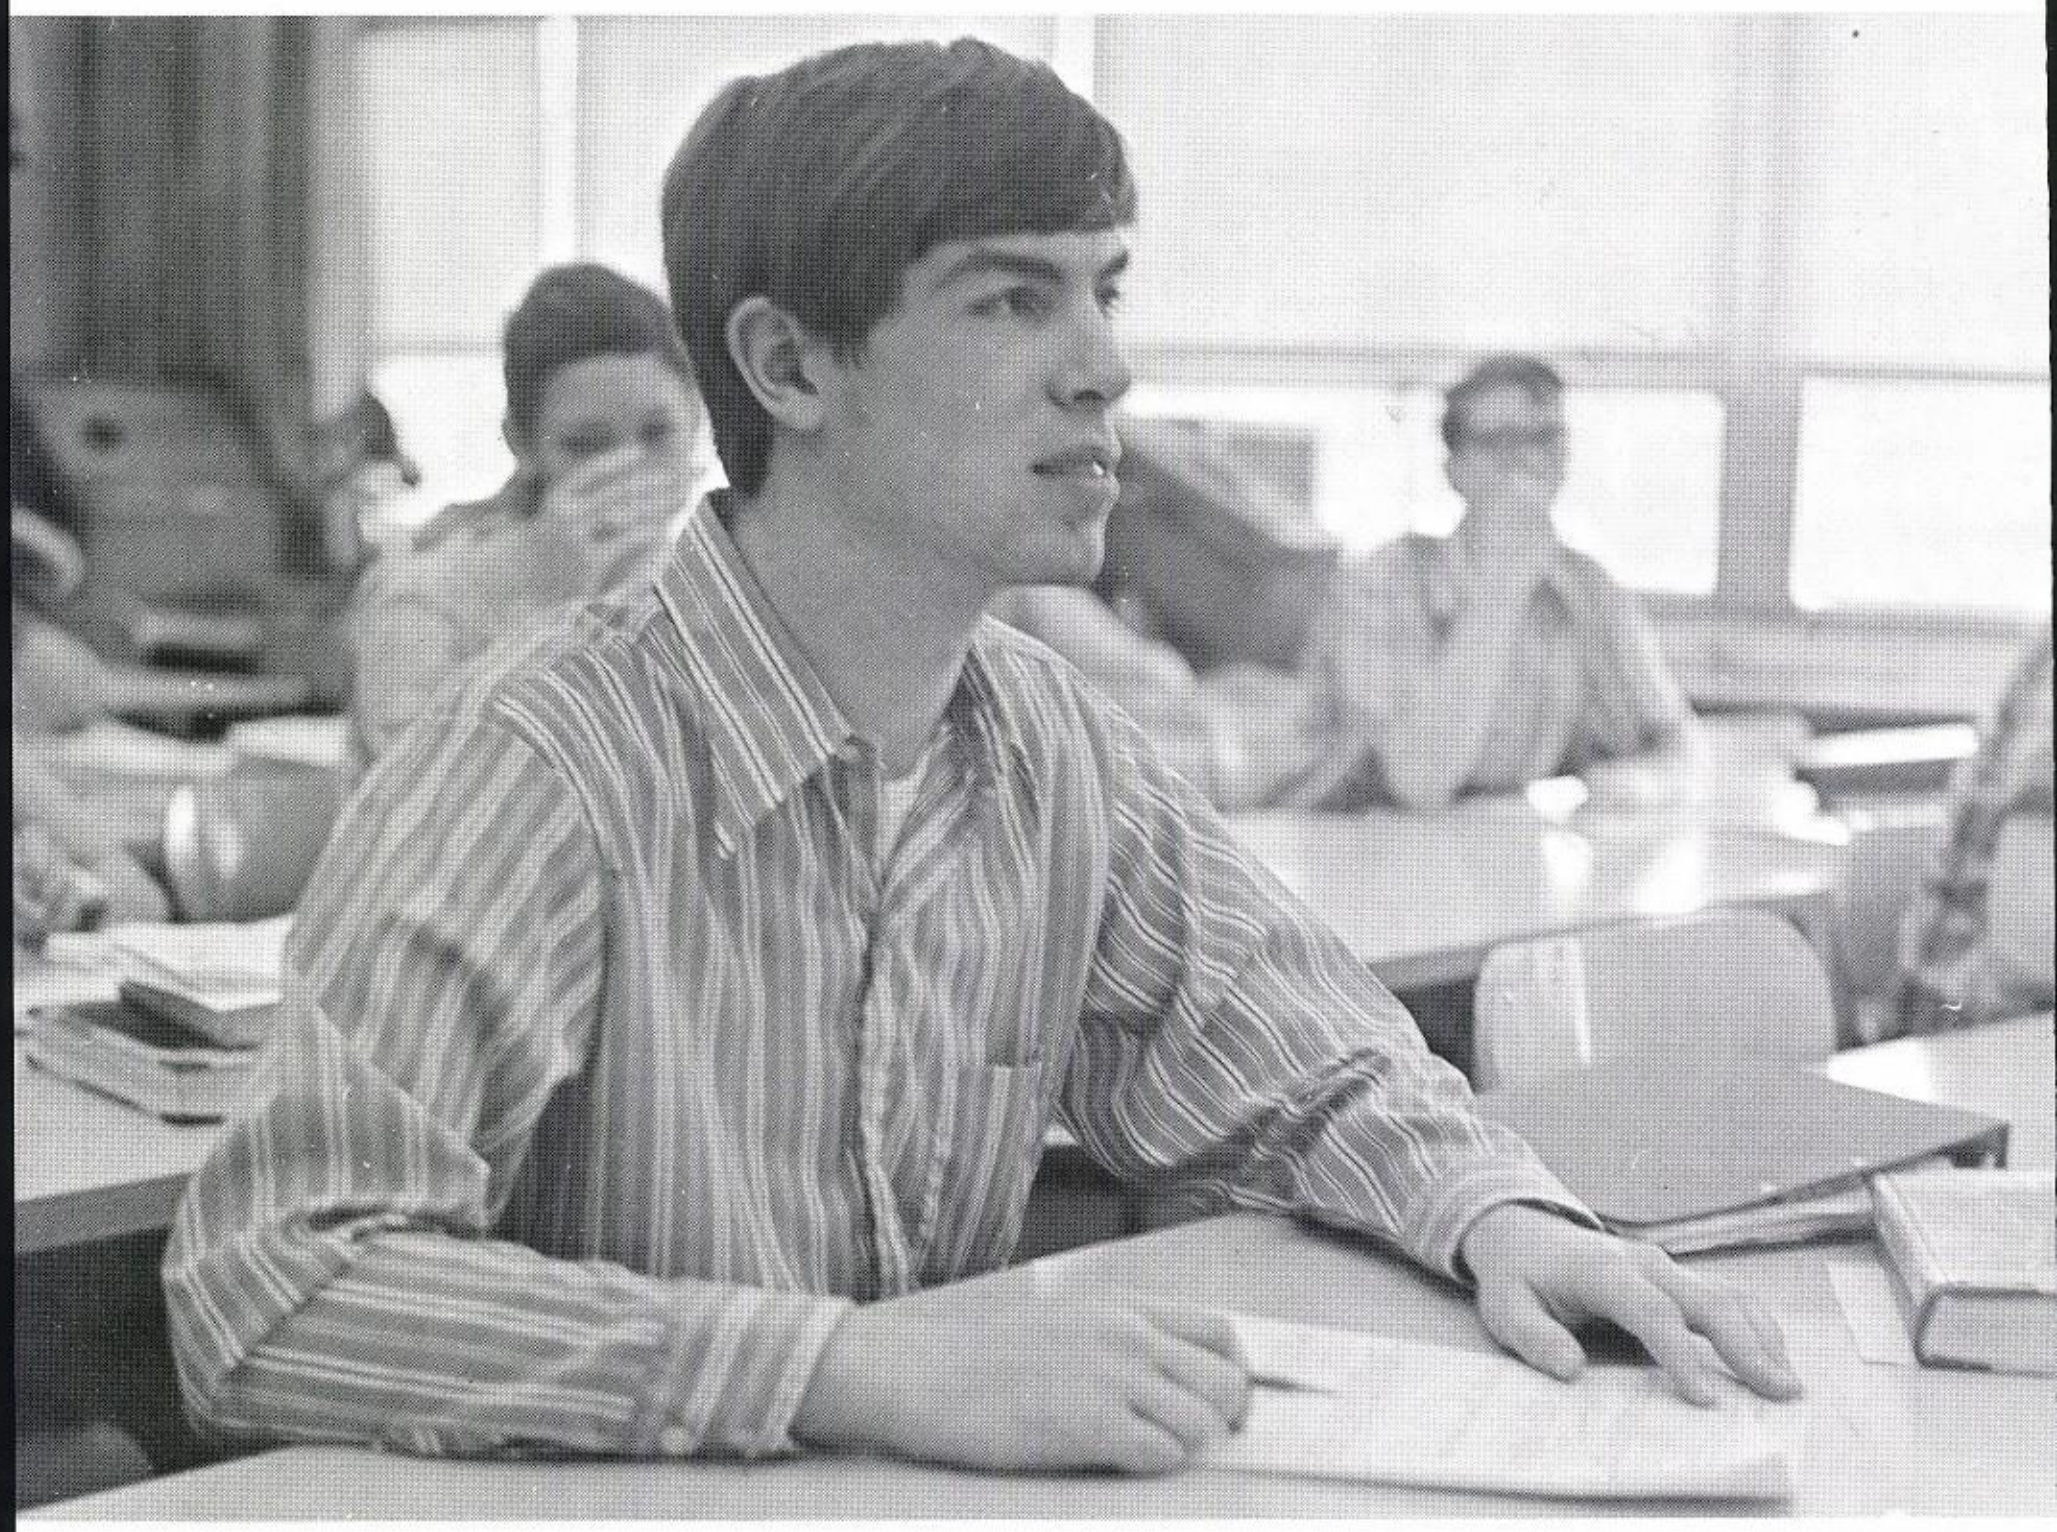
Valedictorians and Salutatorians Display Outstanding Academic Prowess

An active participant in sports, Terry McEwen also finds time to attain high academic standards.



Even outstanding scholars look forward to the end of school. Smiling, Barbara Groth stands with clearance sheet in hand.

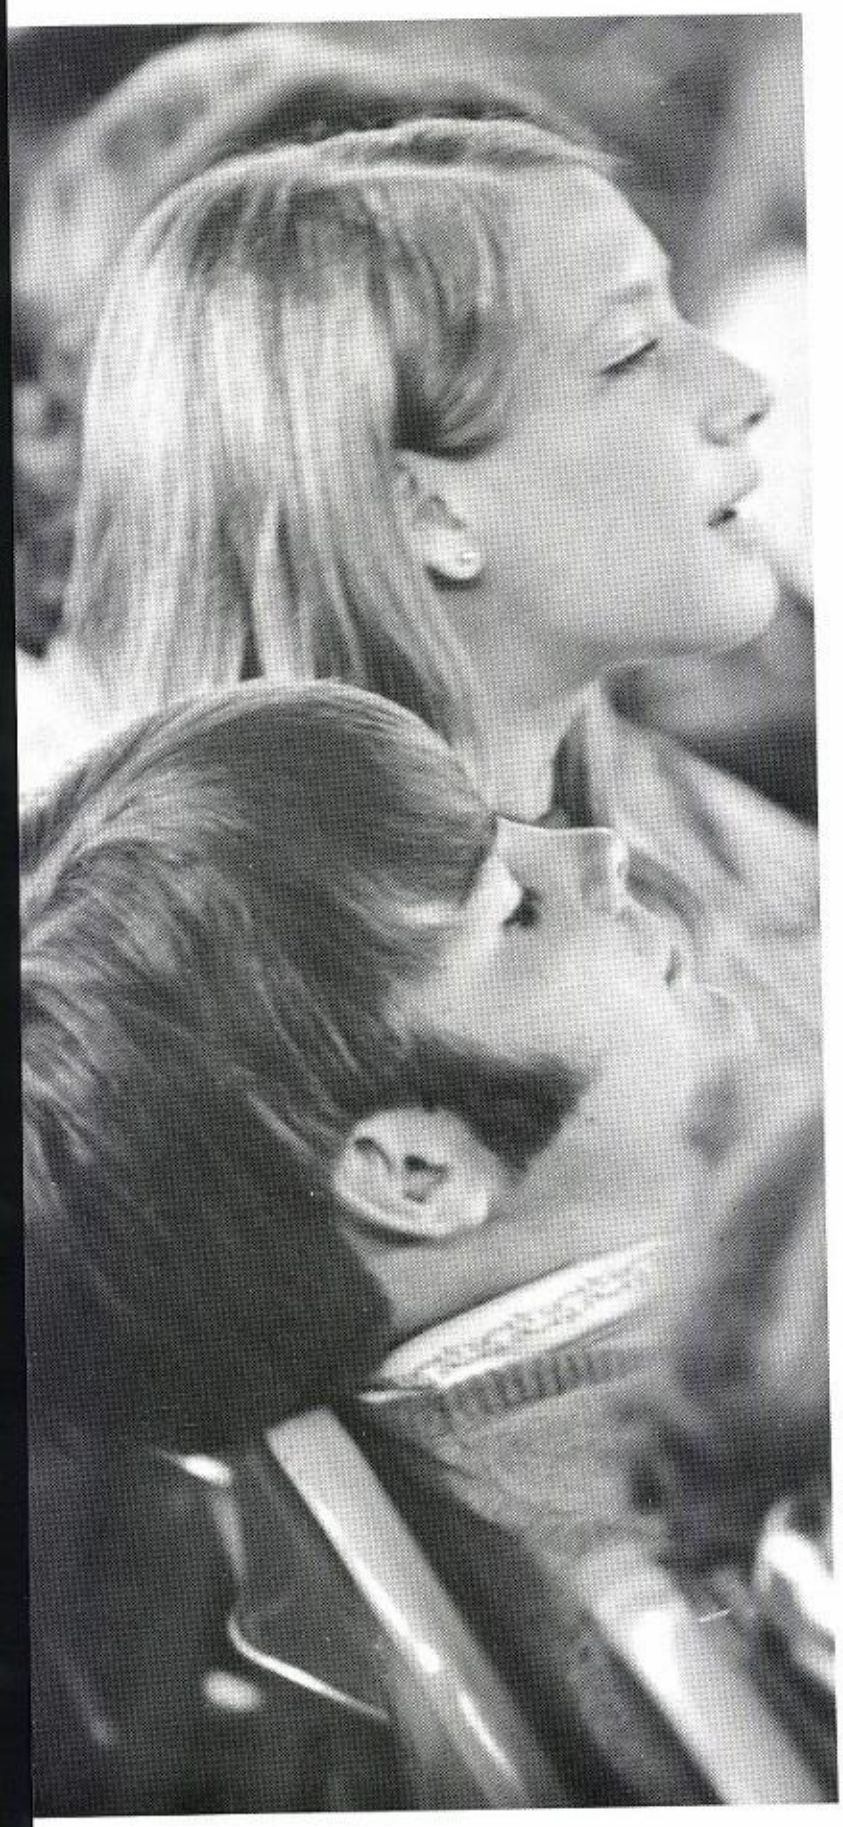
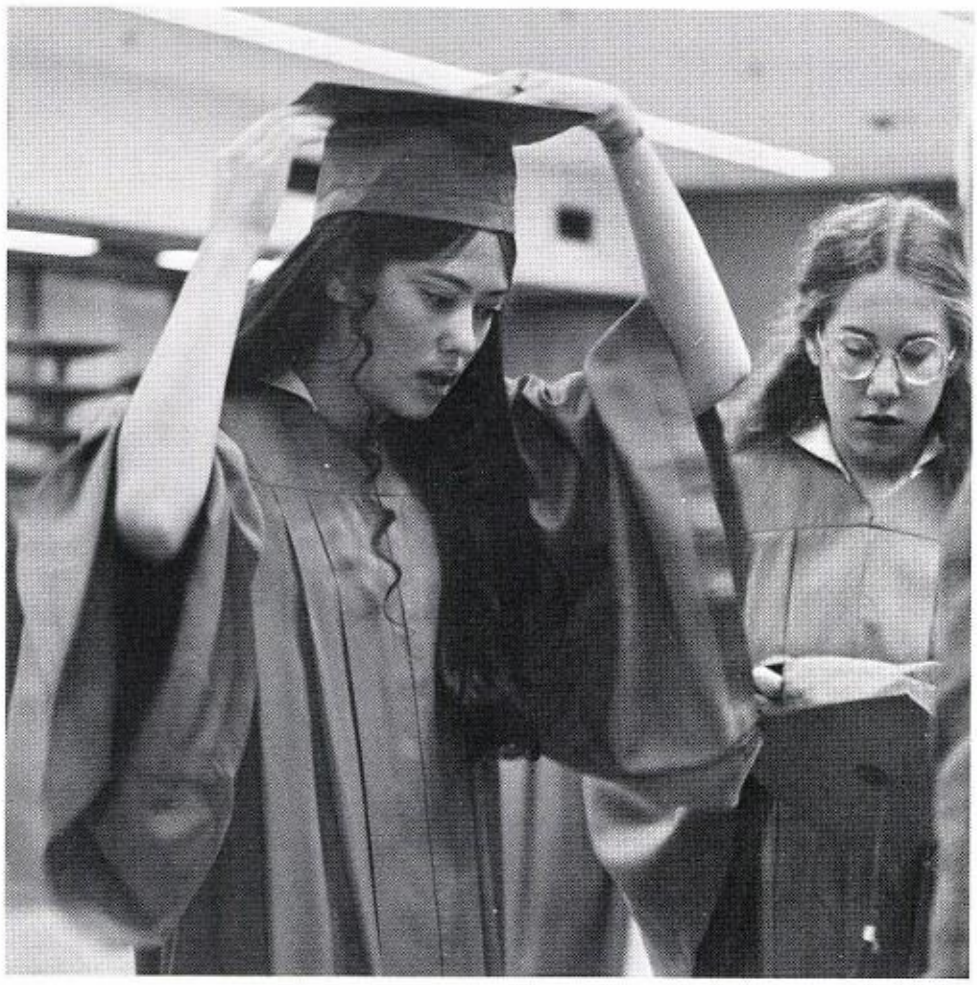
Graduation: The Culmination of Four Years of Hard Work



The faces of seniors Pam Arnold and Ken Alldritt reflect varied reactions to the details of graduation practice.

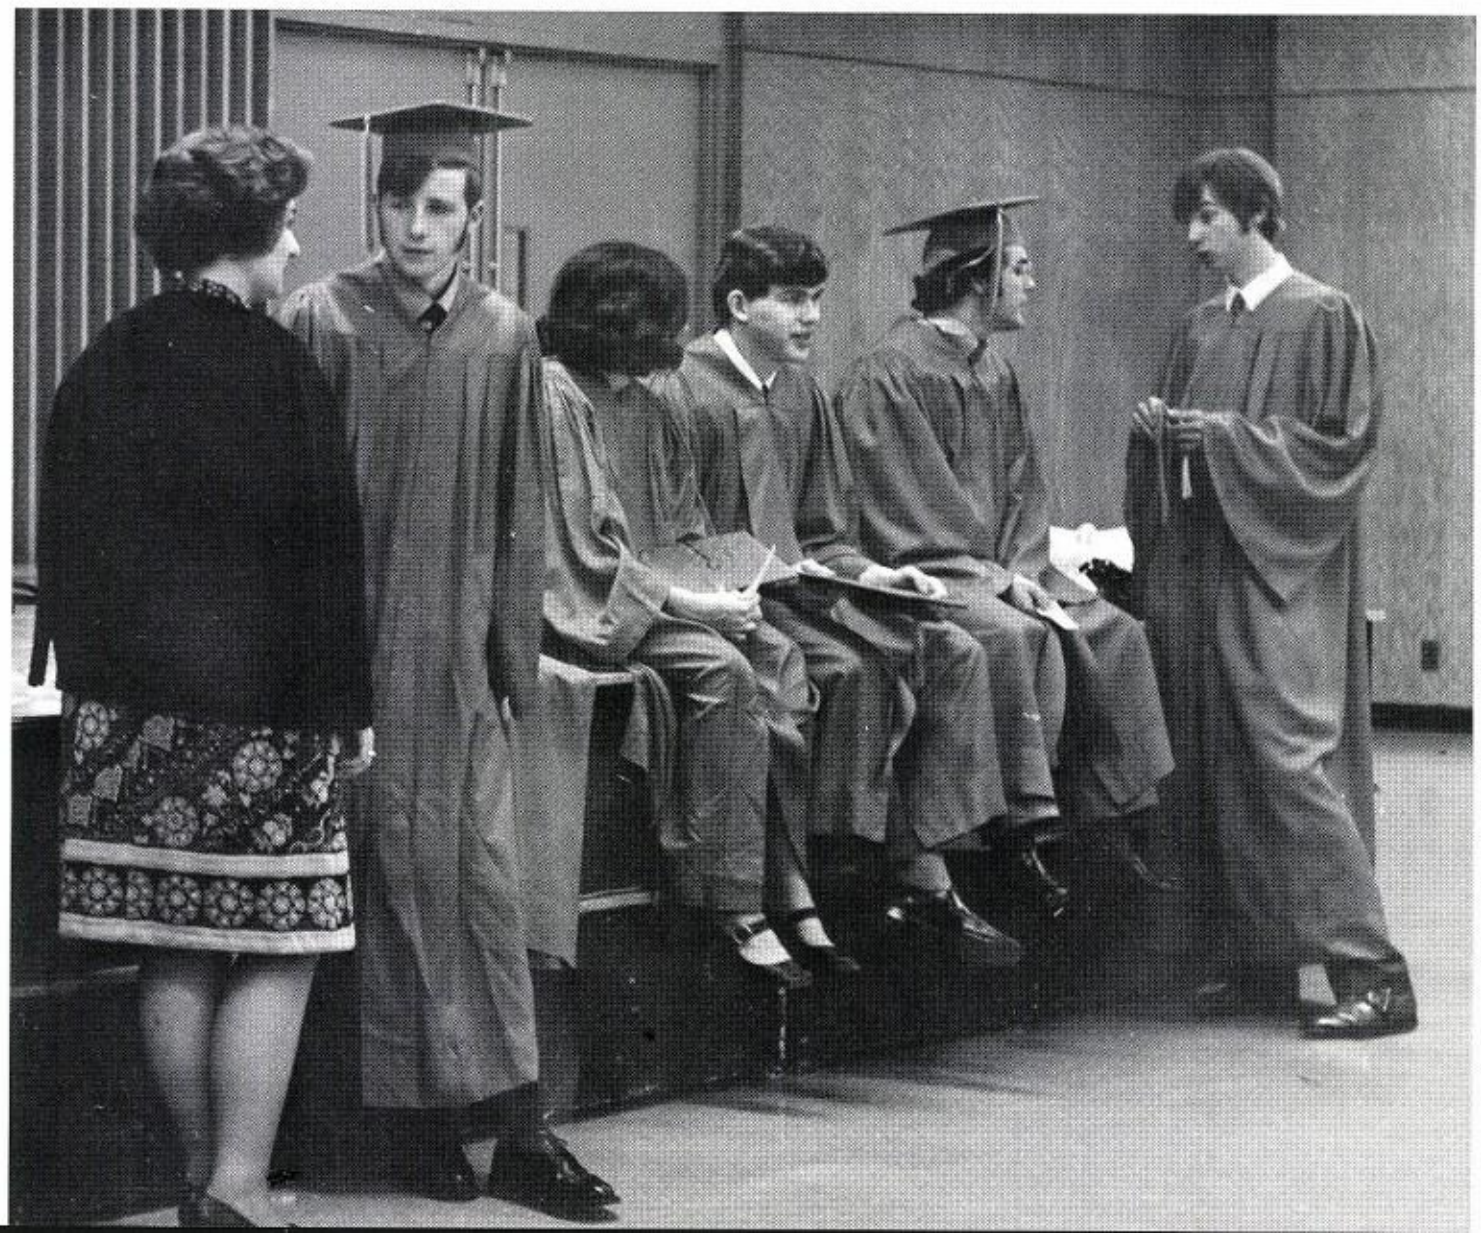
There are many important clearance matters which must be handled before graduation. Mrs. Shirley Bakke, senior counselor, and Jackie Martin discuss this final business.



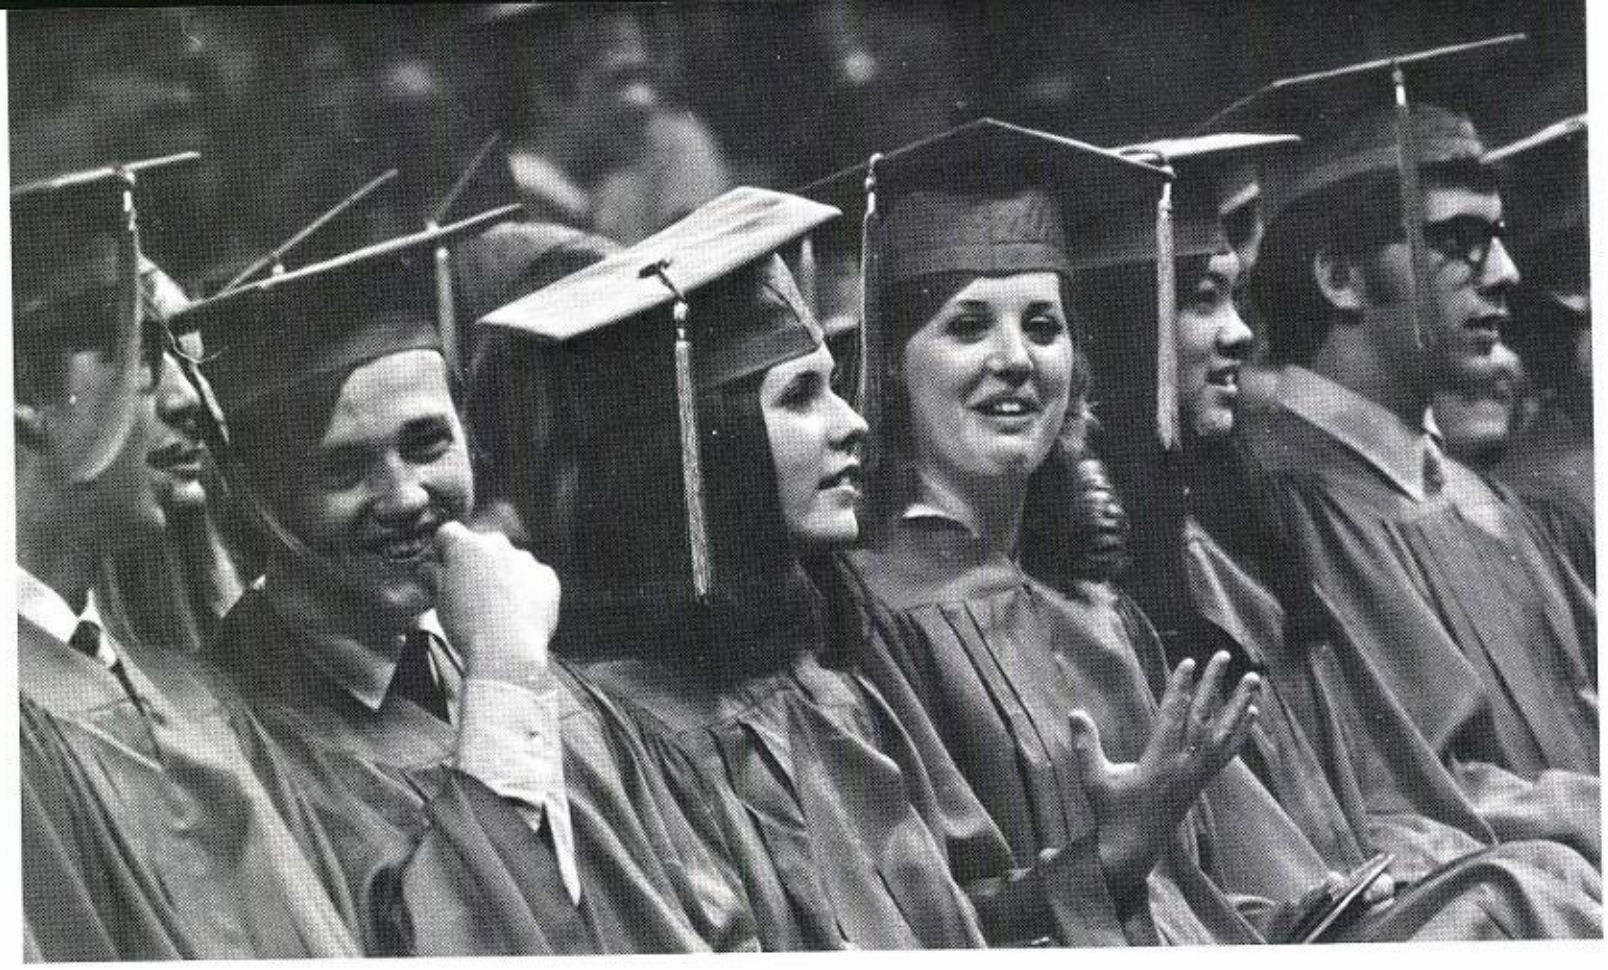
Straightening their caps and adjusting gowns, Sharon Farley and Sarah Bachhuber prepare for the graduation ceremony.

AFS student Fiori Gallarate expresses her appreciation of the opportunity to become acquainted with the students of David Douglas.

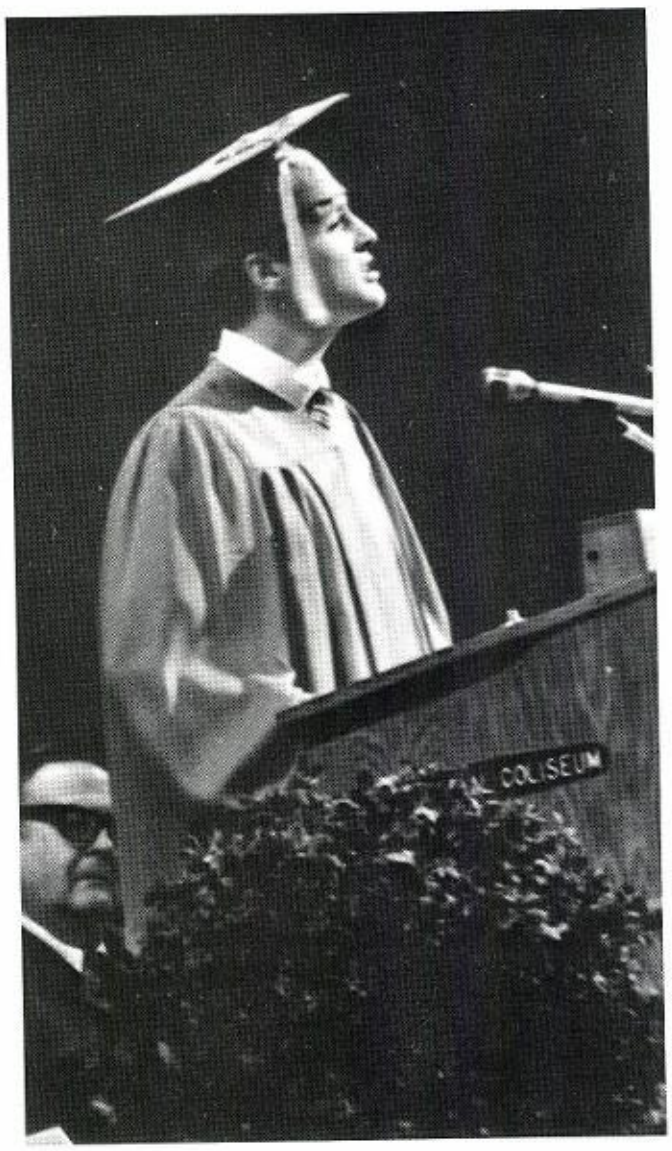
Seniors converse among themselves as they await commencement.



Class of '71



1971 graduates reveal the happiness springing from a knowledge of personal achievement.



One of the speakers at the commencement exercises was Randy Collins. Here he thoughtfully addresses his classmates in an inspiring speech.

Kitty Bond sparkles a smile to Don Nimz in happy conversation following graduation.
